SUNDAY SERVICES.

Elder Charles W. Penrose the Speaker at the Tabernacle Yesterday.

The services at the Tabernacle yesterday afternoon were well attended and Elder Charles W. Penrose, of the Bishopric, presided.

Choir, under the leadership of Prof. C. J. Thomas, sang:

Hail! hail to the priesthood, [illegible]
Of Melchisedek, Aaron and Levi.

Prayer was offered by Elder Henry P. Richards.

Choir sang as a solo and chorus:

Glory to God on High.

Elder Charles W. Penrose was the only speaker, and in addressing the congregation, felt greatly in view of many present, although he would have preferred to have remained seated and listen to others speak. He always felt pleased to meet with the Latter-day Saints, because those things which were heard in such assemblies were true, whether new or not. It was a source of much joy to the speaker to note that notwithstanding the attempts of some members of the Church there was still enough left with us to furnish excellent music. The Saints of Zion were a peculiar people and this was as it should be. A people with the knowledge that the Saints had, in knowing that this was the Church of God should be a peculiar people and their hearts should swell with joy at his goodness and kindness unto them. The Latter-day Saints had a mission to perform and they should see to it that they adhered strictly to that mission. The Church at which they were members was not an organization made up by man, or by a number of men. No, it was founded in the earth in these times through revelation notwithstanding the fact that the nations would mislead that revelation was something unknown in the present day and generation. They based this notion on what was outlined in the first chapter of Revelations, 10th and 11th verses, wherein it says that man should not take from or put to that book. They had construed that passage to mean that revelation had been discontinued, when a careful reading of it showed that no such construction could be properly put upon it. It was not stated that from henceforth revelation had ceased, but simply made it known that no man had a right to add to or take from that book. God himself could do as he pleased in that matter, and He has seen fit to restore His Gospel in these last days. God had never at any time ceased up the heavens, although there had been times when He had ceased to give instructions unto the people of the earth, withholding his blessings from them because of their wickedness and disobedience. Joan the Revelator who had received that revelation referred to, was himself commissioned by God to go out and prophesy, which he did; was a continuation of revelation as he was authorized of God to go out and prophesy in His name. Some of the wicked people on the face of the earth have put upon it a passage the construction that revelation had ceased but with all their worldly knowledge and learning they had not become possessed of the truth—that truth which had been brought to the earth through the instrumentality of the Prophet Joseph Smith. He was the one to whom the angel flying through the midst of heaven brought the Gospel message and restored it to the earth, where it now was with the most potent organization of any religious body upon the face of the earth.

The organization of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints was ridiculed even by people who were established and established towards Mormonism, as a plan not to be recalled by any other in existence. This was because God's hand was in its organization. He directed the holy Prophet, the way in which his Church was to be established upon the earth, and the authority which its servants were to hold as members of that Church. The bestowal of the Holy Priesthood upon the servants of God, had brought untold blessings unto the people. The sick had been healed through its power; the lame had been made to walk and many other marvelous manifestations of His power had been given unto His people, and these blessings would continue to follow in the wake of those who were trying to live righteous lives before Him. The first principles of the Gospel is faith, without which it is impossible to please God. Not only was faith required, but also that came repentance and then baptism followed on. While faith was a common Christian doctrine, that one all required by most religious denominations. Their question was that a belief was all that was necessary to bring unto them a salvation. But this was not so spoken of the Latter-day Saints; they must not only believe, but obey, by keeping God's laws and commandments. They had to earn and merit their salvation, according to the grand example set them by our Lord and Master Jesus Christ.

The speaker then referred to baptism and showed that without mankind had received authority from God, they had not authority to administer that ordinance in His name and if they did, it would avail them nothing, for God only recognized in their own administration. For God was merciful and was perfectly willing to forgive all those who, who broken hearts and contrite spirits, would go before Him and repent of their past sins and submit the means of repentance for their remission. In conclusion the speaker bore his testimony to the Divinitiness and divinity of the Gospel of Jesus Christ as believed in and practiced by those people who merely called Mormons, and bared testimony that the time would come when every knee would bow and every tongue confess that Jesus was the Christ.

Choir sang the anthem:

Daughters of Zion.

Benediction was pronounced by Elder Brigham Young.

CAR CONDUCTOR KILLED.

Sad Fate of Thomas Mauck, a Rapid Transit Employe.

Thomas Mauck, a Rapid Transit street car conductor, came to his death suddenly and unexpectedly shortly before 6 o'clock on Saturday evening at the corner of State and Seventh South streets.

At that point it appears he got off the car for the purpose of pushing a trailer around the curve when he suddenly and without the slightest premonition or warning fell to the ground, his neck across one of the rails. Over this portion of the body the car wheels passed killing him instantly.

Mauck has been in the employ of the company for four years and was much respected for his faithfulness and integrity. He was 23 years of age and unmarried. Of late he had been ill and under a physician's treatment. It is thought by some that he was seized with a fainting spell causing him to fall to the ground as he did. An inquest was held today. The jury returned a verdict of accidental death. The funeral will be held under the auspices of the Masonic fraternity, of which the deceased was a member.

SIGNS OF WEAKENING.

Intimations to the Effect That Certain Councilors Will Give Up the Fight.

The electric light trouble or rather the trouble resulting from the ordinance that was followed the fight in this case promises to wax very warm at the session of the City Council tomorrow night. Nor is that all. Members who were apparently earnest workers for the fight, who joined with their colleagues in refusing to knuckle to the street illuminating monopoly, give indications of weakening, of capitulating to the interest of the company.

So emphatically was this charge made today, so clearly was it proclaimed that even the names of the councilmen who are said to have undergone a change of heart, were given. Whether this information is correct or not a vote in the City Council tomorrow night will probably tell.

United States Civil Service Examination.

The United States civil service commission has ordered that an examination be held by the local board in this city on Saturday, June 6, 1896, commencing at 9 o'clock a. m., for the grades of clerk and carrier in the postal service. Copy of rules of the United States can be examined. The age limitations for this examination are as follows: Clerks 18 and over, carriers over 21 and under 40 years. No application will be accepted for this examination unless filed with the commission, in complete form, on the proper blank, before the hour of closing business on Tuesday, May 19, 1896. Applications should be filed promptly, therefore, in order that time may remain for correction if necessary.

The commission takes this opportunity of stating that the examinations are open to all reputable citizens of the United States who may desire to enter the service, with no regard to their political or religious affiliations. All such citizens are invited to apply. They may be examined, graded, and certified with entire impartiality, and solely without regard to any consideration save their efficiency, as shown by the grades they obtain in the examination.

For application blanks, full instructions, and information relative to the duties and salaries of the different positions, apply to

ORSAMUS WILLIAMS,
Secretary Board of Examiners, Postal Service.

Voluntary Manslaughter.

The jury returned a verdict of voluntary manslaughter at Coalville yesterday morning in the case of Peter Clark charged with the murder of Harry Nugent, the Park City gambler. Judge Sloan delivered his charge to the jury at 5:30 Saturday evening, occupying one hour and a half. Clark will be sentenced May 12.

The penalty for voluntary manslaughter is not less than one year and not more than ten years' confinement in the state prison.

To the Choir.

In behalf of the presidency of Salt Lake Stake of Zion and for myself, I take pleasure in thanking the members of the Tabernacle choir and other singers, as Miss Kate Romney, organist, for their efficient services yesterday (Sunday) afternoon and evening. Their very response to the special call made upon them is much appreciated.

CHARLES J. THOMAS.

Utah Weather and Crops.

Salt Lake City, Utah—Meteorological report, March, 1896.—The mean temperature for the month of March, 1896, was 38 degrees; highest monthly mean was 51 degrees at St. George; lowest monthly mean, 28 degrees, at Park City. The highest temperature received during the month was 84 degrees, at Moab, Grand county, on the 26th, and the lowest, 7 degrees below zero at Heber, Wasatch county, on the 5th, and at Bottom Reservoir, Utah county, on the 5th. The range of temperature for the state was 91 degrees. At a majority of stations the maximum temperature occurred on the 24 h, and the minimum on the 5th and 30th.

The average amount of precipitation for the state was 0.69 of an inch; greatest amount reported was 3.40 inches at Milville, Cache county, and the least amount reported was a trace at Clear, Grand county, and Giles, Wayne county. The principal part of the precipitation occurred during the first and last decades of the month, and was greatest in the central and northern sections, and least in the southern districts where only a trace fell in many localities. The average depth of the snowfall was about 8 inches which is less than the usual amount for the month of March.

The average number of clear days was 13, partly cloudy, 10, cloudy, 8, and on account of so much of this month being snow, 5.

At Salt Lake City there was 45 per cent of sunshine and 55 per cent (cloudiness) in Grover, Wayne county.

The prevailing winds were from the southwest. Total movement at Salt Lake City was 6,882 miles, and the maximum velocity 28 miles per hour from the south on the 27th.

Thunderstorms occurred at Giles on the 5th; Heber on the 25th, and Monticello on the 26th.

Fog was seen at Giles on the 15th and Heber on the 19th.

Solar halos were observed at Giles on the 21st and 25th.

Lunar halos were observed at Giles on the 23rd, 24th and 25th; Grover on the 25th and Parowan on the 29th and 30th.

Hail fell at Levan on the 24th, and sleet at Grover on the 19th, 24th and 30th; and Lake City on the 17th, 18th and 31st.

Agricultural College Notes.

The old board of trustees met Friday afternoon and evening, and settled up all business from under their administration, and turned the college and all effects over to the new board.

The new board, W. S. McCornick, Dr. Graham, Col. A. Lewis, Mr. Hansen, and Mr. Merrill, with Sundancer Sheets and Richards, met Saturday morning and organized, by electing Mr. McCornick president, Joseph S. Lyon treasurer and J. E. Hyde secretary.

The new board did no college business, but after organizing adjourned to meet at Salt Lake City April 28. It is rumored that some additions will be made to the faculty, and some changes made to the personnel of that body.

An expression was recently taken among the students as to the expediency of shortening the college year and lengthening the college week. It was thought by some that this might obviate the necessity of so many leaving before the end of the college year. The vote of college students was almost unanimous against the change; the preparatory students favored it.

Commencement exercises will extend from June 7 to June 10 and include a baccalaureate address, exercises of literary societies, commencement week address and addresses and lists of the graduating class. J. L. Ebert has been chosen valedictorian. The president of the college is to address graduates in addition to his address. M.
