GATLING GUN

The Wholesome Panacea For all Disturbing Elements.

AS QUIET AS A CHURCHYARD.

Virden is now Patrolled by Blue Capped Armed Money Patrols.

FORMAL NOTICE GENERAL DISARMAMENT.

Four Illinois Cavalry and Four Companies of Sons of Veterans to Reinforce Sheriff H. Fairer Capt. Craig.

Virden, Ill., Oct. 13.—The town is as quiet as a country church yard today. Two parting gun of the Gatlesburg battery on the public square and a few copped sharpshooters at each corner in the business district are about the only evidence of yesterday's riot, the only evidence of yesterday's riot, the only evidence of a story and a tragedy. Like the front yard of the gentle home where lies Mary, round office, on each of which is a comic gray outcast with the words "At Rest." Under that title are the mortal remains of five victims of yesterday's tragic at the stockade of the Chicago-Virden Coal company. They were Illinois, Mt. Olive.

Gillespie, Mt. Olive.

Gerd Kramer, Mt. Olive.

H. Wills, Springfield.

Thomas Hunt, Springfield.

Hunt has responded a jury and will endeavor to place the responsibility for the shooting.

Col. Culliness of the governor's staff arrived yesterday. Adjutant General Jones is officially chief the stockade at the Chicago-Virden Coal company. Colonel Culliness is the brother-in-law of the governor, who has been inside the stockade throughout the trouble, that the governor would hardly venture to go out. Col. Culliness expresses the opinion that there will be no further outbreak in the part of the miners, that they will remain in guards of the stockade.

Sickness drove over from his home in Green yesterday. On the way out he passed hundreds of miners returning to their homes in Donald, Mt. Olive and surrounding towns. Most of the men were well armed. Wide mauser rifles were in evidence and many carried rifles under cover of the coats. Sickness met Capt. Craig, of Company B, Fifth Illinois artillery.

Two companies of the men from Peoria, the Peoria guns were taken to the Virden armory where they unloaded the Gatlings and left.

Sickness very thinner out and the wounded of the outlaws were quartered in the Opera house.

Colonel Dodge stands friend A. C. Cook of the Fifth Illinois cavalry, Company A, Sons of Veterans, Virden from Stockton, Dekalb, Yorkville and Sycamore.

Colonel Dodge said: "I have been with the miners during the trouble and I believe I know how they feel. I have talked with them and I believe they are right. The miners were good men, good citizens, law abiding men. The trouble was caused by the Chicago-Virden Coal company. The company brought in men who were not miners, who were not citizens, who were not law abiding men. The miners were good men, good citizens, law abiding men. The company brought in men who were not miners, who were not citizens, who were not law abiding men. The company brought in men who were not miners, who were not citizens, who were not law abiding men. The company brought in men who were not miners, who were not citizens, who were not
