A Mormon Sunday School Picnic

IN QUEENSLAND, AUSTRALIA.

Queensland, Australia, June [illegible], 1896. —Knowing that a few lines [illegible] from the Elders who are laboring in distant lands are not altogether without interest to your many readers as well as the relatives and friends of the missionaries, it occurred to us that as we have just celebrated our Sunday school picnic a few lines in relation to the same might not be devoid of interest as showing how the work of the Lord is progressing in the northern part of Australia. [illegible]

About two years ago a Mormon Sunday school was started in [illegible], Queensland, with [illegible] of Ogden as superintendent. Its beginning was truly humble enough, for on the first morning there were only a dozen children present [illegible] members of the Church. [illegible] the word "Mormon," the attendance has increased [illegible] names enrolled with an average attendance of eighty. Our Sunday school has now become widely known all over this section of the country and has been the means of advertising the Elders and the work they are seeking to accomplish in a very favorable way.
