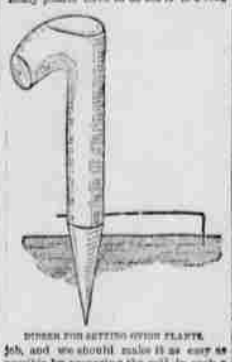
SETTING ONION PLANTS.

Conveniences by Which This Tedious Work Is Rendered Easy.

Now that the "new onion culture" is so generally employed the planting of onion seedlings is an important subject for consideration. As most readers know, under the new system, the onion seed is sown under glass and the seedlings transplanted to the open ground as soon as the season permits. Where many plants have to be set it is a long job, and we should make it as easy as possible by preparing the soil in such a way as to enable the operator to plant without dibber.



DIBBER FOR SETTING ONION PLANTS.

The index finger answers every purpose when the land is fresh and "mellow as an ash heap." Sometimes a rain comes and packs the soil after it was already marked out and in best shape for planting. Then a dibber will have to be used. American Gardening illustrates a dibber made from a piece of apple tree limb or other tough hardwood. Four or five inches is long enough for a dibber for setting onion plants. If we wish to make improvements on it, we can tack a piece of bright tin to the point and also furnish it with a gauge, consisting of a piece of stiff wire, with a perpendicular bend at the free end, and the other inserted through a hole just above the tin at the point. The wire will then make a mark to indicate the place for the next plant. It can be adjusted to mark the distance desired—from two to three inches.

During the season of plant setting a light harrow is a convenient help in carting the plants from the greenhouse or frames to the garden or field. In many cases we have much soil on the roots of plants. On an ordinary wheelbarrow the plants are subjected to many jars and often hard knocks, which are liable to loosen the soil and perhaps shake it all off.

The authority quoted suggests the device here illustrated as meeting the objection. The two pieces on which the box rests should be of white ash or hickory, giving the box when loaded an easy spring. The advantages of this contrivance are easily understood, and the whole construction is too plain to need lengthy description. Plate containing tomato, pepper and egg plants, etc., may be loaded right into the box and carted to the field without much shaking.

FOR CARTING THE PLANTS.

There is now in the market a two horsepower planting machine, which automatically and successfully sets all kinds of vegetable or small fruit plants thoroughly firm, and at the same time waters them.

Points About Eggs.

It is not always safe to judge an egg by its appearance. It may be apparently fresh, yet if it absorbs enough air to permit it to float in water even a little above the bottom of the dish it may not be perfectly fresh.

The white of a perfectly fresh egg cannot be beaten to a froth as easily as the white of an egg that is a day or two old, and if the egg is very cold the beating of the white will be accomplished more easily.

When the shell of an egg will peel off as if the egg had been hard boiled, it is not fresh, as the contents of a fresh egg adhere closely to the shell and must be removed.

When held to a strong light, a fresh egg is clear, and if shaken in the hand no jarring motion of the contents must be felt.

Many who use eggs daily are unable to judge of their quality, and indeed it is difficult to determine the freshness of an egg by any one, but the above may be of use to some who are inexperienced.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT, A. J. Winstead J. W. Winstead Jr., upon the ninth day of August, 1895, duly executed and delivered his certain promissory note to the undersigned, trustee, for the sum of $1,000 payable August 9th, 1897, thirty months after date, with interest at the rate of 8 per cent per annum payable semi-annually, and

Whereas, said note provided that should default be made in the payment of any interest payment or any part thereof, or in case a breach of any of the covenants and agreements contained in the deed of trust of even date herewith, then the principal sum and all unpaid interest at the time of such default, shall, at the option of the legal holder of said note, be immediately due and payable without notice, and

Whereas, to secure the payment of said promissory note with interest thereon, said J. W. Winstead Jr., made, executed and delivered to W. F. Lyman as trustee for Frank B. Stephens, the certain trust deed in writing of real estate, hereinafter described, to wit: Lots one, two, three and four in section one (1) in township one (1) south, range one (1) west, Salt Lake meridian, and

Whereas, it was covenanted in said trust deed, among other things, that any default in the payment of said principal or interest when due, should authorize the said trustee to sell the premises in said trust deed, at public vendue to the highest bidder for cash, at the front door of the Salt Lake County Court house, Salt Lake City, Utah, first and place of said sale and the property to be sold, by advertisement in some newspaper printed in the English language published in Salt Lake City, Utah, and

Whereas, an additional security for said indebtedness there was deposited with said Frank B. Stephens a share of stock in the North Point Consolidated Irrigation company, being water running with said land, which share was issued by certificate number 141, of said company, of the par value of ten dollars per share, and

Whereas, default has been made in the said note and in the payment of the principal and interest thereon, and in the payment of taxes upon said premises for the year 1894, and

Whereas, there remained interest upon said note since August 9th, 1894, at the rate of eight per cent, 160, $64.00, August 9th, 1895, $64.00, and we want thereof has been paid, and

Whereas, Jacob A. Dupes is now the legal owner and owner of said note, and he desiring to foreclose the entire principal sum and all accrued interest due and payable, and has requested said W. F. Lyman to sell said premises according to the provisions of said trust deed to pay said indebtedness, now therefore, otherwise known as the undersigned, trustee, will on Friday, the 22nd day of November, 1895, at the hour of 11 o'clock a. m. of said day, at the front door of the Salt Lake County Court house in said Salt Lake City, Utah, sell said premises at public vendue, to the highest bidder for cash, for the purpose of paying said principal sum of $1,000 with interest thereon at 8 per cent per annum from February 22nd, 1895, and all costs and expenses of said sale, and the reasonable attorney's fee, to wit, the sum of $50 and costs of advertisement and sale.

W. F. LYMAN, Trustee.

SUMMONS.

In the District Court in and for the Third Judicial District of Utah Territory, County of Salt Lake.

Frank Thompson, as executor of the last will and testament of James Thompson, deceased, and Joe S. Lane, as administrator with will annexed of the estate of said James Thompson, deceased, plaintiffs, vs.
O. T. Carlson, E. F. Beck, M. A. Beck, Charles Faison, D. W. Shores and May Shores, defendants.

The People of the Territory of Utah send greeting to O. T. Carlson, E. F. Beck, M. A. Beck, Charles Faison, D. W. Shores and May Shores, defendants.

You are hereby required to appear in an action brought against you by the above named plaintiff in the District Court of the Third Judicial District of the Territory of Utah, and to answer the complaint filed therein within ten days (exclusive of the day of service) after the service on you of this summons—if served within this county, but if served out of this county, but in the district, within twenty days; otherwise within forty days—or judgment by default will be taken against you, according to the prayer of said complaint.

The said action is brought to have a decree of this court adjudging the plaintiffs upon first cause of action to be the owners of and entitled to the possession of certain promissory notes, executed by defendants to said James Thompson, one deceased, each for $1,000, bearing date at Portland, Oregon, on the 20th day of June, 1890, payable one month after date and wholly unpaid; each note of said series being secured by mortgage of even date upon real estate situate in said County of Salt Lake, State of Utah, and described in Crossman and Crossman's Addition to Salt Lake City, and each of said notes being secured by mortgage of
