IN BUSY MANCHESTER.

Elder Arrow Reaches His New Field of Labor.—The Prospects.

Correspondence Deseret News.

NO. 14 A, HAMPDEN GROVE, Pattcroft, near Manchester, Lancashire, England, June 27, 1893.—It was a few minutes after 1 o'clock Saturday, June 17th, when I arrived at the Victoria Station, Manchester, after a long, roundabout, tedious ride of three hours and a half from Shipley, near Bradford, Yorkshire. Looking about at the magnificent and spacious station my eyes wandered to see if I could find one of the Elders whom I had written, but I looked in vain. The train being late was perhaps the cause. I was like a "stranger in a strange land." Making my way as best I could I was soon amongst the bustle and din of the busy streets of Manchester. It being Saturday, business was more lively than any other day in the week.

Manchester is the third largest city in England, and joined close to Salford with her two hundred thousand inhabitants, makes it look like the second largest in England. The population of London is 4,211,056, Liverpool 518,000, Manchester 505,000.

Sunday, June 18th, I attended meetings at Mosstides—seven miles from Manchester. Words are not at hand adequate to describe the good time we had. Reminiscences of old-time meetings we enjoyed when I first became acquainted with the Gospel. It was a time of rejoicing, a time of gladness—the Spirit of the Lord was with us in rich abundance. The Saints in this conference, as a general rule, are striving to live up to their religion according to the light they have received, and it is a pleasure to be in their midst. They are very poor and their minds are burdened with the wealth of this world. To hear them bear their humble testimonies and sing the songs of Zion is continuo-inspiring. They tell us sometimes that tears fill their eyes, their cheeks, and their prayers ascend to their heavenly Father that at no distant day they may be gathered to that land they have so often sung about. The treasure derived from association and this wealth cannot be compared to the rich infla ence enjoyed by the Latter-day Saints at their meetings when they are living up to their religion and keeping the commandments of God. At Mosstides they have a small meeting house. Recently they have had an addition of three by baptism.

Last week I attended an open air meeting at Heywood, nine miles from Manchester. There was a good attendance. I notice there is considerable prejudice against the Saints in this part of the country, on account of the bitterness and hatred manifested by Jarman and his associates about four years ago. It will take a considerable time to allay that prejudice. Still we are hoping the Lord will soften so that the truth may be continued of the truth.

We have rented the conference house six miles from Manchester, in Pattcroft. Our address you will find at the head of this article. I shall be pleased, in my travels, to visit my friends the Saints in Utah may have in this conference, if they will send me addresses of the same. There are nine Elders in this conference: Two at Pattcroft, two at Farnworth, one Bolton, two at Heywood, two at Macclesfield, and one at Oldham.

The weather recently has been very hot—some say the hottest on record. At Macclesfield it was the means of producing many cases of scarlet fever. Rain came at last and it looks as though we would have changeable weather. The warm weather has affected vegetation.

Inward Illumination.

That moles, scars, tumors, cancers, etc., can be removed by the application of an electrically heated wire the public is already made to know. That the interior of a man's body may be so lit up that he will present somewhat the appearance of an old fashioned lantern with a dim light burning inside has also been asserted frequently, but the process of accomplishing this is not familiar.

It is done by electric lights which, on a small scale, are like those that shine upon poles and towers. A small electric light bulb at the end of a long tube is inserted into a patient's stomach. The bottom is pressed, and the stomach becomes luminous. By an arrangement of mirrors the physician is able to see the inside coats of the stomach and determine what kind of dyspepsia that man has, whether it was brought on by free besides or overindulgence in hard work.

Whenever the blood is perfectly healthy it is bright red and clear. If the hand is held up before a light, the light will shine through it clear and semi-transparent unless there is some wound or eruption. Then the fingers will look dark, and the washing-mercury will not be manifest. So the healthy stomach looks thin and clear and will not let the light shine clear and red through it. This is true of every part of the body. Wherever there is a cancer, tumor or anything that thickens and darkens the bright red muscular tissue, or wherever there is a foreign body in the stomach, it can be discovered in a moment by this marvellous of the human anatomy.

A Municipal Experiment.

The city of Cleveland had its bonds, and the municipal administration was not conducted in a highly satisfactory manner either. Then the voters decided that the bonds must go. They applied for and got a new city charter, which reduced the number of their city departments to six. There was one man at the head of each of them, and he was appointed by the mayor. The city council has the sole power over the mayor's nominations, however. The argument in favor of fewer departments and no boards at all was that it would make one man responsible for the good or ill working of his department, just as is the case in business houses, and that one man could be placed down and made to give the reason in case of extravagance or mismanagement.

Cleveland's mayor, Mr. Rose, has made the first report of the workings of the city government under the new charter. Following are some of the items from that report. Most of the departments have been run with less money than under the old system. Little public buildings and dockage were secured all along the line. In the fire department there were short weight of coal and short measure of hose fed, and the contractors were brought to time handsomely. In the water works department such a surplus accumulated that rates were to reach. What did such a thing happen in any city before?

There was not enough fat in the gas company's plant to oil the wheels of administration any more. After a contest in which the city was successful, the gas company lowered the price from $1 a thousand to 90 cents and pays into the city treasury income at 40 per cent of its gross receipts. The consumers saved $60 a year, and the city treasury netted by $40,000 a year more than it was before. The tax rate for municipal purposes lowered all round. The saving of money and increased efficiency of city government have been due to two things—first, the great interest which all the citizens have taken in the new order of affairs, to the one man power, in which a single infidelity is held directly responsible for the administration of his department.

It will be great fun for outsiders if at the next session of the senate the case of Senator Roach of North Dakota should be taken up for investigation. Democratic senators declare if it is then taken up they will smash every man thing every Republican senator has done in his life and lay it before the public. Merely to get even of course the Republican senators would be compelled to take the same course with regard to Democrats and between the two there would be a sorry go round such as the country has not witnessed in years. We shall see who is afraid and who does not.

We honor North Carolina above nearly every other state in the Union. She is a great and good state. The railroad commissioners of North Carolina have issued an order that baggage smashing on the roads of that state shall be stopped henceforth. So far as we can discover these gentlemen are the first railroad commissioners or railroad officials of any kind to take measures to prevent expensive and tedious from playing baseball with passengers' trunks.

Rev. Jenkin Lloyd Jones of Chicago, who evidently has some Welsh blood in him, has proposed a new way to destroy slums and sweater shops. He would have brilliant electric lights placed in every dirty alley. Next to would tear down every high board fence which shuts off filthy, disease breeding tenements and yards from the public eye and lay bare all the foulness and pollution. Then city governments would have to take cognizance of the matter or there would be a change of administration.

WHY THE DESERET NEWS SHOULD BE SUBSCRIBED FOR IN PREFERENCE TO ANY OTHER PAPER.

1.—It is the organ of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, and the authorized medium through which the views, wishes and instructions of the Church Authorities are expressed and given to the Saints.

2.—It may always be relied upon as advocating or defending the right side of every question proper for public journals to treat upon.

3.—It is devoted to the interests of the Latter-day Saints, and has, from its inception, valiantly defended their rights and advocated the principles in which they believe; and every Latter-day Saint should therefore feel under obligations to do his part in helping to sustain it.

4.—It is not published for speculation, and never has been, but for the good which it is capable of accomplishing; the profits, if any, there to derived from it, being devoted to extending its sphere of usefulness and benefiting the community.

5.—It is doing its utmost to establish home industries, among which are paper making and type founding, stereotyping and electroplating—a branch necessary to the development and independence of the community, but which, during their infancy (which is the Territory they have not yet passed), can only be carried on at a pecuniary loss.

6.—There is no danger of any subscriber to the News failing to get what he subscribes for through failure of the business and a suspension of the publication—a result in the case of hundreds of newspaper vanities every year.

7.—It is printed in readable type, so that even the aged can peruse it without difficulty or danger to their eyesight.

8.—It is free from objectionable advertisements, so that no parent need fear that his children will have their minds corrupted from having access to it; in fact, it refuses thousands of dollars worth of the best paying advertisements annually, because it is devoted to the moral and spiritual interests of its readers instead of to getting gain at their expense.

9.—It is not controlled by public opinion nor the hope of securing subscribers or advertisements. It advocates that which is right and condemns that which is wrong, regardless of results, financial or otherwise.

10.—It never encourages its readers by raising off columns of self-praise for news items.

11.—The News practices no deception and resorts to no subterfuges to induce people to subscribe; but on the contrary, prefers to stand on its own merits, as the people's newspaper, with a promise only to do its utmost to give its patrons the full value of their money—a promise which it has endeavored to faithfully keep in the past.

12.—In conclusion, if a Latter-day Saint can afford to subscribe for only one newspaper, that paper should be the DESERET NEWS, and if more than one, the News should invariably be the first.
