THEY ARE THE

Highest of all High Grades

And to prove this claim we ask you to compare the "Waverley" in detail with any high grade wheel on the market. Ask any "Waverley" rider about his wheel and then ride one yourself. That is fair test.

Remember that it takes only $65.00 to buy a "WAVERLEY." An opportunity to save $10.00 is worth investigating, isn't it? Please call and see our 1896 models.

NEWS OF THE WEST.

A California Woman Laughs Herself to Death.

LAST OF THE SWISS BELLRINGERS.

Arrested a "Gospel Tent" Preacher—what He Was and Performed—Miscellaneous.

Rev. Mr. Newby, who is running a "gospel tent" at Churchville, Sutter county, was taken on Tuesday evening by A. N. Keck of that place. Mr. Keck is a man in town, because Mr. Keck has a rope attached to the mail sack because it hung so low that it hitched on things. Keck has the minister arrested.

News comes from Genoa, Douglas county, Nevada, of the sudden death of Miss Nellie Arcan of San Jose, Cal. Miss Arcan had come up to be present at the marriage of her cousin, which was to have taken place Sunday morning. She arrived in Genoa Friday. Saturday morning she was too ill to leave her bed, and that afternoon she died. She was but 15 years of age. The wedding took place Sunday evening.

Mrs. Spectman died at an Oakland, Cal., sanitarium on Sunday night under remarkable circumstances. The lady was at a social gathering the previous Tuesday evening, and was suddenly stricken with hysteria. She continued to laugh for hours and thinking that was doing relieved her in any way, it was resorted to but none and then to the sanitarium. She was carried upon, but grew weaker every, and expired on Sunday night.

The death of C. Edworth Smith at his ranch home, near Pomona, Cal., is expected at any hour. He is the only survivor of 3 smiling twin Bellringers, who were known throughout the Union thirty years ago. His parents were bellringers, and when a mere tot he learned to ring the bells, and led a national reputation. Mr. Smith came to Pomona last year with his wife and child. He was suffering with pulmonary disease and had been seriously ill for many months. He is about 40 years of age.

The contest of the will of George H. Parker by Emma Parker, the widow of a son of the deceased, is in progress in the supreme court of San Jose, Cal. The principal charges that the deceased was unduly influenced by his relatives and that he was of unsound mind. The son, Edward A. Parker, died in Hartford, Conn., in 1893, the father died in August, 1895, from injuries received in a runaway. In his will he left certain properties to his son Edward for life. If he died before his wife, the property was to go to Marshall Pinkney, of his children. The contestant seeks to set the will aside and get this property.

A special to the Times, Nev., Omaha, from Pyramid Lake Indian reservation says that a double murder was committed there at 9 o'clock Monday night. An Indian, Sam Smith, deliberately shot his wife and paramour with a pistol which he had stolen from a gunsmith. The woman died instantly, but the man, George Sneezy, an Indian, is still alive, though dangerously shot. The dead woman was formerly the wife of the wounded Indian and only recently took up with the murderer. The Indians are much excited over the affair, and a lynching was talked of, but Agent Wooley sent the murderer to the United States marshal at Wadsworth.

Harry Adams and John Ward, two Tuolumne county, Cal., ranchers, while searching for stray hogs made a gruesome discovery Tuesday. They were walking along in the underbrush on the Tuolumne river near what is known as "Small dam," at La Grande, when they stumbled over the mutilated and decomposed corpse of a little girl. The head had parted from the body and rolled down the bank, and both of the tiny arms had been torn off and carried some distance by wild hogs. The remains were gathered up and taken to Chinese camp. From the few shreds of clothing remaining on the body it was identified as that of little Mabel Reth. On March 17th last the little girl, who was the daughter of Alex Reth, wandered away to the river in company with the daughter of H. C. Penrose, a neighbor, and when the children failed to return a search was made. The Penrose child was found sitting on the river bank complacently looking in a pool where she said Mabel had fallen into the river before. The river was dragged and every effort made by the heart-broken parents to recover the body of the child, but without avail. The current must have carried the body seaward during the high water in the spring. A formal identification of the remains was made and the body buried. The entire town turned out to the services.

Frank Meyer of West Berkeley, Cal., wants $10,000 from his father-in-law and mother-in-law for the alleged alienation of his wife's affections. They are Lo and Jane O'Neil and he believes that they forced their daughter, Margaret, to leave him. The line of her counsel company and the mental agony which Frank has suffered are grounds for the law suit which he sues. Meyer filed his suit Tuesday, and the complaint is a good old mother-in-law story, serious in this case. He says that the course of the wedding bells had scarcely died out before his wife's mother began to interfere in things around his house. First she charged that he did not maintain her daughter as he should; that she was not in comfortable clothes and been at home, and her clothes were not in keeping with her position in Berkeley society. Frank says in his complaint that at first his wife was not disposed to listen to her mother, and took his side. Then, in response to constant pressure, she wavered, and was soon against him, too. At that stage Mr. O'Neil joined in the cabal against Meyer. The young wife was finally prevailed upon to leave home and husband in Harris law. Meyer says that he tried repeatedly to induce his wife to return to him, but the influence of his mother-in-law and father-in-law proved more powerful than his. Meyer is a carpenter of West Berkeley, and the O'Neils are respectable people of that burgh.

When Nature Needs assistance it may be best to render it promptly, but one should remember to use even the most potent remedies only when needed. The best and most simple and gentle remedy is the Syrup of Figs, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup company.
