SWEDEN.

The railroad between Malmo and Tomelilla has been dedicated.

King Oscar was interviewed the other day by the Berlin correspondent to the London Times.

P. F. Lindstrom, a prominent citizen and scenic director of the royal opera, died, at the age of 52 years.

King Oscar has proposed a law facilitating the admission of grown persons into the state church of Sweden.

The large farm Yxala in the parish of Hollnas was burned to the ground. Many dozens of cattle were roasted to death.

A party of about one hundred men recently scoured the commons of the parish of Boberg on a moose hunt. Seven large animals were killed.

It is estimated that the fourth of the new ironclads will cost 3,500,000 crowns, or 200,000 crowns more than the government appropriated for that purpose.

A rare old man is Borje Johanson an 85 year old farmer of [illegible]. In the course of the last few years he has made four parlor organs without ever having had any instruction in that trade.

Rev. Fehr has proposed that the laws be changed in such a manner that any one whose conception of the world is un-Christian, many withdraw from the state church without stating what religious society he or she intends to join.

The London Daily Chronicle claims that the governments of Sweden and Norway have agreed to cede a harbor to Russia in northern Norway in order to prevent "Russian intervention" in regard to the controversy between Sweden and Norway. It is hardly necessary to remark that the whole story is a fake.

A typesetter from Kurland has lately earned the title of journeyman printer. He left Libau April first and traveled on foot via Riga, Reval, St. Petersburg and around the gulf of Bothnia to Sundsvall. In case he could not obtain work at this place he said he would try his luck successively at Gefle, Upsala, etc., and he might eventually continue his tramp to Switzerland. He claims to be able to set German, Russian, Swedish and Hebrew type.

The press of Russia has been busy discussing the rumor that Sweden was going to join the triple alliance. Most of the papers admit that Sweden would be an exceedingly important ally for the triple alliance, and that the navy of Sweden might be a serious menace to the Russian navy of the Baltic sea. The Novo Fremja warns Sweden to move carefully or Norway may withdraw from the union and leave a strip of her territory and an open harbor to Russia. This, perhaps, is what gave rise to the sensational cablegram to the effect that the king of Sweden already had joined the triple alliance.

DENMARK.

The Rigsdag was opened last Monday.

The crown prince and crown princess are paying a visit to the Danish royal family.

The city council of Copenhagen voted down a motion to appropriate $50 for the support of the temperance organizations.

Mr. Hvlid, a thrifty Danish publisher, offered to send a school journal to Swedish teachers upon the receipt of the postage; but the Swedish press does not think the stuff is worth that much even.

NORWAY.

About 255,000 barrels of "fat herring" were prepared for exportation during the past season. The price ranges from 60 cents to $1.10 per barrel.

The late H. Heuccohe, a wholesale merchant of Christiania, bequeathed $15,000 to benevolent institutions and for the encouragement of the arts and sciences.

A mass meeting at Riser was attended by 2000 people. About three-fourths of the audience shouted for the ministry of Steen, the rest for the ministry of Stang.

South Carolina Conference.

FORESTON, S. C., Oct. 2, 1893.—The South Carolina conference was held in Clarendon county, S. C., September 30th and October 1st. Priesthood meeting was held at 8:30 a. m. on the day previous to the opening of conference, twelve Elders being present. They gave in their reports for the past year which were satisfactory. Another meeting was held at 3 p. m. and another at 8 p. m.

At the first session of the conference on Sunday forenoon, Elders Albert Berry, Hyrum Carter and George A. Smith were the speakers. They devoted the time to explaining the first principles of the Gospel and in giving a sketch of the rise of the Church in this dispensation.

Elders Isaac Dunn, William Cawley, J. H. Schvaneveldt and President J. G. Kimball occupied the the afternoon in preaching the principles of the Gospel.

In the evening a Priesthood meeting was held at which Elder J. G. Kimball, president of the Southern states mission, instructed the Elders in missionary duties.

At the conference meeting on the morning of October 1, Elders David Mills, Wm. Dunn, Don C. Loveland, E. O. Taylor, J. T. Tanner and C. F. Margetts occupied the time in explaining the Gospel and in giving the Saints their duties.

At the afternoon meeting Elder D. S. Dorrity, president of the conference, was the first speaker, but owing to a spell of chills and fever from which he was just recovering he was unable to proceed with his discourse.

Elder Kimball occupied the remainder of the time in instructing the people.

At the conference all went off pleasantly. We had good weather, and the southern people showed us great interest in extending to us their hospitality. We were sorry to learn that Elder Dorrity, our president, and Elder R. M. Wright were sick with fever. They have been moved to a healthier locality, and it is hoped they will speedily recover.

Any one wishing to correspond with any of the Elders may do so at the following addresses:

J. H. Schvaneveldt and E. O. Taylor, Sumter, Sumpter county, S. C.

David Mills and Hyrum Carter, Cainbridge, Williamsburg county, S. C.

C. F. Margetts and Isaac Dunn, Hartsville, Darlington county, S. C.

Wm. Dunn and Don C. Loveland, Iredell, Brunswick county, N. C.

Wm. Patrick and Wm. Cawley, Jr., Foreston, Clarendon county, S. C.

Albert Berry and J. T. Tanner, Foreston, Clarendon county, S. C.

D. S. Dorrity, Bonneau, Conner county, S. C. J. F. TANNER, Clerk of Conference.
