Beauty

Is desired and admired by all. Among the things which may best be done to enhance personal beauty is the daily use of Ayer's Hair Vigor. No matter what the color of the hair, this preparation gives it a lustre and pliancy that adds greatly to its charm. Should the hair be thin, harsh, dry, or turning gray, Ayer's Hair Vigor will restore the color, bring out a new growth, and render the old soft and shiny. For keeping the scalp clean, cool, and healthy, there is no better preparation in the market.

"I am free to confess that a trial of Ayer's Hair Vigor has convinced me that it is a genuine article. Its use has not only caused the hair of my wife and daughter to be but it has given my rather stunted mustache a respectable length and appearance."—R. Britton, Oakland, Ohio.

"My hair was coming out (without any assistance from my wife, either). I tried Ayer's Hair Vigor, using only one bottle, and I now have as fine a head of hair as any one could wish for."—R. T. Schmitton, Dickson, Tenn.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor in my family for a number of years, and regard it as the best hair preparation I know of. It keeps the scalp clean, the hair soft and lively, and preserves the original color. My wife has used it for a long time with most satisfactory results."—Benjamin M. Johnson, M. D., Thomas Hill, Mo.

"My hair was becoming harsh and dry, but after using half a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor it grew black and glossy. I cannot express the joy and gratitude I feel."—Mabel C. Hardy, Delavan, Ill.

TARIFF REFORM.

A Banquet, With a Letter From the President, Speeches, etc.

BOSTON, Dec. 28.—The annual banquet of the Massachusetts Tariff Reform League, took place at the Hotel Vendome this evening. The principal guest of the evening was Secretary of the Treasury Fairchild. Hon. W. T. Russell presided, and in his opening speech, said the gathering was not one of interested capitalists to rejoice over a political victory, but a gathering in the interest of the propagation of a great political economical reform.

The following letter was then read from

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND:

EXECUTIVE MANSION, WASHINGTON, December 26

Messrs. Sherman, Hoar, and Others of the Committee:

Gentlemen—I am exceedingly sorry that I cannot be present at the annual dinner of the Massachusetts Tariff Reform League, on the 28th inst. This is merely a formal and common expression of regret. It truly indicates how much I should enjoy meeting the members of your league and how glad I should be to express in person my appreciation of their important services in the cause to which I am earnestly attached, and to acknowledge at the same time their frequent and encouraging manifestations of friendliness. I know that it would be profitable and advantageous to be even for a brief period within the inspiring influence of the atmosphere surrounding the patriotic and banded together in the interests of their fellow countrymen and devoted to the work of tariff reform. This reform appears to be as far-reaching in its purpose as the destiny of our country, and as broad in its benefits as the welfare of our entire people. It is because the efforts of its advocates are not discredited by any sordid motives that they are able boldly and confidentially to attack the strongholds of selfishness and greed. Our institutions were constructed in parity of purpose and love for humanity. Their operation is adjusted to the touch of national virtue and patriotism, and their results under such guidance must be the prosperity and happiness of the people; and so long as the advocates of tariff reform appreciate the sentiments in which our institutions had their origin, so long as they apprehend the forces which alone can guide their operation, so long as they in the spirit of

are consecrated to the services of their country, temporary defeat brings no discouragement. It but proves the stubbornness of the forces of combined selfishness, and discloses how far the people led astray, and how great is the necessity of redoubled efforts in their behalf. To lose faith in the intelligence of the people is to surrender and abandon the struggle. To arouse their intelligence and free it from darkness and ignorance gives assurance of speedy and sure victory. In the track of reform are the wounded and dead hopes of pioneers and the despair of those who fall in the march, but there will be neither despair nor dead hopes in the path of tariff reform, nor shall its pioneers fail to reach to the heights. Holding fast to their faiths and rejecting every luring overture and every defective compromise which would betray their sacred trust, they themselves shall gain and restore the patrimony of their countrymen freed from the trespass of grasping encroachments and safely secured by the genius of American justice and equality.

Very truly,
GROVER CLEVELAND.

The President's health was then drank standing.

SECRETARY FAIRCHILD

was then introduced, and in the course of his speech, said:

The election has by no means decided the question of tariff and tariff reform. The record of the canvass brings high hopes for the future. We lost only in those places where the mind was dominated by passion, where partisanship and the blind prejudice of the section overcame benevolence and love for a whole country. The tariff should be settled and removed forever from the domain of politics, for it not only disturbs business but prevents the simple purpose of universal benefit, for which alone our government is fitted. It converts our legislative halls into scenes of barter between conflicting interests, where wrangles over means to enable men to get more and still more money from our citizens become a chief character trait of the people's representatives. How can this question be settled? A statement of the principles of the modern shows it can be settled. It could even be embodied in the Constitution. We have but to provide that no articles which can be produced or made in this country shall be imported or that they shall be subjected to a duty of say 50 per cent. ad valorem. This would settle the question and remove it forever from politics. This settlement, however, can only be had after the principle involved has been laid naked before the people and approved by an overwhelming majority. This question has not yet been so presented to the people, and the time for its non-presentment rests with those business men and manufacturers who were so active in the late campaign and who will now complain that your agitation tends to disturb that which for their interest ought to be settled. We are told that this modern tariff idea is popular in some Southern States and that the party who now advocates it will soon be strengthened by their support. This may or may

NOT BE TRUE.

If any of these states can be gained after argument fairly made, it must be remembered that many a Northern man must be released to secure the broader thought, and that the exchange thus made may advantage the great cause we call our own.

Representative Fitch of New York said President Cleveland's message had voiced the principles held by many leading republicans.

Letters of regret were read from Secretary Endicott, President Hyde, of Bowdoin College, Carl Schurz and others.

SPEAKER CARLISLE

expressed his regret at not being able to be present, and wrote:

"Under the circumstances I desire to send you the assurance of my warmest sympathy with every effort to represent the people's cause in the struggle now going on between the friends of industrial freedom and the beneficiaries of industrial slavery. This struggle has just commenced in this country, and those who delude themselves that it will be abandoned before the triumph of right over wrong, are simply augmenting the weight of the blow that will inevitably fall upon them in the future. This is not a threat, but a friendly warning. The history of all movements for necessary social and political reform shows that they grow more radical by opposition and delay; and it would be wise and patriotic on the part of our opponents to recognize the inevitable and accede to now, rather than be forced to accept harder terms hereafter. So far the sentiment is in favor of a reduction of taxation, and if it does not continue to be so the responsibility rests upon those solely who unreasonably oppose it. They can alone stop the agitation or confine it within a reasonable ground by a proper accession to the demands of the people. The result of the contest in which we are engaged is not in the least doubtful, and unless the evils of which we complain are removed, which is not at all probable, the agitation should go right on with increased vigor and force until the public judgment and conscience refuse to justify or condone them. Nothing has yet occured to weaken our faith in the justice of our cause or to abate our confidence in its ultimate success. A single defeat if it had been sustained on the real merits of the controversy ought not to DISCOURAGE US.

No just cause is lost so long as it has a single earnest advocate among the people. More than five and a half millions of intelligent, patriotic Americans have attested their fidelity to the cause of revenue reform under circumstances well calculated to test the sincerity of their opponents, and they will neither desert its standard nor make peace with the enemy until at least substantial justice is done."

★ DIAMOND WORDS. ★

"There are a few things that I believe in with a I my heart, and it affords me pleasure to tell of one of them." The speaker was Ex-Senator Albert Merrill, head of the large fruit firm, 32 Park Place, N. Y., and the scene his office. "I was sick, and feared that I had become fated to endure the tortures of dyspepsia and a dangerous affection of the Kidneys. A relative said to me: 'Why don't you try Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy?' I did so. I grew steadily better, could eat, digest, sleep, work with a cleared head, and the yellow color of my skin had given place to the tone.

in time of need." Mr. A. DeRoyere, Tarrytown, N. Y., says: "For a long time I was troubled with severe attacks of Dizziness and Blind Sick Headache. I thought it was due to impure blood and disordered state of the system. I was advised to try Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. I did so, and have been completely cured. It's the best thing I ever heard of for any disorder of that nature, and I've recommended it to many with like success." Mr. Daniel Fitts, Taunton, Mass., says: "I recommend Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy

For Dyspepsia and Sick Headache.

I suffered for many years with these complaints and was cured by Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy." Mrs. S. C. Dougherty, Millville, N. J., says: "I had been a sufferer from Dyspepsia since I was sixteen years old. I could find no relief, and had almost given up in despair, when Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy was recommended, which I tried and am now cured. It is the best medicine I know of."

TRADE S.S.S. MARK

FERN'S MILL, TEXAS, June 20, 1888.—The Swift Specific Company, Atlanta, Ga.: Gentlemen: One of my children was troubled with rheumatism and boils for about two years. She grew worse in spite of all medicine, but without result, and began to despair of curing her at all. I was persuaded to try your Swift's Specific. After she had used several bottles the diseases all disappeared, and she is now a hale, hearty and healthy girl of seven years. My neighbor's child has just become afflicted in the same way, and I am using the S. S. S. and anticipate a prompt and permanent cure. M. C. WADDELL.

RICH HILL, MO., July 7, 1888.—The Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga.—Gentlemen: Our little girl when but three weeks old broke out with eczema. I wasted the prescriptions from several good doctors, but without any special benefit. We tried S. S. S., and by the time one bottle was gone her hair began to heal, and by the time she had taken six bottles she was completely cured. Her hair is full and heavy, a head of hair—a robust, hearty child. I feel it but my duty to make this statement. Respectfully, H. T. SMOOT.

CHATTANOOGA, TENN., June 27, 1888.—The Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga.—Gentlemen: In 1886 I contracted blood poison, and at once sought a physician, who treated me for seven months. By his advice I went to Crab Orchard Springs, Ky., where his course of treatment was continued. I became discouraged, as I thought, but the next spring pimples began to appear on my face and body. These gradually increased in size, forming ulcers. I was advised to try S. S. S., and immediately after taking it I commenced to improve slowly at first, but more rapidly afterwards, and soon nothing remained to tell of my trouble. My blood is now thoroughly cleansed, and my system free from taint, and I owe my present condition—a perfect cure—to your medicine. I cheerfully give this statement that others who have suffered as I have may reap the same benefit. HARDY M. BURT, 24 West Ninth St.

HOMER, LA., May 25, 1888.—The Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga.: Gentlemen: About two years ago my general health gave way entirely, and I was so debilitated that I almost despaired of ever feeling well again. All that the physicians done for me brought no permanent relief. Friends insisted that I should give S. S. S. a fair trial, although I thought it would be throwing away money. After taking a thorough course, my health and strength returned, and I must say that S. S. S. alone cured me, as I discarded all others while using it. As a tonic I can most heartily recommend it for general debility, it certainly is a specific. W. F. BARNES, J. P.

In the matter of the Estate of Charles S. Harmon, Deceased.

Order appointing time and place for settlement of final account and to hear petition for distribution.

ON READING AND FILING THE PETition of E. W. Harmon and Robert Harmon, executors of the Estate of Charles S. Harmon, deceased, setting forth that he has filed his final account of his administration upon said estate in this Court; that all the debts have been fully paid, and that a portion of said estate remains to be divided among the heirs of said deceased, and praying among other things for an order allowing said final account and of distribution of the residue of said estate among the persons entitled.

It is ordered that all persons interested in the estate of the said Charles S. Harmon, deceased, be and appear before the Probate Court of the County of Salt Lake, at the Court Room of said Court, in the County Court House, on the 9th day of January, 1889, at 11 o'clock a. m., then and there to show cause why an order allowing said final account and of distribution should not be made of the residue of said estate among the heirs and devisees of the said Charles S. Harmon, deceased, according to law.

It is further ordered that the clerk cause copies of this order to be posted in three public places in Salt Lake County and published in the DAILY EVENING NEWS, a newspaper printed and circulated in Salt Lake County, three weeks successively prior to said 9th day of January, 1889.
