THEATRE.—The play of "Unmasked" is a romantic drama, and is by no means a pleasant one as tragedies are not wont to be. It is mournful throughout and the closing scene is pitiable. It is a story of Southern life, free love, marital infidelity and the sorrowful consequences thereof. It was very well played by all, much better than common. The play maintains its interest from beginning to end, and this interest is increased by the fact that the charm of the mystery of the finish is well kept to the last. Those who are unacquainted with the play can hardly guess the character of the closing scene until it is presented before them. There is some excellent sentiment in the play, and some that is far otherwise. Apart from the free love doctrine, we may mention the old false, disgraceful, outrageous society notion that the woman is the chief sinner, that is the chief of the two, which is not the case as a rule, and this false notion prevails to the end, for the man-sinner does forgiven, but the woman-sinner goes and unforgiven. As "Augusta Lanark," the high spirited southern lad, Miss Jarge presented an admirable picture, while as the wronged, bereaved, heartbroken wife and mother the intensity and energy of her passionate and overwhelming sorrow were depicted with surpassing and most painful depth and power. Altogether her playing was the best that we have seen of the kind for nearly a day, and can hardly be exceeded, if indeed equalled, by any actress in the Union. The house was a good one, but if it had been equal to the merit of the actings it would have been crowded. In Miss Dargon's acting are saliently manifest fitness, spirit, energy, earnestness, naturalness in conception and reality in impersonation, while in the more impassioned passages such is the intensity of feeling manifested and so completely does she identify herself with the character assumed that the actress is sunk, overwhelmed, swallowed up, perfectly lost in the woman, her whole soul is projected into the immediate scene presented.

Miss Dargon was ably sustained by Mr. Caswell as "Albert Lamar," the erring husband, although a higher conception of character would be an improvement; Mr. Dudley as "Mr. Lee," the honored and indignant father; Mr. Wilton, as "Mr. Sherman," the injured husband; Carrie Carter as "Mrs Sherman," the erring wife; Miss Simmons as "Mary," and Miss Edith Clawson as "Hester." As a whole the play went off in decidedly superior style.

The recitation, of "Fontenoy, or the disarger of the old Irish Brigade," was also admirably rendered.

To-night, the last of the engagement of Miss Dargon, "Lucretia Borgia" will be presented, followed by "A Kiss in the Dark."

SCHOOL TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION.—We have had the pleasure of perusing a programme of the exercises of the Teachers' Association for its April session, 1873, which we take pleasure in noticing. The programme is not complete in consequence of some of the parties who are to contribute not being heard from.

The President of the Association, Mr. W. N. Dusenberry; Dr. John R. Park, Messrs. Maeser, Riggs and Bishop, and the Territorial Superintendent of Schools are contributors whose names are already appended.

It is expected that several of the county superintendents will be in from the country and give addresses on educational and kindred topics.

The order of exercises present variety, and the subjects to be discussed are practical and their ventilation under the proper spirit will be of benefit to the community.

The session commences at 10 a.m. on Thursday the 3rd, and will be adjourned till 7 p.m. to give the teachers from the country an opportunity of visiting the city schools. The sessions on Friday, the 4th, will be at 2 and 7 p.m., and on Saturday, the 5th, at 10 a.m. and 2 and 7 p.m.

POSTPONED.—We are requested to announce that the home missionary meetings appointed to be held in Big Cottonwood (Brinton's Ward) to-morrow are postponed, and the Elders who were selected to attend are released till further notice.

This change has been made at the request of Bishop Brinton, who appears to deem it best to hold no meetings at present, because of the existence of smallpox in the County.

IN TOWN.—We were introduced this morning by Judge Geo. C. Bates to Mr. Walbridge and Mr. Young and son, of Toledo Ohio, who are on their way to California on a visit. Mr. Walbridge is a brother of Gen. H. S. Walbridge, of New York, and is a banker, he and Mr. Young are men of wealth and both early settlers of Toledo. We are glad to know of such men visiting this Territory. They can examine affairs for themselves, and what they state will have weight. The railroad has been a useful agency in bringing visitors by thousands who have obtained a knowledge of Utah and her affairs that they could not get from reading, and the more the Territory and its people are known the better they are liked.

FOR PLAINTIFFS.—In the case of Wines & Kimball vs. Stevens & Shurtliff, on trial in the Third District Court yesterday, the jury rendered a verdict of damages for the plaintiffs in the sum of $3,075, which was the amount claimed.

CENTENNIAL.—It was the intention of Col. Wickizer of the Centennial Commission to have held a meeting for the purpose of laying the subject before the public, and to explain the steps which have been and are being taken to make the Centennial in 1876 one of the great events in the World's history; but the prevalence of small-pox, and the fears entertained in relation to this disease will prevent such a meeting at the present.

SALT LAKE CITY, March 29th, 1873.

Editor Deseret News:

The announcement in your paper that the City Council had in view the purchase of Mark Lindsey's gardens for a site for the proposed new quarantine hospital has caused considerable comment and dissatisfaction among those living near that vicinity, and, being a resident of the northeastern part of the city, I speak advisedly on the subject.

I should like to name some of the objections which have been advanced, in my hearing, to this being chosen as the site for a hospital of the character of the one alluded to. One of the most prominent is that it would have a tendency to stop the progress of building up the city in that direction, and it is well known that more buildings have been erected in the north-eastern portion of the city than in any other part, and Lake City who doubt this go up there and see what has been done of late years, and they will find that sufficient progress has been made to constitute a small city. It is considered also by some of those living up that way the hospital would be in too close proximity to the city, and some have even hinted that it might not conduce to the recovery of patients to be able to look out of a window directly into the cemetery, where, should they be unfortunate as not to recover, they would take up their final abode. Another reason that has been adduced against this site is that it would probably much more expensive and at the same time nearly as quiet a suitable in other respects could be found a little distance north of the cemetery, where there is a small stream, and where it is probable water could also be found by digging.

It might be well for the City Council, before concluding negotiations in the matter, to take some of these ideas into consideration.

Very respectfully,
BOREMAN.

CORNS AND WARTS.—An individual after the order of the "King of Pain," and who is dressed in furniture calico, trimmed with green and hung around with tassels, has been haranguing a crowd near the Eagle at Corner to-day. He is a vender of a liquid with which he claims corns and warts can be painlessly extracted. He charges half a dollar for the liquid, but money is which the greenhorn rich into his pocket is something surprising. It is true that he himself succeeds in extracting warts on the spot, but whether this can be done by those who buy the stuff is rather doubtful, and this is a point worthy the consideration of purchasers.

DISAPPEARING.—We learn from Bishop Miller that there are new cases of smallpox in his, Mill Creek, Ward. The disease appears to be disappearing, as there have been no fresh cases in the city during the past few days, and nearly all the persons recently attacked are progressing favorably towards recovery. The only locality where the disease seems to be increasing now is in some parts of Sugarhouse. With regard to preventing the spread of the malady the greatest care should be exercised, but anything like excessive fear or nervous excitement should be studiously avoided. It has been demonstrated frequently that persons who have the greatest fear of the disease are the most liable to be attacked.

RAILROAD NEWS.—Yesterday a telegram was received by General F. H. Connor, from H. S. Jacobs, Esq., stating that the latter had just concluded negotiations for the entire property and franchises of the Salt Lake, Sevier Valley and Pioche Railroad, and also for two locomotives and five cars. The dispatch was dated at New York. It may be reasonably expected that the work of construction on this line will now go forward with a rush and dash. That's right, push along the railroad development.

WATER.—We are requested to announce that all parties interested in the Twenty-fifth Ward water ditch are required to meet Mark Lindsey, at Caste's water wheel, on Monday morning, at seven o'clock, equipped with picks and shovels.

RETURNED.—Mrs. Wm. B. Wilkinson, who left here the beginning of the month, for the East on business, and to visit her relatives near Philadelphia, returned on Tuesday, bringing with her a goodly assortment of millinery, &c., which in addition to the stock she had on hand and other shipments she has arranged for, will place her in a position to please the most fastidious of her friends with every thing in her line.

CHERRY AND FAIR STAR.—This is the title of a new spectacular piece which is to be presented at the Theatre on Monday night, or early the coming week. It has been in preparation for the last six months, and will be the grandest of the kind ever seen in the Theatre in this city. To play the piece it will require nearly seventy "supes" in addition to the regular dramatis personæ. The ballet will be more numerous than anything seen here before. The dresses of the fairies, sprites, &c., will be all new and beautiful. The amount of paraphernalia required for "Cherry and Fair Star" will be immense, and the effects produced therewith will far surpass any of beautiful extravaganzas of the kind introduced here in the past. The music, comprising marches, dances, songs, &c., is entirely new, having been composed expressly for the occasion by Professor Thomas. Several hundred dollars have been expended in the preparation of this extravaganza, and the public may depend upon witnessing the most dazzling, grand and gorgeous display in the presentation and performance of "Cherry and Fair Star" that have ever been attempted between the Missouri and the Pacific.

PARDONED.—Robert McLausland, who was convicted and sentenced to two years in the penitentiary, last September for mule stealing, has been pardoned by Governor Woods. The following is a copy of the warrant for his release:

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,
Territory of Utah.

The Governor of the Territory of Utah to Robert McLausland, now a convict in the penitentiary of said Territory greeting:

Know ye, that, having been petitioned so to do, by many citizens of said Territory, including the Attorney General of Utah, and believing from the representations so made, that the punishment of said convict has been sufficient; now, therefore, to the end that justice may be done, I, George L. Woods, Governor of the Territory, by virtue of the authority in me vested, do give and grant unto him, the said Robert McCausland, convict, a full pardon, restoring him to all the rights and privileges heretofore enjoyed by him under the laws of the Territory.

And I call upon the Warden of the penitentiary and his Deputies to see that this warrant is carried into immediate effect.

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and cause the Great seal of the Territory to be affixed. Done at Salt Lake City on this the 26th day of March, A. D. 1873.

By the Governor,
GEORGE L. WOODS,
Governor of Utah Territory.

GEORGE A. BLACK,
Secretary of Utah Territory.

THERE are messages at the Deseret Telegraph Office for Abraham Cook, Geo. Field, H. F. Greene and G. N. Becker.

OUT FOR PRACTICE.—The fire brigade will be out for drill on Tuesday at 2 o'clock.

RAISED.—The quarantine has been raised in the case of Dr. Crockwell's family, these members of it who were attacked with smallpox, having completely recovered. The Ninth Ward is now clear of the malady.

TO-DAY'S DISPATCHES.

EASTERN.

NEW YORK, 29.—A special from Havana says that Bidwell, arrested by request of the English government, charged with complicity in the forgeries on the Bank of England, is not a British subject, but an American, and a native of Indiana. His arrest is not justified by any treaty of extradition between Spain and England or the United States, and is declared by lawyers to be illegal and without a precedent, except in the case of Argumes in 1864. They also declare that it is a violation of the laws of Spain and of the treaty stipulations with the United States, and in contempt of the guarantees of the laws of 1870 relative to foreigners. The British Vice Consul obtained, by compulsion, five thousand dollars from Mrs. Bidwell in bonds. Complaints having been made, the Captain General ordered that the money be deposited. Bidwell expressed a desire that it should be sent to New York.

Another special from Havana, also dated the 26th, says that advices from Remedias report the desertion of a portion of the Cadiz battalion from the Spanish colors to the insurgents. In a recent engagement between Agremont and the Spanish forces, the former took sixty prisoners, and shot fifty-nine of them. One was spared and sent back to take a message to the Spanish lords, informing them that whether monarchist or republican, they had acted with inhumanity to the insurgents, and that therefore the insurgents would give no quarter. Agremont recently returned Col. Princenelle and several other prisoners to Puerto Principi, nevertheless Rubalcaba was executed in the latter city. Another version reports that Agremonte sent Princenelle and others in exchange for the insurgent chief Emilio Luacas, who had been captured by the Spanish, but the capture was not made public.

A special from Key West says that it is surmised among the Cubans that the removal of General Ceballas, commander of the Spanish forces in Cuba, was made because of his threat to shoot O'Kelly, a newspaper correspondent.

Information derived from the parents of the woman Armstrong, charged with the murder of Goodrich, shows that she was at home on the night of the murder. Mrs. Armstrong says she has been twice married, but her husbands are dead. Her parents are aged and suffering from poverty. She is their only support. The officers will detain her until the case is thoroughly sifted. She admits having been at Goodrich's house one day last week.

Postmaster Gen. Creswell is reported as saying, yesterday, that the statement that there would be no increase of rates paid for postal cars is untrue, as the act passed last session authorized an increase next year of five hundred thousand dollars.

A dispatch from Columbia, S. C., says that in Warren County, Georgia, a man named G. Clark horribly slaughtered his wife, and left her body to be burned. Clark fled.

EUROPEAN.

LONDON.—The Oxford and Cambridge boat race this afternoon causes great interest. Business is almost entirely neglected. People are now going to the Thames in great crowds to view the contest. A dense fog prevails, which it is hoped will lift before the start. It is the general opinion that the Cambridge crew will be victorious. Betting is two to one in their favor.

7 o'clock p.m.—The Oxfords have suddenly become the favorites. There are rumors that the Cantabs have been overworked and that some of the crew are sick.

LONDON, 29.—The weather is warm and delightful. The fog is cleared away and the sun is shining bright. The crowd congregating to witness the race is reported to be unprecedented. Both shores of the Thames are lined with people from Putney to Mortlake. The bridge across the Thames is packed. The Thames conservancy, press and police boats have arrived at Putney. The river is clear. The light and dark blue bunting colors of the Cambridge and Oxford crews respectively are displayed in all quarters. The dark blue is the favorite. Almost every person wears a light or dark blue rosette. The Oxford crew was out this morning practicing, but the Cantabs have not been seen to-day.

2.30 p.m. The crowd to witness the race is the largest ever congregated to win a like contest. The Prince of Wales and his children are on the umpire's boat. The boats are taking their positions. All is ready for a start.

4.20 p.m. The race took place over the usual Thames course from Putney to Mortlake, a distance of four miles and two furlongs. The start was effected at 31 minutes past 2. Cambridge took the lead immediately at a very rapid stroke, and were a fair distance ahead of their competitors to Bishop Creek, three furlongs from the starting point. Here the Oxfords spurted vigorously, drew up, passing the Cantabs at the soap works, a mile and four furlongs from the seque duct bridge. The steady strokes of the Cantabs soon after began to tell on their opponents. In a few minutes Cambridge resumed the lead and the race was practically over at Corny Reach, Cambridge thereafter maintaining the lead and winning easily by three lengths. The Oxfords rowed from 39 to 43 strokes per minute, the Cantabs from 38 to 40. Time of the race, 20 minutes, 25 seconds.

LONDON, 29.—The Cambridge crew won the University race by three lengths.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

☞ Our Hatters and Boot Fitters,
d168 1f DUNFORD & SONS

☞ The attention of the reading public generally, of school teachers and of Sunday School Committees, Superintendents and Teachers is directed to the advertisement, elsewhere in this paper, of Mr. James Dwyer, bookseller of this city. He has now got in stock a large and choice selection of the works of the best writers of history and fiction, poetry and prose, both of this country and England. Also a large stock of the latest and most approved educational works, and school books, including readers, spellers, keographies, grammars, mathematics, Bibles, Testaments and other sacred books, including the works of the church, all of which he says he will sell to purchasers cheaper than they were ever sold before in this Territory. He makes offers especially advantageous to those about to purchase libraries for schools—he guarantees to furnish any collection of books desired for a Sunday or day school library, at lower rates than any other house in this city, and cheaper than purchasers can procure them, personally or through any other agent in the east. Mr. Dwyer proposes going east shortly after the approaching General Conference, and parties wishing to order books, whether large or small collections might find it to their advantage to call and see him before deciding to make their purchases through other parties.

☞ FINE STOCK.—Persons desirous of procuring one or more of the best young stallions ever brought to this Territory will do well to examine fine young horses just brought on by Messrs. Lehi & Washburn, proprietors of the California Settler. It is only necessary to say in recommendation of the above horses that they are all young, and are purely CLYDE & NORMAN, HAMILTONIAN and PATCHEN stocks. They expect 150 head of fine mules from the East about the 8th of April.
