THE CLOSING HOURS.

Adjournment of the Constitutional Convention This Afternoon.

IMPRESSIVE AND IMPRESSIVE.

The Constitution Signed by Ninety-nine Delegates—Congratulatory Speeches.

The Constitutional Convention, which has to-day set day just past in framing the fundamental law of the new State, I think its labors this afternoon and adjourned sine die. The Constitution was signed by ninety-nine out of the one hundred and seven members, all who were present. Two absent members will join, by resolution, until October 1st, to attend their signatures to the document. Speeches of congratulation were made and the closing hour was very interesting and impressive.

THE CONVENTION.

The Convention was called to order at 2:30 o'clock with the last time of [illegible] members assembled. A few minutes prayer was offered by Delegate Pace, of Weber.

MOTION TO ADJOURN.

Chidney offered the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the Convention adjourn sine die, to meet in the city and county of Salt Lake City, on the [illegible] day of October, 1895.

THE SEAL OF THE STATE.

The President announced that the committee would be held [illegible] and that the committee would be [illegible] to report on the seal of the State, which is to be used in the meeting. He said he was in favor of the seal being [illegible] the Senate committee, but he understanding that it is not allowed to be used in any way.

RULE FOR THE PRESIDENT.

Cain offered the following:

Resolved, That the Convention provide a rule for the President, [illegible] the signature on the document, [illegible]

Dickson said he had [illegible] that we have all [illegible] the flags and decorations for [illegible].

The President—That is not the question [illegible].

Dickson—[illegible] the rule [illegible] the President [illegible] the signature [illegible] the document [illegible] the signature [illegible] the President [illegible] the signature [illegible] the President [illegible] the signature [illegible] the President