THE three justices were present at today's session of the Territorial Supreme Court.

THERE is a case of diphtheria at the American Hotel, corner of Second East and First South Streets.

A UTAH Central freight train left the track at American Fork on Saturday, but was soon put right again.

AT the leap year ball on Wednesday evening the first circle will be open to spectators; the admission price is 50 cents.

PATRICK REAGAN and Wm. Davis were before Justice Pyper today for drunkenness. Reagan was fined $15 and Davis $10.

THE suit of A. C. Brixen vs. the Deseret National Bank has been set for hearing in the Territorial Supreme Court on Monday next.

THE monthly meeting of the Mutual Improvement Associations will be held in the Fourteenth Ward Assembly Rooms at 7:30 this evening.

THE case of the United States vs. John Harris, on appeal from the First District Court to the Territorial Supreme Court, was argued this afternoon.

THERE is a message at the Western Union Telegraph Office for Johan Nillson, miner, of Stockton, Utah. He is supposed to be in Salt Lake City at present.

THIS morning a boy coasting on South Temple Street had a narrow escape. He ran into a span of horses attached to a loaded wagon, but fortunately escaped serious injury.

A YOUNG lady named Mary J. Haslam was coasting the other evening, and met with an accident, breaking her right limb, and otherwise bruising her about the head. She is progressing as favorably as could be expected under the circumstances.

THE box office at the Theatre will open on Wednesday next at 10 a. m. so that those holding invitations may obtain their tickets to the grand leap year ball in the evening. All who attend must present their invitations as well as their tickets at the door in the evening.

The Lucky Numbers.

At the drawing for the sewing machines at the Burton-Gardner Company's office, the lucky number for the "Household" machine is 1349, which is held by Mrs. A. Cartwright. No. 1857 draws the "American Gem" machine, which will go to Mrs. D. S. Spencer.

Yesterday's Fire.

At 10 o'clock yesterday morning the roof of the Thirteenth Ward Assembly Hall was discovered to be on fire. The stove pipe connecting with the cement pipe chimney had become detached on the inner side of the roof, and the timbers thus became ignited. The fire department turned a stream onto the roof, and by the use of buckets inside soon extinguished the fire with but little damage.

More Arrests.

On Tuesday J. H. Clinger, of Lake View, was arrested on a charge of unlawful cohabitation, and on Wednesday appeared before the Commissioner for examination. David Evans, Esq., prosecuted the case and Mr. E. Booth defended. The evidence was so flimsy that the Commissioner had to discharge Mr. Clinger.

Bishop Lorenzo Argyle, of Lake Shore, was arrested yesterday at that place on the U. C. charge and brought to Provo, where he was bound over in temporary bonds to appear for examination before Commissioner Little on the 20th of this month.—Utah Enquirer, Jan. 3.

Diplomacy Tonight.

This evening the Home Dramatic Club will appear in the long-advertised "Diplomacy," which made so pronounced a success on its initial presentation New Year's night. This will be the last appearance of the Club for some time, as several of the members go at once to work with the Careless Opera Company on the "Mascot." The management of the Theatre have just put in new heating pipes which encircle the entire auditorium, and they state that no one need fear but that the building will be perfectly comfortable. The performance commences at 8 o'clock.

Child Burned to Death.

At about noon yesterday, in Anaconda, while Mr. and Mrs. James Clark were for a short time absent from home, their two children, a baby and a five-year-old girl, in playing with matches set the curtain on fire. The fire quickly communicated to other inflammable material in the room and in a very short time the whole structure was in a blaze. The eight-year-old boy of Mr. Cornelius, a near neighbor, managed to get the older of the two babies out of the burning house and tried manfully to save the other, but unavailingly, and before other help reached the scene the little one was burned to death. The fire was with great difficulty prevented from spreading to other residences near at hand.—Butte Inter-Mountain, Jan. 9th.

Concert at Henefer.

The most enjoyable affair of the season for the folks of Henefer took place on Friday evening, January 13th, 1888. It was a concert rendered by the pupils of the district school, about 90 participating in the exercises, which consisted of songs, dialogues, select readings, etc., rendered in a very creditable and effective manner by all the juvenile performers. A noticeable feature was the smiling faces and neat attire of a portion of "Utah's best crop." The whole concluded with a social dance. Much credit is due to Miss Allston, the teacher of the school, for the efficient manner in which the pupils were drilled, also to Miss Mary A Fowler, the organist, and Brother John Paskett, the leader of the choir.

The Cold Wave.

The present month stands out as the coldest in the history of this valley. Once before, on Jan. 20, 1883, the thermometer went lower than it has done thus far this season—to 20 degrees below zero—but never has the cold spell held on to the extent of the one we are now having. Today the mercury indicated 5 deg. below zero, and yesterday it reached 17 deg. below at the Signal Service office in this city. In the outer parts of town and in the country, it reached 35 deg. The snowfall thus far this month has been 17 inches, a very unusual amount. It has been an extremely fortunate circumstance that there have been no winds. Sergeant Kosta thinks that the weather will moderate slightly, but that it will be pretty cold for some days yet.

THE LEGISLATURE.

COUNCIL.

Monday, Jan. 16, 1888

The Council met pursuant to adjournment at 2 p. m. and after roll call and prayer by the chaplain, the journal of Saturday was read and approved.

A communication was received from the House embodying a concurrent resolution for a protest to be presented by Hon. John T. Caine against the proposed reduction of the tariff on lead. On motion of Woolley the resolution was adopted.

Letters were received from W. C. Hall, James Jack, Joseph Barton and O. J. Hollister, thanking the Council for the freedom of the Council.

Woolley, chairman of the committee on judiciary, reported recommending that the amendments of the House to C. F. No. 1 be not concurred in.

The report was adopted and the House notified.

Young presented a bill entitled "A bill for an act in relation to divorce and for the more effectual protection of the lawful wife and to aid in the suppression of polygamy and polygamous practices."

A communication was read from the Governor nominating Arthur Pratt for auditor of public accounts and Bolivar Roberts for territorial treasurer.

Marshall moved its reference to a select committee of three to reply at an early day to the Council.

Woolley wanted to understand why it should be referred.

Marshall thought it proper in consequence of the dispute as to the proper mode in this matter. The Governor can nominate, the Council can approve. The matter is in the courts.

Woolley thought it out of regular order of business.

Marshall didn't know what the regular order was, but wanted it to have proper consideration.

Woolley thought the Council as a whole in executive session should consider this matter. Marshall said there is no nomination to the Senate of the United States but is referred to a (I think) special committee. Thought this was a proper example.

Woolley still thought it better to consider the question in executive session, following our own precedent, and then if necessary refer it.

Smoot moved to amend by referring to the committee of the whole.

Woolley was in favor of the usual method.

Young wanted to ask what had been the result of consideration in executive session heretofore. If nothing harmonious had resulted, why not try the method of Mr. Marshall It may not be more amicable, but let us try it.

Woolley, in answer to the gentleman's question he would say, the mode had always resulted in something being accomplished. The Council has always arrived at a decision.

The motions were lost and the Governor's communication was filed for consideration in executive session.

Marshall moved to proceed to executive session now.

The President said he had just received a communication from the House which the clerk would read. It consisted of a concurrent resolution providing for the publication of 200 copies of the law of Congress restricting territorial legislation, for the use of the Legislature. The resolution was adopted.

The House notified the Council of the appointment of Moyle, Thurman and Hoge as a committee to confer with a like committee of the Council on the bill for the compilation of the laws of Utah. Messrs. Woolley, Marshal and Bryant were appointed by the president as a committee on the part of the Council to confer with the committee of the House on that subject.

Carlisle then moved a recess for fifteen minutes in order to allow the committee to confer.

Woolley reported from the committee on conference for compilation of the laws that they had substantially agreed with the House committee—but requiring further time to make out their report. The time was allowed.

Marshall asked to be excused tomorrow on account of special business. Granted.

On motion of Marshall the Council adjourned.

Benediction by the chaplain.

HOUSE.

Several members of the House and the chaplain were absent at roll call at 2 p.m. today. Some time was consumed in amending the minutes, when Allen presented a petition from E. T. Sprague for an appropriation as remuneration for services as clerk of the Territorial Supreme Court in cases under Territorial laws, and moved its reference to the committee on claims.

Thurman made the remark that Mr. Sprague's claim would likely be provided for in the appropriation bill, but did not object to the reference of his petition.

Richards presented a claim of G. R. Benap of Weber County, which was referred to the claims committee.

Clark presented the claim of D. R. Harrington for remuneration as minute clerk of the last House, with two years' interest. Same reference.

Messages from the Council were read, announcing its concurrence in the House resolution requesting Hon. John T. Caine to oppose the reduction of the tariff on lead, and its non-concurrence in the House amendments to C. F. 1, in relation to compiling the laws.

On motion of Moyle a conference committee was appointed viz., Thurman and Hoge.

A bill in relation to a Territorial board of equalization was introduced and referred.

A bill in reference to the election of municipal officers was introduced and referred.

A bill prescribing the manner of constructing doors in public buildings was introduced and referred.

A bill to establish a territorial reform school war introduced and referred.

The speaker announced that the clerk's table was cleared, but suggested that the conference committee on compilation might be able to report shortly.

On motion, the House took a recess to await an announcement of the conference committee.

After a recess lasting a little less than an hour, the Speaker called the House to order.

King moved that the Clerk of the House be instructed to notify certain persons that the freedom of the House was extended to them. They embraced the Governor, federal officers, etc.

The conference committee reported progress, and that it would likely be able to report a bill tomorrow.

Hatch introduced a concurrent resolution authorizing the House committee on claims to employ clerical assistance. Adopted.

Messages from the Council were read, announcing the appointment of a conference committee on the compilation bill, and concurrence in the House resolution providing for the printing of 200 copies of the congressional law restricting Territories from passing laws of certain kinds.

On motion of King the House adjourned.

The Library.

A meeting of the board of directors of the Salt Lake Stake Library was held at the library building, No. 15 main Street, Jan. 13, 1888, at 1 p. m. After prayer by Jos. E. Mullett President John M. Whitaker stated that one of the objects of the meeting was to announce a concert for the benefit of the library, to be given Monday evening, Jan. 23. He requested the members of the board to use every endeavor to insure the financial success of the concert, by speaking of it whenever opportunity offered and advertising it generally.

A change was made in the "Rules and Regulations" whereby persons taking books out of the library may keep them two weeks instead of one as heretofore.

The treasurer's report was accepted and placed on file.

Meeting was adjourned until Friday, Jan. 20.

Benediction by Jno. M. Whitaker.

The Dillon (Montana) Tribune of the 6th says: The accident which occured on the Utah & Northern Railroad last week, a few miles north of Dillon, has been a matter of investigation. The death of Fireman McShane resulted in the calling of a coroner's jury to examine the matter. The jury found that Patrick McShane, the fireman, came to his death through the culpable neglect of John W. Cain, train master at Spring Hill, and Superintendent C. F. Remigule, of the Utah & Northern in not strictly enforcing orders. The jury found both guilty of criminal negligence. Coroner Pickman took Cain before Probate Judge Melton, who fixed his bail at $500 and set the hearing for 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Witnesses not being on hand, by agreement of counsel on both sides, the preliminary examination was adjourned until 10 o'clock Saturday. Judge Galbraith asked that the bail be reduced, and County Attorney Barbour not objecting, Judge Melton reduced Cain's bail to $250, which was given.

FIRST DISTRICT COURT.

Judicial Business Before Judge Henderson Saturday.

Axeil Christensen was arraigned on the charge of unlawful cohabitation; plea of not guilty entered. He was also arraigned on a charge of adultery, to which he pleaded not guilty.

United States vs. James Hansen, unlawful cohabitation; arraigned and plea of guilty entered; Feb. 13th set as date of sentence.

Saturday had been set as the date of sentence in the cases of Wm. Williams, M. W. Merrill, Wm. Grimn, Carl M. Borgstrom, W. L. Watkins and Mads Christensen. During the forenoon Judge Emerson stated to the court in behalf of these defendants, that the winter had been very severe, and, as they were mostly farmers their presence was necessary at their farms; and that some of them had not been able to reach Ogden, on account of the snow and storms. He wound up by asking that the sentences be postponed until the second Monday in February. District Attorney Peters offering no objections the court ordered that the sentence be postponed.

In the case of A. J. Kershaw, sentence was postponed, and a motion for a new trial was made by J. N. Kimball, who gave a number of reasons for the motion. The matter was taken under advisement by the court.

In the case of Allen Hunsaker, who was charged with resisting the officers, a fine of $250 was inflicted.

U. S. vs. Samuel Taylor, unlawful cohabitation; arraigned and allowed until Feb. 18 to plead.

U. S. vs. Ulrich Stauffer, unlawful cohabitation; arraigned and allowed until February 18 to plead.

U. S. vs. James Ipson, unlawful cohabitation; arraigned and allowed until February 13 to plead.

T. J. Hard vs. A. T. Marshal; motion overruled.

Henrique Pyttger was admitted as a citizen.

Park City Etiquette.

About the middle of the week two First warders left their angry passions rise, and the result came nearly being fatal. It appears that David Laird's cow trespassed on M. J. Hall's premises and not only did some damage but once, about a week ago, came home with a pitch-fork hole in its side. This displeased Laird, but he concluded, after a threat from Hall, to pay the damage and made preparations to that end. Meanwhile Laird had occasion to pass Hall's house, when a couple of barking dogs jumped out at him, whereat he pulled out his little pistol and fired at the curs. The shot came pretty close to Hall, who was in his stable and thought he was being made a target. Laird went up to Hall's house to pay the damage bill, and Hall had in the meantime got indoors without saying a word. He was in the act of loading up his gun, with blood in his eye, when Mrs. Hall rushed out and warned Laird to leave. Laird at once "tumbled" to the racket and hurried to his own house, followed by Hall, who, however, dropped the chase when a neighbor met and gave him a piece of good advice. There the trouble ended, and fortunately too. Laird then had Hall arrested on a charge of assault with intent to take his life, and pending the examination he was held in $500 bonds by Justice White which pledge also requires him to keep the peace.—Park Record, Jan. 14.

James O'Neil.

This brilliant American actor, says a San Francisco paper, "has a loyal following in San Francisco. While he draws to the fashionable part of the Baldwin by his performance of Edmozd Dantes (afterward Count of Monte Cristo) all that section of the house can contain, the family circle and gallery are simply packed with his young admirers. At least this was the case yesterday afternoon and last evening, and it is to be presumed the average attendance for the rest of the engagement was thereby foreshadowed Chas. Fechter's adaptation of Dumas' great romance is receiving splendid treatment at the hands of the present company. Mr. O'Neil, always a favorite in romantic drama, seems to have made the character of Dantes his own, and develops all his strong features with fidelity and vigor. His tableau, after escaping from the Chateau d'Ifs, is quite equal to the famous Fechter picture, and his scene with Caderousse and Carconte a bit of base human motive thoroughly unveiled. 'Monte Cristo' has been performed many a time and oft, and has been, in fact, placed in the list of defunct plays; but, as we see it now at the Baldwin, it must be called a dramatic renaissance." Mr. O'Neill will present this strong attraction at the Theatre on Friday and Saturday evenings next.

Returned.

Dr. Ellis R. Shipp returned on Saturday evening from the east. She left here in June last, and spent the summer in New York, in which place she devoted considerable time to visiting hospitals, etc. The last three months of her absence were spent in Philadelphia, where she pursued her midical studies.

Dr. Shipp had, during her absence, many opportunities to converse upon the subject of "Mormonism," and on the day before her departure from Philadelphia, she lectured before the students of the Women's Medical College. She has since been solicited to furnish, for publication in a medical journal, a summary of her lecture.

Dr. Shipp can be found at 84 Seventh East Street, where she will be pleased to see her friends.

Sentenced for Larceny.

To-day Frank Brooks, who was arrested in Ogden on Saturday, for stealing an overcoat from the Cullen Hotel in this city, was tried before Justice Pyper. He was convicted, and sentenced to pay a fine of $200 and be imprisoned in the county jail for four months.

Bishop Whitney's Lecture.

The initial lecture of the Twentieth Ward series, under the auspices of the Improvement Association of that ward, "Tongues of the Times, and what they tell us," was delivered last evening in the ward meeting-house.

As had been announced, Bishop O. F. Whitney was the speaker, and his address was listened to throughout by a large, attentive and delighted congregation.

The ward choir, under the leadership of Brother Joseph J. Daynes, rendered some choice anthems—the tenor solo of Brother James T. Dunbar peing particularly fine.

Bishop Whitney opened his address by saying that some tongues were audible while others were silent, and showed how they might be audible to some whose spiritual conditions were suitable, while silent to others who lacked the preparation to receive their warning. Some seemed to think that the scriptures were not at all adapted to the present generation. The speaker stated that a truth uttered in any age was a part of the Gospel, and would be found to cohere with all other truths uttered before or subsequent to that time. And whosoever read the revelations of God given through any of His Prophets, would, if possessed of the Holy Spirit, realize that they spoke to him or her with oracular power.

The speaker then related incidents which occurred after the martyrdom of the Prophet Joseph. Some knew that Brigham Young was appointed leader of Israel. They saw that the mantle had fallen on him. To them he spoke with Joseph's voice While others were in the dark, and the tongues of the time were silent to them. God had always raised up men suited to their times to lead His people. Referred in a graphic manner to the labors of Presidents Joseph Smith and Brigham Young, and the cares which the Church in its infancy and childhood had entailed upon those leaders. That during the exile of President Taylor and others the Saints had been required to think for themselves and assume more of the responsibility of their course; and he likened the experience of the Church in this regard to the growth of a man, who, having discarded the swaddling clothes of infancy, and put away the pinafore of his childhood, began to use his reasoning faculties, and to exercise his more manly powers in the spheres of usefulness.

Bishop Whitney then compared the warnings and fate of Jerusalem with the testimony uttered by the tongues of today. His allusion to the predictions of Jesus concerning that rebellious city and the terrible fulfillment fifty years later, was extremely touching. He bore a strong testimony of the truth of the Gospel, and the near approach of the consummation of all things. He condemned the class distinctions which too much prevailed among the Saints, and showed that the work of preparation for Christ's coming, was to bring down the haughty and lift the lowly and oppressed. He said that there would be a grand levelling of mountains and raising of valleys, literally and figuratively, before that day, for God would make the crooked straight and the rough places plain. In speaking of amusements, he said that recreation was necessary, and pleasure to a certain extent was proper; but this did not justify the Saints in making pleasure the pursuit of life, instead of a seasoning, as if their existence here were a huge joke. And in closing, he exhorted all to solemnify their thoughts, and to prepare themselves for the times which had been predicted, and for participancy in the great blessings to be enjoyed, when the millenial reign of Christ should commence and the earth should rest a thousand years.

It was announced that the next lecture would be delivered four weeks from last evening.

It is expected that Elder Arthur Stayner will be the speaker, and the subject of "An Hour With the Prophets."

Chaplain Hammond.

The Fort Davis (Texas) News of the 6th inst. says:

Chaplain B. C. Hammond is relieved from the department of Texas and ordered to report for duty at Fort Douglas, Utah. This change is made at the chaplain's request, and is one with which he is much pleased. He will leave soon. Mr. Hammond is stationed at this post about three years, and has made himself during that time many true friends among our citizens, who will deeply regret his departure.
