HOUSE AND SENATE.

Democrats Decide that the Time Has Come to Act.

A FINE FOR REFUSING TO VOTE.

Senator Peffer Delivers the Third Installment of His Speech on the Tariff Bill.

WASHINGTON, April 12.—The Democratic managers of the House decided that the time had come when some effective methods should be adopted to force the Republicans to participate in legislation. During the last Congress and during the present Congress the Republicans have on frequent occasions paralyzed the House for days by refusing to answer to their names, thus breaking a quorum. As there was no rule to compel them to vote, and as the Speaker declined to adopt the method of counting a quorum without the authorization of a rule, the House was constantly at the mercy of the minority.

For the last few days the Republicans have blocked business and there was a widespread belief on the Democratic side that this was in pursuance of a preconcerted arrangement with the Republicans at the Senate end of the capitol to delay all business with a view to postponing action on the tariff bill. It is intimated that a quorum would hereafter be demanded, not only on partisan measures, but on the routine business of the House.

Under such a stress of circumstances Speaker Crisp, Mr. Catchings and Mr. Outhwaite, comprising the Democratic end of the committee on rules, decided [illegible]

The Bering Question.

LONDON, April 12.—In the House of Lords today the Earl of Kimberly, in moving the second reading of the Bering sea bill, reviewed the whole course of the arbitration, and expressed approval of the action of the example of [illegible] in submitting the question to arbitration. The earl remarked that a precedent had been established which was of the greatest importance, and expressed the belief that as soon as the legislation necessary to carry out the provisions of the award had been completed, a covenant would be entered into between the United States and Great Britain with the object of settling the claims arising out of the illegal seizure of British ships.

A Crisis in Bulgaria.

LONDON, April 12.—A dispatch from Vienna to the Chronicle reports that a crisis is impending in Bulgaria. The trouble arises from a challenge sent by the minister of war to M. Stambouloff to fight a duel. Prince Ferdinand will decide whether a duel between the two statesmen shall be fought when he returns to Sofia.
