BLESS THE LITTLE GIRLS

Three of Them Send Comfort Bags to Be Given to Uncle Sam's Jackies.

THINKS THE BATTERY WILL GO WEST.

Captain Jennings Has No Reason to Believe that the Original Plans Have Been Changed.

While the newspaper men was at the Red Cross headquarters this morning a lady came to with an basket containing bags made by Helen Rendall, aged 11, Frances Nott, aged 10, and Pree Clark, aged 10. They were sent by their little girls with the request that they be given to one of our soldier boys and accompanying them was the assurance that she never would follow by the end of the week. There will be just six brave boys in line who will at some time call to mind each night the beauty of these little girls who are putting their sweet time to such noble and patriotic uses. Here is an example for others of the good girls of this city. If they will go to the Red Cross headquarters they will be told what to do and how to do it, and every other time that these girls may make will add one more thread to the silken line that bind the hearts of all Americans to their country.

STRUCK A "SNAG."

The Indian yesterday prepared a Mt pile of sunflowers to sell on Idaho's park during the progress of the baseball game, but when they attempted to dispose of them they were confronted by an regulation which prohibits the sale and forbidden to sell them on the grounds. The man said he paid for the privilege of selling such things on the park and that he only was entitled to dispose of things of the nature, and that he was obliged to have sold them perhaps in order to "make ends." The Indian, however, think he might have been patronized and allowed them to dispose of the sunflowers they had made, and thus add to the proceeds of the day, which was not very large under the circumstances. As it was, the Indian was obliged to give the sunflowers away rather than allow them to spoil. There was also nearly fifty pounds of ice had remaining. This was disposed of today.

The ladies of the society are setting their heads together to think of something else they can do for their organization.

LEFT FIVE DOLLARS.

A gentleman called this morning and laid a five-dollar bill on the table, asking the ladies to use the money for the objects of the society. At first he did not desire to give his name, but the ladies pleaded upon him to do so eventually. He is H. J. Crandall of Millcreek.

STICKS TO THE WEST.

When asked this morning as to the prospects for early orders for battery C, Captain Jennings said he had an idea that when such would come, but that they could be looked for at any moment, and that when orders to move did come, they would occasion no surprise and that the battery would be prepared to obey them in case. The possibility that battery C might be sent east instead of west was mentioned by the "News" man, and Captain Jennings replied that he was entirely in a position to even think of forming an opinion on that point, because he was entirely in the dark as to the orders which were come from the adjutant general, so far as the authorities directing the battery would take. "I may say, however, and the captain, that when Governor Wells was first requested to take the battery, the accompanying instructions and information were to the effect that as soon as the recruiting had been completed, the fact was to be reported at once to the adjutant general and orders would be issued for the battery to proceed to San Francisco. The war department does not carry out its orders in this instance, and then only when something extraordinary arises in the way of change in the original plan. In this instance I am inclined to believe that when the orders come for battery C to move, they will be in accordance with the original plan which was to send us to San Francisco.

FOUGHT A BRUSH FIRE.

About 7 o'clock last night a fire started in the brush near Fort Douglas and the boys of the battery had to turn out in order a half hour. At one time the fire threatened the lower barracks.

SERVICES TOMORROW.

Remains of the Late H. A. Lee to be Placed in Olivet Receiving Vault.

Mr. H. S. Lee of Beatrice, Nebraska, son of the late H. A. Lee, whose demise was chronicled in Tuesday evening's "News," arrived in this city today to attend to the details of the obsequies. The funeral services will be held at O'Donnell & Co's undertaking parlors at 2 o'clock tomorrow morning. The remains will be placed in the receiving vault at Mt. Olivet until arrangements for shipment to Greenwood, Cass county, Nebraska, for final interment are made. It will probably be sixty days before this can be done.

The undertaking firm of O'Donnell & Co. is situated at 3 West Temple, and Third South, and outside of the above record are believed to be present during the service.

COMBINATION WOULDN'T WORK.

Same Burglaries Meditating with the Safe in County Clerk's Office Causes Delay.

When County Clerk D. C. Dunbar reached his office on the third floor of the city and county building this morning, he found that some one had been tampering with the combination of the safe which contains the county records. Only known to one or two of his employes himself, the combination of the office safe is considered quite a protection against old records are kept in the safe which, and as no employes could gain access to the safe without the knowledge of a sufficiency for operation of two persons, the idea of the combination being changed was thought to be a good one. It is the opinion of the clerk that the burglars who attempted to open the safe had not the combination, but that they had tried to force the lock, and that they had succeeded in so far as to make it necessary to have the combination changed before it could be opened by the proper parties.

Mr. Dunbar said this morning that he had not been in his office since Saturday afternoon, and that he had left the safe in good condition. He said that the combination had been changed, and that it was not known to any one except himself and two other persons.

Mr. Dunbar said that he had not been in his office since Saturday afternoon, and that he had left the safe in good condition. He said that the combination had been changed, and that it was not known to any one except himself and two other persons.

MINOR MENTION.

The Tribune Printers are at Garfield this week.

John H. Commack is said to have recently expectorated.

Mr. Henry Dwyer of Denver is in town on a business trip.

Mr. Joseph Jennings, formerly of this city, is now in Denver.

Mr. Walter Stewart Reed was the guest of honor at the Alta club last night.

The Gem Novelty Company is taking on all the city at the Salt Lake and Park theaters.

Mrs. Moore and Master Hinkle and Master Kimball will give a lawn party this evening.

Mr. Joseph Ivy, an ex-boy, is visiting his parents, the families of Prosper Park on the hill.

Frank Walters made a pile day of it in Logan, yesterday, with Joseph Jenkins and Frank Hogan.

Rev. Geo. Bailey of Denver, Rev. Mr. Hill, is the pastor of the Presbyterian church in this city.

M. L. Hinkle was last night elected colonel of the N. G. U., and H. H. Lewis was chosen major of the 2nd battalion.

Indications are that the Democratic party is likely to have trouble in the ranks if the women are not properly considered.

Assistant Surgeon McKenzie of the engineers has been informed he is ready to go to Chicago upon receiving notification.

The Republican county committee will meet next Monday evening in the Knutsford for the purpose of calling a county convention.

It is reported that the two barbecues of the Sunday committees at Fort Douglas will have for Fourth of July, Sunday and Monday.

A. F. Stapely of Denver has arrived in town in the last section of regulars and is now at Fort Douglas. He is not found and business materials, he has 10 days.

Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Perry, married last evening, have gone to Colorado Springs, Manitou and Denver. They will go to Idaho Springs, their future home, on Sept. 1.

A barbecue, when given for a good purpose so that deserving the use of the grounds, is a commendable thing, but when it is for a private or profit-making purpose it is not right under the circumstances. As it was, the ladies were obliged to give the sandwiches away rather than allow them to spoil. There was also nearly fifty pounds of ice had remaining. This was disposed of today.

The ladies of the society are setting their heads together to think of something else they can do for their organization.

LEFT FIVE DOLLARS.

A gentleman called this morning and laid a five-dollar bill on the table, asking the ladies to use the money for the objects of the society. At first he did not desire to give his name, but the ladies pleaded upon him to do so eventually. He is H. J. Crandall of Millcreek.

STICKS TO THE WEST.

When asked this morning as to the prospects for early orders for battery C, Captain Jennings said he had an idea that when such would come, but that they could be looked for at any moment, and that when orders to move did come, they would occasion no surprise and that the battery would be prepared to obey them in case. The possibility that battery C might be sent east instead of west was mentioned by the "News" man, and Captain Jennings replied that he was entirely in a position to even think of forming an opinion on that point, because he was entirely in the dark as to the orders which were come from the adjutant general, so far as the authorities directing the battery would take. "I may say, however, and the captain, that when Governor Wells was first requested to take the battery, the accompanying instructions and information were to the effect that as soon as the recruiting had been completed, the fact was to be reported at once to the adjutant general and orders would be issued for the battery to proceed to San Francisco. The war department does not carry out its orders in this instance, and then only when something extraordinary arises in the way of change in the original plan. In this instance I am inclined to believe that when the orders come for battery C to move, they will be in accordance with the original plan which was to send us to San Francisco.

FOUGHT A BRUSH FIRE.

About 7 o'clock last night a fire started in the brush near Fort Douglas and the boys of the battery had to turn out in order a half hour. At one time the fire threatened the lower barracks.

SERVICES TOMORROW.

Remains of the Late H. A. Lee to be Placed in Olivet Receiving Vault.

Mr. H. S. Lee of Beatrice, Nebraska, son of the late H. A. Lee, whose demise was chronicled in Tuesday evening's "News," arrived in this city today to attend to the details of the obsequies. The funeral services will be held at O'Donnell & Co's undertaking parlors at 2 o'clock tomorrow morning. The remains will be placed in the receiving vault at Mt. Olivet until arrangements for shipment to Greenwood, Cass county, Nebraska, for final interment are made. It will probably be sixty days before this can be done.

The undertaking firm of O'Donnell & Co. is situated at 3 West Temple, and Third South, and outside of the above record are believed to be present during the service.

COMBINATION WOULDN'T WORK.

Same Burglaries Meditating with the Safe in County Clerk's Office Causes Delay.

When County Clerk D. C. Dunbar reached his office on the third floor of the city and county building this morning, he found that some one had been tampering with the combination of the safe which contains the county records. Only known to one or two of his employes himself, the combination of the office safe is considered quite a protection against old records are kept in the safe which, and as no employes could gain access to the safe without the knowledge of a sufficiency for operation of two persons, the idea of the combination being changed was thought to be a good one. It is the opinion of the clerk that the burglars who attempted to open the safe had not the combination, but that they had tried to force the lock, and that they had succeeded in so far as to make it necessary to have the combination changed before it could be opened by the proper parties.

Mr. Dunbar said this morning that he had not been in his office since Saturday afternoon, and that he had left the safe in good condition. He said that the combination had been changed, and that it was not known to any one except himself and two other persons.

Mr. Dunbar said that he had not been in his office since Saturday afternoon, and that he had left the safe in good condition. He said that the combination had been changed, and that it was not known to any one except himself and two other persons.

AN ELEVATOR BOY INJURED.

Jenny E. Evans Sues the Greenback Company for $20,000.

Its Damages for Alleged Injuries Received While in the Defendant's Employ, Eight Years Ago.

James E. Evans filed a second amended complaint against The Greenback company in the Third District court today for alleged injuries received on the night while in the employ of the defendant, some eight years ago.

The complaint goes into detail to the fact of that the plaintiff was in the employ of the defendant company, in the capacity of elevator boy, in the Walker block, where the Greenback now is now located.

Plaintiff then alleges that on the date named he was ordered by the defendant to go and repair a broken elevator, and that while he was doing so, plaintiff says he was had been injured for life. He alleges that he was ordered to go to the elevator, and that he was injured, by being thrown with a damaging force back, he alleges, and that he was injured for life.

Proceeding a ladder is placed, and with the work and while leaning over the elevator, he alleges that he was thrown violently and with great force to the floor