Last Night's Dispatches.

CONGRESSIONAL.

HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, 19.—The Speaker then called committees for reports of a public character.

Hanna, from the committee on naval affairs, reported adversely on the bills for the relief of Secor & Co., Nat. McKay, and Donald McKay. Laid on the table. Also the resolution authorizing the secretary of the navy to organize a board of three officers, not below the rank of rear admiral, which shall examine into the case of Commander Bushrod R. Taylor, and such other officers of the navy as may deem themselves unjustly passed over by the promotions made in conformity with the act of Congress, approved July 25th, 1866. Adopted.

Walsh, from the committee on invalid pensions, reported back the Senate bill increasing the pension of General Lew Wallace from $30 to $50 per month.

Wright (Texas) moved to amend by increasing the pension to $100. Agreed to and the bill passed.

Goode moved that the House go into committee of the whole on the private calendar and that the debate on the pending bill, the William and Mary College bill, be closed in two hours.

Conger opposed the latter motion which was, however, carried, yeas 107, nays [illegible].

After disposing of two hundred by voting upon private motions, the House took a recess until 7.30 p.m., the evening session to be for the consideration of business reported from the District of Columbia committee.

EVENING SESSION.

When the House met this evening, for District business, the Speaker called Vance to the chair.

Randall then said: "I rise for the first time in my life, I think, to a personal explanation. I find in the Star this evening a statement that I have verbally requested Mr. Glover, chairman of the committee on expenditures in the Treasury Department, to investigate the office of the sergeant-at-arms of this House. There is not a syllable of truth in the statement, nor a gleam of warrant for it. First, I know nothing whatever of the action of the sergeant-at-arms in the discharge of his duties that needs investigation, and, second, I have never had any conference with Glover on the subject, nor have I directly or indirectly had any communication with him. I think it is due to the sergeant-at-arms to state this. If I myself were the only one involved, I never would have noticed it, but as the statement reflects perhaps, on the honesty, fidelity and honor of another, I at once and promptly give this contradiction."

Blackburn, from the committee on the district of Columbia, reported back the bill relating to the Washington market company, which was briefly discussed, and without action the House adjourned.

EASTERN.

Arrested for Embezzlement.

NEW YORK, 19.—H. A. McIntyre, president of the Lake City Bank, Colorado, charged with embezzlement of $100,000, was arrested, to-day, by the Central Office detectives, on a requisition from the governor of Colorado. The prisoner was arrested at the Aberdeen Hotel, which is owned by his brother. He was delivered to the Colorado State officers, who started on the 6 o'clock train, on the Pennsylvania railroad, this evening, for Denver, direct.

Murder and Suicide.

TROY, O., 19.—Leonard Stroud, a farmer, aged 55, fatally stabbed his wife on Thursday and then cut his own throat, dying in a few moments. Mrs. Stroud died at noon to-day. The trouble was caused by a dispute about property.

CHICAGO, 19.—The Tribune's Cleveland special says: The tragedy at Troy, Ohio, was the most horrible that ever occurred in that locality. Stroud had left his wife because they disagreed about the children, but coming back to the house he demanded something to eat, and when his wife brought it he plunged a butcher knife into her abdomen twice, turning it around into the wound, and making a gash over five inches long. She broke loose and ran, screaming murder until she fell, with her bowels protruding. Stroud then deliberately cut his throat and windpipe, severing the jugular vein. The excitement is intense, and only Stroud's impending death prevented his lynching by the infuriated neighbors. He died in terrible agony. Mrs. Stroud is still alive.

France and the Tariff Bill.

WASHINGTON, 19.—The Secretary of the Treasury has transmitted to the House of Representatives a communication from the Bordeaux Chamber of Commerce, addressed to the President and to Congress. They say that in perusing the bill for tariff they have been deeply impressed by what concerns French wines, especially at a time when, to a certain extent, the ideas of free trade and the public financial situation, which has become very prosperous, had induced them to hope that the United States would gradually lower their custom house duties on different articles of importation. Lowering the rates would increase the revenue by increasing the trade.

Conflagration.

CINCINNATI, 19.—The Commercial's special reports the burning of an entire business block at Washington, Guernsey County, Ohio, this morning. The loss is variously estimated at from $12,000 to $20,000.

WESTERN.

Ex-Congressman Vance Insane.

SAN FRANCISCO, 19.—The Bulletin says: Ex-congressman Vance, of Ohio, is certainly in the city or suburbs. Letters and telegrams come for him addressed to the Lick House, care W. H. Lamb. They are taken away by a stranger to the manager of a house supposed to be a non-resident. A well known merchant of this city has received a copy of a telegram sent from here April 8th, to Mrs. Vance, with the request to ascertain if Vance was at the Lick House. The telegram read: "Your husband is here in safe, but harmless. Have you instructions? W. H. Lamb, Lick House."

FOREIGN.

BRITISH AMERICA.

Encounters Between Orangemen and Catholics.

MONTREAL, 19.—Several encounters occurred between the Orange Young Britons and Irish Catholics, to-day, in the city. As the Britons were marching to church this forenoon a Catholic attempted to cross through the procession. He was pursued into the Notre Dame Catholic church, where some fighting occurred. Chas. O'Hara, who attempted to shut the door on the intruders, was badly beaten.

There was more rioting at 11 to-night in Victoria Square. Stone-throwing and pistol-shooting were indulged in until a posse of police arrived and quelled the disturbance. An artillery volunteer named Cole, received some severe wounds, and policeman Martin was dangerously wounded in the head. Several large plate glass windows were broken. The police are out in strong force and have cleared the streets of the disturbing element. Considerable party feeling exists, arising out of the trials going on of those who took part in the late shooting affray in the city.

GREAT BRITAIN.

Serious Riot by Striking Miners.

LONDON, 19.—A serious riot has occurred at St. Ammenan, near Glasgow. Some miners on a strike attacked the sheriff's officers, who were serving notices of ejectment. Several houses were wrecked and the telegraph lines destroyed.

Eastern News Items.

The Porte had addressed a note to Grand Duke Nicholas, explaining the conditions of the promise made by Turkey to evacuate Shumla, Varna and Batoum. It says that a great part of the garrisons of these places have already been withdrawn. The treaty of peace does not fix any definite period for the evacuation, and, moreover, the positions respectively occupied now are conformable to the provisions of the armistice. The Porte promises that in proportion as the new Bulgarian territory is evacuated by the Russians, in accordance with the treaty, Turkey will successively surrender one fortress after another.

It is rumored that the Russians intend to stipulate for a certain date for the evacuation of Batoum, threatening otherwise to occupy Kavik on the Bosphorus. The arsenal of Tophane has been removed to Scutari.

The Turkish people and army favor England.

It is stated that the Russians have agreed to the annexation by Servia of the district of Wranja. It is believed the question of the possession of Pirot will be settled by a plebiscite.

The Journal des Debats declares the belief that the German mediation really aims at the re-establishment of the triple alliance and the isolation of England.

An English surgeon, who has just returned from Erzeroum, says that 15,000 sick and wounded Turkish soldiers have died since the evacuation of that city, and the Russians have lost 21,000 by sickness since they entered the plain of Erzeroum.

It is said that Russia, in view of Roumania's demands and the wishes of Europe for the effectual neutralization of the Danube, will abandon her claim to Reni and other points on the Danube above St. George's Canal, but will maintain her claims for Ismail, Belgrad and Cahoul, and insist upon the negotiation of a convention for establishing depots to facilitate the passage of troops through Roumania.

At a secret meeting of the Roumanian chamber, M. Bratiano, explaining the result of his mission to Vienna, said Roumania could rely upon the support of Austria and Germany, only in so far as the Bessarabian question involved the question of the freedom of the Danube.

Neither Germany nor Austria believed Russia intended to attack that freedom, and both would be satisfied with the neutralization of the Danube and certain guarantees in view of this state of affairs. M. Bratiano recommended that Roumania should come to an arrangement with Russia.

In consequence of this statement, several deputies, even from the government side, violently attacked Cogalniceano, minister of foreign affairs, for his recent misleading policy. Cogalniceano declared his readiness to resign if he was censured publicly.

The Russian representative has also complained to Prince Charles of violent language used by Cogalniceano, and pointed out that it would be more advantageous to appease the public mind than to bring about consequences for which Russia declined responsibility. Both the Russian and Roumanian armies continue to concentrate at strategical points.

Special dispatches from St. Petersburg indicate that a new hitch has occurred in the negotiations. One correspondent says, flatly, that Germany proposed that the congress should be summoned to revise the treaties of '56 and '71. Russia has accepted the proposal, but England has rejected it, and again insists on her original conditions. It now remains to be seen whether the dispute might not be settled by a preliminary conference.

Another correspondent says: Yesterday's sanguine expectations turn out to have been somewhat exaggerated, or at least premature. It appears that new difficulties have arisen. Negotiations, however, continue and may still lead to a successful result.

FRANCE.

The Paris Exposition—Arrangements for the Opening.

PARIS, 19.—Arrangements for the opening of the Exhibition on the 1st of May were settled at a cabinet council on Wednesday night. Shortly before 2 o'clock, M. Leliserence de Bort, Minister of Commerce, will receive in the grand vestibule of the Trocadero the foreign princes present on the occasion, namely, the Prince of Wales, Don Francois D. Assise, the Duke Aosta, Prince Frederic Crown Prince of Denmark, the Prince of Orange and the Duke de Leuchtenberg. After conducting them to the prince's saloon, he will receive the ambassadors, foreign commissioners, presidents and vice-presidents of the chambers, ministers, deputations, senators and deputies. Troops are being drawn up all along the route from the Elysee. Marshal MacMahon will first repair to the prince's saloon, and a procession will then be formed, which will march from the grand arcade to the platform overlooking the fountain, and commanding a view of all the buildings and grounds. Here M. Leliserence de Bort will welcome the Marshal in a short speech, and the Marshal will then declare the Exhibition opened. A hundred and one rounds from the guns at the Invalides on Mount Valerion and on an island in the Seine will follow the announcement. Military bands will strike up; all the fountains will play, and the soldiers stationed by the flagstaffs will hoist the flags of all nations on the roofs of the two palaces and the annexes. The Marshal will then reascend to the Trocadero Palace, the procession reforming, and, after completing the round of the building, will cross over the river to the Camp de Mars. The troops will be drawn up on or near the bridge. The terrace of Champ de Mars Palace will be occupied by the senators, deputies, the council of state, municipalities, academicians, the military staff, and French commissioners.

Entering by the central door, the procession will go through the grand vestibule decorated with the crown jewels, Sevres porcelain, gobelins, tapestries and the Prince of Wales' Indian collection. It will then pass through all the sections, the commissioners of each country greeting it at the door, and will next inspect the military school, where all the exhibition workmen will be stationed, and will hastily traverse the machinery annexes. Arriving at the gates, the Marshal will take leave of the princes and other distinguished personages and return to the Elysee.

Madame MacMahon and the wives of the ambassadors and ministers will be assigned stations behind the Trocadero platform.

The exhibition will be open to the public immediately at the close of the ceremony. Marshal MacMahon will hold a grand reception at the Elysee on the opening day, and also give a dinner in honor of the Prince of Wales and Duke Aosta.

The Journal des Debats states that in view of the decision of the German emperor to exclude from the German fine art section of the exhibition any picture recalling the war of 1870, the French government has resolved to exclude the French pictures commemorating that war.

BRITISH GENEALOGY.

LATTER-DAY Saints from Great Britain who require the genealogies of their forefathers (originally natives of England, Scotland, Wales, Channel Islands, or Isle of man) are hereby respectfully informed that, with the sanction of the proper authorities, I have undertaken the important task of collecting the same for religious purposes, from those countries.

Having traversed Great Britain extensively by land and sea, in many capacities, I rely on the earnestness and integrity of the British race of both sexes, for support, and offer my services to them as an humble instrument in the hands of God.

All persons desiring to employ me should apply immediately as this is a rare opportunity in connection with the great events of the Latter-day Work.

Circular of terms on application to HENRY GREENSIDES, Genealogist,
