RECEPTION TO DEBS.

The "Martyred" Labor Leader Cheered, Hugged and Kissed.

UNCERTAIN OF HIS DELIVERANCE.

But He Had an Abiding Faith in the Ultimate Triumph of the Right.

CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—Eugene V. Debs spoke in Central Music Hall tonight to an audience that taxed the seating and standing capacity of the hall. Most of the leading organizations were represented, and the reception accorded to the leader of the American Railway Union was enthusiastic in the extreme. Eight carloads of Debs's friends went down to Woodstock to greet him on his release from jail, and several thousand men were at the station of the Northwestern road when the train bearing Debs and his friends arrived at 7:30 o'clock.

The reception given Debs as he stepped from the train bordered on the frantic. Hundreds of men pushed and struggled to get a grasp of his hand. Many of them hugged him and some went to the length of kissing him. Finally he was tossed upon the shoulders of four men, and followed by a dense throng that never for an instant stopped its cheers, he was carried to the hall, about one mile distant. The warmth of the reception at the depot was repeated when he entered the hall, with the exception that the men were unable to get close to him, and contented themselves with cheering and waving their hats.

The speech delivered by Mr. Debs, which was received with great applause by his audience, was in substance as follows:

"Manifestly the spirit of '76 still survives. The fires of liberty and noble aspirations are not yet extinguished. I greet you tonight as lovers of liberty and despisers of despotism. I comprehend the significance of this demonstration, and appreciate the honor that makes it possible for me to be your guest on such an occasion. The vindication and glorification of American principles of government, as proclaimed to the world in the Declaration of Independence, is the high purpose for this convocation.

"Speaking for myself personally, I am not certain whether this is an occasion for rejoicing or lamentation. I confess to a serious doubt as to whether this day marks my deliverance from bonds to freedom, or from freedom to bondage. Certain it is in the light of recent judicial proceedings that I stand in your presence stripped of my constitutional right as a free man, and shorn of the greatest prerogative of American citizenship, and what is true of myself is true of every other citizen who has the temerity to protest against corporation rule or question the absolute sway of the money power. It is not law or the administration of law of which I complain. It is the flagrant violation of the Constitution, the total abrogation of the law, and that usurpation of judicial and despotic power by virtue of which my colleagues and myself were committed to jail, against which I enter my solemn protest, and any honest analysis of the proceedings must sustain the truth of the indictment."

The speaker gave the history of the events leading up to his arrest and sentence, commenting freely thereon, and continuing, said:

"In my vocabulary there are no words of despondency or despair. However gloomy the future may appear to others, I have an abiding faith in the ultimate triumph of the right."

Referring to the famous Supreme Court decision he said:

"I challenge the world to assign a reason why a judge, under the solemn obligation of an oath to obey the Constitution, should, in a temple dedicated to justice, stab the Magna Charta of American liberty to death in the interest of corporations, that labor might be robbed of its inalienable rights, and those who advocated its claims to justice imprisoned as if they were felons."

Mr. Debs gave several reminiscences of his prison life.

CONGRESS ORGANIZATION.

Democratic Steering Committee of the Senate Hold a Meeting.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 22.—The fact transpired today that the Democratic steering committee of the Senate held a meeting in this city of three hours' duration on Wednesday last. The members who were present are very reticent as to what occurred, but it is known a thorough canvass was made of the Democratic situation with a view to deciding upon a line of policy in the next session. The question of organization of the Senate was discussed at length. The committee did not reach a final conclusion on this matter, but when it adjourned there was a general understanding that unless future events should make a change desirable, the committee will recommend to the Democrats in the Senate to make no move whatever until the Republicans and Populists shall develop their plans.

It appeared from the discussion that the Democratic senators are divided as to the policy to pursue, some advocating an active effort to retain Democratic control of the Senate, while others advise surrender to the Republicans without a struggle. The steering committee finally concluded it would be wise to wait until it was made plain whether the Republicans would be a unit in their desire to take control, and whether the Populists would hold the ground or some of them would unite to assist the Republicans. This the committee felt the Democrats could afford to do, in view of the fact that the Senate is a continuing body, and the present organization holds until supplanted by another by the will of the Senate. In case of the absence of the Vice President, it would become necessary to elect a president pro tem, but it is believed that Vice President Stevenson's presence can be counted upon.

FOR OFFICERS OF THE HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 22.—The canvass for the principal offices at the disposal of the House of Representatives, which opened in a slow and quiet fashion this week, is becoming more animated as the time approaches for the Republican caucus, which is announced for Saturday of next week. The elective offices of the House are those of a clerk of the House, salary $5,000; sergeant-at-arms, $4,000; doorkeeper, $3,500; postmaster, $2,500; chaplain, $900. There are from two to seven candidates for each of these places, the highest being in the race for chaplain.

There are only two candidates for the House clerkship. They are ex-Congressman Thomas J. Henderson, of Illinois, and ex-Congressman Alex McDowell, of Pennsylvania.

Captain T. H. McKeen of Indiana, secretary of the Republican congressional campaign committee, and Mr. B. Russell of Missouri are so far the only announced candidates for the office of sergeant-at-arms. There has been some talk among members of the Minnesota delegation of again bringing out Mr. Reed of that state, who was a defeated candidate in the Fifty-first Congress for sergeant-at-arms. A Mr. Hartshorn of Iowa has also been mentioned in this connection.

The principal candidates for doorkeeper are Mr. Glenn of New York and W. L. Tipton of Tennessee.

Henry Sherwood so far is the only pronounced candidate for the House postmastership.

Of the several candidates for chaplain, six are Washington preachers. They are Bays; Ramsdell and Easton, Presbyterians; Parsons and Gottwald, Lutherans; Brown and Smith, Baptists. The one outsider in the list is Rev. Mr. Fisher of Kansas.

The patronage of the House consists, outside of clerks of committees and clerks of members, of 193 places, the average of the salaries paid being $1,125. All the places except those named are filled by appointment.

Durrant's Sentence Postponed.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22.—Theodore Durrant was again brought into court today to be sentenced for the murder of Blanche Lamont. The prisoner's attorneys requested further time to prepare affidavits in support of a motion for a new trial, and the entire matter went over until Wednesday next.

Hawaiian Annexation.

HONOLULU, Nov. 15.—[Via San Francisco, per steamer Monowai, Nov. 22.]—Minister Cooper is authority for the statement that Francis M. Hatch, the new Hawaiian minister, does not go to Washington to ask for a protectorate. This denial is made to refute a well-defined rumor. Mr. Hatch will use his best endeavors to bring the annexation question before the next session of Congress; high officials state that nothing else will satisfy the government.

The most important question now before the executive is the consideration of a petition asking for the pardon of the rebels now in prison. It is almost an assured fact that several will be freed on Thanksgiving Day, but it is understood that the real leaders will have to remain in jail until they divulge the hiding place of a large number of rifles and a quantity of ammunition which is said to be hidden near Honolulu.

President Dole has named the 28th as Thanksgiving Day.

GEN. COPPINGER'S REPORT.

He Sides With the Indians and Commends the Troops.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—In his annual report Brig-Gen. John G. Coppinger, commanding the department of the Platte, says that the only disturbance during the last year necessitating the use of troops occurred last July in the Jackson's Hole country. As he made this the subject of a special report to the secretary of war, he gives but a brief of the facts in this report, and sides with the Indians, as he did in his September report.

Gen. Coppinger says that on a thorough inspection he found that all of the troops were well instructed and in good condition for service.

He believes that in sobriety, intelligence and deportment at least the enlisted personnel has greatly improved in the past ten years. A further elevation is thought feasible, however, by forming the artisans into a separate corps, dividing the privates and rearranging the pay. There was an increase in the number of trials during the year, and the general believes that it would be well to empower company commanders to punish off-hand slight breaches of discipline, and to authorize garrison courts to dishonorably discharge men.

THE THIRD TERM.

Why Should President Cleveland be Opposed to It? Morton Asks.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 22.—Hon. J. Sterling Morton, secretary of agriculture, spent the day in St. Louis. He arrived this morning from the east, and after breakfasting at the Planter's hotel, went across the river to East St. Louis, where he inspected the national stock yards. He returned to the city this afternoon, and this evening he left for Chicago to visit his sons who are in business there.

In the course of an interview Secretary Morton said: "Why should President Cleveland be opposed to a third term any more than a bank president? This is not stating that President Cleveland is a candidate for a third term, for as to that no man knows but himself. The talk of a third term has been confined only to newspapers, and there is no one can say that he has ever heard Mr. Cleveland give an expression on the subject. I am not in a position to state whether Mr. Cleveland will be a candidate or not. There is one thing I can say, however, the management of the government is a business, as is the management of a bank. In a bank the business is entirely confined to the management of finances. If a bank president has proved himself competent and faithful, he is re-elected, not only once or twice, but a dozen times or more."

KNIGHTS OF LABOR.

Resolutions Adopted by the General Assembly.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 22.—The Knights of Labor general assembly today selected Rochester, N. Y., as the place for holding its next annual meeting.

The report of the finance committee was received and approved. It had been expected that this might excite some criticism. The committee found, however, that the accounts were in the best of order, but recommended that the fiscal year of the order be made to end on September 30th, instead of June 30th. This recommendation was approved.

The general assembly, after some discussion, endorsed the boycott of national bank notes ordered by Mr. Sovereign last spring. The use of militia in the settlement of labor troubles was condemned, and the government ownership of the highways of commerce was advocated.

An invitation was issued to all the national and international unions to join the Knights of Labor in a grand labor congress July 4, 1896, with the purpose of harmonizing the organization of labor.

Grand Master Workman Sovereign was elected a delegate to the international labor union to meet in London next August, with T. J. O'Reilly of Brooklyn as alternate.

A general boycott of the Lorillard Tobacco company was ordered.

The following telegram was sent to Eugene V. Debs, at the reception tendered him in Chicago tonight: "The general assembly, Knights of Labor, hails the celebration of your release from illegal imprisonment as an uprising of the general public against the introduction of autocratic czarism into Republican institutions."

Resolutions condemning the Supreme Court of the United States, the Federal judiciary of California and Illinois, were adopted, and also resolutions recommending the election of Federal judges by the people. Tonight the assembly adjourned sine die.

CONDITION OF THE TREASURY.

Revenues and Expenditures of the Government for the Fiscal Year.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 22.—D. N. Morgan, the treasurer of the United States, in his annual report on the operations and condition of the treasury, says the net ordinary revenues of the government for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1895, were $313,390,075, an increase of $15,668,058 as compared with the year before; net ordinary expenditures, $356,195,298, a decrease of $11,328,921. Including the public debt, the total receipts on all accounts were $720,516,823, and the expenditures $719,472,157. A further sum of $33,157,700 was deposited in the treasury prior to the end of June on account of a purchase of guaranteed coin to maintain the gold reserve, but was not formally covered in, and therefore does not appear in the accounts for the fiscal year.

Aside from the variations in the total stock of gold in the country, which are dependent upon the domestic production and consumption, as well as the imports and exports of the metal, the most important change now going on in the composition of the money supply arises, the report says, from the gradual retirement of treasury notes of 1890 through their redemption in silver dollars. By this process, which began in August, 1893, and has continued since, the total issue of $155,931,002 of these notes was reduced by September 20, 1895, to $143,000,280. As the reduction began before the original issue in the purchase of silver bullion was discontinued, the amount of the total cost of the purchases were never outstanding at any one time, the highest point ever reached being $153,160,280, on November 14, 1893.

Uncurrent gold and silver coins of the value of $4,579,547 were transferred during the year from the treasury to the mint for recoinage. The loss thereon, arising from a diminution of weight, was $201,157. Up to the end of September last, $929,700 in Columbian half dollars had been exchanged for gold coin.

St. Louis Wants the Convention.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 22.—The Business Men's League of St. Louis this afternoon issued an address to the members of the National Republican committee, notifying them that a committee of twenty-five citizens of this city would attend the meeting at Washington, December 10th with a guarantee for all expenses connected with the national convention. The league claims to have pledges from two-thirds of the members of the committee, with enough second-choice promises from among San Francisco advocates to secure the convention for St. Louis.

Death of a Hermit.

POMONA, Cal., Nov. 23.—News has been received of the death in San Gabriel canyon of Enoch Willing, an aged hermit who was a first cousin of Edward Willing, the father of the present Mrs. John Jacob Astor, of New York. Willing often spoke of his wealthy relations, and of the fact that he ran away when sixteen years old from the home of a rich family in Baltimore to become a sailor. He sailed over the world until he was nearly fifty years old, and then he made his home in the hut built by himself in the upper part of San Gabriel canyon.

THE COMING OF THE COLD

And the Dangers That It Brings to so Very Many.

Winter is coming!

Indeed, some of our great scientific men assert that the approaching winter will be one of the severest on record.

The winter is always dangerous, although too many people forget this important fact. The coldest winter causes more deaths than the hottest summer. It has almost become a proverb that "cold weather kills." And why does it kill?

Because so many people are in no condition to pass through a severe winter. They complain of tired feelings, they suffer from biliousness, pains near the heart, headaches, backaches, and seem to lack their customary energy. Cold weather, instead of bracing them up, only makes them feel languid, irritable, nervous and depressed.

And that is just where the danger lies. People who feel like this are running some very grave risks. The chances are that possibly 50 per cent of the people who suffer from the effects of approaching winter will never see its end unless they overcome the greatest care.

But there is a way to avoid these dangers. By building up the system, restoring healthy action to the liver and kidneys, freeing the blood from impurities and regaining renewed strength, the perils of winter can be safely encountered. To do this a suitable remedy must be taken, and there is nothing for the purpose that can be compared with Warner's Safe Cure, because its effects are immediate and lasting. As a means of restoring lost vitality and promoting the general health this grand remedy has never been equalled. That is why it is so universally prescribed by physicians and druggists, who know from experience that it can always be depended upon. If you are suffering from any of the symptoms that denote weakness you need to regain health, and Warner's Safe Cure will speedily help you to regain it.
