IMPROVEMENT LEAGUE.

Same Gives to the S. L. A. Adjunct for Physical, Intellectual and Moral Development.

The movement recently set on foot to inaugurate an attractive adjunct to the Mutual Improvement associations of this county took definite form last night at the meeting of officers held in the Social Hall, when the new organization was named the Mutual Improvement League of Salt Lake Stake. The object of the organization as set forth in the report of the committee having this branch of the work in charge, is the physical, intellectual and moral development of its members.

Joseph H. Felt, present president of the Y. M. M. I. A. of the Stake, was chosen president of the league, and the following were appointed directors: Spencer Clawson, C. S. Stewart, Nephi Morris, Thomas Hull, Willard Done, Miss Maud Babcock, Mrs. James E. Talmage, Mrs. Kate Groesbeck and Mrs. Dr. Maggie Shipp. Miss —— Campbell was made secretary and Frank Stanley treasurer.

The committee on finance presented its report embodying recommendations as to the best manner of raising money to defray the expenses that will be incurred in the establishment of the league. It becomes a concert to be given by the Tabernacle choir during the holidays. The officers of the league will hold another meeting tonight when it is expected bids will be awarded for the necessary remodelling of the Social hall in making it a suitable place for gymnasium and other work.

Mrs. Boyden's Charity Recital.

Mrs. Boyden's charity recital for the benefit of the aged county infirmary inmates at the School of Expression last night, was a very pleasing and successful affair. The rooms were well filled with admiring patrons who generously appreciated the efforts of pupils and teachers alike. The program contained excellent numbers and the names of those who participated in the rendition were Mrs. Bertha Sorest, Denny Reader, Blanche Thomas, Marjorie Maivey, Frank Foote, Elsie Hansen, Foster Curtis, Tessie Miflin, Josie Maivey, Annie Elliot, Greta Price, Will Cutcaun, Lizzie Matthews and Josie Morris.

TENTH WARD SQUARE.

Dr. Faust Would Use It as a High School Site—No Fair Next Year.

To the Editor:

Of late much has been said, and more written, about a High and preparatory school house that should be built for the benefit of the Territory, or State that is to be. This could not be done now without the issuing of more bonds, and to this the people would object.

There is a way out, however. The Agricultural society has a great building that is just the place. This could be turned over to the school trustees, and by the expenditure of a few thousand dollars it would be the best school house west of the Missouri river. Time and experience have proven that the Tenth ward square is not large enough for our fairs. Hence we had best turn the premises over to the school trustees and let them agree to pay what the house cost, and then the State, through the Agricultural society, can build on it its own ground, where the race track now is, down by the Jordan. This will give Utah a High school immediately, and the Agricultural society the proper place for their Fairs. But if the race track grounds should not be deemed large enough, they, too, could be sold and grounds purchased a little farther out.

The society cannot sell the Tenth Ward Square—that must revert back to the city, when they are done with it. There will be no trouble about the title to the land, as it could remain in the city's hands as well for school purposes as in any one else's hands. The building is about 100 feet wide by 150 feet long. This can be made into three stories high. The south wing is 80 wide by 160 long. The building can plenty of light, and can be constructed into one of the neatest school houses in the land. With gas or electricity for light and fuel, and two street railroads running to it from all parts of the city, what more can we want?

The luxuries of life we can dispense with, but the necessities we should have. The Fair or next year would be only a luxury. The necessity has been removed by the downfall of stock. The stockmen cannot enhance their values any longer by improving their stock. The poor notes is now doomed to slavery—to plow and to load the railroads will be his lot from now on. The farmers will raise just as big squash, cabbage or potatoes without a Fair next year as they would with it. The people will get married without getting a premium of a bedstead by the Fair. The only people that will suffer would be those that draw pay for running the Fair.

I say, let us have the school now, and then the Fair when we get a good place, a place big enough for the Fairs for all time to come. To get up a Fair next year the State Legislature would have to appropriate five or six thousand dollars. Would they be justified in doing so, with the state already in debt, and taxes already high enough to break people's backs? Would it not be better to do what we ought to do first, then the rest when times will be better? When will we have good times, you say? When our debts are paid as a State, county, city and individually. This will be done by strict economy, and by the mining boom that is now on in Utah. Let us all pull together. What have the Tribune and Herald to say about it?

PROF. MILLS AND WATER.

He Maintains that Irrigation is Part of Agriculture.

LOGAN, Utah, Dec. 16, 1895.

To the Editor:

When the irrigation question first came up in the Constitutional Convention the News and myself were of the same opinion in regard to the proposition brought forward by the irrigation commission and as to what should be done; and both expressed ourselves on the question then. Without collusion or any other agreement we both declared the proposition to mean in reality confiscation and very undesirable on its merits. This morning, as I read over your editorial of March 12, 1895, I wondered how we have drifted so far apart, for that editorial exactly expressed my ideas then and does now. The editorial covers the ground so thoroughly and well that I should be pleased to see you republish it in full.

However, from your editorial of Nov. 25, 1895, it is evident that we now disagree on one point, viz: the ranking of the creature, agriculture. Irrigation is a part and only a part of agriculture, and for this reason it can never become greater than agriculture. Whether in soth-up of the toast it would be proper to call irrigation the rail I am unable to say; but certainly it is one of the appendages of agriculture. Were irrigation a thousand times as important as it now is it would still be a part of agriculture, and the part can never be greater than the whole. I must still continue to insist that agriculture should do the wagging and therefore be classed as the dog.

As to the other matters in your editorial of Nov. 25, it may be that we do not disagree—but only misunderstand each other. To make the matter clear and bring it squarely before the public will the News answer the following questions?

Is it desirable that in the future the people of Utah give up the old idea of the township irrigators and land owners owning and operating their canals and that this ownership and operating pass into the hands of corporations who are neither land holders nor irrigators?

With a great number of such corporations already in existance, is it desirable that their presidents, managers and other officers club together and direct irrigation legislation?

If both of these questions are answered in the affirmative then we have unconditionally each other. If, however, a negative answer in either is given then of necessity we are on opposite sides of the question.

Respectfully,
A. A. MILLS.

To the first question, we answer No. To the second, we reply that it is desirable for the individuals referred to, in connection with all others directly interested in practical irrigation, to unite in supplying the Legislature, and the whole people, such information as will give a thorough understanding of the conditions and necessities which exist, that whatever legislation is adopted will be to maintain in the actual owners of the land the control of the water supply from which it is irrigated. Prof. Mills may now understand where the News stands, and inasmuch as he notifies us above that if we give a negative answer to either of his questions "we are on opposite sides," the parade will perhaps be able to tell, though we confess that we cannot, what his position really is.—ED. NEWS.]

It Costs Little and Does Much.

Remark when you attend a play or concert how many people disturb the performance by coughing. One man begins and the cough seems to be contagious. The interruption is a great nuisance, and there is no need of it, for anyone may cure a cough with the Pleasant Balsam, which costs 25c. It soothes the inflammation in the throat and loosens the mucus which clogs the air passages. A few doses of Ely's Pleasant Balsam stops a cough and heals a sore throat.

A genuine sheet-anchor has yet to be attested; but not so a genuine blood-purifier. Over and over again it has been proved that Ayer's Sarsaparilla stands alone among medicines as the most reliable blood-alterative in pharmacy. It stood alone at the World's Fair.

Singers, public speakers, actors, auctioneers, teachers, preachers, and all who are liable to over-tax and irritate the vocal organs, find, in Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, a safe, certain and speedy relief. A timely dose of this preparation has prevented many a throat trouble.

Troubled With Periodical Dysentery

Henry P. Rivers, of Lucea, Jamaica, West Indies Islands, says: "Since my recovery from an attack of dysentery, some ten years ago, it comes on suddenly at times and makes me very weak. A tenspoonful of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy taken in a little water gives me immediate relief. I could get a dozen testimonials from people in this place who have been cured by this remedy."

For the Holidays.

The Rio Grande Western Railway announces a Holiday rate of one single fare for the round trip between any two points on its line. Tickets will be sold only on December 24th, 25th and 31st, and January 1st. All tickets limited to January 6th, '96. Everybody should take advantage of these reduced rates to visit their relatives and friends, for Christmas comes but once a year.

Electric Bitters.

Electric Bitters is a medicine suited for any season, but perhaps more generally needed in the Spring, when the impurities accumulated during the winter, begin to show themselves, when the liver is torpid and sluggish and the need of a tonic and alterative is felt. A proper use of this medicine has often averted long and fatal illnesses later. No medicine will act more surely in invigorating and freeing the system from the malarial poison. Headache, Indigestion, Constipation, Dizziness yield to Electric Bitters. Only fifty cents a bottle. Z. C. M. I. drug department.

Marvelous Results.

From a letter written by Rev. J. Gundersen, of Dassodale, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist Church at Hives Junction she was brought down with Pneumonia succeeding La Grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last minute with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery; it was quick to do work and highly satisfactory in results." Trial bottles free at Z. C. M. I. drug department. Regular size 50c and $1.00.

"The Common People,"

As Abraham Lincoln called them, do not care to argue about their ailments. What they want is a medicine that will cure them. The simple, honest statement, "I know that Hood's Sarsaparilla cured me," is the best argument in favor of this medicine, and this is what many thousands voluntarily say.

Hood's Pills are the best after-dinner pills, assist digestion, cure headache, 25c.

ANOTHER RAMBLER DAY.

The Rambler boys made a great showing in the Ogden races. The first event of the day was the one mile road race, in which McCluskey finished third, taking third prize and third time prize. Then came the track race, Joe Beck taking second in the novice. Fowler first, Waller second, and Thatcher third in the mile scratch, class B, all "Ramblers" you will note. In the half mile class A, Mar took second, Cotton third. Half mile, class B, Thatcher second, Fowler third. Five mile, class B, Fowler second. In the race a man in a yellow and red hat had and fell. Committee and Waller being immediately behind him, the result was a spill for these parties and the race left to Evans. The five mile, class A, was another Rambler event, May taking first, Joe Beck second and McCluskey third. Fourteen prizes for one day is glory enough for any club.

People make laws and people may err,
And days may come of fair pleasure,
But Rambler's win raises whatever they go,
Regardless of how others feel.
