AT THE FAIR LAST NIGHT.

Another Clever Exhibition by the Pompier Life Saving Crew.

THE COLORED QUARTETTE.

Awards Made by the Judges to Those Winners in Several Departments.

The attendance at the Fair last evening was very large and a count of the tickets sold showed that a little more than 6000 persons had been at the Exposition during the day.

The balloon ascension at 4:30 o'clock was an unqualified success. Professor Leonard has proven himself an excellent aeronaut, and for once the balloon ascension has been as advertised.

The Salt Lake colored quartette, composed of W. H. Oakes, James Thompson, A. E. Shavers and Wm. Armstrong, gave a very pleasing performance. There was a special prize of $60 offered for the best colored quartette, but as there was only one quartette entered the performance was merely in the nature of an exhibition than a competition. The following three were rendered: "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia," "Mass'a in de Cold, Cold Ground," "Old Kentucky," and as encores the pieces entitled, "The Jews Crucified Jesus," "Love Humble," and a medley "Hate Was My Sweetheart."

The Pompier Life Saving Crew's exhibition of rescuing children from the apparently burning tower was very clever and elicited much applause.

The following awards were made last night:

Mrs. Amanda Paisley

For many years an extensive consumptive of Trinity Springs, Lake Church, Sullivan, N. Y., gives up her "Church Key" to Hood's Sarsaparilla. Mrs. Paisley's testimony is given in the following letter: "Gentlemen: I have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla for my health, and I feel it my duty to say that I have received great benefit from its use. I have recommended it to many persons, and shall do so in the future. Yours respectfully, Mrs. Amanda Paisley."

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Hood's Pills are hand made, and are prepared to combine proportion and appearance.
