CONGRESSIONAL.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, 28.—Chaffee, from the committee on Territories, reported, with amendment, the Senate bill to establish the territory of Lincoln and to provide a temporary government therefor. Placed on the calendar.

It was ordered that when the Senate adjourn to-day it be to meet on Monday next.

The resolution of Plum, directing the Secretary of the Interior to inquire of the government directors of the Union Pacific Railroad Company as to the nature of the securities taken or held by that company for aid granted by it to the Colorado Central and other roads, was agreed to.

Paddock introduced a bill to provide for the construction of a bridge across the Missouri river at Decatur, Neb. Referred.

The House bill to authorize a special term of the circuit court of the United States for the southern district of Mississippi, to be held at Scranton, Jackson county, was taken up and discussed at length.

Eustis submitted an amendment, providing for a special term to be held at St. Charles parish, Louisiana, on the second Monday of April next, for the trial of cases growing out of the action of government in seizing timbers.

During the discussion, news was received that the House was voting on the passage of the silver bill.

Allison immediately entered a motion to reconsider the vote by which the Senate had agreed to adjourn over until Monday.

Subsequently Edmunds moved to adjourn.

The motion was rejected by a rising vote, yeas 13, nays 35.

The motion for an executive session was also rejected.

At 2:10 p. m. a message was received from the House, announcing that it passed the bill notwithstanding the objections of the President.

After some further discussion of the pending question, at the request of Lamar, Eustis withdrew his amendment to the bill under consideration.

Blaine said the Secretary of the Interior had been adopting a line of policy in regard to timber lands, without due notice, harshly and without regard to individual right, in various parts of the country, which had called forth a great deal of public criticism. The delegate from Montana, a gentleman in whom he had every confidence, had furnished him with facts as to the harsh policy of the Secretary of the Interior in regard to timber land in that Territory.

Edmunds said Blaine had shown his fairness towards the Secretary of the Interior by informing the Senate that he favored this bill because of the action of the Secretary of the Interior in some other part of the country.

Conkling called Allison's attention to the silver bill on the table, and asked what the majority intended to do with it.

Allison said its friends were ready to proceed with it.

Conkling, Hamlin and others favored the speedy disposal of the bill and, on motion, the pending business was tabled, 44 to 9.

The chair then presented the silver bill, with the objections of the President.

Edmunds and Whyte objected, but the objections were overruled and the motion of Allison, to take up the silver bill, was agreed to.

Conkling suggested that the reading of the bill be dispensed with, but Sargent insisted on it.

On the roll call, the bill was then passed over the veto, yeas 46, nays 19.

As it required a two-thirds vote to pass the bill, the pairs to be equal were two advocates of the measure with one opponent, and they were announced as follows: Oglesby and Ransom, who would have voted in the affirmative, with Anthony, who would have voted in the negative; Cameron (Wis.) and Booth, who would have voted in the affirmative, with Burnside, who would have voted in the negative; Cameron (Penn.) and Armstrong, who would have voted in the affirmative, with Edmunds, who would have voted in the negative.

Christiancy and Sharon were absent.

When the name of Hill was called, he said, "I do not know the rules of the Senate, but I would like to make a brief statement."

Several Senators objected.

President pro tem.—"Objection is made."

Hill—"Then I vote aye."

Edmunds said that being obliged to leave the city in a day or two, he had arranged for a pair on this bill, but different from the one announced.

The master of pairs, his friend from Iowa, Allison, had arranged differently. Had he (Edmunds) known that the vote would be taken on this bill to-day, he would not have agreed to pair. He thought, out of respect to the President, the message should be laid over till to-morrow.

The President pro tempore, in announcing the vote, said: "Two-thirds of the Senate having voted in its favor, the bill is passed and becomes a law."

Allison withdrew his motion to reconsider the vote by which the Senate agreed to adjourn over until Monday.

The motion to adjourn and another to go into executive session were both rejected and the Senate resumed consideration of the bill to authorize a special term of the Circuit United States Court in the district of Mississippi, and it was passed, notwithstanding the adverse report of the judiciary committee, yeas 30, nays 15, and the Senate adjourned until Monday.

HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, 28.—Whitthorne, from the naval committee, reported back the bill requiring detailed appropriations for the navy, the object being to prevent an improper use of the appropriation. The bill passed.

Willis, from the same committee reported back the bill appropriating $50,000 for the expenses of establishing a temporary colony and for an expedition to the Arctic sea. Referred to the committee of the whole.

The President's veto message was received, which the speaker laid before the House.

Stephens moved the previous question on the passage, which was seconded enthusiastically.

Cox remarked that it was a charge of fraud by a fraud. The words were objected to by McCook and he demanded that they be taken down, but the speaker ruled them out of order and said they would not go in the record.

The vote was then taken, with the following result: 196 ayes, 73 noes.

The last three votes were cast by Bragg, Cook and Kelley, all of whom had been absent from the House by illness, but came up in time, by unanimous consent to record their votes, which they did in the affirmative.

The Speaker announced the veto, and said: "In obedience to the requirement of the Constitution, two-thirds have voted in the affirmative and the bill has passed, the objections of the President to contrary notwithstanding."

The announcement was received with general hand-clapping and other marks of jubilation.

The bill and veto message were thereupon sent to the Senate.

The House then went into committee of the whole and resumed consideration of the bill to pension soldiers of the Mexican and Indian wars.

After speeches by Williams of Alabama, Williams of Oregon, Ryan, White and Riddle, the committee proceeded to consider the bill by sections.

During the speech made by Singleton, he sent to the clerk's desk and had read a letter from Jefferson Davis, requesting him (Singleton) to inform the friends of the bill that if the success of the bill depended on excluding him (Davis) from its benefits, he hoped that such provision would be inserted in it.

Singleton proceeded to eulogize Davis, declaring that this was but another proof of his great magnanimity, and explained that that gentleman had been in favor of delaying, as long as possible, the act of secession passed by Mississippi, in the hopes of reconciliation with the north.

The committee then rose and the House adjourned.

EASTERN.

Decline in Gold.

NEW YORK, 28.—Gold declined 1 and governments were strengthened on the announcement of the President's veto and a contrary movement occurred on the passage over the veto by the House. The exchange closed before the Senate's decision was known.

Chinese Immigration.

WASHINGTON, 28.—Horace Davis, in his argument on Chinese immigration, to-day, alluded to the labor contracts under which the Chinese are brought here; to their entire failure to assimilate with our institutions; to the constantly changing character of the Chinese population of California, and to the danger of establishing on the Pacific coast what might become virtually a foreign state in our midst. He alluded to the position of Utah, in defying our laws against polygamy, etc.; to the danger that the Chinese might, some day, become citizens and voters, and control the fortunes and destiny of California, and urged this committee to take active measures to avoid the possibility of a similar casualty.

Passage of the Silver Bill over the Veto.

The passage of the silver bill over the presidential veto was almost universally considered a foregone conclusion, but the actual accomplishment of the result, and especially the emphatic promptitude which characterized the action of both houses, caused great excitement at the capital to-day, and little else is talked about to-night throughout Washington. The President's unqualified denunciation of the bill as a fraud upon public and private creditors incensed and solidified all those who had previously voted for it, and the only legislative effect of the message was to cause several members of the House to vote for the measure who had previously voted to lay it on the table. Townsend, republican, from the Troy, N. Y. district, was one of those who came over to the silver men under this pressure. Davis voted to sustain the veto. All the other Pacific Coast representatives voted to override it. There were no changes from the former votes of the senators on this question, except that of Hill, who made a speech against the bill, and was heretofore announced as paired against it, voted for it to-day. Sargent and Mitchell voted to sustain the veto. Jones and Grover were recorded against sustaining the veto, and Booth would also have voted for the final bill, but was paired. Taking into account the three opponents of the bill and the six of its friends against whom they were doubly paired, and assuming that Christiancy and Sharon, who were absent without pairs, would have voted on opposite sides, the full vote of the Senate on the question of overriding the veto would have been 33 against 33. The unprecedented feature of the day's proceeding concerning the veto was the entire absence of any effort or apparent desire to debate it.

Kidnapping Negroes.

Several weeks ago the President received a letter from a reliable source, stating that the writer was in possession of facts capable of direct proof to effect that colored men, citizens of Florida, had been kidnapped and transported across the Gulf of Mexico to Cuba, and there sold into slavery. The writer says members of the families of some enslaved citizens had received intelligence from Cuba from their relatives, stating that they were held in bondage there, and the matter was communicated to the President for such action in the premises as might be deemed best calculated to vindicate the American dignity, in view of a procedure so grossly in violation of civilization times. The contents of the letter occasioned much surprise to the President. With a view to ascertaining the truth of the statement, he dispatched, as confidential agent, to Cuba, Judge Leonard, republican member from Louisiana in the House of Representatives.

Silver Dollars.

CHICAGO, 28.—The Tribune's Washington special says: One million dollars has been placed to the credit of the Philadelphia mint, and $200,000 to the credit of the Carson City mint, so that both can begin work on silver dollars at once.

FOREIGN.

GREAT BRITAIN.

The Eastern Question.

LONDON, 28.—In the House of Commons to-night, Northcote stated that government was still uninformed of the final terms of peace, but if the injuriously affected British interests, government would take the proper course to vindicate and protect those interests. This declaration was received with loud cheers.

The greater part of the Russian conditions has been accepted by the Porte. It is expected the treaty will be signed next Tuesday. The delay was caused by the Turks objecting to the inclusion of Salonica and Debeagutch in Bulgaria.

The Times says the present vacillation of Austria is more dangerous to peace than a clear and resolute expression of military purpose.

Negotiations are proceeding between Russia and Servia, the object of which is to allow Russia to occupy Belgrade, if a conflict with Austria should become inevitable.

The nomination of Lord Napier of Magdala to chief command, is producing great excitement at St. Petersburg. It is believed the peace treaty will be signed on Saturday, which is the anniversary of the Czar's accession.

HIGHEST HONORS

AT THE

UNITED STATES

CentenniaL

World Exhibition,

1876.

MASON & HAMLIN

ORGANS

Unanimously assigned the

"FIRST RANK

IN THE

"SEVERAL REQUISITES"

of such Instruments!

The MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN CO. have the honor to announce that the Organs of their manufacture have been unanimously assigned "the FIRST RANK in the SEVERAL REQUISITES of instruments of the class" by the Judges at the CENTENNIAL EXHIBITION at Philadelphia, 1876, and are the ONLY INSTRUMENTS OF THIS GENERAL CLASS AWARDED THIS RANK. This is after the severest competition by the best makers, before one of the most competent Juries ever assembled.

They have also received the MEDAL, but, as is well known, medals of equal merit have been awarded all articles deemed worthy of recognition; so thus it will be easy for many makers to advertise that they have received "first medals."

The difference in merit between articles, and their comparative excellence, are recognized in the Reports of the Judges from which the following is an extract:—

"THE MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN CO. exhibit at Real Organs, which, in their opinion, possess the elements of the FIRST RANK IN THE SEVERAL REQUISITES OF INSTRUMENTS OF THE CLASS, viz: Soundness and equal distribution of tone, range of expression, promptness and staying quality, freedom and quickness in action of keys and bellows, with thoroughness of workmanship, combined with simplicity of action."

(Signed by all the Judges.)

The Mason and Hamlin Organs are thus declared to rank first, not in one or two respects only, but in the SEVERAL REQUISITES of such instruments, and they are the Only ones assigned this rank. The "Triumph" was unexpected, for the Mason & Hamlin Cabinet Organs have uniformly been awarded the highest honors in competition in America, there having been scarcely six exceptions in hundreds of competitions. They were awarded highest honors and

FIRST MEDALS

PARIS, 1867; VIENNA 1873; SANTIAGO, 1875; PHILADELPHIA, 1876;

and have thus been awarded highest honors at

at which they have been exhibited; being the Only American Organs which have ever obtained Any Award at any competition with home makers, or in 867 European World's Exposition.

NEW STYLES, with improvements, exhibited at the CENTENNIAL elegant new cases in great variety. Prices very lowest consistent with best material and workmanship. Organs sold for cash or installments, or rented until paid for. Money refunded if not satisfactory after trial. Every reasonable endeavor is now made to secure the MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN.
