The Creamery at Brighton, Colo., Totally Destroyed by Fire.

SALE OF SCHOOL LAND 1078.

A Section Foreman Accidentally Killed.

—Arrest for Cattle Stealing.—Conviction for Murder.

John E. Howard, convicted of murdering Samuel de La Nipi at Telluride, Col., has been sentenced at Wauhta to hang on November 15th at Pulsom prison.

A quarrel in a saloon in Rieron, Col., late Saturday evening resulted shortly afterward in Henry Mazes, the keeper of the place, emptying the contents of a shotgun into Alberto Ortega, a native of Mexico. Ortega lingered in great agony till next morning, when he expired.

The creamery at Brighton, Col., was totally destroyed by fire between three and four o'clock on Tuesday morning. The fire is supposed to have started in the engine room. The loss is about $15,000; insured for $2,500. It is not known at present if the building will be rebuilt or not.

Mrs. Jane Shattuck, the sister of Harry Poole, has not yet been taken to San Quentin to serve out her term of imprisonment. Hopes of a pardon have been granted, and she hopes for one. The last order made by Judge Belcher yesterday permits her to remain at the county jail until September 1st.

Section Foreman Finnegan was instantly killed on the Rio Grande between Kelker and Widefield, Colorado, five miles south of Colorado Springs, on Tuesday morning. Rock Island passenger train No. 16 ran into the hand car, killing Finnegan, who was 40 years of age. He leaves a wife and family at Pueblo.

The sale of school land lots at Creede, Col., on Monday, passed off quietly, there being no disposition on the part of anyone to bid over the minimum appraisements. The prior owners, as a rule, did in the lots at the appraised valuation and everyone seemed to be satisfied with the result. Over $900 was realized.

A dispatch from Douglas, Wyoming, says: Charles Eberhardt and Louis Bergreen, two ranchmen residing north of the town of Lusk, have been arrested and are now in the county jail awaiting trial on the charge of cattle stealing. It is alleged that Eberhardt stole twenty head of calves and Bergreen two head.

In the Mexican Central railway yards in Ciudad Juarez, Mexico, there were on Monday night more than 500 cars of silver lead ores waiting for the new tariff bill to go into effect before transferring to the United States. Many Mexican silver mines running a high per cent. in lead which closed down on account of the Windsor ruling will now be opened up again and it is thought another smelter will be erected here at an early date.

Thomas J. Welsh, a locomotive fireman out of work and a stranger at Pueblo, Col., was found dead on Tuesday at that place, sitting bolt upright in an unused stockyard west of the Rio Grande freight depot. The body had evidently been there forty-eight hours. Papers in his pockets showed him to be a member in good standing of Cloud City lodge No. 196, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen at Leadville. Death was evidently from natural causes.

A telegram from Atlantic, Wyoming, says: The Revere and Northern Bluff mines have turned out to be tin properties. What the owners took to be silver proved to be tin. The local assayer, L. S. Beardsley, made tests from samples taken from the outcrop, which gave returns of 5 per cent and 6½ per cent tin. This lode is over sixty feet wide and shows a strong outcrop for over 6,000 feet. Boise and Wygant, the fortunate owners, are well satisfied that they have a big thing.

Sport must be good and chickens plentiful in the state, if the following from the Cheyenne (Wyo.) Tribune is true: Yesterday as Engineer Harvey Chaplin was gaining ahead of his engine, about 150 miles north of here, on the return trip from Orin to Cheyenne, he observed a large flock of chickens fly up from the brush along the track directly in front of the train. One big fat hen struck the headlight of the engine with terrible force, smashing the glass and cutting her own throat on the fragments. She fell in the ground sans stepping the train, Harvey picked up the self-executed fowl and brought her to town.

About early hour on Monday morning an officer walked into the police station at Los Angeles, Cal., in charge of a youthful-appearing Mexican, whom he asked to have looked for surgery. The Mexican was bleeding from a wound over the left eye, and the officer said that the hole in the Mexican's head was caused by a bullet which the prisoner had received while endeavoring to force an entrance into a house on South Main street. He had been shot by a plucky servant girl whose name is Anna Cull. The Mexican gave the name of "Jesus Ladesma," but beyond vouchsafing this information he refused to talk. It is now learned that instead of the burglar he was supposed to be the fellow is a shyster lawyer who has a record that is unenviable, to say the least. It appears that he had been for some time past endeavoring to force his attentions upon the girl, but that she had repulsed him and would have nothing to do with him. Whether murder or assault was his purpose in seeking an entrance to her room is not known. The fellow is said to be known in San Francisco and Oakland, where he was brought to the attention of the police for persecuting helpless women.
