PARK CITY HOSPITAL.

A Bill to Aid Its Erection by Appropriating $5,000.

In Its Present Form it Would be Unconstitutional, Says the Attorney General.

Representative Callis of Summit introduced a bill in the Legislature providing for the donating of $5,000 to be used towards aiding the erection of a public hospital at Park City. The bill was referred to Attorney General Bishop for an opinion as to its constitutionality. The answer is that in its present form it is unconstitutional. The opinion in full is herewith given:

To the Honorable Speaker and Members of the House of Representatives, of the Legislature of the State of Utah.

I have before me House Joint Resolution No. 20 by Mr. Callis, upon which you ask an opinion as to its constitutionality.

The bill is defective, in that the enacting clause is not such as is required by the Constitution. On its face it appears to be a concurrent resolution and not a joint resolution or bill. In order to have the effect of a law it should be in the form of a bill or joint resolution and should contain the proper enacting clause provided in Sec. 22 of Article 6 of the Constitution.

Has the Legislature lawful authority to appropriate public money for the purpose mentioned in said bill? So far as appears from the bill itself and the communication of the Park City Miners' Union attached thereto, (if I may be permitted to refer to it) the bill is for the purpose of donating five thousand dollars to be used in aiding in the erection of a public hospital at Park City, Utah. There is a provision made for the appointment of two commissioners, one by the governor, and one by the miners of Park City and vicinity who are to appoint a third. The duties of the commissioners are, to see that the money appropriated is expended for the purpose therein stated.

Section 31 of article 6 of the Constitution provides "The Legislature shall not authorize the State or any county, city, town, township, district or political sub-division of the State to lend its credit or subscribe to stock or bonds in aid of any railroad, telegraph or other private individual or corporation, enterprise or undertaking."

It will be observed that the legislature is prohibited, under this section from authorizing the State * * * "to lend its credit or subscribe to stock or bonds of * * * private, individual or corporate enterprises or undertakings."

By express terms it is not prohibited from making an appropriation of public money, and yet such prohibition would seem to be within the spirit of of this section.

The bill as it stands gives the state no control over the hospital after the same shall have been erected. But if we consider the communication above referred to, we observe that it is denominated a "local hospital wherein to care for our own sick and injured." And again, in speaking of the construction and furnishing of this hospital, they say, "sufficient for our requirements." The language of the bill is "Aiding in the erection of a public hospital" and yet the bill fails to provide how it shall be conducted, and whether or not all disabled miners of the State would be entitled to admission thereto. The only duty imposed upon the commissioners by the bill itself, is to see that the money therein appropriated is expended for the purpose therein stated.

While the question is not entirely free from doubt, I am strongly inclined to the opinion that the bill in question, if enacted into law, would be unconstitutional, and therefore null and void.

GRAND VALLEY NOTES.

G. W. Warner as Nurseries, Value of Real Estate, Flour, Potatoes, Etc.

MOAB, Grand County, Utah,
February 18, 1897.

To the Editor:

There are parties who have been led to form wrong ideas in regard to Moab. Some have an idea that Moab is a large place because a great deal of fruit is shipped from here. Grand valley where Moab is situated is a small place. There are 2,500 acres of land under water. Some of the people have large farms, so our population is limited. The school pupils number about one hundred and thirty. A great amount of land is in alfalfa, but considerable of it has been plowed up of late and set out in orchards. Last year one man paid $1,000 for trees, as people who go into the fruit business generally want something that is from star off and as nursery stock grows so large here and we are thirty-five miles from the railroad it does not pay to go into the nursery business very extensively.

I have propagated trees for the last fifteen years, not for the money that was in it, but to have trees I knew would be adapted to this climate. It will pay every farmer to have a few trees on hand so that when he wants to set out a tree he will be saved from the expense of buying them as needed. When I started I cut off sprouts from trees which had grown up from the ground. I propagated more than I needed for my own use and always found sale at some price. I have not made a business of the nursery only so far as experimenting is concerned. If you have trees of your own raising you can dig your tree and have it transplanted in a few minutes, so that the growth will not be checked.

A nursery man will tell you that if a tree is taken up in the dormant state it does not make any difference about the distance of transportation or the time the tree is out of the ground, so long as the weather is cold enough to keep the tree in a dormant state. I know by experiments that a tree taken up in the spring as soon as the sap starts, and set out without being out of the ground but a few minutes, will grow right along almost as well as if left in the ground.

I herewith give your readers the prices of property last year: John Shafer sold twenty acres of land that had nothing on it but alfalfa and a house two sides for $1,400; Tom Trout sold ten acres a few years ago for $1,000, but there is property that can be bought for less; there are places to be had in Dry valley by building reservoirs.

Flour is worth, or at least it is selling, for $3; oats $2, corn $1.50; potatoes $2; onions $4; apples $4; dried apples 10 cents per pound; peaches the same; eggs 15 cents and butter 25 cents.

We have had more snow here this winter than at any time since the place was settled and it stayed on the ground longer. The first snow was in December and it is not all gone yet. It is snowing today, and if there is not a change in the next week or ten days there will be heavy loss in stock, as the feed is short and the snow is from eight to ten inches deep and crusted. Monticello had three feet before this last snow. Hay is selling for $12 and very little to be had for that, not all are rejoicing over the hopes they have for next summer.

O. W. WARNER.

That Mormon Bishop of Mexico.

COLONIA JUAREZ
CHIHUAHUA, Mex.,
February 23, 1897.

To the Editor:

On my arrival at the Juarez Stake conference, just closed, I was informed of a great deal of dissatisfaction on account of an article in a Kansas City paper of January 15, 1897, alluding to me as Mormon Bishop of the Mexican colonies. I regret that such an error should have crept into print. I aspire to be known only as an Elder of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

All people of other states of our Union do not know the difference between Elder and Bishop.

However, to show you that the mistake was not intentional on my part, nor malicious on the part of the Kansas City paper, I will call your attention to the fact that in that same number I am alluded to as Elder Stuart, and give you an extract of a letter from the author of that article to me, in which I am offered, without solicitation on my part, the agency for the sale of 1,237 acres of land in the state of Chihuahua in the free zone. The whole tenor of the letter proves that I did not ask for such agency, nor for the insertion of my advertisement or boom. If you should like to express any doubt on the subject, I shall be pleased to offer you the whole letter for publication. Now I only quote, "I will in a few days send you some copies of my paper which is already partly printed. In it I give your colonies a nice little notice."

Be pleased to give room to the above, in justice to me, as I am informed that you or some one in your esteemed columns, severely berated me for pretending to be that which I do not claim to be. I have just written to that paper, El Trafico Internacional, asking them to correct the "Bishop" statement, which is only an injury to me, and inclose a copy of the letter addressed to that paper.

ANDREW J. STUART.

COLONIA JUAREZ, Feb. 23, 1897.

To Robert F. Todd, Editor of El Trafico Internacional:

Dear Sir—I received your number of Jan. 15, 1897, of El Trafico, and thank you for your good intentions therein expressed, also for appointing me to look after those vast lands as agent, but beg to call your attention to the fact that I am not acting as Mormon Bishop in Mexico.

I claim to be an Elder of the Church commonly called Mormon. I will be pleased to communicate to you any news of interest as soon as it may occur.

Be pleased to not let me appear in print as Bishop of Mormon Church, but as Elder.

ANDREW J. STEWART.

[There was no berating of Mr. Stewart in the columns of the NEWS. The article complained of conveyed the impression that he was acting in behalf of the Mormon Church as a Bishop, and the impression was corrected. It may be further stated here that in his land transactions Mr. Stewart is not representing the Church either as Bishop or as Elder, or in any other capacity. His business affairs are those of a private citizen, who holds membership in the Church, but is not acting for it in business matters. —ED. NEWS.]

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

To Adopt Text Books—Treasurer's Report for February—Want to Teach.

The board of education of Salt Lake City held a meeting last night, and decided to have a notice published calling for bids and terms from publishers to furnish text books for the coming five years. The five years for which the text books now in use in the public schools of the city were adopted, will expire July 1st, and the law requires that sixty days' notice shall be given of its intention to adopt text books.

The treasurer's report for the month of February was received and referred to the finance committee, as follows:

| | |
|---|---|
| Balance February 1st | [illegible] |
| Receipts from county collector | [illegible] |
| Total receipts | [illegible] |
| Paid clerk's warrants | [illegible] |
| Balance February 28th | [illegible] |

Miss Blanch Chadwick, teacher in the Lowell school, was granted a six weeks' leave of absence; the resignation of Miss Clara H. Shaw of the Washington school was accepted, and Miss Grace Hanley of the Washington school granted a month's leave of absence.

The committee on finance reported the receipt of $30 from the Salvation Army for rent of the Thirteenth ward school building, and $215.50 as tuition for non-resident pupils.

Harry Chapman, janitor of the Union school, asked that his salary be increased from $25 to $30 per month, and represents that 1,500 gallons of water per day seeps into the boiler room of the building, and that he is kept busy from twelve and a half to fourteen hours each day pumping it out. He also complains that the damp boiler room is not conducive to good health. Referred to committee on buildings and grounds.

Applications for positions to teach were received from Gertrude Trey of Minneapolis, Kate Merwin and Maud C. Ringwood, Alliance, O., Gertrude M. Hodges, of Baker city, O., Mattie L. Sheppard, Sioux city, Iowa, Katherine Hawkinson of Cincinnati, O., Frances V. M. Norton, of Pittsburg, Pa., L. A. Garratt, of Winnipeg, Winifred E. Jones of Racine, Wis., Estelle Marshland of Council Bluffs, Ia., W. L. Brown, of Nephi, Miss M. E. Allen of San Jose, Cal., L. J. Pearce, Batavia, N. Y., P. H. Peters of Storm Lake, Ia., and Harold Lewis of Salt Lake.

Notices were received from the health commissioner instructing the board to connect the Seventh and Twelfth ward school buildings with the sewer.

The appropriation list amounting to $20,423.63 was passed and the board adjourned until April 2nd.

SUNDAY SCHOOL NOTICE.

By reason of the great disappointment felt by many hundreds of our Sunday school children who were unable to obtain an entrance to the Tabernacle last Sunday afternoon, President Woodruff has kindly consented to meet the children again next Sunday morning, when the program of last Sunday in all its essential details will be repeated. This invitation is extended to all the Sunday schools of the stake, but their attendance is not made obligatory. If the superintendents and officers consider the distance too far or have other reasons for preferring to conduct their Sunday schools in their own meeting places as usual, it is desired that they feel at perfect liberty to do so. As the public will not be admitted to these exercises until 10:15 there will be plenty of room for all schools that desire to come; and that the younger children may be massed in a body in the lower portion of the Tabernacle, the members of the theological classes are requested to take their seats in the gallery.

It is hoped that the choirs, committees and ushers who so kindly took part in last Sunday's services will perform the same duties next Sunday; and they will accept this notice as an invitation to be present and take their several parts.

The doors of the Tabernacle will be opened at 9:30 and the services will commence at half past ten. The schools should be seated a quarter of an hour before the time of the commencement of the exercises.

GEORGE Q. CANNON,
GEORGE GODDARD,
GEORGE REYNOLDS,
GEORGE GODDARD,
THOS. C. GRIGGS,
Committee.

Sunday School Information.

The following notice has been sent by the Stake superintendent of Sunday schools to the ward superintendents of this city and vicinity for their information and guidance, and their attention is particularly directed to the notice of the general committee, and the NEWS editorial of March 4th on the same subject:

"In consequence of some of our schools and others being disappointed last Sunday in gaining admittance to the Tabernacle and taking part in the exercises tendered President Wilford Woodruff on the eve of his ninetieth birthday, the President has kindly consented to be present on Sunday next, when the former program will be repeated. If you were of the number so disappointed you are especially invited to be present with your school, and if not of that number and desire to be present again, the committee will welcome you and your school as per the following arrangements:

"The Tabernacle doors will be open at 9:30, and the services will commence at half past ten. All the schools are requested to be in their seats fifteen minutes before the commencement of the exercises. If you decide to accept the invitation you will please give publicity to this fact at once, and make such arrangements as will insure the attendance of your school at the time indicated. Should you determine to hold your usual Sunday school session, we suggest that such of your members as desire to attend the services be honorably excused by you."

Richville Items.

RICHVILLE, Morgan County, Feb. 24, 1897.—At the residence of his father Friday evening a sociable was given by the members of the ward to their worthy brother J. R. Waldron, who left Saturday, Feb. 20th, 1897, to perform a mission in the Eastern States. It was commenced by the choir singing the beautiful hymn, "Come dearest Lord descend and dwell." Prayer was offered by Bishop A. D. Dickson. A fine program was then rendered under the direction of John Dickson, comprising songs, recitations, duets and instrumental selections, interspersed by short addresses from the brethren. All touched upon the event that had called them together, eulogizing the good qualities of the brother, congratulating him and tendering him their best wishes. The tables were then spread with a bounteous repast, which was partaken of and enjoyed by all present, who seemed full of good sentiments and wishes for the missionary. Elder J. R. Waldron responded in a short interesting speech, acknowledging the honor and respect shown him, and bore testimony to the truthfulness of the Gospel. F. W. Clark and company rendered a quartet entitled "Good night beloved," and the gathering was closed by prayer by Elder James T. Rich.

Richville ward which now numbers eighteen families has within the last fourteen months sent three Elders to the world for the benefit of those who sit in darkness.

Elder John Wood is laboring in the Southern States mission. Elder August E. Rose in the European mission.

The brethren left their homes at the call of duty leaving all in the hands of Him who doeth all things well, and who will make up in giving all that sacrifice demands.

Elder Waldron went as the two preceding him have gone, feeling much as if he was going to be a representative of the people of this and an ambassador of the Lord Jesus Christ, willing to face the world in defense of truth and imparting that sweet influence which characterizes servants of God.

Star Valley Items.

AFTON, Feb. 17, 1897.—The quarterly conference of the Star Valley Stake of Zion convened in Afton meeting house on February 13th and 14th, with good attendance considering the state of the roads.

The reports of the Bishops were good, showing a disposition among the saints to improve.

Elder Anson V. Call of the Stake presidency gave some excellent instructions on various subjects. Among others he spoke on the evils of round dancing; exhorted all to be willing to take the counsel of the Lord's servants in all things.

Elder Thomas Yeaman gave a short account of his early experience in Nauvoo and his travels with the Church.

Elder McLatchie [illegible] to all the Latin school workers, young and old, the 17th day of February as "Humane Day" to be kept, it being the wish of President George Q. Cannon.

Elder Osr A. Jensen spoke on the capacity of the Priesthood.

Elder Archibald Moffatt bore his testimony.

Elder A. L. Hale spoke on Temple work.

Elder William Allred gave some good instructions to all.

Elder R. H. Allred Jr., spoke impressively on the law of tithing.

Last but not least, our worthy president, Elder George Osmond, in a fatherly spirit exhorted all to follow the counsels given from time to time by those who are placed over us in the Priesthood. He fully endorsed what had been said by Elder Anson V. Call on round dancing; admonished us as some of our foibles, but in such a kindly manner that no one could feel offended, but would be encouraged to form resolutions, right there to do better in the future.

King Lagrippe in his rounds has not forgotten Star valley; neither is he a respecter of persons, as he has visited every household but with fatal results only in one instance, the infant son of Brother Thomas Harris, who died about four weeks since.

The infant daughter of Brother Edward Davis was buried yesterday, cause of death convulsions.

Brother Hervey Allred is called on a mission to the Indian Territory. He starts on the 11th of March.

The weather is very cold here. Snow is quite deep.

W. H. KENNINGTON,
Stake Clerk.

Primary Notice.

The Primary officers' meeting will be held at the Exponent office Saturday, March 6, 1897, at 11 o'clock. It is desired that each association be represented.

ELLA W. HYDE,
Stake Secretary.

PROVO.

PROVO, UTAH, - March 5, 1897.

The Park City Branch.

Yesterday afternoon General Manager Dodge of the R. G. W. Ry., Superintendent Welby and Chief Engineer Yard, stopped about two hours in Provo on their way East on a special train; while here the railroad officials held a meeting with Mayor Holbrook, President Ferree of the city council, and the city council's committee on railways, which has been considering the petition of the company for right of way privileges for the proposed branch to Park City. The petition of the company now before the council asks for a right of way along First street to the west of the city and thence north through one of the unopened streets to the north of the city. This the committee informed the railway officials they had no doubt would be freely granted them, but the railway men have been looking over the ground since their first petition and now desire to go through town to the north on H street, the street the Provo Woolen Mills are located on. The representatives of the city could give them no answer in regard to this new proposition, for the reason that it had not been submitted to them for their consideration. That seems, however, to be the route the company wants, and a petition asking for that will without doubt be presented to the council Monday evening. Col. Dodge and Superintendent Welby both disclaimed any intention of buying the Utah Central, and further expressed themselves to the effect that Park City was not their objective point, but the Uintah country, and it is fair to presume that if the R. G. Western goes east from Provo as far as the Uintah country they will continue as far as Denver or connect with some more direct line from Denver than the present line, for the reason that the route would thereby be greatly shortened.

Notes and Personals.

A $10,000 damage suit has been brought in the Fourth district court by B. J. Anderson against Don Knight, for taking of defendant's seduction of plaintiff's daughter Ida. The defendant was arrested some time ago on a charge of fornication with the same girl, and taken before Justice Dusenberry, where he pleaded guilty and was fined $25. All the parties are of this city. Sam A. King and A. G. Clark are attorneys for plaintiff.

Judgment by default has been taken by plaintiff in the case of Lorenzo Hatch vs the Payson Electric Light company for $965. The company made an assignment for the benefit of its creditors some time ago, but the plaintiff claims the assignment is voidable for the reason that it was made after the summons in the above case was served.

A divorce suit has been filed by Rasmus P. Jorgensen of Salem against Johanna M. Jorgensen on the grounds of desertion, which is charged to have taken place September 21, 1893. The parties intermarried in Denmark in 1870. J. E. Booth and A. L. Booth are attorneys for plaintiff.

Emil Franchell of Springville has appealed to the Fourth district court from a decision in Justice Westwood's court at Springville, where appellant was found guilty of selling intoxicating liquors to minors and fined $15 and $12 costs.

Miss Edna Cutsipher, who has been teaching school in Richfield, is visiting her relatives here till the diphtheria epidemic in Richfield shall abate and permit the schools to start up again.

Mrs. Von Finkelstein Mountford will make a lecture tour through the southern part of the State, under the auspices of the Brigham Young Academy, after closing her course of lectures in Logan.

The following marriage licenses have been issued: John Jackson and Martha O'Neal, both of American Fork; George E. Drury and Ann Smith, both of Springville.

C. W. Loeber, who has been conducting a dray business in this city for several years, has sold out to W. H. Roy and left last night for Chicago.

James F. John of Mesa, Maricopa City, Arizona, is visiting members of his family who are attending the Brigham Young Academy.

Elder William A. Williams and wife have gone on a mission to the Sandwich Islands.

A two weeks old child of Joseph Morgan died Wednesday and was buried yesterday.

Deputy Sheriff Wilkins went to P. V. Junction yesterday to investigate a petty larceny case.

There is considerable sickness among the children here, principally measles and scarlet fever.

The Masonic fraternity gave a pleasant social in their hall last evening.

McSorley's Twins will be at the Opera House on Friday, March 12.

S. B. Thurman has gone to Fillmore on legal business.

TWO CHICAGO MEN

Whose Business Gives Them Wide Experience.

There are two great grocery stores in Chicago which rank as among the largest, if not the largest, in the world. Their names are not given in print as their competitors would naturally protest against such prominence.

The names of the stores referred to will be given by letter to any honest inquirer. The manager of one of these houses says: "We are having a good trade on Postum, the health coffee made at Battle Creek, Mich., by the Postum Cereal Co. Lim., and our experience is that people become steady customers when they once try it.

It is known as the genuine article of its kind and certainly is a charming beverage. I have known some of the counterfeits which are on the market, particularly one that has stolen part of the name of Postum Cereal."

"If any one wants to know how good Postum really is let him try it along side of the counterfeit. The original article has great merit or there would not be so many trying to imitate it."

A counterfeit is always an imitation, and only the genuine will satisfy careful buyers.

The manager of the other store referred to was for nine years located among the coffee plantations of Java as a buyer of coffee for the English army. He is reasonably supposed to be a coffee expert. Postum is used by his wife, children and himself at his own home.

A reliable grocer will never offer a cheap or weak imitation of a genuine original article because he happens to make a little extra profit. But it is well to observe that when genuine Postum Cereal coffee is ordered, that you get Postum and not a spurious imitation offered as "just as good."

LITERARY NOTES.

The frontispiece of McClure's Magazine for March is a fine portrait of Mark Twain painted by Charles Noel Flagg, and never before reproduced. It introduces an extremely interesting number. This is the opening instalment of a new novel by Robert Louis Stevenson; a brief critical paper on Rudyard Kipling as a poet by W. D. Howells; a paper of personal impressions of Daniel Vierge; one by Conan Doyle relating to his own personal adventures in the Arctic seas as a young surgeon on board a Greenland whaler; account based on conversations with Dr. J. Howard Gignor to Marconi, of recent marvelous experiments of his in telegraphing through thick walls, and even through hills and mountains, over considerable distances, without wires; Rudyard Kipling, in an instalment of "Captains Courageous," describes the conveying of a distracted mother to her imperiled son, by a special train, from Los Angeles to Boston, in eighty-seven hours and thirty-five minutes; a paper by Hamlin Garland gives a very lifelike and interesting picture of General Grant as a young army officer; Cy Warman relates a thrilling tale of a picturesque Rocky Mountain road; Chester Rowell tells a dramatic and touching story of an instance of Mexican heroism; and there are some new portraits of President McKinley and his mother.

The Musical Courier, now in its eighteenth year, during which time it has appeared on every Wednesday, begins with its issue of February 24 an entirely new and novel department covering all important society and fashionable events, such as receptions, dances, weddings and other performances, as well as the general social functions, which will be correctly treated in the columns of this journal.
