Amusements.

Mr. Innes begins his engagement at the Theatre tonight. Tomorrow night he makes his last appearance. This week promises vigorous and musical dissent was born in London, England, October 29, 1834. Coming to America in 1874 he at once forced himself to the fore as a school of pleasure and ability, success followed in succession. Innes has not alone the ability of giving perfect renditions of Jonifer works, but he also possesses large creative genius.

He is said to be a startling sensational novelty.

IN LEGAL QUARTERS.

Cases Before Judges Zane and Anderson This Morning.

This has been a somewhat dull morning in the several courts, the only matters that count up being the following:

JOHNSON'S BOND REFUSED.

Attorney Reilly, on behalf of Alexander Johnson (who is charged with perjury in connection with Rev. W. Phipps, jr.), applied to Judge Zane for a reduction of the defendant's bond from $1000 to $500. Counsel said he had been endeavoring to procure the bond originally fixed by the court, but had been unable to do so. It, however, it were reduced he thought he should be able to raise the bond amount among Johnson's friends and acquaintances. He felt certain that there was no reason for thinking the defendant would go away to avoid trial.

In answer to the judge, Prosecuting Attorney Stephens said he had no desire to impose any undue hardship upon Johnson. All he wanted was such a bond as would produce his person when required. He thought $500 a very small amount on which to hold him in a case of this kind. He, however, 500 would secure the appearance of the defendant when required to be on hand, he would be more than inclined to the defendant's wants he was at present confined.

Judge Zane—Well, let the bond be reduced to $500.

MCCLANY'S DISCHARGE ORDERED.

Thomas McClanny, the northwestern man indicted by the grand jury on a charge of appropriating to his own use a sum of money recently stolen from one James Borton by Ellie Smith, the young colored woman, on Second South street, was brought into court and arraigned. Counsel for the defendant, who was called to the stand by the court to be sworn to employ an attorney, he replied that he did not employ counsel in doing so, as he was quite innocent. He failed to see why he had been arrested at all. Judge Zane told the defendant that if he had the means to engage an attorney he had better do so. McClanny has not yet furnished the $500 bond required as the price of his temporary liberty.

JOHNSON'S SENTENCE.

National Bank of the Republic vs. — Hoppert et al.; defendant was allowed upon application of Judge Reilly, until November 1 to answer.

In the case of Hudson vs. Christiansen et al., leave was granted to amend the complaint.

Childs Master vs. Cyrus L. Hawley, Mr. Van Horne appeared for the plaintiff and Stephens & Schroeder for the defendant. This case, which involved a question of contract, was heard by Judge Zane on an agreed statement of facts, and submitted.

The Peoples vs. William Grieves was referred to Commissioner Smith to take a bond in $250.

The case of Ellen L. Fallon vs. Lorenzo D. Hoxey, being an action to recover a sum of money on a promissory note, was then taken up, and was in progress at noon.

SUMMARY JUDGE ANDERSON.

Fred Tilt et al. vs. Nancy J. Ross, Hix Homer, in this case, submitted on Tuesday, ordered each party to pay their own costs, which signifies judgment for neither.

William Eckessley et al. vs. E. T. Kjiebtom et al.; herein also submitted, leave was found for the defendants. Injunction denied and restraining order discharged. Plaintiff intimated his intention of appealing to the Territorial Supreme Court.

In the case of James W. Earley vs. D. D. Houk, herein also submitted, the demurrer was overruled, ten days being allowed to answer.

In the case of S. S. Milner et al. vs. Joseph Hauerbach, a motion by defendant to dismiss the action at plaintiff's cost was granted.

In the case of W. H. Whitney vs. George W. Moyer, United States commissioner, et al., the demurrer to amended complaint was in course of argument by Attorney Tullock when the court adjourned until 2 p.m.

GOSSIP NOTES.

Commissioner Norrell, who has been in very indifferent health for some time a week past, is now confined to his room.

Tuesday in the important mining suit of J. L. Gallmer, W. H. Hemingway and George M. Scott vs. the Yosemite Mining and Milling Company of Bingham, which commenced in Judge Anderson's court yesterday morning, after the case had gone on all day, a discussion between judge and counsel resulted in an order being entered by D. C. Lyle to try all the issues and report his findings to the court. The witness was counsel are at work on the case today.

In Judge Zane's court yesterday afternoon, in the case of W. S. McCreich vs. R. C. Earl et al., judgment was rendered for the plaintiff against C. W. Earl for $240. In the case of Charles Thode, who was recently convicted of selling liquor on Sunday, a stay of forty days was allowed.

Commissioner Morse has had before him the case of A. H. Iuhs, publisher of this city, vs. McMartin & Darling. The suit was brought to recover pay for plumbing work done at E. C. Collis's residence in Dalton's place. It seems that the Plumbers' Union has a rule forbidding its members from taking subcontracts for work under a contractor, and requiring them to contract with the owners. To get around this, apparently, the plaintiff made his contract with the architects and did the work, and presumably got his pay from the contractor, Mr. Stephens. He then brought suit against McMartin & Darling, but on the eve showing the case was dismissed.

The three "Dan Sam" Chinamen run in by deputy marshals on Monday night came before Commissioner Norrell yesterday afternoon. Two of them were fined $12.50 each; the third man was discharged.

A nightwatchman named McKeever is in trouble. A few weeks ago, young colored woman named Ella Smith was arrested on a charge of stealing a purse from one James Barton, on Second South street, and she is now awaiting trial in the Third District court. The complaint in that McKeever afterwards picked up the purse in the exact spot which he expect will attract and appropriated it to his own use. He, however, protested his innocence when arrested yesterday, and even declined to furnish bonds.

Until an announcement has been made to that effect, Judge Anderson will not take up any more equity cases on the present docket.

James Foster, aged 26, of Aurora, State of Nebraska, and Eliza Cocks, 21, of Cornwall, England, were married in chambers this morning by Commissioner Norrell.

Returned Home.

Elder M. F. Tibbs, of the Tooele area of this city, has just returned home from a mission to the Sandwich Islands, for which part of the world he left home September 24, 1888. Nearly all of his time was spent on the island Oahu, he reports the mission in a prosperous condition.

Elder William H. Allen, of Hooper, Utah County, spoke in our tabernacle, being released yesterday morning from a mission to the Southern States. He departed for his field of labor November 14, 1888. On his way he visited Kansas City, where he labored for a few months, and was appointed to the Ozark district, where he labored for the first twelve months. He was then appointed to Arkansas, where he spent one year. The remaining six months were spent in Mississippi. Elder Allen returns in the fullness of spirits.

Elder P. O. Thomssen, editor of Bladet, died at Mechanic on the night of Oct. 20th, 1891, at his residence in the Eighteenth Ward, from paralysis. Deceased was born in Denmark, November 4, 1826, and was baptized by Elder Ferdinand Peterson at the age of fourteen years. When nineteen years of age he was called to Copenhagen, Denmark, where he labored in the Church office there for seven years, translating the Millennial Star from the English to the Danish language, which he immigrated to Utah in 1854, and was in the Globe factory three years. Which is the "Greatest on Earth"

The following, from Bandmaster Jones, who appears at the Theatre tonight, is self-explanatory:

THE EVENING NEWS,
SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH.

Editor Evening News, Salt Lake City, Utah:

Dear Sir—Having in my morning paper read the following, I feel called upon to ask the advertising in the Chicago Herald, to the effect that that organization was the greatest band of earth. As this is a figure that has been exploded to the land of which I have the honor to be the director, I feel it my duty to announce another of the New York press, public and professional, but whatever the bands have done, some bands may imagine I was somewhat started by the announcement, and I wish a public statement was made, that my business here, I am most unwillingly obliged to take up the horns and to give the citizens people an ample opportunity of appreciating the merits of the "Greatest on Earth." Now in the following engagement, I will not be obliged to remove and leave the Salt Lake people with drafts of old news. Now as the citizens people deposit a similar amount to the good residents of Chicago, I will leave when those can be found, and those who want to see a genuine exhibition of what a band can do, and be entertained by a band that is not a mere pretender, but a band that is the greatest on earth, and a band that will not be obliged to leave town with a bad name, I will be pleased to see you at the Theatre, where the programme is to consist of the most modern selected and performed by the Chicago band.

Four numbers selected and performed by the Dunn band.

Three numbers selected by myself, to be performed "at sight" by the Dunn band.

Four numbers selected by Mr. Gillette, to be performed "at sight" by the Dunn band.

And finally, Two numbers by the combined bands.

After the concert a decision shall be made as to the relative merits of the two bands by some one or more competent persons to be selected by the editors of the Chicago Herald and Bladet, or by persons who, on the band securing the decision, will be the best judge of the decision, the money, or the $500 deposited. The money and shall forfeit to such public institution as the winning band may select, the paper to deposit of $500, and to full reimbursement of its services to the amount of $500, of the receipts of said concert.

Trusting I have made myself plain, and that Mr. Gillette will either accept the offer or do away with his misleading advertisement.

I have the honor, etc.,

D. S. JONES,
Musical Director Dunn's Famous Thirteenth Regt. Band of New York.

DR. ELDRIDGE'S WILL

To Be Tested By His Alleged Unfaithful Wife.

The will of the late Dr. Eldridge, who committed suicide about two months ago by severing the carotid artery at his left arm with a razor, while in a fit of temporary insanity, is about to be contested in the Probate court of this county.

It will be remembered that the deceased married a young woman from Indianapolis who it now said is here present, herself a known adventuress; that the couple lived together in this city for more than a year, that their union was not brought with baptisms, and that a divorce finally ensued. Always of a gloomy disposition, the deceased now in his mind accidentally and in a large measure, it is alleged that he frequently wrote letters to his wife pleading for her to come home, but he executed very differently. Humor has it in this city that the runaway wife was found in Chicago with a paramour. These reports, counsel for defense will endeavor to prove, were the cause of the deceased's death.

Dr. Eldridge, in his will, made Mrs. Hoyt, his legal wife, his sole heirs and legatee. Mrs. Hoyt is represented by Attorneys Green and Gabler, while United States Prosecuting Attorney Dickson, Judge Reilly and Harris appear for Mrs. Eldridge.

Counsel for Mrs. Hoyt offered the will for probate two weeks ago, but the case was postponed until this morning, Oct. 30th. It now will be argued for 48 months before Judge Barton. The will is being contested on the ground that the testator was insane at the time it was drawn up.

Mrs. Hoyt is willing to compromise by giving Mrs. Eldridge her one-third of the real estate, but this offer has been refused.

If the will is broken the latter will get one-half of the property, while the remainder will go to a cousin of the deceased. The property involved is worth about $15,000.

SIMPSON D. HUFFAKER.

Sketch of His Life and Account of His Funeral.

Brother Simpson D. Huffaker, of South Cottonwood ward, whose death, as already announced, occurred last Sunday evening, was buried yesterday, the funeral service being held in the family residence, according to the expressed wish, and at the place of interment being in the family cemetery, near by. The speakers on the occasion were long-time friends and intimate acquaintances, among whom were Counselor Joseph E. Taylor and Bishop Joseph S. Rawlins and S. M. Nonns, the latter mentioned being a nephew of the deceased.

The deceased was of German extraction, his grandfather, Michael Huffaker, who was born in Germany about the year 1750, having emigrated to America and settled in Virginia where about twenty years of age. One of his sons, Jacob, subsequently removed to Mercer county, Ky., where his son, the deceased, was born July 23, 1811, and where he lived until he was seventeen years of age, when he migrated to Morgan county, Ill. There he married his first wife, Susannah G. Robinson, February 23, 1834, and shortly afterwards removed to Bureau county, Ill., at which place he heard the Gospel and joined the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, September 16, 1846. He then returned to Nauvoo in the spring of 1846, and there his wife died, leaving him with five small children.

He married his second after the expulsion of the Saints in the fall of 1846, and was seized with chills and fever on the Mississippi, three miles down, and was obliged to winter there, but resumed the journey the next spring in company with Brigham Young's first company. Upon the plains Brother Huffaker was captain of ten. He reached Salt Lake Valley Oct. 3, 1847, and settled at South Cottonwood on the farm which he has ever since occupied, in the spring of 1848. In the spring of 1849 he led a company to California and returned the next year with several companions. He helped to build Salt Lake county from 1854 to 1859. In the fall of 1856 he was ordained a member of the presidency of the Seventh Quorum of Seventies. During that same autumn he went on a business trip to the States in company with Darby D. Pratt, the latter never asked for position or subsidy, but was extremely modest and unobtrusive. He was a man, however, of sterling integrity and unswerving faith, and he filled every office to which he was called with honor. He was essentially a home man, and although respected and beloved by all his acquaintances he was but appreciated by those who were most intimate with him. He was a kind and loving husband, a loyal and indulgent father, humbleness and generous to a marked degree, and well calculated to give the citizens people an ample opportunity of appreciating the merits of the "Greatest on Earth." Now as the following engagement, I will not be obliged to remove and leave the Salt Lake people with drafts of old news. Now as the citizens people deposit a similar amount to the good residents of Chicago, I will leave when those can be found, and those who want to see a genuine exhibition of what a band can do, and be entertained by a band that is not a mere pretender, but a band that is the greatest on earth, and a band that will not be obliged to leave town with a bad name, I will be pleased to see you at the Theatre, where the programme is to consist of the most modern selected and performed by the Chicago band.

Four numbers selected and performed by the Dunn band.

Three numbers selected by myself, to be performed "at sight" by the Dunn band.

Four numbers selected by Mr. Gillette, to be performed "at sight" by the Dunn band.

And finally, Two numbers by the combined bands.

After the concert a decision shall be made as to the relative merits of the two bands by some one or more competent persons to be selected by the editors of the Chicago Herald and Bladet, or by persons who, on the band securing the decision, will be the best judge of the decision, the money, or the $500 deposited. The money and shall forfeit to such public institution as the winning band may select, the paper to deposit of $500, and to full reimbursement of its services to the amount of $500, of the receipts of said concert.

Trusting I have made myself plain, and that Mr. Gillette will either accept the offer or do away with his misleading advertisement.

I have the honor, etc.,

D. S. JONES,
Musical Director Dunn's Famous Thirteenth Regt. Band of New York.

John Dillon Pelted with Stones.

CORK, Oct. 28.—John Dillon was pounced and attacked last night while attempting to attend an anti-Parnell meeting. He was pelted with stones, and dirtied with mud, and was saved from blows by the force from a stick. The injury is not of a serious nature, but the outrage is very serious. The police must keep quiet. Consequently the injured parliamentarian has ceased his work of canvassing in behalf of the members of the McCarthyite party.

The fighting which took place between the McCarthyites and Parnellites last night in the streets of this city was more serious than first dispatches stated. There was a series of scurrilous letters between the contending parties, the second one of which Mr. John Dillon was dishonest. Crowds of McCarthyites were upon that occasion accompanying Dillon and Dillonites were upon the way to attend a McCarthyite meeting. The McCarthyites came into collision with the Parnellites. Nearly ended weeks give way to the other, and a general melee followed, several thousand constables taking part, knocking down and trampling on each other, and some stones were thrown. The McCarthyites succeeded in wounding the Dillonites from the hands of the former, and the Dillonites, the McCarthyites from their hands of the latter. Upon arriving at the Morrel place where the meeting was held, Dillonites attempted to enter the hall, but were refused admittance by the McCarthyites.

Meanwhile the rented Parnellites, with reinforcements, made another attempt upon the Dillonites, and they charged into the square, slashing right and left with their Shillelaghs and spilling many heads. The McCarthyites, seeing they largely outnumbered, were slowly driven back. Then, for a time, the Parnellites held the market place, and the McCarthyites were forced to retire in confusion and time strengthened, they again rallied in a compact body and made a charge at the Parnellites, which was most desperate battle the Parnell force was routed.

Many on both sides were injured in addition to those mentioned as having been taken to hospitals to have their wounds attended to.

Canadian Discussion.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—In Canadian circles in England, great disappointment is expressed at the failure of the British possessions authorities to make the necessary arrangements for a fast mail service between Canada and Great Britain. Canadians claim their government has done everything possible to induce British capitalists and the English government to undertake to furnish between Canada and England a postal service equal to the best now in use between New York and England, but, it is added, in spite of all efforts in this direction, the Canadians and those directly interested in Canada have failed to accomplish the object they had in view.

The Cartoonist in Valparaiso.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—There was little or no excitement in official circles here this morning over a Santiago press telegram announcing the receipt by the minister of an unsatisfactory response from the Junta to the representatives of the United States, and saying that the "Baltimore" crew was practically boycotted at Valparaiso. Naval officials discredit the latter statement and believe the former is due to the ingenious coffee adopted by commodore Schley, respecting the granting of liberty to his sailors during the present condition of affairs. No word was received at the navy department from the commander-in-chief regarding new phase in the situation. A cipher cablegram from Minister Egan was received this morning at the State department, but its contents was not made known.

Pronounced Hopeless, Yet Saved.

From a letter written by Mrs. Ada E. Hurd, of Groton, S. D., we quote: "Was taken with a bad cold, which settled on my Lungs, cough set in and finally developed in Consumption. Four doctors gave me up, saying I could not live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Saviour, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. Kings New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. I gave it a trial, took in all, eight bottles; it has cured me, and I thank God I am now well and healthy woman." Trial bottles free at A. C. Smith & Co's Drug Store, regular size 50c. and $1.00 4

I had a severe attack of catarrh and became so deaf I could not hear common conversation. I suffered horribly from nasting in my head. I procured a bottle of Ely's Cream Balm, and in three weeks could hear as well as ever. I could not say too much in favor of this remedy, and would say to all who are afflicted with the worst of diseases, catarrh, take Ely's Cream Balm and be cured. It is worth $1,000 to any man, woman or child suffering from catarrh.—A. E. Newman, Gingling, Mich.
