CITY GAS STOCK

Sold Last Night by the Council for $105,000.

THE MAYOR'S VETOES.

They are Both Ignored by the Municipal Fathers.

PAVING WILL PROCEED.

Resignation of Sealer of Weights and Measures Thompson.—Miscellaneous Matters.

The City Council met in regular session last night, President Loofbourow in the chair. The councilmen in attendance were: Rich, Folland, Hardy, Horn, Moran, Kelly, Evans Simondi, Wantland, Beardsley, Heise, Lawson—12.

Absent—Bell, Karrich—2.

The minutes of the previous regular meeting were read, amended and approved.

THE PROCEEDINGS.

PETITIONS

were read and referred as follows:

Alfred Gun asked that he be remunerated to the amount of $2000 for damages sustained to his house on Eleventh East street by city workmen blasting for gravel. Committee on claims.

J. C. Conklin and others asked that the Council instruct the city engineer to establish a permanent sidewalk grade on Second South street between Main and West Temple streets. Committee on streets.

R. G. McNiece and others asked for the appointment of a police matron for the city jail. Committee on police.

R. F. Whitemore asked that the crossing on Third West street at the Union Pacific depot be repaired. Committee on streets.

A. B. Jones, cashier of the Utah National Bank, again asked for the removal at the City Railway Company's station house at the corner of First South and Main streets. Committee on streets.

HOW OUT OF OFFICE.

M. S. Thompson tendered his resignation as sealer of weights and measures. Received.

SIXTEEN TRACKS.

William Nelson and others represented that sixteen tracks had been laid by the Rio Grande Western on Second South street just west of Sixth West street. On this showing they asked the Council to build a viaduct over the tracks for the safety of school children. Committee on streets.

BAMBERGER FRANCHISE VETOES.

The following from the mayor was read:

Hon. C. E. Stanton, City Recorder:

I herewith again return unapproved the resolution granting a franchise to the Great Salt Lake and Hot Springs railway for the following reasons, to-wit: The amendments made by the City Council do not fully meet my former objections in this: No point from which the proposed road to the west shall start is fixed, which as I understand it, gives the grantee right to select point of starting and the course of the line, thus throwing the stream of the whole city open for selection.

The franchise granted, by a fair estimate, is worth $250,000, and in view of that fact and the further fact that the property of the inhabitants in the vicinity of the road is immately affected, the amount of road required to be built is not sufficient to destroy the speculative features of the franchise. To justify such a grant the grantee should be required to build within a reasonable time a road to some point which would make it commercially valuable to the city. A road of five miles west is of no commercial value to the city, and under the franchise, when five miles to the west shall have been built then the grantee may stop and hold this valuable franchise for twenty-five years for sale or speculation. If a road to Deep Creek is contemplated by the Council, and short of this point no road to the west can be of much commercial value to the city, then the grantee should be required to build to that point within—say three years.

Horn moved that consideration of the matter be deferred until later in the evening. Carried.

PAVING CONTRACT VETOED.

The following was also read:

C. E. Stanton, City Recorder:

I herewith return unapproved the paving contract entered into by the city acting through its proper officers on the one part, and the Culmer-Jennings Paving company on the other part, approved by the City Council on the 11th day of October, for the following reasons:

The board of public works in its report submitting said contract to the City Council for approval says, "We would respectfully call attention to the experimental character of the asphalt which the Culmer-Jennings Co. proposes to use; it being a Utah product and as yet practically untried." This statement alone, in my opinion, is sufficient grounds for the rejection of the contract, for it is admitted in the face of the facts stated the board of public works with but one dissenting voice (that of C. L. Hales, the chairman) concurred in awarding the contract, and the City Council has ratified the same.

To experiment with untried paving material in the very heart of the commercial center of the city is no sanitary problem and dangerous in the extreme. The annoyance, inconvenience and damage which the removal and replacement of the imperfect material, should the experiment proposed prove unsuccessful, is of such a nature as can not be measured by dollars and cents nor can any bond be so framed as to furnish adequate indemnity. The community no doubt remembers the experiment made by Mr. Gunn a few years since with home asphalt on Commercial street. All must remember that Mr. Gunn is a shrewd, business and able business man and yet under the guidance of the same expert Mr. Le Sueur, employed by the Culmer-Jennings Paving company, as I am credibly informed, he was as negligent as the Culmer Paving company now are regarding the quality of its material, that the experiment on Commercial street would be a perfect success. The result of the test of the winter most of the citizens of the city, no doubt remember and judging from that test form a correct idea of how disastrous it would be to this city if anything like as great a failure as that should occur on these streets in two in the heart of the city. Again the season is now so far advanced that it would be much better to delay the paving covered by the contract until next spring, when the weather is more favorable, which time it can be rushed through to the finish without the interruption on the day which has proved so vexatious in the case of Main street. Besides the Culmer-Jennings Paving company have paint Richard's avenue, and the rest of our winter's work, and I may add, have shown light upon the quality of the material proposed to be used in the execution of the contract.

As suggested, delay under the circumstances cannot work any serious injury, but would be better than to commence the work so late in the season. I think the prudence suggests that the material proposed should be submitted to at coming session's test before its final adoption.

Respectfully submitted,

H. S. HASKIN, Mayor.

CITY GAS STOCK SOLD.

The following bid for the 707 shares of gas stock owned by the city from E. H. Hallins & Sons, was read: For the 707 shares of stock, $109,900, and if the franchise of the Salt Lake Power, Light & Heating company was extended for twelve and one-half years, they would give $105,000. A certificate of check for $10,000 accompanied the bid. As said franchise still runs far twelve and one-half years, such action would extend it for twenty-five years from date.

Beardsley moved to accept the $105,000 proposition.

Hardy said the Council should be a little careful how it moved in the matter. The city has gradually been disposing of all its earning property. If the present revenues of the city were exhausted it would be necessary to increase the rate of taxation. That would be a burden on property owners. The city's gas stock was now paying an 18 per cent dividend of $20,000 that would pay the interest of a great many bonds.

Horn said he was not in favor of the city owning any property in outside corporations. He seconded Mr. Beardsley's motion.

Wantland also spoke in favor of Mr. Beardsley's motion.

Hardy said that the gas company's net earnings in 1891 were $40,000. The city's proposition of that amount would be about one-third.

Lawson said that Mr. Karrich intimated a few weeks since that $100 per share could be secured, but he was not present for some good reason he presumed. It was a question in his mind, however, if it would not be advisable to defer action for a few days.

Wantland said again that the sale of the stock would be beneficial to the city—which would need the $100,000 and as much more as it could get. The prospect of selling the corner near the city was not very bright at present.

Rich—Do we need the money now?

Wantland—Not tonight.

Rich—How soon?

Wantland—Just as quickly as we can get it.

Rich—You are a member of the finance committee. Will you tell me how much money we have in the treasury?

Wantland (hesitatingly)—Well—

Rich—About $100,000?

Wantland—Yes, I think so.

Beardsley—We have been giving franchises away here for some time, perhaps it would be a good idea to investigate the matter and see if we cannot get a $5000 bonus.

Hardy—I want to—

Simondi—I object to Mr. Hardy speaking more than once. I insist on the rules being enforced.

Moran (generously)—I move that Mr. Hardy be given unanimous consent to speak again.

Simondi—I object.

Moran—Then he can use my turn.

The chair (mildlingly)—You can delegate your speech power to a colleague.

Simondi withdrew his objection and Hardy was allowed to take the floor. He simply advised that further action be deferred in the matter for one week, and so moved.

The chair stated that he believed that all the vertical motions made were out of order.

Lawson—As this is a matter of public trust involving the disposition of valuable property, as business men and public custodians we cannot afford to sell this franchise tonight. We should take reasonable time to consider the proposition. He moved that the matter be laid over for one week.

MR. PESHALE AMENDS.

Mr. George F. Peshale, a representative of the Hallins' Company, was present and amended his former proposition so as to give the city $105,000 cash down and the matter of extending the franchise of the Power, Light and Heating Company to be considered afterwards.

Lawson said that as representatives of 65,000 people the Councilmen could not afford to close the bargain without further investigation. Perhaps the bid would be increased. It had already been increased during the evening by the amount of $5000. He wanted it to reach the apex.

Wantland—I would like to know where the gentleman heard that word; also if he included unborn children in his fabulous census.

"Shut up!" went the president's gavel with the words "gentlemen you must not be personal."

THE SALE COMPLETED.

The sale was consummated on the following vote: Ayes—Beardsley, Folland, Heise, Horn, Kelly, Rich, Simondi, Wantland—8. Noes—Evans, Hardy, Lawson, Loofbourow, Moran—4.

SANITARY CENSUS ENUMERATORS.

The board of health sent in a communication appointing the following gentlemen as sanitary censuses at a compensation of $3 per day: L. C. Johnson, Fred Taylor, W. H. Andrew, Wm. Newton, W. S. Hawkes, I. N. Fisher, Frank Morris, J. H. Schaus, M. Dixon, Matt G. Taylor. Sanitary committee.

THE MAYOR'S VETOES

were then taken up on motion of Lawson. The paving contract veto was first considered.

Beardsley said: I am going to vote against the mayor's veto. We want some work done here. We have got a lot of idle men here, probably 500, to put to work. It would be an act of charity.

Horn—I am in favor of proceeding with paving. I am opposed to the mayor's veto. We are being trifled with by the mayor like school boys. In the interest of tantalizing business I suggest that hereafter when bids are received by the Council we simply refer the matter to the mayor and let him signify which company we shall give the contract to.

Wantland—I am in favor of doing the work now.

Lawson—This Council is composed of fifteen men who are under oath to perform their duties honestly and to the city's interest. Yet the mayor overrides our decisions invariably. Why should he? Of course he gets a salary larger than all of ours combined, but that does not make a bigger or a better man.

The contract was then again rejected on the following vote notwithstanding the mayor's veto:

Ayes—Beardsley, Evans, Folland, Hardy, Heise, Kelly, Lawson, Moran, Rich, Wantland—10.

Noes—Horn, Loofbourow, Simondi—3.

THE ALSO WAS REJECTED.

The vetoed resolution granting an amended franchise to the Great Salt Lake, Beautiful & Hot Springs railway was also passed over the mayor's protest. The vote stood:

Ayes—Beardsley, Evans, Heise, Horn, Kelly, Lawson, Loofbourow, Moran, Simondi, Wantland—10.

Nays—Folland, Hardy, Rich—3.

Adjourned until tonight at 7:30.

PASSENGERS WITHOUT AGES.

We need hardly emphasize the importance of guarding against all sources of temptation to falsehood. No doubt this is difficult with refractory children, but such a degree of self government as will enable parents or teachers to avoid the angry moment is nevertheless requisite for success. A case which illustrates this point was that of a boy who was beaten about the head and hand the day before being a school examiner. Singularly enough, he injured his hand next day, and being at the time in poor health, though believed to be well, died in a week from internal meningitis.

At once his teacher was blamed, but proof being brought that the chastisement inflicted was deliberate, orderly and proportionate, though the means employed were not quite regular, he was entirely exonerated at a subsequent inquest. It would indeed in many cases render the duties of a schoolmaster as barren as difficult if he were not allowed a reasonable freedom in physical correction. The possible occurrence of such incidents as the above must, however, impress what we have said as to method in its application.—London Lancet.

Variations of the Compass of Columbus.

As the simple Genoese will devoutly the dread which the ever increasing distance was certain to arise, he kept two logbooks; one for himself and the other for the crew. In the former he recorded the actual run, in the latter a lesser distance, by which device he diminished the fears and restrained the impatience of his unexpitable shipmates. But in doing this an unforeseen complication arose. Their sure guide, the compass, that ever had pointed fixedly to the north, began to waver. Although this phenomenon had been known for two centuries—though many say it had never been observed until then—the crew gave themselves up for lost and imagined that for them even the fixed point was shifting, as though God had cast them off. Columbus recognized the necessity of explaining this phenomenon as he and explained volcanoes. But the explanation was not easy, for while the volcanoes were like others already known it was impossible to understand or explain the variation of the needle by any familiar fact or experience.—Emilio Castelar in Century.

Price was the son of a cabinetmaker, and himself was fond of mechanical and simple tasks. He once said, "A good carpenter was spoiled when I turned my attention to poetry."
