NEWS OF THE WEST.

A Salt Lake Child, Bitten by a Spider, Narrowly Escapes Death.

CONVENT DESTROYED BY FIRE.

Abduction of a Young Lady With a Blemished Fellow—Fatal Saloon Quarrel, Etc.

A boy named W. C. Hazelbeck, who W. L. Cook, has been arrested at Sacramento, Cal., for a $2,000 jailbird company in Colfax, Cal.

Professor Sullivan, C. W. Cook and partners, have ceased operations of the Cedar Hills coal mine, and have been hauling and selling coal at this week. They have still nothing on the vein, and think it will be some time before they can tell whether it will now repay the trouble and expense of the last. Further up the canyon, they will be able to take out coal, and are quite in encouraging condition.

Up Sunday last, near the Pavoda, a cowboy was chased over all the country beyond the West mountains by a bear for two miles. One was in the lead place and the other a small distance on the side of the beast, ready to jump into the car, endeavoring to close his teeth, which were clamoring close behind. The animal could breathe not a little south and is somewhat of a curiosity.

The Grand Junction (Colo.) Sentinel: Marcus E. Jones, mining expert and geologist of Salt Lake City, arrived in the city on Friday morning, coming from the west in Washington, in the enjoyment of the government, while here he will investigate our gas wells. From the knowledge of the country he feels satisfied that there is gas to be found in this valley.

The Van Allen fruit cannery at Sacramento, Cal., has been totally destroyed by fire, entailing a loss of $5,000. It was the first cannery established in Sacramento county. The loss of this plant is of much consequence to the Healdsburg district, for, while it was not operated last season, it had been in readiness order and fruitgrowers hoped it would be put in operation this year.

Brigham City Leader: The two sons, six boys of Mount Mrs. John Kennedy of Salt Lake City, who were visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hamilton, of Brigham City, was taken by a crazed horse two days after their arrival here. The children received injuries in natural size. The deceased parents were positive that the child was saved only by prompt medical attention.

The Evanston (Wyo.) Herald says: A number of the cattle owners and stockmen of the county met together by appointment in the court house this city on Wednesday of this week to talk matters over and try and come to some understanding mutually satisfactory regarding the coming of the grazing range. Very little headway towards such satisfactory arrangement was accomplished. They will, we are told, have another meeting in about two weeks and try it again.

The Albion (Idaho) Daily Dee reports a bloody affair near Oakley. Frank Hinling being been shot and killed by Elmer Bell. The men had some trouble over water. Bell claims Hinling attempted to drive him off his own premises at the point of a six-shooter. Both men were mounted at the time and both were armed, Bell with a Winchester, Hinling fired two shots, as Bell claims, before Bell opened fire with his rifle. Bell fired two shots, both taking effect. Bell was unhurt, but his horse was killed. Bell gave himself up.

The people of Dewayville, as claim the Brigham Leader are rejoicing over the sudden and unexpected annihilation of the destructive cutworm. A few weeks ago these worms appeared in the sugar beet fields and that vicinity. They cut down large tracts of the beet and the fields were almost bare, and threatened to wipe out not only all the sugar beet, but the vegetable and the grain crops as well. But suddenly the pests, the worms, curled up on the ground and died. It is thought the hot sun killed them. The locality is full of them and the people rejoice.

The John Day country, near Hale Ranch, says the Montpelier (Idaho) Examiner, is literally covered with sheep. Some estimate of the number in that section can be had when it is known that one man has put 100,000 head of Oregon sheep on those ranges. All over the country we will see sheep this season, and in many places where they never were before. The result is going to be that the ranges will be free of feed long before snow flies. Most of the above sheep came from Utah, and the owners don't pay a cent of rent on their lands in this state.

Miss Stella Moore, a young lady of Santa Clara, Cal., has eloped with Jose Maxine Argueiro, a disinherited scion of a wealthy family. Miss Moore is but 17 years ago. Jose is a daughter of Mr. Moore, who is an old settler of Santa Clara. Her parents state that the girl was infatuated with Argueiro, and did all they could to prevent the marriage. Miss Moore was not to be seen sleeping and did not appear at breakfast. It was stated that the young couple had gone to San Jose and procured a marriage license and were married. The girl was a member of the Episcopal church of Santa Clara and never had any companions of either sex. Her mother is said to be prostrated with grief.

Mrs. Louie Hamburg, of Marysville, Cal., died at Boulder, Jefferson county, last Friday, at the Poor Farm, and was buried by the county, though she had a lot of diamonds, much fine silk clothing, and a big lotion of stocks of a bank in Dublin, France, to her back. She had gone to Boulder a few days before from the hospital at Denver, where she had been in a sanitarium. She went to a health resort near Denver and stayed some time, then came to Boulder and said she wanted to make another bearing search, but her money was so gone that she stayed mostly now. It is stated that her jewelry and clothing were worth thousands of dollars, and she spared basic mostly now. It is stated, for a long journey. When leaving the Boulder she said she could stand straight to be put on the car and make her destination. Her marriage certificate showed she had been married ten years ago in Marysville, Cal.
