EASTERN.

Application Denied.

NEW YORK, 3.—Judge VanHoesen has denied the application of Stout & Co. and other creditors of Bonner & Co., for an order directing the assignee of Bonner & Co. to direct Russell Sage to deliver up the securities hypothecated with him by Bonner for a loan of $40,000.

Another Body Recovered.

The laborers digging in the ruins of the Barclay street fire to-day, recovered another body. This makes the fourteenth victim of the disaster.

Howard Resigns.

WASHINGTON, 3.—Sumner Howard, United States district attorney for Utah, has resigned.

U. S. Life-saving Service.

The general superintendent of the United States life-saving service has submitted his annual report of the operations of that service during the last fiscal year. The report shows that there have been, during the year, 134 disasters to vessels within the limits of the operations of the service. On board these vessels there were just 1,500 persons. The estimated value of the vessels was $2,000,000, and of the cargoes, $1,500,000. The number of lives saved was 1,461; lost, 39. The amount of property saved, $1,750,000; amount lost, $1,500,000.

Lord's Marriage Not Satisfactory to His Sons.

Two or three days since, Thomas Lord, one of the wealthiest retired merchants of this city, aged 84, married a celebrated Mrs. Wilhelmina Wilkins Hicks, aged 43. To-day, Thomas Lord, Jr., Henry Lord and Francis H. Lord, sons of Thomas Lord, joined in a petition to Judge Van Brunt, sitting in the supreme court, stating that their father is, and for some time has been, deprived of reason, and is unfit for the government of himself and management of his estate. Wherefore, they pray for a commission in lunacy. The petition is supported by the affidavits of the three sons and the janitor of one of their father's buildings. The old gentleman owns about $1,600,000 in improved real estate, and personal property worth $300,000 and has been in receipt of $125,000 income, while his personal expenses did not exceed $25,000. Judge Van Brunt appointed as commissioners, ex Judge Enoch Fancher, Dr. Geo. A. Peters, and James D. Fisk, and granted an injunction against the disposition of his property by Mr. Lord or his agents.

Paris Exposition Commissioner.

McCormick, the Paris Exposition commissioner returned to this city yesterday afternoon, from New York. He was on duty at his office in the State Department, to-day, which was besieged by a large number of importunate applicants for positions. McCormick is undecided whether he shall make his office at New York his only station, or change between Washington and New York.

National Banks.

The comptroller of currency has called for a report showing the condition of the national banks at the close of business on Friday, December 28th, 1877.

Internal Revenue Receipts.

The internal revenue receipts for December fell off $448,000. The cause is thought to be the agitation in Congress to reduce the taxes on whiskey and tobacco.

The commissioner of internal revenue intends increasing his force of deputy collectors in North and South Carolina and Georgia, so that they will be able to enforce the internal revenue laws in that region and prevent a recurrence of defying the Government officers as was the case at Spartansburg, S. C., last week.

Earthquake.

RICHMOND, 3. — Reports from points in Louisa and Hanover counties state that a shock of earthquake was felt last evening. The shock is said to have been accompanied by a roaring sound like a chimney afire.

Curious Interest.

INDIANAPOLIS, 3.—Judge Gresham, of the United States district court, delivered his opinion, to-day, construing section 5,198 of the Revised Statutes. He holds that where a national bank takes, receives or reserves usurious interest out of the proceeds of a note given for a loan, the maker or borrower may, at any time, in a suit by the bank, upon the note, plead the usury, and if pleading the bank forfeits the entire amount of the interest so reserved or included in the note; but if the usurious interest is paid by the maker or borrower out of his pocket, he cannot recoup twice the amount of the interest paid or recover twice the amount in an action of debt, unless the plea or recoupment is filed or action of debt is brought within two years after such payment is made. In short, he holds that the two-year statute of limitations does not apply to cases where usurious interest is reserved out of the proceeds of a note or is included in it, but applies only to cases where the usurious interest is actually paid by the borrower or maker of the note to the bank.

Snow Storm.

LITTLE ROCK, 3.—A heavy snow storm has prevailed all day; is now five inches deep and still snowing.

NASHVILLE, 3.—A very heavy snow storm has prevailed here since five p. m., reaching a depth of four inches in three hours.

Contemplated Change in the Regular Assembling of Congress.

CHICAGO, 3.—The Post's Washington special says: A bill will be offered soon after the reassembling of Congress, changing the time from the first Monday in December to the first Monday in October. The many inconveniences attached to the present time of meeting have often been discussed, but the idea of a change has never taken a definite shape until recently, when a meeting of senators and members of both parties was held for the purpose of considering the subject. It was agreed by all present that the time of meeting was so close to the holiday recess that it was impossible to get the business of the session in such a shape as to admit of adjournment early enough to permit the members living at a distance from Washington to visit their homes during the holidays. It was also agreed that if the time was changed to the first Monday in October, both houses might get the business in such a shape that a recess of about 25 or 30 days, about the 15th of December, would enable all the members to visit their homes without causing any material delay to business.

TEXAS.

Grand Ball—Good Will and Friendship.

BROWNSVILLE, Texas, 3.—General Canales and military officers and federal employes in Matamoras gave a New Year's ball at the Theatre, in Matamoras, which was apparently tendered as an evidence of good will and friendship to the inhabitants of both sides of the Rio Grande. A large number of United States army and navy officers were present, as well as several United States civil service officers and citizens of the two nationalities, who commingled in the most harmonious friendship, as if no border questions had ever existed to mar the enjoyment of the beginning of the New Year. The ball was a grand success.

WESTERN.

The Unemployed—Work or Bread.

SAN FRANCISCO, 3.—A large body of unemployed workingmen to-day marched to the mayor's office and a committee waited upon the mayor and demanded work or bread, suggesting that they be set at work on the streets or other public improvements. The mayor addressed the crowd stating his inability to take such action, and counselled application, when necessary, to the various benevolent organizations. The speech was received in sullen silence. The crowd, to the number of several thousand, then marched to the new city hall lots, where they were addressed by the agitators Kearney, Wellock and others, the speeches being to the effect that they must help themselves by force if other means fail.

FOREIGN.

FRANCE.

Approves of his Conduct—The War Minister—Observatory.

PARIS, 3.—General Wimpffen, who signed the capitulation of Sedan, during the Franco-German war, has written a letter approving the conduct of Major Labordere, who was dismissed from the French army by Minister of War Borel, for insubordination in connection with the Limoges affair during the late crisis. The General further expresses the hope that Major Labordere will be reinstated with the rank of lieutenant colonel.

The Moniteur states that General Borel contemplates resigning the ministry of war, and intends proposing General Berthaud as his successor. Borel would then become governor of Paris vice General L'Admirault.

It is stated that M. Faye has been definitely appointed director of the Paris Observatory.

GREAT BRITAIN.

The Eastern Question—Peace Negotiations.

LONDON, 3.—A special from Vienna points out that by admitting that Russia may negotiate separately, the powers recognize the privileged position she has so long claimed in the settlement of the eastern question, and to cancel which was one of the main objects, if not the chief one of the treaty of Paris. By allowing Russia to take upon herself the enforcement of certain things upon Turkey, the powers indeed have already taken a great step in this direction, but so long as Europe upheld the principle that no negotiation could be carried on between the belligerents themselves, this privileged position assumed by Russia would cease the moment the negotiations began. If, on the contrary, the principle of separate negotiation is admitted, an exceptional position is thereby sanctioned, and it becomes only a question of how far this exceptional position is to extend. The firm ground is abandoned, and, in spite of all reservation, the powers have given up their right of participating in the settlement of the question. The disinclination shown by the British government to encourage separate negotiations is an indication that it was aware of the importance of the principle at stake. Still, as the principle, which is a European one, and could only acquire validity by the joint will of all, or, at least, most of the powers, has been abandoned by all except England, there remains but the alternative for England either to dispute single-handed the claim of Russia, or follow the example of the other powers and make the reservations on paper, or secure guarantees. We hear from St. Petersburg that the intercourse between Prince Gortschakoff, the Russian foreign secretary, and Lord Loftus, British ambassador, on this matter, has been of the most friendly character, and the telegraphic reply sent from St. Petersburg was drawn up jointly by them. As for all the reports that the Porte has already come to a resolution of accepting an armistice, in principle they seem to be premature. It is not likely that anything decisive will be done until Russia's reply has been officially communicated by England.

The "Times" on the Earl of Carnarvon's Speech.

The Times, in a leading editorial article, says: Once more, in the midst of disquieting rumors, we have the satisfaction to report the reassuring statement made by one of the ministers, and at the present moment it ought to be regarded as finally deciding the position assumed by this country. We may interpret his words as meaning at least as much, as they say, and as an unmistakable expression of the present view of the ministry. What then is the upshot of the Earl of Carnarvon's speech? It is an emphatic, a peculiarly emphatic reiteration of the neutral policy which the ministers on all responsible occasions have again and again asserted. This decisive declaration has been made not at all too soon, but it ought to terminate finally the alarm and excitement by which the public have recently been disturbed. For this purpose it should be only necessary to add a single consideration of the Earl of Carnarvon's statement: "If this is the deliberate judgment of a member of the cabinet, is it conceivable that any less decisive opinion can be entertained by the nation as a whole? If there be any disposition anywhere to enter this war, if insanity of such a kind anywhere prevails, it is to be found in the conservative rather than in the liberal ranks, and if the Earl of Carnarvon cannot conceive a repetition of the policy of the Crimean war by his own party, is it for a moment to be supposed that the other half of the nation would entertain it? It should be clearly understood that the most earnest and energetic section of the community is prepared to act decisively, without wavering, in support of the principles laid down by the Earl of Carnarvon. Let it be understood, once for all, that the most responsible leaders in both parties deem the policy of the Crimean war so obsolete that it would be insanity to revive it, and there will be an end of the present unjustifiable scare."

Eastern War News.

The opening of communications between the Servians and the Russian army of the Vid is very important, as the latter can draw supplies from the former when required. The Danube has not yet frozen over, and the flow of ice is intermittent. Communication is carried on in a desultory way by means of flat-bottomed boats, transporting wagons and several horses or bullocks.

A special from Bucharest states that a short time ago, the Turks attempted to open confidential negotiations with the Russian headquarters for an armistice. The attempt was unsuccessful, as the Russians considered they ought to receive an equivalent for the advantages which the Porte would derive from being able to organize its forces during the armistice.

Suleiman Pasha telegraphs that the army from Ramanli arrived safely at Slatitza.

Baker Pasha, with six battalions and four guns, covered its retreat, sustaining throughout Tuesday attacks from thirty battalions of Russians with ten guns, on whom he inflicted a heavy loss. Baker Pasha lost 600 killed.

The Russians continue concentrating troops on the plain of Erzroum. Movements on the Deve Boyun heights are visible from the Turkish fortifications.

Four Russian infantry battalions and a regiment of dragoons occupied the village of Ozon, near the road to Trebizonde. Every preparation has been made here for a prolonged siege.

Austrian subjects in Roumania, liable to military service, have been ordered to return home within 10 days.

Six hundred miles of ties are on the ground of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, extending from Yuma toward the Atlantic States.

AN ORDINANCE

Relating to Houses of Ill-Fame and Prostitution.

SECTION 1.—Be it ordained by the City Council of Salt Lake City: That any person in this city,

First, Who either keeps a house of ill fame resorted to for the purpose of prostitution or lewdness; or wilfully resides in such house; or resorts thereto for lewdness;

Second, Who is the owner of any building or tenement, the whole or any part of which is used for any of the purposes mentioned in the first subdivision of this section; or has control of such building or tenement as agent, guardian, or lessee of such owner, or as the agent of such guardian or lessee, and after notice of such improper use of such building or tenement shall fail to suppress the same by removing therefrom the occupants thereof; or

Third, Who lets any building or tenement knowing that the lessee intends using the same, or any part thereof, for any of the purposes mentioned in the first subdivision of this section; or harbors or keeps about his or her private premises any whoremaster, strumpet or whore, knowing the same to be guilty of following a lewd course of life therein;

Shall be liable, for such offence, to a fine in any sum not exceeding ninety-nine dollars, or to imprisonment for any term not exceeding one hundred days; or to both such fine and imprisonment.

SEC. 2.—It shall be lawful, on the trial of any person charged with either of the offences named in the preceding section, for the prosecution to introduce in support of such charge, testimony of the general character and reputation of the person or place, touching the offence or charge set forth in the complaint, and the defendant may likewise resort to testimony of a like nature for the purpose of disproving such charge.

SEC. 3.—In prosecutions under the second subdivision of Section one of this ordinance it shall be a sufficient defense if the defendant shows at the trial that he has diligently used the power which the law gives him to suppress the improper use of the building or tenement concerning which the charge is made.

SEC. 4.—That Chapter forty-four of the Revised Ordinances of Salt Lake City, passed July 20th, 1875, "Relating to Houses of Ill-fame and Prostitution," be, and the same is hereby repealed; Provided, that all offences heretofore committed in violation of any of the provisions of said Chapter forty-four of the Revised Ordinances of Salt Lake City hereby repealed, may be enquired into, prosecuted and punished the same as if this ordinance had not been passed.

Passed Dec. 18th, 1877.

FERANDO LITTLE,
Mayor.

HIGHEST HONORS

AT THE

UNITED STATES

Centennial

World Exhibition,

1876.

MASON & HAMLIN

CABINET

ORGANS

Unanimously assigned the

"FIRST RANK"

IN THE

"SEVERAL REQUISITES"

of such Instruments!

The MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN CO. have the honor to announce that the Organs of their manufacture have been unanimously assigned the "FIRST RANK" in the "SEVERAL REQUISITES" of instruments of theirs, by the Judges at the CENTENNIAL EXHIBITION at Philadelphia, 1876, and are the ONLY INSTRUMENTS OF THIS GENERAL CLASS AWARDING THIS RANK. This is after the severest competition by the best makers before one of the most competent juries ever assembled.

They have also received the MEDAL, but, as in previous years, the Medal is of small merit, have been "awarded all articles deemed worthy of recognition; so this it will be easy for many makers to advertise that they have received "the medal."

The differences in competing articles, and their comparative excellence, are recognized in the Reports of the Judges from which the following is an extract:—

"THE MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN CO. exhibit at Section Organs and Harmoniums three instruments of FIRST RANK IN THE SEVERAL REQUISITES OF INSTRUMENTS OF THE CLASS, viz: Substance and equal distribution of tone, ease of expression, resonance and singing quality, relative full quickness in action of separate notes with fine gradations of work-manship, combined with simplicity of action."

(Signed by all the Judges.)

The Mason and Hamlin Organs are thus declared to rank first, not in one or two respects only, but in the SEVERAL REQUISITES of such instruments, and they are the Only ones assigned this rank. This triumph was not unexpected, for the minor Hamlin Cabinet Organs have uniformly been awarded the highest honors in competitions in America, there having been scarcely six exceptions in hundreds of competitions. They were awarded highest honors and

FIRST MEDALS

PARIS, 1867; VIENNA 1873; SANTIAGO, 1875

PHILADELPHIA, 1876,

and have thus been awarded highest honors at Every World's Exposition!

at which they have been exhibited, being the Only American Organs which have ever obtained any Award at any competition with European manufacturers, or "Organs of any Kind." Also, NEW STYLES, with improvements, exhibited at the CENTENNIAL, elegant new cases in great variety. Prices very lowest consistent with best material and workmanship. Organs sold for cash or installments, or rented for rent, part rent, part payment, or rent allowed to pay, when purchased, in every respectable purchaser or hire money advanced.
