FAMOUS LIBEL CASE IN GERMANY

Gen. Count Kuno von Moltke Sues Maximilian Harden, Editor Of Die Zukunft.

AROUSES GREAT INTEREST.

Plaintiff's Divorced Wife Testifies to Gross Epithets Ex-Husband Applied to Married Life.

Berlin, Oct. 23.—The libel action brought by Gen. Count Kuno von Moltke against Maximilian Harden, editor of Die Zukunft, a free-lance polemical weekly, and longe an organ of extreme radical opinions, began here today before Justice Kern. The public awaited the trial with extraordinary interest, because it was believed by many that many secrets of the imperial court would be drawn from the distinguished persons summoned to the trial, some of whom are members of the imperial entourage. Von Moltke is an intimate friend of Prince Philip zu Eulenberg, the ex-German ambassador to Vienna, and a kinsman of the present chief of the general staff, Count von Moltke, and of the governor of the palaces of East Prussia, Fredrick von Moltke. These three Von Moltkes are nephews of the late great Field Marshal von Moltke.

Harden began last November to assert that Count zu Eulenberg was the head of a group that sought to influence the emperor's political action by subtle, indirect suggestions. Count zu Eulenberg, Count Kuno von Moltke, and Lieut.-Gen., Count William von Hohenau, one of the emperor's adjutants, were mentioned by Harden as members of the so-called camarilla or "round table," and he further alleged that they were spiritualists and of abnormal temperament and habits. According to report, the crown prince, Fredrick William, made an inquiry into the charges in May, and went to his father with the result of his investigations, which caused Count zu Eulenberg, Count von Moltke and Lieut-Gen. Hohenau to resign.

THOUSANDS SEEK ADMISSION.

Few of the 10,000 applicants for cards of admission to the courtroom where able to get them, and those largely were lawyers, witnesses and reporters. After the clerk of the court had read all of Herr Harden's articles on the subject, the defendant arose and said:

"I have followed political affairs alone in my articles, and in so doing have been compelled to mention Count von Moltke's name. I did not say he had practised disgraceful vices, but said that he was abnormal in temperament."

Harden said he had never written a word more than was necessary.

Count von Moltke said that such a circle as the "round table," which, as the defendant alleged, had sought to influence Emperor William's political actions, often in a sense contrary to the views of his constitutional advisers, had never existed, and could not exist in the entourage of the emperor. The count added that his old friendship with Prince zu Eulenberg was wholly without ulterior significance.

Herr Harden's counsel, Herr Bernstern, asked Von Moltke if he had not heard disgraceful reports about M. Lecomte, the first secretary of the French embassy, who was transferred in June, and the plaintiff added:

"I did hear them, but I did not believe them. I met M. Lecomte many years ago, at Starnburger in watering place in upper Bavaria and I saw him once or twice with Prince zu Eulenberg."

Herr Harden asked the plaintiff about the cause of his divorce from his wife, Frau von Elba, and said he had heard things about the plaintiff five years ago which, if he had told of them, would have caused the count's uniform to be torn from him, but he had kept silent. Continuing, Herr Harden declined to withdraw anything he had written, but admitted frankly that he had twice been imprisoned for insults to the sovereign, each time for six months, and that he also had been fined several times for the same offense.

A HANDKERCHIEF INCIDENT.

At the afternoon session of the court, Harden said he did not accuse Von Moltke of criminal acts, but he regarded his friendship with Prince zu Eulenberg as erotic in character, for the plaintiff, he said, had pressed the prince's handkerchief to his lips and cried "Phyl, my Phyl," and in writing him twice had made use of the words, "my soul."

Frau Elba, the divorced wife of Count von Moltke, testified to the gross epithets that her former husband had applied to married life. She then described the handkerchief incident, which she said she saw from an adjacent room. She declared that Prince zu Eulenberg at once knelt to her, begging her to give up her husband. Referring to the divorce Frau von Elba said she had asked Von Moltke:

"What will his majesty say to our divorce?"

To this Von Moltke replied: "His majesty only heart what I allow him to know."

These words created a great sensation in the courtroom.

Continuing, the witness testified that Von Moltke had once written a letter to her mother in which he said they had formed a circle about the emperor which nobody was able to break through.

Answering a question from Harden, Frau von Elba said Von Moltke had once told her that he often had to make a daily report to Prince zu Eulenberg of the happenings at court.

The handkerchief incident was confirmed by Lieut. von Kruz, Frau von Elba's son by a previous marriage.

The Best Doctor.

Rev. R. C. Horton, Sulphur Springs, Tex., writes, July 18th, 1902: "I have used in my family Ballard's Snow Liniment and Horehound Syrup, and they have proved certainly satisfactory. The liniment is the best we have ever used for headache and pains. The cough syrup has been our doctor for the last eight years." Sold by Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept., 112 and 114 South Main Street. B

WOMAN'S BODY FOUND.

Was Floating in East River and May Be That of Mrs. Hartridge.

New York, Oct. 23.—The body of a woman of refined appearance found yesterday floating in the East river answers in most particulars the description of Mrs. Clifford W. Hartridge, the missing wife of Harry K. Thaw's counsel and friend.

Mrs. Leslie W. Russell, the missing woman's mother, said last night, at her home, that she was impressed with the similarity of the description of the body in the Fordham morgue with that of her daughter. The only difference seems to be that when she went away Mrs. Hartridge wore a black skirt, while the skirt of the woman found in the river is a very dark gray. The wife of the lawyer could be positively identified by a mole behind her right ear, but there is an abrasion behind the right ear of the body which might have easily removed such a mark.

The woman's nails were manicured and she bore every evidence of having come from good surroundings.

Coroner Schwanneck said that the body might prove to be Mrs. Hartridge. She has been missing 19 days. Mrs. Russell said last night that Mr. Hartridge was under care of a physician and that it would be impossible for him to endeavor to make an identification.

His throat was slashed in five places and there were half a dozen ugly stabs in his chest, while his head was badly bruised as if with a blunt instrument. The identity of the murderer is not known, nor is there any trace.

Oram was married, his wife being a resident of the east.

BUTTE STATE BANK.

Two Applications Made for Appointment of Receiver for It.

Helena, Mont., Oct. 23.—The Associated Press tonight received a long-distance telephone message from Butte to the effect that two applications were made in court today for the appointment of receivers for the State Savings bank, which closed its doors last week immediately after the slump in copper in the New York market. It is said that an examination of the affairs of the bank has resulted in the discovery that some heavy loans were made to former friends of F. Augustus Heinze, and that the security in some cases is not considered adequate.

State Bank Examiner Collins gave out a reassuring statement late today, which intimates that a movement is no foot looking to the reopening of the bank. Prominent Butte financiers are tonight making an effort to have the applications for receivers withdrawn. They believe that with a little time and patience the bank will be able to pay all depositors dollar for dollar.

EMPRESS OF CHINA.

Canadian Pacific Railroad's Crack Steamer Sunk.

Portland, Or., Oct. 23.—A special to the Oregonian from Vancouver, B. C., says:

The Canadian Pacific Railway company's crack oriental liner, Empress of China, sank this evening alongside her dock in this port. Her seacocks must have been opened, but how, no one seems able to explain.

The steamer is valued approximately at a million dollars. She was booked to sail next Thursday for the orient, and would have carried the British mails for Hongkong, for which the line receives a large subsidy from the imperial government.

At 9 o'clock a diver was sent down to locate the open seacock. City fire engines are at the wharf to assist in keeping her clear of water, but whether she can be righted on an even keel is the question that is agitating the officials of the company.

WM. LEPPER OF LARAMIE MURDERS JUDGE BRAMELL

Laramie, Wyo., Oct. 23.—William Lepper, an old citizen of this city, shot Judge Charles W. Bramell three times through the head this afternoon in the latter's office. He then entered an adjoining room and sent a bullet through his own brain, dying without regaining consciousness.

Judge Bramell had three bullets completely through the head, entering near together in the left cheek and coming out of the side of the head. He was still alive when officers and physicians reached him, but died in a few minutes.

Lepper was one of the litigants in the famous suit of Julius Conrad against Lepper, which has been in the supreme court for several years. It originated in California in a transaction about some mining shares and when it was finally decided Lepper made threats to kill Judge Groesbeck of the state supreme court, Judge Carpenter of the district court, Judge Bramell, an attorney in the case and Carlett Downey, attorney for Conrad.

This afternoon he went to Bramell's office armed with a revolver and without a word of warning opened fire.

Bramell was once judge of the district court here, and later had been practicing law. He was one of the prominent citizens of the city.

TIREY L. FORD'S TRIAL.

San Francisco, Oct. 23.—Two of the prosecution's most important witnesses, former Supervisor Jennings J. Phillips and James L. Gallagher, occupied the stand today in the bribery trial of General Counsel Tirey L. Ford of the United railroads. Under direct examination by Asst. Dist.-Atty. Francis J. Heney, they retold, with no great variation from their recital in the first trial of California's former attorney-general, the story of bribes received and supervisorial services accordingly performed.

The cross examination of each by Earl Rogers for the defense, was severe. He drew from Gallagher an admission which Ford's lawyers consider very important, that no money was passed to the supervisors until the month of August, or approximately two months after the final passage of the trolley franchise. Gallagher also testified that there was a great public demand for the electrification of the destroyed cable system of street cars, and that the supervisors would have granted the franchise without bribes.

The cross-examination of Gallagher will be resumed tomorrow morning.

NEVADA STATE BANK AND TRUST CO. FAILS

Difficulty Due to Inability to Realize on Security Pledged by Sullivan Trust Co.

DEPOSITORS LOSE NOTHING.

Statement Issued Assigns Labor Troubles as Cause—Goldfield Branch Closes Doors.

Reno, Nev. Oct. 23.—The State Bank and Trust company, with headquarters at Carson and branches at Goldfield, Tonopah, Manhattan and Blair, closed its doors this morning at 9:15 o'clock. The state bank examiner is in charge. The difficulty is due to inability to realize on stocks placed as security for a $400,000 loan made by the Sullivan Trust company last year. T. B. Rickey, president of the bank, is one of the wealthiest men in the state, and the bank assets are thought to exceed the liabilities. No fear is entertained that depositors will lose a cent.

Following the announcement that the State Bank and Trust company had temporarily suspended, the Nye and Ormsby county bank, Frank Golden president, with branches at Carson, Tonopah, Goldfield, Manhattan and Reno, put out a sign stating that the bank would be closed for three days in order to have sufficient coin shipped in to prepare for any run. There is no excitement, and the feeling prevails that there will be no failures.

A statement issued by the State Bank and Trust company this afternoon assigns labor troubles and a drain on deposits in the south as the reason for the suspension. It claims that depositors will be paid dollar for dollar. A general feeling of confidence exists here. The deposits in banks today greatly exceeded the withdrawals. Prominent local financiers, including Senator Nixon, anticipate no serious trouble. A dispatch from Goldfield states that conditions there are normal.

GOLDFIELD BRANCH CLOSED.

Goldfield, Nev., Oct. 23.—The State Bank and Trust company closed its doors at 11 a. m. today. A notice posted on the door says that the suspension is on instructions from the home bank of Carson City, and is due to the heavy drain on deposits during the last few months, following the labor troubles and the inability to make collections. The notice further says that the resources are ample to pay all depositors in full. It is generally believed that the suspension of the Goldfield institutions was due wholly to the difficulty that beet its sister banks in other cities controlled by T. R. Rickey, who is the head of the reorganized Sullivan Trust company.

GOLDFIELD STOCKS AFFECTED.

San Francisco, Oct. 23.—The news of the failure of two Carson City banks caused a strong selling movement in the local stock mining exchange today and all the Goldfield leaders sustained losses. Nearly 30,000 shares of Goldfield Consolidated were sold and the price dropped to $4.70, a decline of 17 points. Florence lost 20 points and others were lower by 2 to 10 cents per share. Eagle's Nest, of Fairview, was unloaded freely because it was a Sullivan issue, backed by Banker Mackey, whose bank had closed. Tonopah stocks also suffered. The Manhattans were the only steady shares. At the curb trading late in the day, the market approached demoralization with free offering of stocks and no buying.

NO BANK EXAMINER.

Carson City, Nev., Oct. 23.—The fact came to light this afternoon that Jack Marshall, a bank examiner of the state of Nevada, had tendered his resignation to the board several days ago, that it had been accepted and that Maj. Miller, a well known resident of Elko county, had been appointed to succeed him in this office. Up to the present time, Miller has not qualified for his office, and consequently the state at the present time is without a bank examiner. President Frank Golden of the Nye & Ormsby company bank issued a statement this afternoon that the Nye & Ormsby company bank was in a solvent condition. The Reno bank and other branches, situated in Carson City and the southern mining camps, will probably remain closed for several days. Enough coin to pay all depositors in full the branches has been wired for at San Francisco and will arrive in this city tomorrow morning. This will be distributed among the different branches of the institution and then the banks will be shrown open to business with their vaults containing all necessary money.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 23.—With a delegation headed by Dick Ryan, the Seward peninsula will go to the Republican convention for the territory of Alaska instructed for territorial form of government, and will demand the immediate removal of Gov. Hoggatt. Ryan, Harry Stiele and some others of the delegation are in this city today. Judge Wickersham has been mentioned as a candidate for the Republican nomination as delegate, and some of his friends have declared that his resignation from the judgship was partially due to his intention to make this race.

No matter what action the coming Juneau convention may take, the election in Alaska will be based on the question of territorial government.

LAKE MOHANK CONFERENCE.

Lake Mohonk, N. Y., Oct. 23.—The Lake Mohonk conference, which meets yearly to discuss questions regarding dependent peoples, opened today with many prominent persons present as delegates.

Albert K. Smiley, in discussing the work of the conference, said the chief question to be discussed was as to whether the United States should retain possession of the Philippines.

Andrew S. Draper, commissioner of education of the state of New York was introduced as presiding officer.

Frances E. Lupp, United States commissioner of Indian affairs, spoke briefly on the work of the Indian bureau. Representative James S. Sherman, of Utica, N. Y., spoke in approval of the policy of the government in forcing the Indians to work as white men do.

SALVADORAN TROOPS SEARCH CITY OF SYDNEY.

San Francisco, Oct. 23.—Capt. Kidstons, of the Pacific Mail liner City of Sydney, which arrived here today from the southern coast, reports that on the night of Oct. 2, while lying in the harbor of Acajutla, the steamer was searched by Salvadoran troops, who suspected that John Moissante, a rebel doctor was on board. Soon after the vessel anchored about a mile from the cruiser Chicago, a boat-load of soldiers came on board, and after stating that they had information to the effect that the revolutionist wanted had taken passage on the vessel in Nicaragua, made a thorough but unsuccessful search for him. An hour later, another force made a similar search. Later in the night, a third boat approached the steamer, but its occupants were not allowed on board. Moissante is accused of having seized and looted the town of Sensonatte, last spring.

S.S.S. CURES CHRONIC ULCERS

Whenever a sore or ulcer refuses to heal it is because the blood is infected with poisonous germs or some old blood taint which corrupts and pollutes the circulation. Nothing is more trying than a non-healing, chronic old ulcer. The very fact that it resists all external applications, and ordinary treatments, is good reason for alarm, for the same germ which produces cancerous ulcers is back of every old sore, and especially is this true if the trouble be from any inherited taint. Surface treatment cannot reach the trouble—the blood is at fault and must be purified before a cure can be hoped for. In S. S. S. will be found a remedy for sores and ulcers of every kind. It is a perfect blood purifier—one that goes directly into the circulation and promptly cleanses it of all impurities, poisons and taints. The ulcer can never heal while the blood discharges into it the noxious matter with which it is infected, but when S. S. S. has rid the blood of this cause and freshened and built up the circulation the sore will heal naturally, and of its own accord. S. S. S. begins at the bottom and heals the place as it should be healed and makes a permanent and lasting cure. Book on Sores and Ulcers and any special medical advice desired will be sent free to all who write.
