LOCAL BRIEFS.

Major Myton left today, on a 10 days' trip to Chicago to consummate a mining deal.

Local furniture men report that last October was the best October they ever experienced.

U. S. Marshall Heywood has gone to southern Utah to serve subpoenas for the November term of the federal court.

Government Inspector Richard Fourche will be in this city on the 10th inst. to give the new federal building a final inspection.

Mrs. S. T. Mansfield is seriously ill at the Groves L. D. S. hospital, and desires to learn of the whereabouts of her son, S. C. Green.

Postoffice Inspector Elwell of Denver is in the city business and, as Inspector Sharp went over a Federal building together this morning.

J. F. Montgomery, 23 Kaiser court, fell on Main street last night, in a faint due to a weak heart, and was removed to police headquarters, where he recovered.

John E. Hulse and Ray Stevens furnished bonds in $200 each before U. S. Judge Marshall to answer to the charge of pasturing sheep and cattle on the government domain.

Twelve fine running horses from Kentucky went over the San Pedro line from this city last night, in transit to southern California. They are valued at $20,000, and are owned by E. Bremstad.

Emigrant Inspector Thomas J. Long, who visited yesterday afternoon at the Seventh district polling place, as he was about to vote. He was cared for by the judges and checkers, and voted before leaving the room.

H. E. Parkhurst, the well known insurance man, is in town from Sunnyside, where he, with other judges, went to examine into the recent coal-breaking plant fire. Settlement is now being effected in this city.

John Conroy was fined $25 by Justice of the Peace Williams at Bingham Junction Monday for assault and battery committed upon the person of Edward Williams. The case was prosecuted by Assistant County Attorney Lyon.

James Ross, a miner aged 65, died at the Valley House Monday night, after a brief illness. He came from the Thunder Mountain district in October, and was very successful, making few acquaintances. Ross' friends are not known here.

Elmer Grant, the young iron worker from Salem, who broke his neck recently by a fall from the second floor of the Orpheum building, is still alive at St. Mark's hospital, with his head and neck in a plaster cast. The neck seems to be recovering and with the leg braces growing into place again.

A woman voter went into the office of Atty. Hutchinson, candidate for city attorney, Monday, with a transfer in her hand, and coolly asked Mr. Hutchinson what he was paying for votes. The attorney recovered his breath presently, told her he was not in that line of business, and asked her to please make herself scarce.

The apparatus of No. 4 fire department made a good run yesterday afternoon to 530 east Seventh South in response to an alarm. An overheated stove in the summer kitchen of Mrs. D. Greig who reside, at the address indicated had created a blaze which was promptly extinguished. According to the firemen the loss will not exceed $5.

Work on the Birch Creek dam in Malad valley has begun, and $30,000 worth of contracts have been awarded. The power will be developed to 320 horse power, to be applied to carious objects. The branch road of the Short Line is now practically complete from Collinston to Malad, and the power plant will be in operation by February.

El Progreso, a periodical published at Chihuahua, Mexico, speaks of local Mormon farmers' experiments with a new fodder plant which have proved successful. The plant is called the Mikado Imperia, and grows on a long, flat stem that resembles a cat's paw, and 40 tons to the acre is the yield. It is excellent feeding for stock. The grain came originally from Japan.

Manager Langford of Saltair has had a fine set of photographic vision, the sort taken for office distribution, including a lively scene of bathers in the brine. One photo is that of the Denver chamber of commerce delegates who visited in the city last summer, and another is that of the Orpheum troupe taking at the pavilion on the occasion of their picnic.

J. R. Edgell of Nephi, who was sergeant at arms of the last senate, and who has since gone into the wool buying business in New Mexico, is apparently having trouble with freight cars. An item in a Pangu Springs, Colo. paper, states that he cannot secure enough freight cars to ship out 25 carloads of wool purchased in the local market, and consigned to the Associated Wool Growers company of Bodrum.

Miss Blanche Lawson of the Oquirrh school has designed a unique chart for first grade readers. The chief feature is the localizing of all subjects, and no flower is treated except those growing wild in the vicinity of this city. The reading matter is of the simplest kind, but it is literally made by the class and afterwards embodied in the chart. Several pictures of familiar things as seen by the child in his daily life are either drawn or transferred to the chart, the whole being on large sheets of paper ready for mounting.

The Fort Leavenworth News of recent date has several paragraphs of some length, both editorial and local, reciting the activity of Chaplain J. T. Axton of the Eleventh infantry, in pushing spiritual and social matters among the members of his regiment. The chaplain is a great favorite with both officers and enlisted men, and seems to have a way of interesting them in religious things that according to the local press is very effective, and results in the good of the regiment at large, as well as the men in particular.

One of the most notable and attractive novelties ever displayed in this city is an artificial black and vermilion bird of the size of a mockingbird, and much on that style of ornithological architecture, which sings exactly like a canary bird, and turns his head and wiggles his tail, just like a real, live bird. This mechanism is so cunningly done that at first sight the deception is complete. The bird is operated by electricity, is on exhibition in the window of a Main street store, where it attracts a great deal of attention. The price will prevent very many people from purchasing, as the figure is $100.

The many friends in this city of Col. H. B. Maxson of Reno, Nev., will learn with regret of a serious accident to him in a recent runaway accident at Reno. It will be several weeks before the colonel is able to be out again.

Some Business Men Are Too "Conservative."

If a farmer concluded not to plant seed, but to "conserve" it, because crops sometimes fail, he would be as wise as the merchant who "conserves" the money which should be invested in publicity, because he has it in bank, and because he fears that publicity may not be completely profitable.
