NEGRO RAPIST BURNED ALIVE.

He Attempted an Assault on a White Woman.

DISCUSS MANNER OF DEATH.

Mob First Intended to Hang Him, but Decided in Favor of Flames—Husband Lights the Fire.

Wetumpka, Ala. Oct. 2.—Winfield Townsend alias Floyd, a negro, was burned at the stake in the little town of Electric, fifteen miles from this place, a half hour after midnight this morning. The negro's crime was an attempted assault on Mrs. Lonnei Harrington, whose husband set fire to the fuel which reduced Townsend's body to ashes.

Yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock the negro, who was a nephew of Alexander Floyd, a negro hanged a week ago for an attempted assault, tried to assault Mrs. Harrington.

Mr. Harrington was at a cotton gin in Electric. His home is one mile out of town. The negro came to the house and told Mrs. Harrington that her husband had sent him to get 20 cents from her. She told him she had no change. Then the man left, but returned in about ten minutes.

The woman's screams were heard by Bob Nichols, a negro, who was passing along the road at the time. He ran to the house in time to see the negro escape.

As soon as Mrs. Harrington was restored to consciousness Nichols gave the alarm. The news spread rapidly. All the stores at Electric were instantly closed, the ginneries and saw mills shut down; the people left their wagons in the road and their plows in the field and gathered for a pursuit of the negro.

The crowd divided, some scouring the woods near the scene of the crime and others going to the penitentiary for bloodhounds. The dogs were taken to where the culprit's tracks disappeared and an exciting chase ensued.

The dogs stopped finally at a tree in front of Odlon's store on the north outskirts of Electric. The crowd coming up soon discovered the negro sitting on a limb. He was brought down at once and taken to the scene of his crime.

There he was confronted by his victim, who identified him.

Word was sent to the other searching parties that the negro had been found and about 11 o'clock a crowd of several hundred was in the little village.

The negro was taken to the edge of the village and preparations for his death were quickly made. A rope was flung over the limb of a big oak and 100 men stood ready to swing him up.

Then a halt was called and the manner of death was discussed by the mob. A vote was taken and the balloting showed a majority of the crowd to favor death at the stake. The stake was prepared and the negro was bound to it with chains. Pine knots were piled about him and the flames were started by the husband of his victim.

As they leaped to the negro's flesh he uttered wild cries to God for mercy and help.

The crowd looked on, deaf to his cries, and in an hour the man was reduced to ashes.

Townsend, before being bound, confessed the crime and said he was also implicated with Alexander Floyd, who was hanged two weeks ago for an attempted assault on Miss Kate Pearson. He said he and Floyd had planned other crimes of like character.

INDEPENDENT DEMOCRATS.

Daly Men Meet, Adopt a Platform and Name a Ticket.

Butte, Mont., Oct. 2.—Nineteen of the twenty-four counties of Montana were represented in the Independent Democratic State convention, which met here today. The convention was the outgrowth of the bolt at Helena during the Democratic convention in which the Clark people secured control. Governor Robert B. Smith was both temporary and permanent chairman. His remarks were devoted to the national issues dividing the two parties and to attacking Senator Clark.

The platform affirms the principles and policies promulgated at Kansas City and pledged support to Bryan and Stevenson. Upon local issues the present State administration is indorsed except the lieutenant governor, who is denounced for appointing a United States senator during the governor's absence from the State. Congressman Campbell was also indorsed for the part he took in the fight against the seating of Senator Clark.

When nominations were reached the presidential electors named by the Democratic convention were indorsed, Thomas S. Hogen, Populist, and secretary of State was unanimously nominated for governor. Hogan was a candidate for the fusion Democratic-Populist-Labor nomination at the Helena convention. C. F. Kelly was named for Congress.

Tonight the ticket was completed as follows: Lieutenant governor, Joseph E. Merrian, Missoula; secretary of State, George M. Hayes, Yellow Stone; associate justice, Robert Lee Word, Helena; treasurer, Alexander Livingston, Park; auditor, E. G. McLain, Carbon; attorney general, W. R. C. Stewart, Gallatin; superintendent of public inseruction, P. A. Leamy, Butte.

Republicans Make Claims.

New York, Oct. 2.—In a statement issued from Republican headquarters, the committee claims 226 votes from the electoral college for McKinley, 112 for Bryan and 54 doubtful. The States conceded to Bryan are, Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, the Carolinas, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia. In the doubtful column are put Colorado, Idaho, Kentucky, Missouri, Montana, Nevada, Nebraska and Utah. Everything else is put down for McKinley but Indiana, which, with its fifteen votes, is admitted to be doubtful.

When shown this Republican claim, Congressman Richardson, for the Democrats, characterized it as only "so much boasting." He added that the Democrats had a poll which was very different from the Republican one, but that it would not be made public.

TO ASSASSINATE THE PRESIDENT

Detectives at Canton Say Men Are Seeking His Death.

Chicago, Oct. 3.—A special to the Record from Canton, Ohio, says:

Information was made public last night that another plot had been discovered to assassinate President McKinley.

Detectives connected with the safeguarding of the President say that there are three men either here, or on their way, to kill the President. Extra policemen have been detailed to enforce an order issued by Mayor Robertson, ex-officio chief of police, which notifies all policemen to keep close watch on all strangers in the city, and to be particular to watch for two Italians, who will probably be accompanied by an old man.

Mayor Robertson, in speaking about the matter said:

"The word first came to the secret service department at Chicago. An anonymous letter was received by the United States secret service authorities there stating that the three men for whose apprehension we were on the look out were expected to arrive in Canton during during the day. Thus far they have not come, but we are keeping a close watch for them."

ROOSEVELT IN NEBRASKA.

Republican Vice Presidential Candidate in Mr. Bryan's Home.

Lincoln Put on a Holiday Attire—Much Enthusiasm—Almost Mobbed by Eager Handshakers.

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 2.—For some days preparations have been made for a monster demonstration in honor of Gov. Roosevelt, the Republican candidate for Vice President, at this place, the home of Mr. Bryan and the capital of the State.

The census just taken gives Lincoln's population at 40,000. From the appearance of the crowd at the station and along the streets and in the windows, on the balconies and in the capitol houseyard, it would seem that the population was all at home today; that they had invited their neighbors from all the surrounding country, and that they had all turned out to join in the demonstration.

Nothing equal to it has yet been seen during the progress of his journey, which has now extended some 9,000 miles and covered a period of thirty days. The line of march of the carriages from the station to Capitol square, something over a mile and a half, was lined with people everywhere, and the wide streets were filled almost the entire distance, to such an extent that in many places it stopped the passage of the carriages and the mounted escort.

Arriving at the square, the governor was conducted to a reviewing stand on the street, and a grand procession passed in review, taking more than an hour. There were unique and amusing features in this parade. One was the number of women on foot that took part in it.

First came about forty young ladies of the city in uniform of blue, occupying a place in the column of march. At long intervals came two other troops of ladies in uniform. The Ida McKinley club, numbering about fifty women, wore an outer garment of stars and stripes, the stripes forming the skirt of the dress and the blue background, and the stars forming a shirt waist. Some of the banners displayed were amusing and others were significant.

One marching column bore this banner: "Third Nebraska: Oh, Billy, why did you leave us?"

The Union Veterans' Republican league of some 150 members was carrying a horse shoe for luck. They had a banner bearing this inscription: "We helped Abraham Lincoln in 1860. We are helping McKinley now." Another banner read, "Four generations for McKinley and Roosevelt, father, son, grandson and great-grandson."

Another read, "For sale—one enlarged porch—W. J. B."

A German club passed bearing aloft a full dinner pail with bread and sausage.

The Lincoln traveling men, 300 strong, bore this banner: "Vim, vigor and victory."

Another: "Eight more years of the full dinner pail; four for McKinley and then four for Teddy."

One of the amusing features was a double-headed calf, the skin stuffed with the tail on the head, with this motto: "The result of fusion—it died."

After the procession had passed in review, Gov. Roosevelt was conducted to a speakers' stand, where he addressed as many of the crowd around the stand as his strong voice could reach. Fewer of those present heard his speech than of those who did not hear it. He needed a megaphone to address all who were there. He spoke for three-quarters of an hour, going over the same ground in his remarks that he had traveled over before, upon the issues of expansion, militarism, imperialism and patriotism. His remarks were punctuated by frequent cheers.

At the conclusion of his speech, on his way from the stand to his carriage, he was fairly mobbed by a wildly eager crowd who wished to shake his hand or to get a word or look of recognition. He reached his carriage somewhat battered in appearance but in fine spirits on account of the extent and the fervidness of the reception.
