During the call on the exchange this morning Frederick H. Dyer referred to parties who have been trying to work up an extension to one of the Salt Lake stocks, and said that they knew nothing about it. He added that the Salt Lake exchange is perfectly able to take care of itself and needs no one to do so, and he had received some vigorous copy of disproval from the exchange in the east.

Feature Stocks in Black Diamonds.

Washington, July 14.—Further evidence of the value of 1899 has been found in the United States in 1899, as compared with 1898, is furnished by Joseph P. Kinney, the agent for the geological survey, in charge of the collection of data relative to the production of coal. Mr. Kinney has just completed his statistics, and states that the output of coal for the calendar year of 1898 was 178,000,000 tons, or 10,000,000 tons more than the previous year, and 30,000,000 tons more than the year 1897. The increase in the output during the last year is largely due to the Spanish war, and the discovery of a new locality in which to find coal, and also to some other causes, not easily understood by a person not familiar with the business. The increased output of the New Mexico, Oregon, Idaho and Montana mines, in the Rocky Mountains, the finding of unexplored fields and other improvements at Cape Nome, Alaska, and the opening of the Klondike region, in the province of the Dominion land, the great importation of coal Wellington and the Australian coal, the great importation of coal Nanaimo and the Australian coal
