Sad Affair at Scofield.

SCOFIELD, Utah, June 18.—The home boys were having a social game of baseball on Tuesday evening last, and while Thomas Cunningham was using the bat, it slipped from his hands and struck his cousin Willie (the 12 year old son of Mrs. John Cunningham) with such force that it caused his death after intense suffering for twenty-five hours.

The interment took place on Sunday. The services took place at the meeting house, which were largely attended. The ball players were the pall bearers. There is no blame attached to anyone, it was purely accidental. The small boys had been warned to keep out of the way.

Utah Boys at the U. of M.

ANN ARBOR, Michigan, June 15, 1895.—The second semester of the college year of '94-'95 at the University of Michigan is drawing very rapidly to a close. Students who are not seniors are daily finishing their work and leaving for their summer vacation. Commencement comes in the last week of June, and when that is past and their "sheepskins" are secured, the Utah students will lose no time in seeking their earthly paradise in the beautiful western mountains.

Among those who graduate this year are: Richard R. Lyman, of Tooele, president of the class of '95; Edward S. Hinkley, of Fillmore; Josiah Hickman, of Benjamin, presiding Elder of the Church here. All of these gentlemen will fill positions in the best schools of Utah next year. They graduate here with high honors, and bid fair to be prominent men in our new State. All who remain regret to see them leave. Mr. Hinckley takes with him his wife and her mother, Mrs. Henry, who have endeared themselves very much to the students during their residence in Ann Arbor.

Those who will spend the summer here are James Brown and family of Pleasant Grove; Arthur Dailey and family, of Summit, Iron county; and Mr. Woolley and family, of southern Utah. The children of these families are attending the city schools and surprising the teachers of the "cultured East" by their rapid progress in their studies. Frank Wightman, of Payson, a student of the musical department is also spending his vacation here. He has a very rich, deep, bass voice, which he is making good progress with. Mr. Wightman is also doing very well with the study of harmony, and plays clarionet with one of the best orchestras of the city. He has a very bright future in store for him.

I must not neglect to give an account of a son of Utah who has distinguished himself most this year, John Jasper McClellan Jr., of Payson. He has been for three years a pupil in the university school of music, which has for its faculty artists of the first rank. His studies have been piano, organ, harmony and counterpoint, in all of which he has been unusually successful. He has not, however, been content to confine himself to the study of the work of others, but has turned his attention to original composition. His latest work is "1st Mass, in E flat, Op. 8," most of which was sung in St. Thomas's church on Easter day. It was sung again on the Sunday preceding Decoration Day, with the "Sanctus" and "Offertoire" which completes the mass, and which were not written at Easter. These two last mentioned numbers are considered the finest parts of the mass. The musical people of Ann Arbor are loud in their praises of it, the local press is full of it, and the musical journals of New York and Detroit have not considered it beneath their notice. Mr. McClellan is now engaged in setting English words to his mass, which he intends shall be sung in Salt Lake City this summer.

On the evening of June 11th, Mr. McClellan played the first movement of Moscheles's Piano Concerto in E flat major; Prof. A. A. Stanley, M. A., director of the school, playing the orchestral parts on the organ. This movement of the concerto is a very difficult one, but it was well interpreted by Mr. McClellan. The applause was great and long continued. He was obliged to appear several times and bouquets of beautiful roses were thrown upon the stage, a mark of appreciation which was never before accorded to anyone in a pupil's recital. This performance was the last in which Mr. McClellan will appear as a pupil. He left the following morning for his home, where he will spend the summer with his parents and many friends. In October he returns a member of the faculty of the university school of music. He will teach piano, organ and harmony.

In the British Mission.

[Millennial Star, June 4.]

ARRIVALS.—Elders Charles B. Harper, of Pleasant Grove, and Wm. T. Griffiths, of Malad City, Idaho, both for the British mission, arrived in Liverpool per American line steamer Pennland on May 29. The same vessel also brought Elder Charles M. Harris and wife, of Logan, Mrs. Fortence Clawson, of Salt Lake City, and Mrs. C. I. Durrans and son, of Rexburg, Idaho. Brother and Sister Harris are on their way to Germany for the purpose of studying music. Sisters Clawson and Durrans will visit relatives and friends in England before returning.

APPOINTMENTS.—Elder Charles B. Harper has been appointed to labor as traveling Elder in the London conference.

Elder Wm. T. Griffiths has been appointed to labor as traveling Elder in the Welsh conference.

Old Friends in Lincoln, England.

It will be interesting to many returned Elders from the Nottingham and Sheffield conferences, who have at various times been hospitably entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Parker, formerly of Hasengate, and now residing at 16 Staunton street, Lincoln, to know that Sister Parker and her four daughters were admitted into the Church on Friday, the 17th of May, 1895.

The ceremony was performed at 10:30 p. m. on a cold and rainy night. The night was also windy and very dark. The candidates were baptized in the open air baths about a mile out of the town. Elder Nathan Reeves officiated, and Elder Alma Johnson and Brother and Sister Pinder were witnesses.

In the DESERET NEWS of May 15th, Elder Hyrum J. Smith mentions that he aided in presenting the Gospel to an old lady eighty-seven years old. The old lady referred to is the only sister of the late John P. Wright, formerly of Paradise, Cache county. She is also aunt to Bishop John F. Wright, of Hyrum. The Gospel was presented to her by Elder Geo. F. Wright, of Hyrum, who is now laboring in the Leeds conference. Sister E. Wright was baptized December 1, 1894, at 10 p. m., at Nottingham.

Several other relatives of Elder Geo. F. Wright have also joined the Church through his efforts. P.

Is a common complaint and it is a dangerous symptom. It means that the system is debilitated because of impure blood, and in this condition it is especially liable to attacks of disease.
