NEWS OF THE WEST.

Brave Katie V. O'Connell Rescues a Baby from Drowning.

A FATHER SEES HIS SON PERISH.

Clinkes Thief's Lock—Brutal Stepfather Who Beats His Children and Then Prays—Killed With Green Fruit.

The Utah Sugar company paid out $3,000 to its employes on Wednesday, July 12.

At Carson, Nevada, on Wednesday, the three-year-old child of Larry Keefe, of Empire, died after eating green fruit. It lived only a few hours.

Ben. F. Carter, the seven-year-old son of Charles G. Carter, was accidentally drowned Monday evening in the slough near his home at Petaluma, Cal. The father arrived at the scene of the accident just in time to see his son go down the last time.

The city council of Everett, Wash., dismissed the entire police force, of five men, on July 1st. Councilman Geiger, who introduced the resolution, said the officers, by their activity in support of the A. P. A. ticket at the school school election, had earned a summer's outing.

Fillmore Progress: Mrs. Geo. Greenway's little boy had quite a serious accident last week. In some way he got his finger mixed up with a hay pulley, which scraped the flesh almost entirely off. It was thought at first that the finger would have to be amputated, but we are glad to state that it was not that serious.

At Bodie, Cala., July 10, George Maurice fought a duel with his stepfather, A. Mathewson, on the main street. Eight shots were exchanged. Neither of the participants were injured, although they succeeded in shooting Mrs. Vierra, the wife of a business man, in the hip. Both were promptly arrested.

At Fall Creek pestoffice, Oregon, July 10, Miss Anna Vaughn was shot and probably fatally wounded by her brother Robert. The girl is twelve years old and the boy is two years her senior. The shot entered the right side of the girl's head. The boy says the shooting was accidental, but the neighbors doubt this, as they say he has a most vicious disposition.

Nowhere in the West needs a paid material more than does Prior, Carbon county, says the Advocate, of that place. All day long on the Fourth the town was surrounded by a drunken, howling, blaspheming, fighting mob, that would be a disgrace to any town on earth. This kind of business will go on until Prior has a first-class killing, with trimmings up to date.

Appleman, the Jew peddler who was arrested at Holden, Millard county, for attempted rape, has been held to await the grand jury's action. He went into the room of a 15-year-old daughter of Mrs. Temples. The girl awoke and by her screams aroused the household. Appleman, who had a room in the same house, says he had no criminal intent, but had made a mistake in the room.

Surveyor H. C. Kellogg, who was married in Portland, Or., a few weeks ago, finds upon his return to Santa Ana, Cal., that he has violated the law in leaving the state without having first obtained the permission of the board of supervisors. As a result Mr. Kellogg has been asked to appear before the board and show cause why his office should not be declared vacant. The gentleman will probably be reappointed, but the action of the supervisors so far has been necessary in order that the law might be upheld.

Madge Warest, two years old, was playing on a wharf at San Francisco on Wednesday, when she fell into the bay. A 15-year-old girl, Katie V. O'Connor, saw the child fall and jumped into the bay after her. She caught the little girl by the clothes, and by a few strokes reached one of the wharf piles, to which she clung until assistance came, though she was almost exhausted before being relieved. The baby had become unconscious, but was resuscitated, and Katie is to have a gold medal for her bravery. When complimented on her deed, she remarked, "Oh, any girl would jump in to save a baby from drowning."

Davis county Clipper: G. W. Ribeira, who was deputized as county sheriff, spent a few days in the hills the first of the week looking for parties who have been delearing and disfiguring cattle belonging to peoplers in town, but was unable to find out the guilty parties. The cattle were not only dehorned but all ear marks were cut off and brands cancelled and new brands and marks put on them. The brand used by the sinners was J W with quarter circle under it. The recorder's books showed that a man in Salt Lake by the name of James Waytoch branded thus, but he claims that the branding iron had been stolen from his cabin in Hard-scrabble canyon some eight years ago and that he had not seen it since. Mr. Jared Tolman found about twenty-two head of his cattle in this shape on the 3rd of July and drove them down from the hills on that date and others have made the same discovery.

Attorney S. N. Reed of Bakersfield, Cal., heard a noise in his chicken yard Wednesday night and fired both barrels of a shotgun at a man who ran away. Subsequently Lola Valles was arrested on suspicion of being drunk, but was found to have a whole charge of shot in his left side. The wound is severe but not necessarily fatal. At the same place, the same day, John W. Dixon, a painter, was arrested on the complaint of his daughter, aged 14, for unmercifully flogging him with a horsewhip because he sympathized with his sister, who had also been severely punished. The boy had twenty-five great welts across his back, with blood oozing from them. He pleaded guilty and was fined. He said that he had to whip the boy to compel him, and also threatening him he didn't only paddle with him. Dixon was soundly reprimanded by Judge Fox for his cruelty and warned not to repeat the offense.

A High Compliment.
