Mysterious Death of a Student at the Denver Medical College.

CRUSADE AGAINST THE CHINESE.

A Girl Stabbed with a Pocketknife by Her Brother.—The Wool Crop in Wyoming, Etc.

Brigham City is soon to have an institution for the cure of inebriates.

There is talk of building a two-story, thirty-roomed hotel in Brigham City as soon as spring opens up.

United States Marshal Gray has arrived at Deadwood, South Dakota, charged with murdering the cowboys.

The Eagle is a newspaper venture just started into life by Eva B. Smith, at Kaysville, Davis county. It is a six column quarto.

The warden of the Idaho penitentiary has issued an order that none of the prisoners shall be allowed to receive any of the state publications.

A large amount of hay is finding a ready market in Park City these days, says the Record, and parties not having contracts are forced to pay a slight advance in price per ton.

Mr. C. E. Malstrom has penetrated the bluff, by means of a tunnel ninety feet long, at Oak Dale ranch, south of the Oak springs, and obtained a flow of water sufficient to supply a brick yard. He has forty acres of excellent clay.—Springville Independent.

While Ben B. Birchall was shooting at a chicken at Nephi on Friday, a ball from his gun glanced from one object and struck old Mr. Birchall in the side, glanced along the rib and again emerged, making an ugly flesh wound. No serious results are anticipated.

The recent wind storm that visited this neighborhood, says the Springville Independent, succeeded in taking the roof of Lewis Nielson's residence, but a number of Mapleton's sturdy citizens gathered together lumber and shingles and before twenty-four hours had passed put on a better one than the wind wafted away.

Sheepmen are elated over the prospects of a good lamb and wool crop the coming season. One wool man says that for this season of the year sheep were never in better condition in the intermountain country, and that this year he would make dollars where last year he made cents.—Laramie Boomerang.

The bonds of the new board of directors of the Beaver Co-op. store have been filed with the county clerk. The board consists of John R. Murdock, president; James Low, vice-president; C. D. White, M. L. Shepherd, R. Maeser, Thomas Frazer R. R. Tanner. treasurer, W. S. Tolton; for secretary to the board R. Maeser was appointed.

John Horton caught an Idaho lion in a No. 4 trap the other night that measured seven feet from tip to tip. The trap had been set for coyotes and was only about a quarter of a mile from Mr. Horton's house. John and his dog "Sech" had quite a tussel with the beast before dispatching it. Mr. Horton exhibited it in town the next day.—Custer County (Idaho) Graphic.

Laura Russell, of Safford, Arizona, has been twice stabbed with a pocket knife by her thirteen-year-old brother. She was sweeping the floor and gave the boy a slight push with the broom, which so enraged him that he stabbed her with the knife with which he was whittling, once in the chest and once in the right forearm. The wounds are not thought to be dangerous.

On Friday night a car worked loose on the cage at Ontario No 3 shaft, between the 500 and 600 levels at Park City. The guides were torn out for quite a distance, the center timbers sprang out of place, and a pair of tanks broke through into the adjoining compartment and went to the bottom, doing much damage in their descent. No person was injured.

A most painful accident has befallen Hiram Hess, of Plymouth. As he was riding a horse near his home at that place the horse slipped on the ice and fell to the ground, on its side. His right leg was caught under the animal in such a manner that it suffered a severe fracture, being broken in three places. The breaks are very bad ones and will be the means of laying him up for many weeks.—Brigham City Report.

For several months an active crusade has been carried on against the Chinese by the labor organizations of Missoula, Anaconda, Butte and other cities of Montana. Lists of all who employ or patronize the Mongolians are prepared and such persons boycotted. Petitions are now being circulated in all labor centers for the enactment of a bill, a copy of which is as follows: "That it will be unlawful for any officer of the state of Montana, or any officer of any town or city thereof, to issue a license to engage in any kind of business within this state to any person or persons not citizens or not having declared their intention to become citizens of the United States." It is an anti-Chinese measure and aims at their total extermination, as it would shut up every Chinese store, restaurant and laundry in the state, and thereby take from them their only business. The bill and the petitions will reach the legislature soon and will be vigorously urged.—Special to the Denver News.

Judge Nugent of Boise City, Idaho, has rendered a decision in favor of the plaintiff in the case of Coble vs. Harvey argued some time ago. Harvey was in debt to Coble. He had made a desert entry on some land near Nampa and Coble wanted to reach the certificate of entry by proceedings supplementary to execution. Under the desert land law of 1877 the commissioner of the general land office held that certificates of entry could not be assigned. The law of 1891 amended that law and the commissioner changed his ruling, not only on certificates issued since March 3rd, 1891, but previous to that. On that ruling Judge Nugent based his decision that "inasmuch as the United States permits assignments and offers to sell to the assignee as well as to the original entryman, it becomes a property right, that the rule that the state cannot interfere with the primary disposal of the soil therefore has no application and that the certificate can be reached under proceedings supplementary to execution." This is a matter in which many people are interested, as many are in the same position as Harvey, holding certificates for desert entries which they had supposed were exempt from execution.

John Fisher, a student of the Denver Medical college, dropped dead in the dental room under peculiar circumstances on Friday night. The cause of death was a dose of cyanide of potassium. Bert, the janitor of the building, who lives in a room above the laboratory, in returning from the theater and passing through the hall, heard someone walking about in the room where the drugs are kept. He opened the door and immediately a figure rushed toward him, crying "Bert, quick, quick, quick; cyanide of potash." Somewhat frightened, Bert stepped back but the man ran against him with great force, fell backwards and then rushed into an adjoining room and dropped on the floor. As soon as Bert could recover his nerve he went to the prostrate form and found that it was John Fisher, a medical student, whom he knew quite well. Fisher was unconscious, and Bert then called Dr. Munn. When the doctor arrived Fisher was breathing but feebly, and while the medical man held him in his arms he expired without saying a word. Dr. Munn believes Fisher went into the laboratory to get some [illegible] and took, by mistake, the poison. He does not think the student had any cause to end his life. Deceased was 22 years of age, the son of Colonel Fisher, late superintendent of the Union Pacific Railway company. He had been attending the medical college for two years and was regular in his attendance. For several months last summer he was connected with the health department of Denver.

Arrivals and Appointments.

[Millennial Star.]

Arrivals.—On Saturday, January 21, 1893, the White Star liner Adriatic arrived in Liverpool from New York, having on board Elders Thomas E. Taylor of Salt Lake City, and Charles Tillotson of Ogden, for the British Mission, and A. P. Stenblom of Salt Lake City, for the Scandinavian Mission. Although these brethren crossed the Atlantic at a time when severe weather is usually experienced they reported the voyage as being a most pleasant one. All were well. Elder Stenblom proceeded on his journey to the continent.

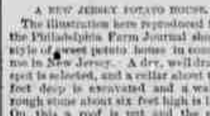
Appointments.—Elder Thomas E. Taylor is appointed to labor as traveling Elder in the Birmingham Conference.

Elder Charles Tillotson is appointed to labor as traveling Elder in the Leeds Conference.

SWEET POTATOES.

Storing and Keeping—A New Jersey Potato House Illustrated.

In Virginia and farther south sweet potatoes are usually kept over winter in pits covered with earth. In states farther north better protection than is afforded by these earth covered pits is required, and therefore, where large crops of sweet potatoes are to be stored, cellars and sweet potato houses are used for the purpose.



A NEW JERSEY POTATO HOUSE.

The illustration here reproduced from the Philadelphia Farm Journal shows a style of sweet potato house in common use in New Jersey. A dry, well drained spot is selected, and a cellar about three feet deep is excavated and a wall of rough stone about six feet high is built. On this a roof is put and the earth banked up to the top of the wall. The roof and ends should be double to keep out the cold. It is better also to have double doors, as indicated in cut. The house should front the southeast and the chimney be put at the cold end. The size of the house will of course depend on the crop to be stored.

Bins are made to hold 20, 50 or 100 barrels. Rough boards and a layer of straw are generally placed in the bottom and against the wall before putting the potatoes in the bin. A small cast iron cylinder coal burning stove is the kind in common use for heating. The fire should be started a few days in advance of storing to dry out the house, and a little is kept burning for a week afterward to dry off the potatoes, as they invariably go through a sweating process. During this time ventilation should be freely given. Afterward just enough fire should be maintained to keep the temperature between 60 and 70 degs. Sweet potatoes to keep well must be stored before heavy frosts kill the vines.

Poultry Notes.

Egg foods are principally ground oyster shells, ground bones with gypsum, sand, oxide of iron and cayenne pepper.

Selling pure bred chickens in the fall is becoming popular among fanciers.

One bushel of corn and oats ground together and fed to poultry will produce fifteen pounds of flesh. How many pounds of pork would the same quantity of food produce?

During cold rainstorms and the mornings after, season the mixed food with a free sprinkling of red pepper; a little in the drinking water will also be beneficial.

Save all the earliest and finest pullets; feed them up well with milk and scraps or a good variety of rich food if you want them to lay a bountiful supply of eggs this winter.

Buy now and let your fowls become acquainted with their new friends and accustomed to their new quarters before the breeding season arrives.—American Poultry Yard.

SUMMONS.

In the District Court in and for the Third Judicial District of Utah Territory, County of Salt Lake.

Karrien Winkler, Plaintiff, vs. Jens Winkler, Defendant.

The People of the Territory of Utah send greeting to Jens Winkler.

YOU ARE HEREBY REQUIRED TO APpear in an action brought against you by the above named plaintiff in the District Court of the Third Judicial District of the Territory of Utah, and to answer the complaint filed therein within ten days (exclusive of the day of service) after the service on you of this summons—if served within this county; or, if served out of this county, but in this district, within twenty days; otherwise within forty days—or judgment by default will be taken against you, according to the prayer of said complaint.

The said action is brought to have a decree of this court dissolving the bonds of matrimony existing between plaintiff and defendant, and awarding to plaintiff the custody of the minor children, issue of said marriage; requiring defendant to pay into court a reasonable sum to defray the expenses of this action, and an attorney's fee, and to pay to plaintiff the sum of $[illegible] per month as alimony, during pendency of this action, and making such alimony permanent; granting plaintiff other relief; prayed on the following grounds, to-wit: That defendant has treated plaintiff in a cruel and inhuman manner, to the extent of causing her great bodily injury and mental distress; that defendant has been guilty of habitual drunkenness for more than [illegible] years last past; and that for more than [illegible] years last past the defendant has wilfully neglected to provide the plaintiff the common necessaries of life.

And you are hereby notified that if you fail to appear and answer the said complaint as above required the said plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief demanded therein.

Dated January [illegible], 1893.

NOTICE.

THE ANNUAL MEETING OF THE STOCKholders of the Utah [illegible] & Hardware Company will be held at the company's office on Thursday, February 16th, at 2 p.m., for the election of officers and the transaction of such business as may come before it.

JOHN R. WINDER, JR.,
Secretary.

How Much will you Risk for One Cent?

THE difference in price between the PUTNAM NAIL and cheaper brands amounts to one cent on each horse shod.

Are you willing to use the cheap unbridled and sheared nails, with all their manifest dangers, in order to save that one cent?

The process of their manufacture is against them. The cold process disintegrates the iron and causes it to flake or sever, so that after the point is clinched and the nail is driven into the hoof it is extremely liable to split, and ruin a valuable horse. Just how much would your loss?

Now this is how you can save the two or three hundred dollars you would have to pay for a dead horse, but you would not save your cent.

Use the Putnam Nail.

It is Hot-Forged from the best Swedish Iron rods, while at a welding heat, by the action of Hammers alone, and then Hammer-Pointed.

Thus, the old hand process is followed, which was hot-forging nails under hammers, and hammer-pointing them by the shoer, cold, without any clipping or shearing whatever.

AND THE NAIL CANNOT SPLIT.

But it will cost you one cent more for each horse shod!

The shoes will stay on longer and your repair bills will be thereby decreased.

ALL FOR ONE CENT.

Send for sample.

WHY THE DESERET NEWS SHOULD BE SUBSCRIBED FOR IN PREFERENCE TO ANY OTHER PAPER.

1.—It is the organ of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, and the authorized medium through which the views, wishes and instructions of the Church Authorities are expressed and given to the Saints.

2.—It may always be relied upon as advocating or defending the right side of every question proper for public journals to treat upon.

3.—It is devoted to the interests of the Latter-day Saints, and has, from its inception, valiantly defended their rights and advocated the principles in which they believe; and every Latter-day Saint should therefore feel under obligations to do his part in helping to sustain it.

4.—It is not published for speculation, and never has been, but for the good which it is capable of accomplishing; the profits, if any there be derived from it, being devoted to extending its sphere of usefulness and benefiting the community.

5.—It is doing its utmost to establish home industries, among which are paper making and type founding, stereotyping and electroplating—branches necessary to the development and independence of the community, but which, during their infancy (which in this Territory they have not yet passed), can only be carried on at a pecuniary loss.

6.—There is no danger of any subscriber to the NEWS failing to get what he subscribes for through failure of the business and a suspension of the publication—a result in the case of hundreds of newspaper ventures every year.

7.—It is printed in readable type, so that even the aged can peruse it without difficulty or danger to their eyesight.

8.—It is free from objectionable advertisements, so that no parent need fear that his children will have their minds corrupted from having access to it; in fact, it refuses thousands of dollars worth of the best paying advertisements annually, because it is devoted to the moral and spiritual interests of its readers instead of to getting gain at their expense.

9.—Its tone is not regulated by public opinion nor the hope of gaining subscribers or advertisements. It advocates that which is right and condemns that which is wrong, regardless of results, financial or otherwise.

10.—It never nauseates its readers by palming off columns of self-praise for news items.

11.—The NEWS practices no deception and resorts to no subterfuges to induce people to subscribe; but on the contrary, prefers to stand on its own merits, as the people's newspaper, with a promise only to do its utmost to give its patrons the full value of their money—a promise which it has endeavored to faithfully keep in the past.

12.—In conclusion, if a Latter-day Saint can afford to subscribe for only one newspaper, that paper should be the DESERET NEWS; and if more than one, the NEWS should invariably be the first.
