City Warrants Wanted to Pay Special Taxes.

CHEMICAL WORKS FOR OGDEN.

Mining Matters in Beaver and Sevier Counties—News from Other Localities.

The demand for city warrants showed a slight decline today, as indicated by a fall in the cash price offered. On Tuesday 91 cents was paid, and yesterday 92 cents was reached by purchasers of warrants. Today the figure fell back 1 cent to 91 cents in some places, though most of those who need the city's paper to dispose of obtained 92 cents.

One reason for the demand for warrants at this particular time is that property owners on the streets where paving has been done want them to pay the special paving taxes. Many of these owners are merchants, and are therefore willing to take the warrants at par in exchange for goods. Taxpayers who cannot get them in this way are eager to buy at a discount and thus save a portion of cash which otherwise would have to go for taxes. The time for paying these assessments was up yesterday, hence the rush for warrants. All of the taxes have not been paid as yet, however, some of the property owners having secured a few days' extension of time in order to enable them to raise the cash or to buy up warrants.

There was a fresh load of the city's paper put into circulation today, about $700 having been paid out by Hill & Sons to their employes. This was invested in two small lots, and like other warrants for small sums, are used to a considerable extent as a circulating medium, and are a reminder of the day when "scrip" was issued by storekeepers.

THE CHEMICAL WORKS.

The promoters of an English syndicate to build a million dollar plant for chemical works in Ogden were considered by a meeting of business men of the Junction City last evening, at which J. E. Dealy of this city, who represents the syndicate, was present. The meeting adopted the following resolution, embodying the proposition that Ogden was willing to make to induce the syndicate to locate the plant:

Whereas, the United Alkali company of Great Britain is desirous of establishing a chemical works in the United States for the manufacture of chemical products from salt; and

Whereas, the city of Ogden, because of its proximity to the great Salt Lake, the railway facilities and the water power capacity of the Ogden and Weber rivers, offers an ideal location for the erection of said plant; therefore be it

Resolved, That the citizens of Ogden, in consideration of the location of the plant within or near the confines of the city, are an expenditure of not less than $100,000 in addition to the development of the water power, extend to the United Alkali company the offer of eighty acres of land as a site for the erection of the necessary buildings, also the right and privilege of the use of all of the waters of the Ogden or Weber rivers as they may choose for water power purposes, subject to existing rights for purposes of irrigation or city supply.

SEVEN "CLAIMS" SOLD.

Doctor Fenneman will next week start development work on the Mount Vernon, near the Helen McGregor prospect. If there is anything in that country Uncle George will hit it out.

On Monday Joseph Huntington took Mr. Daniel Ferguson up and showed him the Helen McGregor. Dan was in a pretty mood, and put in a coupon of sixty days' option on the mine. The result was to him a revelation. Great masses of solid quartz carrying free gold, all ore, a fair sample assay of which went $22 in gold and five ounces of silver. Another sample from the old tunnel went $16 in gold and four ounces in silver.

W. L. Cruff, of Mineville, is hard at work on his Indian creek prospect adjoining the Helen McGregor. He is running a tunnel to catch the contact at the crossing of the main vein, the course of which is northeast and southwest. The rock will be discovered as porphyritic granite and the hanging wall is of porphyry and quartzite. The tunnel has already driven the vein 100 to 120 feet down, and samples taken out show quartz and talc carrying fine pyrites of iron and fine gold. Mr. Cruff is satisfied with the showing made, and will soon resume work and cut through the vein.

A Chicago representative, in company with J. G. Mead, H. Coit and Tom Ferguson, of the Silverpick Mining and Milling company, and E. Hoffermann, an assayer from Marysvale, with W. T. Hall, the well-known mining man, paid the Silverpick country a visit on Monday last, to look over the property and take samples. Tom Ferguson, on behalf of the company, took over one hundred samples and if they are satisfactory, Mr. Hall will undoubtedly be a 25 stamp mill built and running within the next sixty days, in close proximity to the mine, as all parties interested are highly pleased with the Chicago group of mines. Great credit is due J. G. Mead for his energy in getting this property in shape on such short notice, and the business manner in which he manages mining affairs.

SICHERLIG "ADVOCATE" ITEMS.

News from the Annie Lorie mine in Clear Creek, owned by Captain Smith & Co., and under the superintendence of Mr. Cody, is to the effect that considerable gold was being turned out of their assets, and they were assured of a crushing success for the property.

Mr. J. Butler, of the Butler mine in Clear Creek, was in town this week, and reports their mine turning out gold in reasonable quantity for a low grading. They have an assets in operation, but they are only work-ing in very hard. Spring will soon commence on some late which is quite easily worked, and samples assayed by Mr. August Nelson lately give assurance of a huge bonanza. Mr. Butler will soon return to his mine and see what it contains in a practical way.

Mr. Christiansen, of the J. M. Peterson & Co. store, reports that last week a number of Colorado miners were in town, and as they were passing the store they observed a big fire where was the pioneer of President Cleveland. They entered the store and demanded that the pioneer be pulled down, as he was an enemy to the silver and the working men. Mr. C. pulled it down, remarking that it was not Democratic, it was a Republican flag, and as a matter, not as an government. This seem a little dark for strangers, for probably they were hungry and out of humor.

NOTES.

The miners of La Plata district, Wyoming, have petitioned Congress to extend for one year the time for doing assessment work on mining claims.

Caldwell, Idaho, dispatch: Men are in town representing a colony enterprise of some 200 families. The promoters go to Owyhee on Monday to look over a tract of land two miles from Caldwell and to construct a canal for the purpose of irrigating the land. The parties seem well pleased with the climate here and believe that their scheme is likely to be carried to completion. The location they have in view is one of the closest to southern Idaho and it can be reached from the Elko and Payette valley. The colonists are pleased with prospects of a bright and prosperous future.

Hailey, Idaho, Statesman: W. M. Nesbit, manager of the Gold Hill mine, came in from Cleveland. Mr. Nesbit brought down with him a bar of gold valued at over $200, the result of a five weeks' run. He informed us that it is intended operations be suspended with the cyanide process. John Early has had sampled some of the ore from his Patent and Bonne mines in the Sawtooth district. Back from the mines samples $50 in ounces of silver per ton and from the latter 20 ounces. W. A. Ketchum has returned from Quake creek, about fifteen miles above Lake City, where with Spencer Beach and Louis Hall he has been placer mining. He says the average clean up were $5 a day to the men. He did very well, he says, but they could have made more money if they could have carried a more bountiful harvest. A small bottleful of rich dust was gathered, which will yield between $20 and $25.

A Carson City, Nevada, dispatch of September 15 says: Judge Hawley of the United States circuit court this morning, overruled the case of Book & Bussey against the Justice Mining company in favor of the defendant, sustaining every point claimed by the defendant. Book & Bussey claimed that the ground of the West Jumbo was Jeffers to Blake claim. They called in the Courtney and developed a rich vein of galena-bearing quartz. Judge Hawley had before trying the case taken a view of the ground and seen enough to see the foundation could be readily moved. It made no difference whether there was a vein or mineral on the ground, what part of the ground it was on, as the action sticks to the land by afford which covered that. As to the affidavit of labor, the court decided that the filing of such an affidavit simply affirms prima facie evidence of the performance of annual work, which evidence could be supplied by real testimony. On the question as to what is a legal hearing under the mining law, which was the principal question, Judge Hawley took with Justice Field in the Eureka Richmond case and compares the case in hand to Jerome Park and Jerome hill tournaments and purposes the case in hand to be immaterial and of the Eureka district decided by stock. The decision is regarded as a complete revision of the mining law, and is intended to forever settle the questions involved.

BACK HOME AGAIN.

County Clerk Maloy Returned Today From His Eastern Trip.

County Clerk Maloy, after a month's holiday in the East, returned home this morning, bringing with him his wife and family, who have been spending the last six months with relatives in Minnesota. Mr. Maloy divided his time between Minnesota and Chicago, having met with a considerable portion of it in the World's Fair city, where he found plenty to interest him. He comes back in the condition physically, we, as he says, ready to accomplish his official work. As the World's Fair he has much to say, and we are delighted with what he saw there.

Suing for Divorce.

In the Third district court this afternoon Ruth Smith instituted divorce proceedings against her husband, Thomas G. Smith, on the ground of desertion and failure to provide. The parties interrelated in this city on August 5th, 1891, but a month later the defendant began to disregard his marriage vows and has ever since utterly failed to provide his wife with the common necessaries of life. Smith is by trade a tailor. On December 1st, 1892, he abandoned the plaintiff altogether, taking with him a considerable portion of her earnings and leaving behind bills which she has since had to pay by her own labor. Plaintiff asks that her maiden name, Ruth R. Hall, be restored to her.

Frank R. Stephens and Benner S. Smith are her attorneys.

Accepted the Pasterate.

Rev. Clarence T. Brown has accepted the permanent pastorate of the First Congregational church of this city. Mr. Brown came here from Michigan last May, and has been filling the position temporarily. He is a man of wide experience and ability in his profession.

A CHILD KIDNAPPED.

Little Willie Cassidy Carried Off By His Own Father.

The Mother Almost Frantic With Grief—The Children Are Taken Where Search Is Vain.

Upon returning to his office, a few minutes, at 2 o'clock this afternoon, Attorney Baldwin found the following note upon his table:

"Will be taken out of Salt Lake West, the 14th." It was signed by the mother.

Mr. Baldwin, who is Mrs. Cassidy's attorney, closely shadowed Cassidy the day and gleaned the following particulars: W. H. Cassidy, the father of the child, was recently released from the penitentiary after serving a six months' sentence for assault, the charge being about H. Wilson, whom Cassidy had accused of being too attentive to the City Jerry, since the release of the prisoner, and while Willie, aged three, and the other children, were at school in Salt Lake City, with the intention of taking the boy with them to Denver, where they have been separated from his mother for some time. A telephone message was dispatched from the penitentiary to Mrs. Cassidy, the child's mother, who resides in this city and is engaged in teaching, and she and Miss Lizzie Cassidy, accompanied by Mr. Holmes, who was called here on business, at once set to work to make inquiries.

This afternoon Attorney Baldwin took the matter in hand in earnest and has furnished Mother Brannon with a description of the children, and Tom has been on all around.

Ever since the domestic troubles between Mr. and Mrs. Cassidy began the children have been staying with Mr. and Mrs. Holmes at the farm, Mr. Holmes being Mrs. Cassidy's brother. Last night, about 8 o'clock, a strange man came to the farm and informed Mr. Holmes that some parties at the penitentiary had made a break for liberty, and requested him to go up there. He did so, but shortly after he met Salt Lake Cassidy, who was one of the men and claimed to be released. It is now believed that it was his intention to bring the little boy down, so that he could be in the jail break was an entire situation.

Some interesting developments are now anticipated.

AMUSEMENTS.

The Two Orphans by the local stock company headed by Mr. O'Malley, Mr. Collier, Mr. and Mrs. McNally and Miss O'Malley, upon a three nights' engagement at the Theatre, brought the play to the Two Orphans, and a percentage of the receipts will go to aid a coal fund for the poor.

An Appeal Transcript.

A transcript on appeal from Commissioner Greenman's court was filed in the Third District Court this afternoon in the case of J. T. Carson vs the Diamond Coal company. The appeal is taken by the defendant.

WITHIN OUR GATES.

L. W. Shurtliff of Ogden paid us another visit today, letting the June tax easy get along without him for the time being.

Frank J. Cannon, Republican at large, was in the metropolis today, but whether coming after his share of an expansion lactose was not learned. He returned this afternoon.

H. B. Farnsworth, D. D. of Tyrone, New York, made the Nevada a pleasant call today. He is a most agreeable gentleman and is evidently enjoying his trip.

C. C. O'Donnell, the noted San Francisco publicist, was one of those observable lowabout today. He came to win the Veteran Firemen and will probably depart with them.

William Hayes, who rides on the crest of the Boiler Burr, arrived in town last evening and tied up his nag in front of the Cullen, which he is doing quite well.

Two nutmegs—a daughter were in and made today, the same being F. Greaves, ex-member in the late Democratic legislature, and W. R. Bell, probate judge of the county.

C. B. Nesbitt, a prominent citizen of the city and county of the same name across the Sagebrush, made his mark on the Morgan register as a last evening's arrival.
