AFFAIRS IN TURKEY.

Leaders of the Young Liberal Party Tortured and Killed.

PLAN TO MURDER AN AMBASSADOR

A Kurdistan Trouble Brewing More Menacing Than the Armenian Difficulty.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—A Constantinople dispatch to the Standard says: Hitherto stories are afloat regarding the vengeance wreaked on members of the young Turkish party. A leading Mussulman lawyer named Izzet (whose arrest was reported some time since) was tortured and died in Yi Dez prison on proof of corresponding with the party. There is another unconfirmed report that fifty leaders of the party were arrested on Monday, and were summarily tried and executed on a charge of excess during the recent Armenian riots. The young Turks connected with the sultan's own palace have protested against the sultan's vigor, but it is believed the sultan's vigor has stopped the agitation against the palace government. He has further had his two brothers, Hashad and Mustafa, brought to Yi Dez and kept there until matters have calmed down.

It will be remembered that a dispatch from Constantinople that was telegraphed to the Associated Press on last Saturday told of a warning received by the British ambassador, Sir Philip Currie, from an Armenian source, that there was a plot by the young Turkey party to kill him, and thus bring odium upon the Armenian people.

The correspondent of the Times at Constantinople telegraphs to that paper: The foreign consuls are highly approve the proclamation of the commission of control, which the grand vizier has issued. But the sultan, preferring diplomatic instruments, is likely to disapprove. If the Armenian reforms are executed in a proper spirit, it will greatly benefit the empire. That this should be done is of vital importance, in view of the impending Macedonian difficulty, which is far more menacing than was the Armenian.

The Chronicle's Constantinople correspondent says: A hundred Turks were arrested on Saturday, and thirty-eight college and five students of the military college on Monday. All are closely connected with the young Turkey agitation. The outlook is serious.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 23.—The grand vizier, Kamil Pasha, has communicated to Shakir Pasha the scheme for reform to be entered upon in the Vilyets of Erzeroum, Bitlis, Van, Mamouretul and Diarbekir. The high commissioner has been instructed to maintain a scrupulous watch over the execution of the reforms, and to report the results by letter to Constantinople. The commission also defines in detail the functions of the high commissioner relative to the amnesty to be granted to political prisoners and the return of Armenian emigrants and exiles.

Disturbances of a serious nature are reported from Kersun. The Turks attacked the Armenians inhabiting the village of Sesine, in the district of Nusiaris. Twenty-four persons were killed on both sides.

Explorer Jackson's Record.

LONDON, Oct. 23.—The documents brought back from the explorer Jackson, which were brought back by the Windward, after leaving the explorer at Franz Joseffland, and which were supposed to be in case of the entire of the Windward during her return trip, were opened today, and the papers were found to record that the expedition landed at Cape Flora on September 7th, where they erected log houses. All the members were given certain duties to insure regular exercise. Bear soon appeared to the number of thirty, and together with eight walruses, they were killed and added to the winter's provisions. The only man who died of scurvy refused to eat bear meat. The winter was very temperatuse, and the Arctic bears prowled around the log cabins, and even looked in at the windows. The winter darkness ended on February 23rd. Jackson and two others started north on March 10th with two ponies and two sledges. The temperature was sometimes 45 degrees below zero. The ponies proved to be invaluable for clambering over hummocks in the ice. The country generally was at a height of 2,500 feet and was covered with ice sheets which were interrupted along the coast by high basaltic cliffs, on which were found mosses and Arctic flowers.

The journey revealed many inaccuracies in the charts. The land was found on the Austrian Sound east 11 to be very different from what is shown by the maps of the Austrian expedition. Sea islands were found where the mainland was supposed to exist. The farthest point which was reached was latitude 81 deg. 30 min. north, where two boats were left for use later in the summer. Three depots were also established en route.

Many geological specimens were taken, which show that the formation of the land is mainly basaltic.

A second journey began in April and ended in the middle of May. It was attended with stormy weather, and frequently the temperature was 50 degrees below. Progress was difficult on account of deep crevasses and the moisture of mud.

Killed Herself and Child.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 23.—A special to the Republic from Cairo, Ill., says: W. McClaney, a farmer living in the town-ship of Willard, this county, found the bodies of a Mrs. Roush and her four-year-old daughter hanging in his chicken house. The Roush family, consisting of father, mother and daughter, have been stopping at the former's house for some months. At present Mr. Roush is absent, looking for work. It is thought his wife became demoralized during his absence and committed the crime.

ENGLAND AND VENEZUELA.

The Dispute as Seen from Various Points of View.

SOUTHAMPTON, Oct. 23.—The bishop of British Guiana arrived here today on board the steamer Orinoco from Demerara. In an interview regarding the dispute between Great Britain and Venezuela, he said there was the strongest feeling among the colonists that Great Britain should maintain the position she had assumed regarding the Schomburg line. As to the possibility of intervention on the part of the United States, the bishop said although the colonists did not look for United States assistance, yet a certain section of them seemed to feel the United States has more sympathy for Guiana than England has. Therefore continued the bishop, it was a matter of considerable regret that the Marquis of Salisbury had demanded reparation for the Union editor, would refuse, it was hoped, would lead to a speedy settlement of the whole question.

Another British colonist who was on board the Orinoco, expressed similar sentiments, and added that an inspector of police, Col. Molnnes, had gone to Uruan in order to see that place properly protected.

LONDON, Oct. 23.—The Times, Graphic, Post and Daily News again editorially protest against the attitude of the American press on the Venezuelan question. The Daily News, commenting upon the Tribune editor, says:

This question is far more complicated and our rights are by no means so clear. We are ignorant whether Lord Salisbury admits the Brazilian claim or not, but the government appears to have acted in behalf of the Brazilian Sub-Marine Telegraph company, whose directors include Lord Brassville-Cecil, a near relative of Lord Salisbury, and William St. John Broderick, under-secretary of war. It would be highly inexpedient to quarrel with Brazil for the sake of saving the company the expense of the cable laying.

SAN YOUNG, Oct. 23.—A special to the Herald from Caracas says: President Crespo was asked this evening to outline the position of Venezuela in regard to the demand of Great Britain that reparation be made for the arrest of British subjects, and that a settlement of the boundary between the countries be arranged. While the president of the republic maintained a certain degree of diplomatic reserve, it is said on the highest authority, that the government as well as public opinion does not expect any attempt at unjust aggression on the part of England, and confides in the Monroe doctrine.

Should, however, such aggression occur, Venezuela will resist heroically. The Venezuelan government is sufficiently informed in regard to England's ultimatum.

The Pope Sick.

LAUSANNE, Switzerland, Oct. 23.—The Gazette De Lausanne says, although it is not true that the pope is dying, it is learned that his strength has rapidly declined during the last few months. His entourage is of the opinion that he will not survive the winter. His vitality seems to be centered in his brain.

Dr. Talmage Installed.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 23.—In the presence of a gathering that filled the edifice, Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage was tonight installed as pastor of the Presbyterian church of this city, to which he was recently called.

Included in the assemblage tonight were a large number of Washington divines, to whom a special invitation to be present had been extended by Dr. Sunderland, pastor of the church. The order of the exercises included an organ prelude, singing by the congregation, the reading of the 112th Psalm and the Gloria Patri, Rev. David Gregg, D. D., pastor of Lafayette avenue church of Brooklyn, delivered the sermon.

Rev. Adelbe Allen, moderator of the presbytery of Washington, put the constitutional questions to Dr. Talmage, Rev. Wallace Radcliffe, D. D., delivered the charge to the congregation, Rev. F. B. Bittinger, D.D., the charge to the people, and Rev. Thomas Chalmers Easton, D. D., the closing prayer.

Dr. Talmage pronounced the benediction. The music was of a high order. When the exercises had been concluded many of those present pressed forward and heartily welcomed Dr. Talmage to their midst.

The Burnett Case.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 23.—After a bitter legal struggle lasting three months, the testimony in the trial of Theodore Durrant is all in, and tomorrow the argument of the case will begin. When court adjourned this afternoon, District Attorney Barnes announced that while he would not formally close the case for the people, he would undoubtedly do so the first thing tomorrow morning. Mr. Barnes notified the attorneys for the defense that at most he would have but one more witness, whose examination would last but a few minutes.

NEW YORK BESIEGATE.

Senator Hill Expounds The Principles of His Party.

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—Senator Hill was the central figure in the great Democratic mass meeting under the auspices of the state committee which was held at Cooper Union tonight.

The senator dwelt at the principles of the Democratic party were as plain and so explicit that they do not need to be avoided.

"We have dodged nothing in the campaign, and we are attempting to deceive no one. If we are right, we want to win, and if we are wrong, we deserve defeat."

On the tariff bill enacted in 1894 by the Democratic party he said:

"It has been in operation only a little over one year. That time has not been ample to demonstrate its value and sufficiency. It is to be regretted that it has not met the full expectations of its friends in realizing sufficient revenues to prevent deficiencies, but this cannot now exist even if there must be some deficiencies for a brief period, there has been no unnecessary extravagant taxation imposed under its provisions. Sufficient time has not elapsed to determine accurately whether its reductions were all wise or justifiable, but it is believed in the end it will be proved that they were not unreasonable. It is possible that in the anxiety to relieve the people from the enormous taxation, largely prohibitory in its character, imposed under the McKinley bill, the reductions were pressed too far, but that fact has not yet been established."

As to the Sherman law, the speaker said: "The Democratic party may not always have acted with entire wisdom in regard to silver, but this much can be said, that it was not responsible for the Sherman silver law. That law was repudiated in its inception, in its enactment and in its enforcement.

"The law has done, but its mischief remains, because there have been issued under its provisions $150,000,000 of legal tender paper money, with substantially no available assets with which to redeem it, and which is daily is disturbing the treasury and embarrassing its operations."

The senator devoted considerable portion of his remarks to what he regarded as one of the principal issues involved in the campaign, viz., personal liberty. Personal liberty meant liberty regulated by law, reasonable law, and he stoutly upheld the Democratic party for coming out boldly in favor of local option. In conclusion he said: "Upon this question the two parties have declared themselves. We have not said that we favored the opening of saloons on Sunday throughout the state, neither have we said we are opposed to it. We have simply declared that the people of each municipality should be permitted to determine that question for themselves. This is a safe and just and substantially disposition of the question."

AUCTION AT IRONSIDES.

The Belongings of Mrs. Parnell Sold.

BORDENTOWN, N. J., Oct. 24.—The cry of the auctioneer has been heard the past few days throughout Ironsides, the home of Mrs. Delia S. Parnell, and the house which was the birthplace of the mother of Charles Stewart Parnell, and which has been her residence for many years, is practically dismantled.

There was much sympathy expressed at the public sale for the woman whose cherished belongings the crowd was bidding for. Ironsides is one of the most famous places in this section of New Jersey and the family allowed to many of the articles to be disposed of, added to the name of the Stewart and Parnell families, had the effect of drawing to the scene many persons from adjoining places.

Some articles which Mrs. Parnell prizes highly on account of their association, were not put up to bid upon, but were sent to New York, which will be her home in the future.

Henry Warren was the auctioneer and as he lifted article after article to the public view he would give a little sketch of it. Some of the relics, however, went at ridiculously low prices. The principal part of the effects consisted of old paintings, pictures, lithographs, vases, urns, a number of books printed in the early part of the century. These articles brought good prices. Three tables, which were brought here by Commodore Stewart, Mrs. Parnell's father, from Italy in 1852, caused spirited bidding and were knocked down for a good sum, while a sideboard which the old commodore owned for years brought only $8.

REPUBLICAN CONFERENCE.

Matters Discussed by Members of the National Committee.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—The conference of Republican leaders continued at the Holland house last night, until an early hour this morning, though the discussions were largely informal.

Senator Quay said he favored an early convention. He added that he is for Platt as the next convention city boost and soul, but on his arrival here he had ascertained that many of the national committemen favored San Francisco as the spot where the next national convention should be held. One reason why Mr. Platt does not want an early convention is because next year a governor and lieutenant governor are to be nominated in New York state. The delegates at large to the National convention will be named by the same state convention that nominates the candidates for governor and lieutenant governor. A National convention in May would, therefore, precipitate an early state convention and a long and exhaustive state campaign. This and other matters were discussed. At the dinner of the Republican leaders the following were present: Mr. Quay, Mr. Platt, General Clarkson, Mr. Carter and Mr. Filley, of St. Louis.

The national committee's meeting at Washington on December 10, will, it was said, have much to do toward directing the policy of the Republicans to be pursued at Washington this winter on the tariff discussion. The general sentiment heard here was to the effect that wool and mineral ores must be protected.

Russia Orders Armor.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—H. C. Frick, manager of the Carnegie Iron and Steel works at Pittsburg, is at the Holland house. He has had several interviews with Mr. Carnegie concerning the order of the Russian government for patent carbonized reforged armor. This is the armor which recently withstood all possible conditions of tests at the Indian Head proving grounds, and which the Japanese government is said to have its eyes upon.

Mr. Frick would not speak of the order. Mr. Carnegie admitted that Russia had placed the order and said it was large enough to keep the plant at Homestead fully occupied for the next five months.

LOOK OUT FOR BREAKERS AHEAD

when pimples, eruptions, boils, and the manifestations of impure blood appear. They wouldn't appear if your blood were pure and your system in fine vigor and condition. They show you what you need—good blood-purifier; that's what you get when you take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

It cures health with it. All blood, skin and scalp diseases, from a common blotch, or eruption, to the worst scrofula, are cured by it. It invigorates the liver and renews every organ into healthful action. In the most stubborn forms of Skin Diseases, such as Salt-rheum, Eczema, Tetter, Hives, Itch, and kindred ailments, and with Scrofula in every shape, and all blood taints, no matter from what cause arising, it is an unequaled remedy.

SCROFULOUS ABSCESSES.

Mrs. Susie Swenney, of Fort Fob, Shoshone Co., Idaho, writes: About four years ago I had a terrible attack of what the doctors called scrofulous abscesses. I had everything that money and skill procured, but had 22 sores, several doctors turned them up and said I could get well only by a long, tedious, expensive and painful process. I could not walk, could not get out of my room, could not do my work. You do not know what I suffered. I was induced to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, with his Pellets. I commenced and continued taking them and soon began to mend. In six months my sores were all healed up. I am now free from all sores and believe I am as sound as I ever was in my life. I used some four or five bottles of the "Golden Medical Discovery" with the "Pellets," and not anything else after I began using your medicines."

also his Nerve and Liver Pills. After testimony to this from I did not continued taking them and I am now in better health than for many years. Since my recovery I have gained fifty pounds in weight. I hope this statement may be of value to some poor sufferer."

FALL GOODS COMING NOW.

Woolen Goods a Trifle Higher Than Last Fall, Cotton Fabrics and Sewing Silks have Also Advanced in Price.

We have selected cloth this fall with the idea that we are to have an improvement in trade. And that are customers will want to be suits than they have been buying for the past three years. Tired to see purchases from the most reliable sources, we have selected of the very finest patterns, without regard to the high extra cost over goods of last year's designs. We have also made some very slight changes in our manufacturing department. Notable among these is engaging the services of one of the most reliable and best known cutters in the city, so our customers are bringing no experiment by paying orders with us.

With regard to price we still adhere to our motto of giving our customers the greatest value possible for their money, being satisfied with very small profits.

We have also looked after the interests of our less fortunate customers, who do not feel that their cash should be thrown away upon the ready-made clothing, but desire to have a well fitting garment made to order. We have purchased a very carefully selected line of American made goods. These goods are equal in neatness of patterns and general appearance to those of foreign manufacture, and are of equal lasting wearing qualities and are recommended by many unscrupulous dealers as imported, and offered for sale by them as such at prices much lower than the imported goods can be sold for, but a much higher price than we are asking the same goods for. From these goods we are ready to fill orders at from $12.50 to $25.00 and give the customers the benefit of having them cut and made by the best skilled workmen in the city, a privilege we trust will be appreciated.
