PRESIDENT URGES MORE LEGISLATION

tural steel in this country, including the American Bridge company, one of the constituent members of the United States steel corporation, have combined together for the purpose of raising prices by means of collusive bids and false representations, their conduct is not only repugnant to common honesty, but is plainly obnoxious to the federal statute known as the Sherman anti-trust law.

SHOULD MAKE AN EXAMPLE.

"The commission believes that an example should be made of these men, and that the members of the 'Boston agreement' or at least all those who, in October and November, 1905, entered in the fraudulent competitions for the Cove street draw-span and the Brookline street bridge, should be brought before a federal grand jury for violation of the act of Congress of July 2, 1890. The three years' limitation for participation in these transactions has not yet elapsed and the evidence obtained by the commission is so complete that there should be no difficulty in the government's securing a conviction in this case."

I have submitted this report to the department of justice for thorough investigation and for action if action shall prove practicable.

AWAKENING THE PEOPLE.

Surely such a state of affairs as that set forth above emphasizes the need of further legislation not merely because of the material benefits such legislation will secure, but, above all, because this federal action should be part, and a large part, of the campaign to waken our people as a whole to a lively and effective condemnation of the low standard of morality implied in such conduct on the part of the great business concerns. The first duty of every man is to provide a livelihood for himself and for those dependent upon him; it is from every standpoint desirable that each of our citizens should endeavor by hard work and honorable methods to secure for him and his such a competence as will carry with it the opportunity to enjoy in reasonable fashion the comforts and refinements of life; and furthermore, the man of great business ability who obtains a fortune in upright fashion inevitably in so doing confers a benefit upon the community as a whole and is entitled to reward, to respect and to admiration. But among the many kinds of evils, social, industrial and political, which it is our duty as a nation sternly to combat, there is none at the same time more biased or more dangerous than the greed which treats the plain and simple rules of honesty with cynical contempt if they interfere with making a profit, and as a nation, we cannot be held guiltless if we condone such action. The man who preaches hatred of wealth honestly acquired, who inculcates envy and jealousy and slanderous ill-will toward those of his fellows who by thrift, energy and industry have become men of means, is a menace to the community. But his counterpart in evil is to be found in that particular kind of multi-millionaire who is almost the least enviable of all our citizens, a man of whom it has been well said that his face has grown hard and cruel while his body has grown soft; whose son is a fool and his daughter a foreign princess; whose nominal pleasures are at best those of a useless and extravagant luxury, and whose real delight, whose real life work is the accumulation and use of power in its most sordid and least elevating form. In the chaos of an absolutely unrestricted commercial individualism under modern conditions, this is a type that becomes prominent as inevitably as the marauder baron became prominent in the physical chaos of the dark ages. We are striving for legislation to minimize the abuses which give this type its flourishing prominence, partly for the sake of what can be accomplished by the legislation itself, and partly because the legislation marks our participation in a great and stern moral movement to bring our ideals and our conduct into measurable accord.

(Signed) THEODORE ROOSEVELT

The White House, April 27, 1908.

METHODS OF COLLUSION.

In the report of the finance committee to the mayor and city council of Boston, subjoined by the president to his message, the methods employed in the alleged collusions are considered under three heads—combinations among boilermakers, combinations among contractors for fire-proofing, and combinations between corporations and firms engaged in the manufacture or supply of structural steel.

Under the first heading the committee charges that "some one familiar with the operations of the school house department would furnish each person invited to bid the names of the other persons to whom invitations had been extended. The concerns selected would then arrange between themselves as to who should do the work, as to the price to be fixed and as to the division of the profits.

The report names two companies as the corporations found to be guilty of collusive practises in bidding for fire-proofing contract, and says:

"These companies combined for the purpose of parceling out the work. Contract for contract was generally conceded, although in some cases money was paid as the price of abstaining from competition. This resulted in high prices to the customer and exactions were thus obtained from all sorts and conditions of men and corporations."

The portion of the report devoted to combinations in the structural steel trade deals with what is termed the "Boston agreement," and the charge is made that "in order to preserve the appearance of competition and to insure the success of the scheme of a collusion, the parties to the agreement would arrange the bids to be submitted in a progressive scale above the prearranged bid of the concern to which the work had been allotted. The members of the "agreement" did not hesitate to fortify their bids by false statements in writing that they were made in good faith, without fraud, collusion or connection with any other bidder.

BABY GIRL CRIED AND SCRATCHED

All the Time—Torturing Eczema Covered Her Body—Could Not Sleep—Doctor Said Sores Would Last for Years—Skin Now Clear.

CURED IN THREE MONTHS BY CUTICURA REMEDIES

"I take great pleasure in telling you what a great help it was for me to use Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment for my baby niece. She was suffering from that terrible torture, eczema. It was all over her body but the worst was on her face and hands. Her hands were so bad that she could not hold anything. She cried and scratched all the time and could not sleep night or day from the scratching. I had her under the doctor's care for a year and a half and he seemed to do her no good. I took her to the best doctor in the city and he said that she would have the sores until she was six years old. But if I had depended on the doctor my baby would have lost her mind and died from the want of aid.

"I used all the remedies that everybody told me about and I tortured the child almost to death. Then I saw in the paper how Cuticura was the thing for irritating skin. I bathed her with warm water and Cuticura Soap and used the Cuticura Ointment. She was cured in three months. Now her skin is as clear and smooth as it could be. I shall recommend the use of Cuticura wherever I see the skin in bad condition. Alice L. Dowell, 4769 Easton Ave., St. Louis, Mo., May 2 and 20, 1907."

JOHNSON ON "LANDMARKS OF AMERICAN LIBERTY."

Houghton, Mich., April 27.—Governor John A. Johnson of Minnesota tonight addressed 2,000 people at Kerredge theater at Hancock. The meeting was held under the auspices of the Methodist church.

Gov. Johnson spoke on "Landmarks of American Liberty." He said in part:

"Progress of this republic as guided by the landmarks of constitutional liberty is today opposed by two dangers. One is the tendency of the federal government to centralization of power and the asumption of sovereign powers not delegated to it by the Constitution and belonging to the states and to the people. The other is the power of centralized and predatory wealth, fostered by special privileges and defiant of both the public welfare and the law of the land. The existence of these two dangers is not only contemporary, but in a measure co-operative. Both threaten the liberty and power of the people and the untarnished perpetuity of our institutions. Although the profitable development of the great industrial trusts of today is largely due, first to the special privileges of the federal government, and especially to unjust tariff laws which those in control of the government refuse to abolish or amend, and, second, to gross favoritism in administration and to lax interpretation and enforcement of the Constitution and laws the very existence of these trusts to day is urged as a reason why still further powers should be centralized in the federal government, the states deprived of their constitutional rights and powers and guaranties of the Constitution further encroached upon, evaded and broken down."

TEN YEARS FOR HIGHWAYMEN.

Reno, Nev., April 27.—John Van Tine, convicted of highway robbery of Deputy County Clerk Morton, was today sentenced by Judge Pike to 10 years' imprisonment at Carson. The maximum sentence is 14 years. A recomendation for mercy by the jury remitted four years. Van Tine thanked the judge cordially when sentence was pronounced. Van Tine lives in Sacramento and served nine years and six months of a 24-year sentence for a similar offense in the San Quentin prison in California. Upon his release he came here and immediately got into trouble.

FIRE IN EMMETT, IDAHO.

Boise, Ida., April 27.—But for the use of dynamite in destroying other buildings in the path of the fire which broke out yesterday afternoon, the town of Emmett would have been destroyed. Rogers' livery barn, to the west of the hotel building, was destroyed by dynamite and fire, entailing a loss of $5,000 with $1,800 insurance. The frame building on the east, owned by Myers Bros. and occupied as a Japanese restaurant, was also blown up to assist in preventing a spread of the fire. The building next to this, owned by Frank Hambling, was also destroyed to save the John Bane brick building.

The entire loss exceeds $15,000.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

Reno, Nev., April 27.—A. G. Lewis, a street car conductor of Los Angeles, en route to Chicago, tried to catch his train as it moved out of the station this morning, and was thrown under the wheels, but miraculously escaped instant death. As it was, he is fearfully bruised, has a broken ankle, and, it is feared, is suffering from internal injuries. He was put on the train and carried east under the care of the conductor.

DEATH WAS ON HIS HEELS.

Jesse P. Morris, of Skippers, Va., had a close call in the spring of 1906. He says: An attack of pneumonia left me so weak and with such a fearful cough that my friends declared consumption had me, and death was on my heels. Then I was persuaded to try Dr. King's New Discovery. It helped me immediately, and after taking two and a half bottles I was a well man again. I found out that New Discovery is the best remedy for coughs and lung disease in all the world." Sold under guarantee at Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept. 112-114 South Main Street. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

EX-GOV. McCORD DEAD.

Phoenix, Ariz., April 27.—Col. Myron H. McCord, collector of customs at Nogales, died here this afternoon of Bright's disease, aged 67 years. Mr. McCord, who was a native of Pennsylvania, was a veteran of the Civil war. He also served in Congress from Wisconsin. He came to Phoenix in the nineties, since which time he has figured conspicuously in Arizona politics. He was governor of Arizona when the Spanish-American war began, by appointment of President McKinley, his life-long friend.

A TWENTY YEAR SENTENCE.

"I have just completed a twenty year health sentence, imposed by Bucklen's Arnica Salve, which cured me of bleeding piles just twenty years ago," Writes O. S. Woolever, of Le Raysville, N. Y., Bucklen's Arnica Salve heals the worst sores, boils, burns, wounds and cuts in the shortest time. 25c. at Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept. 112-114 South Main Street.

THE KANGAROO RAT.

One of Most Destructive Pests Invades Santa Cruz Vineyards.

Santa Cruz, Cal., April 28.—One of the most destructive pests with which vineyard interests have to contend, known as the kangaroo rat, has made his appearance in the vineyards around and on the summit of Ben Lemond mountain. They are appearing by the hundreds and are feeding upon the young buds of the grapevines, and if some effective means of killing them is not hit upon, they will destroy the entire crop. The cause of their appearance in such numbers is attributed to recent wholesale slaughter of rattlesnakes in that neighborhood.

KILLED BY INSANE NEGRO.

Pueblo, Colo., April 27.—Edward McAfee, a negro, escaped from the state insane asylum here late this afternoon, attacked Mrs. Edward P. Jones, whom he met in the street, with a hatchet, and she will die. McAfee stood off his pursuers with an ax, and was captured only after a fire company was called out and turned a fire hose on him.
