THE BOARD OF PARDONS.

It Grants Executive Clemency to Six Applicants and Makes Refusals in a Similar Number.

The state board of pardons met on Saturday with a dozen applications for executive clemency before it. Out of these, six were granted as follows:

William Golden, convicted at Ogden in December, 1895, before Judge Henderson, and sent up for a period of twelve years for arson.

Conrad Wobbleh, 17 years of age, convicted last December and sentenced to ninety days in the county jail for stealing a buggy tube.

Thomas Brown, convicted last April to serve eighteen months in the penitentiary for destroying public property. The application was made by Stowell, to which he stated that he wanted to lead a better life.

Jacob Reeve, sent up from Beaver county in 1893 for cattle stealing, five years being the sentence.

Reuben Jolly, sent up at the same time as Reeve for the same offense and sentenced to four and a half years.

David C. Alphin, sent up from Beaver County in 1893 for a term of six years, for grand larceny in the stealing of a cow.

REFUSED TO GRANT THOSE.

The applications which the board refused to grant were as follows:

James Marsh sent up from Utah last March for a period of eighteen months for grand larceny. The application was referred back on account of it not being made out in due form, as was also was that of Cale B. Noel who was sent up from Ogden for grand larceny.

J. C. Williams, a former employe of the Fisher Brewing company, who pleaded guilty to stealing whiskies and was sent up for two and a half years. He has served about half of his time.

Chester L. De Will who was tried in Beaver county for assault to commit rape, convicted of battery and sent up for a period of six months. He is serving his sentence in the Piute county jail.

Charles W. Kidd who was sent up for embezzling a package of jewelry from the Pacific Express company while employed as station agent at Cullinan.

Charles Carter, who was convicted of stealing sewing from the Clear Springs Mining company, and sentenced to two years in the penitentiary. Deducting the usual allowance for good behavior, his sentence would expire on October 30, this year.

To most of these applications were attached numerously signed petitions, all of which were given thorough consideration by the board and in which were related, briefly, the action taken upon them because of the circumstances connected with the offenses for which they were sent up.

INDIAN RESERVATION.

Senator Cannon's Speech on Secretary Smith's Decision.

Denounced as a Decision Wrong Upon the Proposed Utah and the Whole West.

The following from the Congressional Record of Tuesday, March 17th, will be read by Utah people with a good deal of interest:

CHOCTAW AND CHICKASAW INDIAN RESERVATION.

Mr. CANNON—I ask unanimous consent to call from the table the answer of the secretary of the interior to the resolution of inquiry which passed the Senate on the 4th instant, and I shall move to have that answer referred to the committee on Indian affairs. I desire to make a few observations upon it before it is referred, and, if I may have the permission of the Senate to do so. The whole matter will not occupy more than five minutes of time, and is not possibly will not lead to any debate.

The VICE PRESIDENT—The question is on the motion of the senator from Utah, to take from the table the communication referred to by him, the document upon which will be stated.

The SECRETARY read as follows:

A letter from the secretary of the interior, in response to the Senate resolution of the 3rd of March, as to the search the nonmineralized and unallotted lands in the Choctaw and Chickasaw Indian reservation have not been restored to the public domain and practicable open to entry and location.

The VICE PRESIDENT—The question is on the motion of the senator from Utah to recall the communication to the committee on Indian affairs.

Mr. CANNON—Mr. President, it would be unfair to send to the committee on Indian affairs, this alleged answer to the resolution of the Senate, sent by the secretary of the interior, and without calling the attention of the body to the wrong which is being perpetrated, not only upon the people of Utah and upon the West, but upon the treasury of the United States, by the persistent insertion of the secretary of the interior and his refusal, by that inaction, to obey the mandate of the law. This communication is not an answer. It is merely an evasion. Where it is not disconcerting to the Senate it is misleading. It is discourteous to the Senate in that it does not give any reply to a very proper inquiry propounded to the secretary of the interior by the Senate, but referring to the geological report of some special agent, who was sent, outside of the law, with instructions to examine the character of the land which the law says shall be thrown open to settlement and mineral entry. It is no more a reply to the secretary of the interior to state to the Senate that certain valuable mineral deposits exist there than it would be a proper answer of the secretary of the navy to the Senate, if he had replied by law to a resolution of inquiry, to say that some scientist had discovered a new variscite which instead upon the bottoms of vessels, and therefore the secretary of the navy thinks it inadvisable to execute the law.

The communication of the secretary of the interior is misleading, in this, that it states that the matter of the opening of the Choctaw reservation is now in the hands of the President of the United States and the secretary has not been asked as to the President's purpose. Nowhere in all the voluminous correspondence which has been had on this question is there any such thing, and it has been made a public showing by the secretary of the interior, that he has reported to the President of the United States accordingly by the terms and provisions of the law the designation of the lands are allotted to the Indians.

I desire to call attention to the fact that the Senate may now have notice of it and that the committee on appropriations may have notice of it, that there was appropriated in 1894 the sum of $10,000 to pay for the work of a commission to allot lands in severalty to the Choctaw and Chickasaw Indians and to treat with the Utah Indians in Utah for the disposal of portions of their reservation. That commission was appointed in November of 1894, and proceeded to Utah, ostensibly to engage in its work of treating with the Indians, but as late as March, 1895, in communication with the secretary of the interior, the commissioner stated that he had not been able to do anything because of the fact that the ground was covered with snow. The whole business has been conducted just along that line of lightness and nonchalance. A commission was sent into the tops of the Rocky Mountains at the beginning of the year to examine the allotment of lands in severalty, which under the law, taken for just portion of the Indians, paying instead the sum and fixed by statute. The law contains the entire on the application ground to set aside to each person, as it provides, the quantity of all mineral lands to Indian allotments.

Mr. President, it would not be fair to have the matter rested in silence. In the name of the West, against the management of affairs so distant from Washington by a sentiment so wholly alien to the feelings of the West, I do not see otherwise than that the secretary of the interior is not required by law to know something of the minority after which he entertains such absolute disinclination. I have more substantial ideas that of the Congress of the United States, because here, where laws are to be passed affecting the welfare of the West, there is discussion. With the secretary of the interior there is merely an opinion of personal opinion.

The VICE PRESIDENT—The question is on the motion of the Senator from Utah to refer the communication of the secretary of the interior to the committee on Indian affairs.

Mr. GORMAN—I hope the senator will not object to the communication lying over for one morning. It is a new question to some of us, and I should like an opportunity of looking into it to some extent while the subject is still before the Senate.

Mr. CANNON—Certainly. I have no objection to that, Mr. President.

The VICE PRESIDENT—The motion of the senator from Utah will go over.

Need of a National Guard.

The need of a National Guard was a theme that was most interestingly and admirably treated by Lieutenant Hook of the Sixteenth United States infantry, at a meeting held at the office of the adjutant general of the state militia yesterday morning. The speaker prefaced his remarks by the statement that it was a best interest to National Guard affairs having been a guardsman himself, in the State of Texas for four years prior to entering the military service.

A resolution was unanimously carried that the papers read by Lieutenant Hook be secured for publication in some form. The paper was made so informally interesting by two very well rendered recitations by John F. Meakin, the first being Drake's Address to the Flag and the last Sheridan's Ride.

The Time for Building

Up the system is at this season. The cold weather has made serious ravages upon the vital forces. The blood has become impoverished and impure, and all the functions of the body suffer in consequence. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the great builder, because it is the One True Blood Purifier and never fails.

Hood's Pills become the favorite cathartic with all who use them. 25 druggists. 25c.

Catarrh starts in the nasal passages, affects the eyes, ears and throat, and is in fact the giant sentinel of the human nervous system. Neglected it leads to the most almost invariably precede catarrh, causing an excessive flow of mucus, and if the mucous discharge becomes infected the disagreeable results of catarrh will follow, such as bad breath, severe pain across forehead and about the eyes, a roaring and hissing sound in the ears and sometimes a very offensive discharge.
