PRICE OF GOLD.

Reviewed Daily by SAKE OF DESERET.
SALT LAKE CITY, September 12, 1871.
Buying at $1.10; Selling at $1.13.

WEATHER TEMP.—The highest point reached by the thermometer to-day was 78.

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

GOING TO ENGLAND.—Elders George W. Thatcher and George F. Gibbs leave for England to-morrow morning, having been called to go on missions to that country.

THE SALESMAN, the literary periodical regular, for September, of Lilliorth, Kellog & Co., hardware importers and jobbers, San Francisco, has come to hand.

DOCTORS DISAGREE.—A leading Philadelphia doctor declares that close observation during several years in a large practice has led him to believe that there is no other disease so fatal to life, in cases where children are convalescing from diarrhœa or cholera infantum, as eating blackberries. The Philadelphia doctor may be right, but we know that blackberry root decoction will sometimes check diarrhœa. However, blackberries are scarcely as plentiful as petfogging politicians hereabout.

MT. GEORGE.—A correspondent, writing from that place, Sept. 4th, says: "The nearest Telegraph extension from this point to Pioche is nearly completed. It will be ready for the wires this week.

President Snow's health continues to improve. He and Bro. Joseph W. Young started yesterday afternoon to visit some of the settlements east of this city.

It was reported by some of the friendly Indians, that an Indian named "Shave Head" and his brother had been stealing for upwards of twelve months, horses and mules and stock belonging to the "Mormons" and disposing of them to miners and others passing from Pioche to Arizona. Shave Head refused to come in with the other Indians, when requested to do so, which circumstance gives coloring to the reports.

The health of the people is still good, and the weather hot and dry, which is making the grapes ripen very fast.

A FEW.—This morning Patsey Marley and W. Baker were brought before Alderman Clinton, the first for striking Mr. Baker over the head, and otherwise maltreating him, and the latter on a charge of drawing a pistol and threatening to shoot Patsey. The affair occurred at about ten o'clock last night, in the lager beer saloon under Southworth's hotel, on First South street. Marley plead guilty to the charge preferred against him, Baker pleading not guilty. Several witnesses were examined, each of whom gave the following version of the affair: A man, named Thompson, who was in the saloon at the time, asked Baker to drink, and Marley came in at the time he was asked to drink also and, in his acceptance of the offer, Baker turned away and said, "Then I won't drink." Marley apparently took this as a personal insult, for he immediately struck Baker with a tumbler, when the two clinched and rolled over several times on the floor. Some bystanders interfered and separated the belligerents, before which Marley shouted, "Don't let him shoot me," according to the testimony, however, no pistol was drawn. Baker was discharged and Marley was fined $25. Baker's face was much swollen and bruised, his right eye being almost entirely closed up.

Patsey Marley is a curious study and no one who has the least ability to judge of human character from outward appearances would be apt to mistake him for a gentleman. His name figured conspicuously in some of the many shooting and fighting scrapes that occurred during the building of the railroad, and he has been in several little affairs of the kind since making his advent in this Territory. His personal appearance would delight the lovers of the sports of the prize ring. We understand that prize fighting was at one time his vocation. He is of medium height, thick set; being broad shouldered. He has a thick short neck and a large round bull head; his hair is very light in color, his forehead is low, bulging considerably over the eyes. His nose is large and heavy, impressing one with the idea that if a person were to strike it with his fist, the fist would get the worst of it. The mouth is rather capacious, and when the animal laughs the breath can be seen as it is emitted like puffs of steam. The under jaw, as in nearly all men of his class, is large and powerful looking. Combine those peculiarities with a somewhat expressionless eye and the picture is complete.

Patsey is said to have his good points, however, having been known to act with unusual generosity towards persons in need of assistance. It is not at all unlikely that his career may, like most men of his stamp, be brought, sooner or later, to a summary termination, for he is in the habit of letting loose his passions and attacking persons on the slightest real or fancied provocation.

CLEARING IT AWAY.—The material of the old meat market building has been sold to a gentleman who designs using it as a livery stable, and the work of taking to pieces and removing it is going on briskly to-day. The removal of the unsightly looking structure will enhance the appearance of the site and its vicinity.

THE "MAIL BAG," No. 3.—The August Number of Vol. 1 of the California "Mail Bag," published by F. Marriott, 623 Montgomery St., San Francisco, was received this morning, and a beautiful and interesting volume it is. It contains a vast compendium of news, on almost every subject pertaining to the Golden State, besides much other entertaining reading, including biographical sketches of Messrs. Leland Stanford, Ben Holladay and C. P. Huntington, with excellently executed portraits on steel. The volume is a perfect cyclopedia of California information. It is well printed on excellent paper, and should be in the hands of all interested in Pacific Coast matters.

ROCKY MOUNTAIN ITEMS.

The Gold Hill News of the 8th instant, says that on the afternoon of the 7th inst., William Livingston, Justice of the Peace of the 3rd and 4th Wards of Virginia city, committed suicide by taking laudanum. Financial embarrassment is assigned as the cause. Mr. L. was a Stockholder.

The Central, Cal., Register says that on Wednesday afternoon last as a Mr. Wm. Atkinson was cleaning out an old shaft about thirty-five feet deep, dug years ago and designed for a well, he discovered that the ground about him was about to cave. He was sitting at the time, and before he could get up and out of the way, it began to sink. He seized the windlass and commenced climbing, at the same time calling out to his son who stood at the crank above, to hoist. He had climbed and been drawn about twenty feet, when the ground above and below fell in, filling up the shaft to the point he had reached, and closing in all around him, stopping further efforts at escape. The son gave the alarm in the neighborhood, and a number of people went to his assistance. In a short time they succeeded in uncovering his head, but were two hours and a half in exhuming his body.

Mr. Atkinson was badly bruised, but sustained no vital or very serious injury.

The Denver Tribune of last Saturday says that a young man named Winter was alighting from a coach at Sargent's Hotel, his foot slipped, and a pistol he had in his hand caught the iron step of the coach, and discharged, lodging a ball and causing a serious and dangerous wound in his knee.

The Helena, Mt., Gazette of the 7th inst., says that on the day previous a Mr. Thomas Carr, working on the reservoir of the Park Lake ditch, met with a very and accident which disables him for life. He had fired a charge with which he was trying to blast a boulder. It failed to explode, when Carr blew the fuse, and had commenced to draw the charge, when it went off, taking off the thumb and fingers of the left hand and shattering the hand so badly that it had to be amputated.

The old man who cradles twelve acres of wheat in one day, has turned up in Missouri.

NEW REFORM.—The introduction of Soda Water and Sarsaparilla, by Day & Co., has done more in the way of a Temperance Reform than all the lectures that have been delivered in the country. The natural condition of man is a thirsty one, and it has long been an established fact that water will not quench thirst. The question then arises, can we find a substitute as harmless in its effects, and more delicious in taste than anything yet discovered? We find it in Day & Co.'s Soda and Sarsaparilla. If every one would sign the Pledge and drink nothing but this Celebrated Beverage, much degradation, misery, shame and crime would be prevented in the world. If any one doubts the truth of our remarks let them step into the first place they come to and try it. It will vouch for itself. em(170)tf
