Do You Take A RIDE?

No more pleasant ride can be found anywhere than that to the suburbs Southeast of Salt Lake City. If you drive, ride horse back, or use a bicycle, the nicely sprinkled roads afford continual pleasure. The popularity of the East Boulevard is attested by the hundreds of wheels and thousands of people that daily throng it.

Why not combine business with pleasure? If you buy a home in Forest Dale, you can enjoy the ride to and from your residence that hundreds are anxious to take for pleasure alone.

What is more invigorating during these warm days than a ride on an open electric car? Try it early any morning or after your work in the evening; and then if you wish a home, buy in Forest Dale. By doing so you can enjoy the canyon breeze, and still be near your work. Can have water belonging to yourself piped to your door and still not pay city taxes. Can have the benefit of good schools, and of pleasant associations, and yet have none of the smoke and discomfort of residence in a city.

Inducements to build. Small payments and long time at low interest will be allowed desirable parties.

Call at Carmichael's office, 251 Constitution Building, and get plat and prices.

MART PECK'S FUNERAL.

A Coroner's Jury Makes an Explicit Statement of the Case.

No Further Question of the Boy's Identity—His Father Heard From.—Tenderly Laid Away.

RAMONA, Millard Co.,
September 25, 1894.

Editor Deseret News.

An article in the NEWS of September 21st, conveys the impression that there was some uncertainty about the identity of the boy who recently came to his death in a storm in the mountains near this place. This perhaps arises from the statement in the earlier dispatch that the boy's home was thought not to be at Provo, as it was known that his father had left that place.

Subsequent inquiry showed that the boy has lived here all his life, recently with his grandmother. He came from Provo with John Crosby, a Provo man. Mr. William Cummings, one of our citizens was acquainted with his father; also Richard Crosby rode up in the presence of the Reeves's that he knew the boy's mother well, and the boy as her son, also both of his grandfathers. These gentlemen expressed themselves after their visit here as perfectly satisfied that the lifeless boy was not Sidney Reeves.

Saturday last a letter was received from the dead boy's father, E. M. Peck, now residing at Richfield, Sevier county, thanking the people of Kanosh for the kindness shown towards his unfortunate son.

Your correspondent, as a juror, examined every inch of the boy's body, if being wanted by men in the presence of the jury. It had not the faintest resemblance to the picture of young Reeves, whose hair was eyes are dark, while Peck's eyes and hair were remarkably light. We found the boy in a new manufacturing suit of white, cotton shirt with white, had the corpse laid at the meeting house where the funeral services were held under the direction of our Bishop, who the writer and Mr. D. H. Durrant were named to speak. Everything was done by the people here or the boy with the same tender regard for the dead as though he was one of their own children; and although the boy had been for several days, the cold of the mountains has preserved the body without the least smell of death, nor was it the least swollen, and almost as limber as in life. Thinking this explanation may be satisfactory to all interested, I am,

Yours respectfully,
GEORGE CRANE.

FULL AMNESTY AND PARDON.

Complete Text of the President's Latest Proclamation Affecting Utah.—Oath Amended.

Following is the full text of President Cleveland's amnesty and pardon proclamation, the substance of which was given in the NEWS last evening:

"Whereas, Congress, by a statute approved March 22, 1882, and by statutes in furtherance and amendment thereof, defined the crime of bigamy, polygamy and unlawful cohabitation in the territories and other places within the exclusive jurisdiction of the United States and prescribed penalty for such crimes, and

"Whereas, On or about the 6th day of October, 1890, the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, commonly known as the Mormon Church, through its President, issued a manifesto proclaiming the purpose of said Church no longer to sanction the practice of polygamous marriages, and calling upon all members and adherents of said Church to obey said laws of the United States in reference to said subject matter, and,

"Whereas, On the 4th day of January, A. D. 1893, Benjamin Harrison, then President of the United States, did declare and grant full pardon and amnesty to certain offenders under said acts, upon conditions of future obedience to civic requirements, as is fully set forth in said proclamation of amnesty and pardon, and

"Whereas, Upon the evidence now furnished me, I am satisfied the members and adherents of said Church generally abstain from plural marriages and polygamous cohabitation, and are now living in obedience to the laws, and that this has now arrived when the interests of public justice and morality will be promoted by the granting of amnesty and pardon to all such offenders as complied with the conditions of said proclamation, including such of said offenders as have been convicted under the provisions of said acts;

"Now, therefore, I, Grover Cleveland, President of the United States, by virtue of the powers in me vested, do hereby declare and grant a full amnesty and pardon to all persons who have in violation of said acts committed either of the offenses of polygamy, bigamy, adultery or unlawful cohabitation under the color of polygamous or plural marriages, or who, having been convicted of violation of said act, are now suffering deprivation of civil rights in consequence of the same, excepting all persons who have not complied with the conditions contained in said executive proclamation of January the 4th, 1893.

"In witness whereof, etc.

"GROVER CLEVELAND."

After the NEWS went to press last evening the Commission set about the task of modifying the oath to conform to the proclamation. As revised the oath reads:

Territory of Utah, County of _____ ss.

I, _____, being duly sworn (or affirmed) depose and say that I am over twenty-one years of age; that I have resided in the Territory of Utah for six months last past, and is the position for one month immediately preceding the date hereof; and that I am a native born (or naturalized, as the case may be) citizen of the United States; and that my full name is _____

_____, that I am _____ years of age; that my place of business is in _____; that I am a single (or married) man; that the name of my wife (or wife's husband) is _____; that I will support the Constitution of the United States, and will faithfully obey the laws thereof, and especially will obey the act of Congress approved March 22, 1882, entitled "An act to amend section 5352 of the revised statutes of the United States in reference to bigamy and for other purposes;" and that I will also obey the act of Congress of March 3, 1887, entitled, "An act to amend an act, entitled 'An act to amend section 5352 of the revised statutes of the United States in reference to bigamy and for other purposes,' approved March 22nd, 1882;" in respect to the crime in said act defined and forbidden, and that I will not directly or indirectly, aid or abet, counsel or advise, any other person to commit any act in said crime defined in the acts of Congress on polygamy, bigamy, unlawful cohabitation, incest, adultery, or fornication.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this _____ day of _____, 1894.

Deputy Registration Officer for _____ Precinct.

The words eliminated from the oath are: "And I further swear that I am not a bigamist or polygamist, and that I have not been convicted of any crime under the act of Congress, entitled 'An act to amend, etc.'"

After the oath had been amended as indicated above Chairman Lindsay communicated with every registrar in the Territory that could be reached by telephone or telegraph. His message to the registrars ran:

"President Cleveland has just granted a pardon to all who violated or were convicted under Edmunds law. Strike out all of oath after word 'territory.'"

EXPENSES GUARANTEED.

Extraordinary Inducement for Outside Military Organizations to Visit the Fair.

The directors of the D. A. & M. Society held a meeting yesterday afternoon and decided to set aside a sufficient sum of money to pay the expenses of the visiting Guardsmen. Last evening Adjutant General Ottinger telegraphed the agents of the different companies in the Territory, making inquiry as to how many members they could guarantee would participate in the military program, and announcing to them that their expenses would be borne by the society.

Adjutant General Ottinger today issues the following order:

For the parade of Exposition day the National Guard will form as follows:

The infantry in battalion line on Fifth East street, opposite Industrial Home, right resting on First South.

The artillery in column of pieces, on First South street, facing west, head of column resting on Fifth East street.

The cavalry, in column of fours, on Fifth East street, facing south, head of column resting on First South.

The artillery will follow the infantry, in the line of march, at a distance of twenty-four yards from the rear of the battalion, after entering First South street.

The cavalry will enter the marching line after it passes Fourth East street, following the artillery at a distance of twenty-four yards from its rear.

B. Y. A. Notes.

Editor Deseret News:

The enrollment of the institutes is now upwards of 450 students, of which the greater number are taking a normal course. The law class which has been organized recently, will doubtless become a leading feature of the school. It offers an excellent opportunity, to the young men especially, of becoming acquainted with governmental affairs. The class is at present taking under consideration the necessary elements of a state constitution. The military department, under the supervision of Instructor Home, is doing good work.

At the Territorial Fair, the school will make some exhibition of fine art specimens and educational work. Rhetoric B. is competing for the prize offered for the best composition.

A ball was given at the Opera House on Friday evening, Sept. 21st, under the auspices of the Polysophical society.

Danish Records.

Peter Hansen, Danish consul in this city, is an ardent worker in getting genealogical records from the several provinces of Denmark for his country. Today he showed at this office two well filled records, going back over two hundred years. He expects in a few days to get one of the larger records ever obtained from Denmark. It belongs to a respectable lady in the Twentieth Ward, Mrs. Tetzel, her ancestors are of Denmark's oldest and noblest families, who have kept their surname down through many generations; the men well to do having had to adopt their father's first name as their surname (since 1850 a special law this rule has been changed) and that makes it very hard to follow up a record so much over two hundred names is very seldom secured from that class. Mr. Hansen says that he has been in the genealogical business now for over two years, and in that length of time has had sent him many thousands of names.

The Danish government ordered three large buildings to be erected, one in Jylland, one on the island of Fyen, and a son the island of Sjaland, to receive all the old church records formerly held by the district priests. These buildings are now completed and an official appointed to arrange the books on the shelves for the public from those places. Mr. Hansen has infinite to get the records. Already he has secured a contract from the head librarian. He wishes to announce that he is ready to serve his country-men in this patriotic work. His office is at 69 east First South street, where he can be seen personally. Letters can also should be addressed to No. 257 Seventh East street, Salt Lake City, Utah.

Suffocated in a Mine.

Samuel Bailey, an employe of the Horn Silver mine, met death at midnight Wednesday while at his work running dirt into a chute at the 700 foot station. It appears that the chute had to some manner been filled up. While in the act of clearing it the earth under his feet sank. Loose earth went pouring in upon him so rapidly that he could not extricate himself. He was entirely covered with it, and before he could be taken out was smothered to death. The deceased has been married but a few months. He came from Ireland, where his parents now live. It is claimed that he has a brother living in Chicago.

Relief Society Conference.

There will be a general conference of the Relief Society held in the Salt Lake Assembly Hall in this city on Thursday, October 4th, meetings commencing at 10 a. m. and 2 p. m., and at half-past seven in the evening. The presidents of the Relief Societies of the several Stakes of Zion in the territories are expected to be present, or to have an efficient representative, to report the Stakes. All officers and members of the society who possibly can should attend the meetings. The presiding authorities, the Bishops, and brethren and sisters, are hereby cordially invited to attend the conference.

English Passenger Coaches.

The standard English passenger carriage is comfortably shorter than our car, has three aisles, no end platforms, and is entered by side doors. The first-class car contains four compartments, each with six places, three with backs to the engine, and three facing. The seats are separated by brass and comfortable arm rests, and there are arm rests on the sides of the carriage also. These rests are low enough, broad enough and soft enough to be comfortable. The compartment is about seven feet equare inside, giving ample room for the six seats, which are deep, wide, padded to the height of the head, and upholstered better than anything that I know of in America. There are ample racks for hand luggage, a rug on the floor, and one lamp in the roof. The second and third class carriages have five compartments, making the seats less deep, less and all, and giving less room for the knees than in the first class. The second class compartments seat eight persons and the bench across the car is divided by cut-arm rest, so that if the places are full you and one neighbor are separated by only an imaginary line. The third-class compartments seat ten persons, and the benches are not divided at all, the five persons on a side being in pretty close contact. These are not nearly so well upholstered as the first-class, but are good enough in that respect. These are the standards, but there are many exceptions. For short distance traffic, for example, it is quite common to seat eight in a first-class compartment, and to seat ten in a second-class compartment. From "Railroad Practice in England and America," by H. G. Prout, in the Outlook Seminar.

Of Hood's Sarsaparilla is that while it purifies the blood and tends it coursing through the veins full of richness and health, it also imparts new life and vigor to every function of the body.
