Holidays and Parties—Rabbit Hunt.

PAROWAN, Jan. 17, 1874.

Editor Deseret News:

We are not without our share of "civilization" here, any more than you are in Salt Lake city. We have saloons and many of the evils that result from intemperance. We have had some little trouble with certain parties here during the holidays, about Christmas time. However, nobody was hurt, except indeed the parties who tried to make the trouble. I think they will find they have hurt themselves worse than anybody else.

I think we, as a people, bear a great deal. I know we are a people that love peace, even at great cost, and will only act on the defensive when compelled to. Our enemies, that come among us, understand this as well as we do, and take advantage of it. Full well they know that no other community would suffer them, but it is popular to cry down the Latter-day Saints. The people of God in all ages have seldom been popular with the world. These men who array themselves against us hope to get credit in the east for being noble and brave, denouncing a terrible people to their very teeth, bearding the lion in his den, etc. They also hope to influence Congress, through the people, by their abominable misrepresentations and lies, to bring about proscriptive legislation for Utah, thereby securing to the "ring" and their friends the control of the Territory. If that day shall ever come, God help the people. But the wicked do not always reach the mountain top they mean to climb; in fact never. When the enemies of this people are brought to light before the honest and just men and women of the nation, as brought to light they will be, sooner or later, and shown in their true colors, the reaction will be so great that they will sink among the despised of all honest and good men, unless they repent and make atonement, as far as possible, for the wrongs they have done and are doing against the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. The right will triumph and truth will prevail.

But I must return to local matters. On the 1st inst., we were addressed in the meeting house in a very interesting manner by Elder John W. Young, on the subject of railroads, iron-works, architecture, &c., &c. The people were much pleased with his remarks. On the 13th inst., was held the twenty-third anniversary of the pioneers to this place. A supper and dance were indulged in here, by the pioneers, their families and invited guests. Short, pithy, and interesting speeches were made by the pioneers present. Altogether a very happy reunion was enjoyed.

For two years past, many of our farmers have suffered material loss from the inroads of rabbits on their growing grain. With a view to thinning these animals out against next season, a rabbit hunt was proposed among the young boys. Capts. Thos. Rowley and Daniel Pendleton chose sides. They have been hunting a day now and then for two or three weeks, and have killed over eight hundred up to date. The losing side, when the time is up, makes a party for the whole company. The Indians, being well fed by the settlers, forget to thin the rabbits off. Our boys have had to go for the wolves a great many times, but never for the rabbits before. When the rabbits are killed off, about all that will be left to disturb our range will be the cattle thieves, but then they need not be discouraged—if they get caught and put in jail, they can be habeas corpused and set at liberty again to ply the old vocation. W. C. McGREGOR.

Schoolhouse Dedicated—School Matters.

PAYSON, Jan. 23, 1874.

Editor Deseret News:

There are two substantial schoolhouses in this district, No. 15, besides other houses built by private individuals, for educational purposes. One house, 24x36 feet has been built and neatly finished off this season, under the supervision of the building committee. It was opened on Monday last, the 19th. It was previously published that in the afternoon of the same day the house would be dedicated, and consequently the parents were invited with their children to meet on the occasion. There were about one hundred pupils and a good turn out of their parents present. The meeting was called to order by the chairman, J. Finleyson, and the dedicatory prayer was offered by Elder J. B. Fairbanks, after which short spirited speeches were made by the following brethren: T. H. Wilson, J. Lovelass, J. Curtis, G. Patten, W. Wignall, J. Jones, D. Fairbanks, Professor Townsend, C. Wright, C. Miller and Bishop Tanner. The remarks were very appropriate to the occasion. The subjects mostly treated on were the advantages enjoyed now above those enjoyed in former times by the people of this Territory, the cultivation of the intellectual and moral faculties, the acquisition of a scholastic education, proper system of study. Professor Townsend made a very suitable speech on intellectual and physical exercises and the concentration of the mind necessary to make rapid progress in the acquirement of a knowledge of the different branches of education. Bishop Tanner gave timely advice on matters of general interest, that the pupils should seek to preserve the house and not destroy it. It was built and furnished for their special benefit, to educate and prepare them for future usefulness. Such chances he had been deprived of, on account of being driven and persecuted from place to place. He therefore saw the necessity of giving the cause of education all the assistance and encouragement he could afford. A vote of thanks was given to the committee for their diligence in the construction of the house, which was acknowledged by the chairman.

Our graded school or seminary will be opened next week, under the direction and supervision of Professor Townsend. The large upper room of the City Hall has been fitted up and furnished for the purpose. The authorities of this place and the people in general are alive in this matter and inspired with the obligation they owe to the rising generation to prepare them for the increased demands and development of the cause in which they are expected to serve.

General good health prevails here and the people appear happy and to have plenty, notwithstanding the dull times. Yours truly,

B. WARD.

"Have you much fish in your bag?" asked a person of a fisherman, who was returning home. "Yes; a good eel," was the slippery reply.
