FRANKIE NEIL IS BADLY BEATEN

Owen Moran, the Englishman, Wins in the Sixteenth Round.

San Francisco, Nov. 22.—Owen Moran, of England, and Frankie Neil, the bantamweight champion of America, met here tonight in a scheduled 20-round boxing contest.

While no championship title was involved, the fact that the winner will soon meet Abe Attell for the world's featherweight title greatly accentuated interest in the outcome. Moran was forced into favoritism this evening at odds of 10 to 9, with prospects that he would enter the ring at odds of 10 to 8. This remarkable change in the betting odds is said to have been caused by large amounts telegraphed from the east to place on the Englishman.

Both lads weighed in at 8 o'clock. Neil failed to tremble the beam at the 122-pound match. He later gave out his weight at 117 pounds. Moran exceeded the contracted 122 pounds by from one-quarter to one-half a pound. Jim Neil, on behalf of Frankie Neil, overlooked the fact that Moran was overweight and declined to claim a forfeit. Seven thousand people filled the pavilion when time was called at 9:55 p. m.

FIGHT BY ROUNDS.

Round 2—Moran sent Neil tottering with left hook and right swing to the jaw. Neil rushed gamely in and planted a vicious left to the stomach, for which he was rewarded with right and left to the head. It was a fierce round, with Moran having the better of the round.

Round 3—They fought to close quarters and Neil broke it up with a stiff left to the jaw. Neil drove Moran back with a left to the face, and they mixed it furiously at close range, Moran doing great execution with short-arm wallops to the face and head. Moran appeared to slow up somewhat.

Round 4—Neil like lightning sent two lefts to the jaw and then followed some remarkable fighting at close quarters, both trying desperately to put in a knockout punch. The round was slightly Neil's.

Round 5—Moran uppercut with right to the jaw and then slipped to his knees as Neil backed him against the ropes. He was up quickly and almost sent Neil to the floor with two right hooks and a straight left to the jaw. The bell ended a round that was the Englishman's by a wide margin. Neil appeared a bit tired.

Round 6—Moran swung his right to the jaw and Neil went to the floor for the count of nine. He was up quickly and tried to stall off the relentless Briton. Moran, however, forced Neil from one end of the ring to the other, landing vicious left and right swings to the face and head. Neil fought back gamely, but could not avoid Moran's onslaught. It was Moran's round by a big margin and he looked the winner.

Round 7—Moran shot his left to the face and a moment later uppercut with left to the jaw. Neil countering with two lefts to the stomach that forced Moran to the ropes. Neil whipped in several body blows as the round ended. Neil seemed to have freshened and made a good showing in this round.

NEIL LANDS HARD ONE.

Round 8—Neil almost sent Moran through the ropes with a hard left wallop to the body. He repeated it later during a vicious exchange and the men fought at close range to the middle of the ring. Neil punished Moran considerably around the body as the round came to an end. Neil had the advantage of this round.

Round 9—The pace slackened considerably at this stage, Neil hooked two lefts to the head and then shot his left to the body, Moran retaliating with right to the jaw. A vicious right swing caught Moran on the neck and a moment later Neil swung his left hard to the jaw. Neil had a good lead in this round.

Round 10—Moran swung right to the body and made Neil groggy with two lefts for the jaw. Neil hung on desperately, but Moran went after him determinedly. Moran swung a fearful left to the jaw, and then almost sent his man through the ropes with left and right swings to the jaw. Neil came back gamely, fighting every inch of the way. The bell closed a round that belonged to Moran. The Briton, however, seemed to tire a bit from the fast milling.

Round 11—Moran jabbed two lefts to the face and both fought viciously at close quarters. Moran drove Neil back with a right swing to the jaw and then swung his left to the head. Moran sent a raking right to the jaw, forcing Neil to cover. Neil took his punishment without a whimper and fought back gamely at all times. It was Moran's round.

Round 12—Moran drove his man to the ropes with right and left to the body and a right to the jaw, and he followed Neil about the ring, bombarding the game Californian with right and left short-arm swings to the jaw and body. Neil, to all appearances groggy, simply shook his head and kept wading in with the idea of landing one fatal blow. It was Moran's round.

Round 13—They fought in close, Moran having all the better of a vicious rally. Neil worked in some telling body blows, practically making an even round of it.

Round 14—Moran swung a hard right to the jaw and Neil fought back wildly. Moran slipped to his knees from the impact of Neil's body, and when he got up opened Neil's eye with a hard right to that member. Moran went after his man, raining left and right swings at will on Neil's jaw. The bell saved Neil from defeat.

Round 15—Neil's right eye was swollen twice its normal size as he stood up only to receive an avalanche of left and right short arm swings to the jaw. Neil stalled desperately and was saved just in the nick of time by the clang of the gong.

Round 16—Neil came up groggy, with the crowd yelling "Stop it," "Stop it." Moran floored his man with right and left to the jaw, the Californian taking the count of nine. "Stop it," "Stop it," yelled the crowd. Neil came up very groggy and proved an easy and open mark for Moran's right and left swings. He was bleeding profusely from the mouth and nostrils. "Stop it," "Stop it," yelled the crowd, realizing that their man was hopelessly beaten. Neil's seconds threw up the sponge and the police stopped the unequal fight.

Moran was given the decision by Referee Roach.

HARVARD VS. YALE.

Football Season for Two Institutions Closes Today.

Cambridge, Nov. 22.—The football season in the east will culminate tomorrow with the game between Harvard and Yale. Nearly 40,000 people will witness the contest. Betting odds on the result are almost prohibitive in favor of Yale.

The actors in the football drama tomorrow spend tonight some miles from the scene of the impending contest. The Harvard team went twenty miles into the country to seek seclusion at the Norfolk Hunt club at Medfield. An hour was spent in spirited but harmless signal practise.

They will reach the stadium tomorrow by automobiles.

The Yale athletes reached their hotel at Auburndale in the Newton district, last night, and this forenoon the team went to a near-by athletic field for a little limbering up and signal work. The Yale players will go to Cambridge tomorrow on special electric cars. The team from New Haven averages nearly twenty-five pounds heavier than Harvard, while the Yale backfield averages twenty pounds more than that behind the Harvard line. Cooney, the Yale left guard, tops the heavyweights with 265 pounds of bone and muscle.

The Real Value

If you have headache or neuralgia you want relief; want it quick. Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills stop the pain in just a few minutes. But their real value lies in the fact that they leave no bad after effects. They do not create nausea or derange the stomach. Nothing can therefore take the place of Anti-Pain Pills for the relief of headache or other pain.

"Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills do all that is claimed for them in curing headache and neuralgia. I was in Farmington and I had a fearful headache the gentleman of the house said, 'Take one of my wife's Pain Pills,' and I did, and in less than one-half hour I felt as well as ever. I asked the name of these and he said Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. I purchased a box, and told my family I had found a great prize—something to cure headache. My three daughters also used them. A thousand thanks for such a remedy."
MRS. JAMES McCKIBBIN,
36 Summer St., Rochester, N. H.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills are sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first package will benefit. If it fails, he will return your money. 25 doses, 25 cents. Never sold in bulk.

GANS AND NELSON MAY FIGHT SOON.

Minneapolis, Nov. 22.—After a conference of many hours today Joe Gans and Battling Nelson agreed on all the details of their proposed fight except the weight. Nelson insists that Gans shall fight at 133 pounds in his fighting garb. No articles have been signed as yet, but the men agree that the winner shall receive 75 per cent of the receipts and the loser 25 per cent. The fight will be at Goldfield at a date to be determined later. Nelson will remain in Minneapolis with the expectation of signing articles before he leaves.

Mr. Christensen will give a Thanksgiving Matinee and Ball in his Dancing Academy, 137 E. 1st So., on November 28, at 4 and 8:30 o'clock. Friends and patrons are invited.

OGDEN FIGHT GOES TWENTY ROUNDS

Unholz-Sullivan Contest a Disappointment to Many Local Fight Fans.

But for the presence of several hundred Salt Lake fans, the attendance at the Unholz-Sullivan fight at the Ogden Opera house last night would have been rather slim. Those who made the trip from Salt Lake to the Junction City were somewhat disappointed for several reasons. The contest was not pulled off on schedule time and as a result Salt Lakers were late in getting home. The bout was poorly managed. Many persons holding tickets for reserved seats failed to get them.

With the exception of the second, fifth and last four rounds, the fight was uninteresting. It went the full 20 rounds and was declared a draw by Referee Painter. Many of the spectators thought Sullivan should have been given the decision because he did too only real clean or clever work in the contest. To those who saw Sullivan fight "Cyclone" Thompson, his work last night was a disappointment, and it will take a pretty strong argument to convince them that he could not have won last night from Unholz by a big margin.

All that can justly be said of the Boer's ability as a fighter is that he is strong, fairly fast on his feet, but decidedly wild and clumsy. His "style" consists of rushing in head down, with eyes shut and swinging wildly, trusting to luck to land a "haymaker." A boxer with half of Sullivan's cleverness should have no trouble in avoiding punishment from Unholz.

In the second round there was reason to believe the local fight fans would be home long before midnight. In this round Sullivan scored a knockdown and the Boer was decidedly groggy. Sullivan displayed poor judgment in this round or he would have won the fight. He failed to take advantage of his opponent's condition and permitted Unholz to recover. In this round he sent the Boer to the floor twice. In the fifth Unholz upset Sullivan four times, but more from rushes than from blows. There was considerable "stalling" from then on until the seventeenth, when Sullivan did some clever work, while Unholz rushed like a mad bull, swinging wildly. Unholz played for the body throughout the bout, while Sullivan's best work was in jabbing with the left.

TO REOPEN HAZING CASE.

Annapolis, Nov. 22.—The hazing court-martial, as a result of which about a dozen midshipmen were dismissed from the academy in February, 1906, following the Branch-Merriwether affair, is to be reopened in the court of claims of the United States.

The case which will reopen the matter is that of former Midshipman Geo. H. Melvin of Chicago. It will be claimed that he was never legally dismissed from the service and that he is still a midshipman and as such is entitled to his salary for the last two years.

PLAYED TIE GAME.

High School and University Second Teams Have Lively Struggle.

The Salt Lake High school and the University of Utah second team had a lively struggle on Cummings field yesterday afternoon, the game resulting in a tie. Owing to the slippery condition of the field fast work was impossible, but the contest was an interesting one just the same. Hunt for the U. team made a wenty-five yard run. Jessup, of the same team, played an excellent game, especially in kicking and running. The teams lined up as follows:

University.		High School.
Watson	l.e.	Davis. Tomlison
Karrick	l.t.	Shores
White	l.g.	Wooley
Gardner	c.	Corns
Russell	r.g.	Arnold
Dean	r.e.	Stevens
Carmichael	q.b.	Combs
Hunt	l.h.	Richardson

A COMING OUT.

While in Progress Thief Came in and Stole the Jewels.

Chicago, Nov. 23.—During a "coming out" reception given at the Congress hotel yesterday afternoon by Mrs. W. D. Boyce for her daughters, Miss Sydney Boyce, a thief entered the family apartments and stole about $1,000 worth of jewelry, principally rings.

Mr. Boyce suspects a house-maid, and the police are directing their efforts toward locating her.

The robbery was discovered immediately when Mrs. Boyce entered the rooms. Then it was found, as Mr. Boyce laughingly remarked, "that the thief drew the line at clearing house checks. My wife had about $50 worth of them in her pocketbook, but these were left severely alone."

Mrs. Boyce, their daughters, the Misses Sydney and Happy Boyce, Mrs. E. N. Stevens of Bismarck, N. D., wife of that state's attorney-general and Miss Jennie Day Proudfoot of Memphis, Tenn., a schoolmate of Miss Sydney, special house guests, suffered losses. They all wore gloves for the reception, and, consequently, the Boyces and their special guests left their rings in the apartments. Some money also was taken.

REICHSTAG ASSEMBLES.

Coming Parliamentary Work Will be Unusually Interesting.

Berlin, Nov. 23.—The reichstag assembled today after the summer recess with a large attendance of members. The day was devoted to hearing and referring petitions.

The coming parliamentary work is expected to be unusually interesting, especially as it will test Chancellor von Buelow's ability to hold together the incongruous elements composing the government "bloc". Conservative-Liberal group, for the support of its measures. This coalition which was designed primarily to exclude the Clericals from political power, depends for success on the harmonious action of the two conservative parties, the National Liberals and the three Radical groups. The utmost the government can expect is that the group will act together in support of distinctly national measures, like military and civil matters. The budget itself, however, will expose the group to a serious strain particularly in its military features, owing to the heavy increases for the army and navy. The total increase in the expenditures is $38,250,000.

The Clericals and Socialists will endeavor to split the Conservative-Liberal group by offering at every possible opportunity amendments designed to create a breach.

KANT ART COLLECTION.

New York Will Get Most Desirable Part of Famous Paintings.

New York, Nov. 23.—According to published announcement today, there is no doubt that New York will get the most desirable part of the Kant art collection for which a Paris syndicate paid over $5,000,000.

The principal art treasures of the collection have been purchased by J. P. Morgan, Benjamin Altman, the Huntington estate and P. A. B. Widener.

Mr. Altman secures the largest and most valuable part, including several Rembrandts, notably one of the best examples of the master, the great painting "Pilate Washing His Hands."

ENGLISH SUFFRAGETTES.

They Virtually Break Up a Meeting Held by Herbert Gladstone.

Leeds, Eng., Nov. 22.—The woman suffragists today virtually compelled Herbert Gladstone, secretary of state for home affairs, to abandon his attempt to address a meeting here. The interruptions from the "suffragettes" became so persistent that Mr. Gladstone declared he would no longer struggle against such tactics, and brought his speech to a sudden close. One of the suffragists thereupon tried to take possession of the meeting. While she was speaking a free fight broke out between the men and women of the audience. Mr. Gladstone and his wife beat a speedy retreat and the chairman declared the meeting closed.

PRESIDENT APPOINTS AIDES.

Washington, Nov. 22.—Three additional aides to the president were appointed today. Capt. R. O. Van Horn as military aide, was appointed from the Seventeenth United States infantry. He has a distinguished record in the Cuban campaign and has been commended highly by Gen. Wood for his service in the Philippines. Lieut. Thomas Holcomb, Jr., of Delaware, the champion rifle shot of the world, is designated from the marine corps. Capt. Sherwood A. Cheney of the general staff, now on duty at the war college, is the third appointee. These appointments fill the vacancies caused by the retirement last year of Capts. Sheridan, MacArthur and Harding.

BLOOD POISON

May be either hereditary or contracted. The former causes eczema, rheumatic pains, scrofula, etc. The latter begins with a small pimple, followed by sores in the mouth and throat, which have the appearance of white patches, specks or sores on the tongue, face or scalp, falling hair and eyebrows, and later on other terrible symptoms, such as paralysis, locomotor ataxia, cancerous growths, decayed bones and death.
