CATARRH

THE EYE, EAR and THROAT

Successfully Treated with

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

SUCCESS is the test of merit, and success in the treatment of Catarrh, Catarrhal Affections, after so many miserable failures, means undoubted speedy curative properties in the remedy used. Dr. SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE for catarrh possesses such properties. The evidence, in the shape of unsolicited testimonials from the most respectable people in all stations of life, must be conclusive on this point. Never, we believe, in the history of popular medicines has such valuable testimony been offered, freely offered, in favor of any remedy than that in the possession of the proprietors of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE. Hundreds have written unsolicited testimonials from parts of the country daily and unanimously attest the superiority of this remedy over any method of cure known to the medical profession, but often the patient prefers a trial to a published statement. Hence the testimonials in our possession represent but a small part of those withheld from the public. The following unsolicited testimonial from HENRY WELLS, Esq., of Wells, Fargo & Co.'s Express, is an emphatic indorsement of what we are justly proud.

INVALUABLE.

Messrs. WEEKS & POTTER, Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.: Gentlemen,—I have for some months felt it a duty devolving on me, as a sufferer, gratuitously to write you, stating the great benefit that I have derived from the use of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH. I have for 20 years had been afflicted with this very troublesome complaint. I have tried all the remedies that I could find, but without material or permanent benefit. Last fall the disease had affected so much my hearing that I was fearful of total deafness. The nasal passages had become so inflamed, and the stomach so disordered, that it was a doubtful matter whether I could go to Europe for relief or not. I decided that I should live as comfortably as I could, and I saw an advertisement of this medicine, and although being very incredulous about speedies or nostrums of any kind, yet in sheer desperation I tried this, and was at once benefited by it. The changes of climate, of food, and of water, with the fatigue, danger and exposure of my business, in spite of everything, rendered me worse. But I derive from its daily use is to me invaluable, and I am hoping to be completely cured, and at last arrive at a respectable old age.

If this statement of my case can be of any service to those afflicted as I have been, and can be relied on as the remedy into my case has proved specifically valuable, I authorize you to use it as much as may be desired, by publishing the same with my name.

Very truly yours, HENRY WELLS, of Wells, Fargo & Co.

AURORA, N. Y., June, 1878.

Each package contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Inhaling Tube, and full directions for use in all cases. Price $1.00. For sale by all Wholesale and Retail Druggists and Dealers throughout the United States and Canadas. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

EVENING NEWS.

Correspondence.

ST. GEORGE, November 18, 1878.

Editors Deseret News:

The last two days we have been favored with a beautiful rain, which will be a great blessing to the farming community.

President Snow has returned to this place from Arizona, where he had been visiting the saints, and this afternoon gave a long account of the trip, to the congregation in the St. George Tabernacle.

The Stake presidency returned some time ago from Conference, and repeated Conference teachings to the Saints, Co-operation being the principle subject, and to my mind a really necessary one. The theory is good, and what we lack is the practical part. Preaching and practising should go hand in hand, as far as possible, and by this means (as all are preachers, or supposed to be,) the work of uniting will become a "fact" instead of a "fancy picture."

There has been several deaths in the last few days, aged Brother Saunders being among the number.

Work plenty, none suffering for necessaries, and altogether our community ought to rejoice in the peace that reigns supreme.

ABRAM.

NYKJOBING PAA FALSTER, October 20, 1878.

Editors Deseret News:

It is about one month since I, with the other brethren, who left Salt Lake as missionaries, on September the 3rd, arrived in Copenhagen.

The journey across the ocean passed very well, and we were treated with all due respect, by the officers on board the Montana.

In Liverpool, England, we were kindly received and assisted by Brother Chas. Nibbly. After three days further journey we arrived in Lorentzenegade, No. 14 Copenhagen, Here, for the first time, most of us made the acquaintance of Presidents Wm. Budge, N.C. Flygare and Wm. Christiansen, from Utah, and some of the native elders and saints. The feelings which inspire the heart of a servant of God, when he meets a fellow laborer in the cause of truth, abroad in the world, can best be appreciated and esteemed, by those who have learned it by experience.

We soon afterwards had our fields of labor assigned to us, and were scattered over Denmark, Sweden, and Norway. I was appointed to labor in Copenhagen Conference, and have traveled through the islands in the southern portion of it. I can say the saints here are faithful and strive, most of them, to do the will of God, but they are few and far between. The great question here by both saint and sinner is "How to get a living." "How to obtain labor." "How to get daily bread." This may seem strange to the Saints at home, who are unacquainted with the condition of the old world, but it is true. And although there has been a good harvest this season, it seems to make but little difference to the laboring class, for all seem to prognosticate the dark clouds of the future and realize that times are growing worse and worse. And where will it end? When will the world learn the work of God, the plan of their deliverance? It is astonishing to consider the darkness, ignorance and unbelief wherewith mankind is degraded in this age, with their churches, priests and teachers almost without number, their high-toned professions of Christianity, their Bible on the shelf in every house, lying is undisturbed silence, and its inmates, totally ignorant of its contents, afraid to read it for fear they cannot understand, perfectly contented with the idea that it matters not what a man believes, to what religious denomination he belongs (Mormon excepted) so that he bears the name "Christian." It is thought enough for salvation, of which and in what shape they have not the faintest idea. And when a man of God approaches them and reminds them of the fulfilment of scripture and the restoration of the gospel, the necessity of obeying its laws and the command of Jehovah to gather out from Babylon to escape the threatening calamities which await the earth, the ignorant cry "false prophets," the informed and reflecting admire our fortitude and faith, but hope it is not true.

And so great is the prejudice against the Latter-day Saints, that many are afraid to enter into conversation with, or examine our doctrine, attend our meetings, or in any way associate, or be seen in our company, for fear of reproach from their friends and associates. This is the condition here as near as truth can be told; thus we find parents, brother and sister, relative and friends, this is the condition of mankind, after we have sought to benefit them with the light of the Gospel. To save them from the calamities which will befall the wicked world, expend our time, talent and means, braved the dangers on land and sea, traveled on foot, hungry and weary, without price or reward, spend years in their service, instead of staying at home to enjoy peace and plenty and the association of family and friends. The world cannot or will not understand the work of God, but I trust and believe that there are yet many honest souls, who will embrace the truth, and rejoice in the light of the Gospel.

One thing I would like to say to the Saints at home, as we are often told by the people here, that they have friends and relatives in Utah, But they do not write to them. Do take this matter into consideration, send them letters. I am confident much good can be done in this way. And, if nothing more, it will refute the old saying, "They won't let them write." With sentiments of kind regard I am your brother in the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

N. P. RASMUSSEN.

The Japanese Recital of the Creation.

Of old the heaven and the earth were not separated. Land and water, solids and gases, fire and stone, light and darkness, were mixed together. All was liquid and turbid chaos. Then the mighty mass began to move from within. The lighter particles of gas and air began to rise, forming the sky and heavens. The heavy parts sank and cohered, becoming the earth. The water formed the four seas. Then there appeared something like a white cloud floating between heaven and earth. Out of this come forth three beings—the Being of the Middle of Heaven, the High August Being and the Majestic Being. These three "hid their bodies." Out of the warm mould of the earth something like a rush sprouted up. It was clear and bright like crystal. From this rush sprout came forth a being whose title is "The delightful and Honorable Rush-Sprout." Next appeared another being out of the buds of the rush-sprout whose name is "The Honorable Heaven-born." These five beings are called "the heavenly gods." Next came into existence four pairs of beings, viz. (1) The Being Sprung from the First Mud, and the Being of the Sand and Mud: (2) The Being with Hands and Feet Growing, and the Being Having Breath; (3) The Male Being, and the Female Being of the Great Place (the earth); (4) The Being of Complete Perfection, and the Being who cried out, "Strange and Awful" to her mate.

Thus the last pair that came into existence were the first man and woman, called Izanagi and Izanami. [It is said that the other pairs of beings before Izanagi and Izanami were only their imperfect forms or the processes through which they passed before arriving at perfection.] These two beings lived in the heavens. The world was not yet well formed, and the soil floated about like a fish in the water, but near the surface, and was called "The Floating Region." The sun, earth and moon were still attached to each other like a head to the neck, or arms to the body. They were little by little separating, the parts joining them growing thinner and thinner. This part, like an isthmus, was called, "Heaven's Floating Bridge." It was on this bridge that Izanagi and Izanami were standing when they saw a pair of wagtails cooing and billing sweetly together. The heavenly couple were so delighted with the sight that they began to imitate the birds. Thus began the art of love, which mortals have practiced to this day.—Sunday Afternoon.
