HAWAIIAN REVOLUTION.

English Comment on the Affairs of the Pacific Islands.

The Spectacle Has Astonished and Scandalized the World, Says the "Telegraph."

LONDON, Feb. 28.—In a leader on the revolution in Hawaii, the Telegraph in a morning says:

Declaration is sure to astound and scandalize the civilized world.

President Harrison proves into the action of the regular powers openly and Mr. Cleveland did not deny to which is leaving of the business and tenacity exists by his fellow President, at Washington. American warships have gone and troops with the islands, yet not enough to give the Monarchists courage to venture if the Queen is in the wind. Time tells what time we cannot yet. Meanwhile, we know we cannot and Liliuokalani, Japan, Germany, England and France have consented to recognize the provisional government. Report says it is intended that the Queen shall be tried by a military court in open daylight. It is everybody's interest except the contending few of islanders to think the matter is not over and done with. Its result is not a question of government and not the American flag by raising upon it the banner of republic. We do not suppose that any power will protest, either in or later, when one has been, but the course is to notify our ministers at Washington why in a short time it will have reason to expect from the citizens of civilized powers one in office.

Serious War on American Goods.

BERLIN, Feb. 28.—In the Reichstag today Herr Von Bennigsen-Hanover and Herr Mueller introduced a bill obliging the outside goods from countries which discriminate against German goods are manufactures, as can be seen and with point of the same sized from each country, to be so noted to an annual list of the parcels.

Repealing Free Silver.

LONDON, Feb. 28.—The Standard says Sir William Vernon Harcourt will, instead of the government, take a vigorous fight against the resolution that will be submitted to the House of Commons by Henry L. Everett, the leading man in the anti-silver party, to repeal the free coinage and to equal lower power of silver in dollars.

A FREE SILVER PARTY.

The Leaders Confident of Success—Platform Agreed Upon.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 16.—It is intended that the leaders in the movement to organize a free silver party have reason advices from different parts of the country that such a move can be made so as to place men left high enough that they will be able to organize a new party which will command the support of no other establishment the country.

A platform has been agreed upon which puts the whole party on the pass of the silver, eliminating all else except as the Populist platform of 1892. It is impossible, however, to state particulars, as all three is subject upon the conference now in session but are pledges to absolute unity.

It is believed that Gen. Weaver is the people never in this effort to make an union of the silver forces as the chairman of the silver party, and it is stated that he has the support of General A. J. Warner and ex-Speaker of Representative Blanchard.

THE SENATE.

WASHINGTON, D.C., Feb. 28.—The sundry civil appropriation bill was passed with the information at long two 11 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. and after the night session. The item of $5,000 for purchasing the historic library of the late James G. Blaine, now in period its use for other purposes, occasioned a sharp debate, in the Senate agreed to.

Other Senate amendments agreed to were the city include the Secretary Federal building at Chicago, $200,000; increasing new government building at Chicago, $400,000.

At 5:25 p.m. the Senate held an executive session and then took a recess until 8 o'clock.

The night session of the Senate was attended by about twenty senators, but the question of a quorum was not raised with prominent. In the sundry civil appropriation bill. The appropriation for the enlargement of the coast and geodetic survey occasioned much debate. The enlarged staff of hydrographers recommended by the committee, was agreed to.

Committee amendments were agreed to appropriating $5,000 to the widow or other heirs to each of the killed in the Fire Theater disaster, also $10,000 for an electric lighting plant for the Capitol. The amendment increasing the compensation for surveying the public lands from $15,000 to $20,000 was temporarily passed. Details of bills giving notice of a higher amendment invoke the consideration of the Senate.

The amendment was agreed to appropriating $125,000 for surveys of lands within the limits of railroad land grants and amending the law on the subject. The amendment was agreed to granting the standard Fort Niobrara military reservation and buildings to the state of Wyoming for state purposes. Also granting to North Dakota lands in the Fort Ste. Stephens reservation.

A contest offered an amendment, which was agreed to, appropriating $50,000 for constructing the statue of General William T. Sherman.

An amendment was agreed to fixing the Sioux National Park Commission at Pierre, Dakota, instead of Washington, the cost of lands at $25,000.

The committee amendments of the bill were approved with the amended features were reached, first concerning government printing office and second concerning the Superior Financial Board as loan at $100,000,000 of government bonds. Three were reserved with immediate. Then, at 10:45 o'clock, the Senate adjourned.

Emperor William's Wire a Forgery.

BERLIN, Feb. 28.—Emperor William, accompanied by Prince Henry, left Berlin this evening in order to attend the funeral of Field Marshal Arch-Duke Albrecht of Austria.

Welsh Disestablishment Bill.

LONDON, Feb. 28.—The home secretary, Henry Asquith, introduced the Welsh disestablishment bill in the House of Commons today, and in so doing said that the measure was identical with the bill introduced in 1891.

Suggested Tariff Changes.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 28.—Secretary Carlisle has sent to Senator Voorhees, as chairman of the committee on finance, a memorandum suggesting changes in the tariff act, which are, in substance as follows:

"Suggested to make more clear the intention of Congress and to insure the revenues of Hilgerton by removing the ambiguity now existing in the various paragraphs mentioned."

Paragraph 43 relates to variables and so on mentioned as to make it appear that Japan varnish is sometimes known as gum, which is not the case. The committee provides for their equalization at 35 per cent ad valorem. In the act at 25 per cent ad valorem. In the act as it stands there is a misplaced comma between the worsteds and varnishes, which it is proposed to strike out.

The change in the silk paragraph adds the words "cuffing," before "collars or cuffs," so as to provide a duty of 35 per cent ad valorem.

The amendment suggested to paragraph 76 adds the word "cuffed" so as to make it read "cuffed, not glazed, ruffled," etc., 50 per cent.

Paragraph 65 relates to bottles. Lenses, wholly or partly manufactured, are specially exempted from the operation of paragraph 65 relating to spectacles, eyeglasses, etc., which pay 45 per cent ad valorem.

Paragraph 114 relates to wire.

Fresh edition are added to paragraph 216 fixing a duty of 4 cent per pound on fish.

Paragraph 217 is changed to read "plums, prunes, figs, raisins, dried grapes and Zante currants."

Paragraph 218 so as to provide for keeping the provisions duty of 20 per cent when sweet wine and liquor are imported, passed and to return as well as to make, to which the provisions of the act are limited.

Paragraph 230 is amended so as to read: Provided, for the collection of the duty of 10 per cent ad valorem when the sum of other goods are included only for making over goods for flavoring the wine, duty not appearing in the present act.

Paragraph 236 relates to bottles to which we is concerned.

Paragraph 254 relates to flax, and 255 to hemp, as does paragraph 256.

Paragraph 279 relating to jewel, slipings, etc., is amended so as to include enumerated wearing apparel and textile fabrics of 20 per cent ad valorem.

Paragraph 306 relates to lithographic prints and 308 to toys.

Paragraph 322 relates to umbrella sticks.

Paragraph 45 amends the free list so as to read "birds and bird feet of every kind, feed of silver," and so as to read "musical settings for musical instruments."

Paragraph 93 relates to "coal tar and its products."

Paragraph 94 is amended so as to read "Provided, that the duty on coal tar and its products shall be free from possible contamination of putting chemicals on the free list.

Paragraph 97 is amended to include in the free list "fresh water fish, frozen or packed in ice, and oyster fish and American lobsters provided for."

The finance committee will consider these suggestions.

FIGHT WITH BOHEMIAN.

Much Powder Burned and Several Persons Injured.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Feb. 28.—A serious fight between the local police and the local authorities occurred here late this afternoon, in which several persons were cut and many powder burned. Officers had been ordered to watch for the men who this morning robbed the Grimwald Inn, near Fort Lyon, and, as one of the officers was patrolling, he saw a man who was acting in the office of the Rio Grande who answered the description telegraphed from Grimwald. Deputy Sheriff O'Brien was notified and confirmed that he was one of the Grimwald men and called to his assistance Deputy Sheriff Harper, and in company with Officers Powers and Ware, the party entered the Grimwald hotel the suspected man in jail.

As he was being led to the hotel, two other men came out and followed, leaving several pals behind. Just as they reached the steps of the court house, Officer Hoppe noticed, being in a position to watch in front. As he did this the two men who had been following the party commenced firing at the officers. Falling their aims, the officers returned the fire, the prisoner and the two assailants separating from the officers and running as they ran.

For some minutes the trouble was kept up, citizens and other officers joining in the battle, which has become general all along the line, with the desperadoes were overtaken and SWAT in the street about noon and taken to jail, where they gave their names as John Doty and James Wilson.

As soon as they were secured the officers started to look for the wounded, and in the action Deputy Sheriff O'Brien severely wounded, a ball having struck him in the abdomen, entering the body and lodging near the spine. Doty was hit in the groin, the ball penetrating some two inches. The third man escaped and fled, leaving five, pistols of a pack of six cans, but he managed to elude them. It is thought that he is now in Omaha, and the police of that city have been notified to be on the lookout for the man.

In searching the men at the jail, their pockets yielded a large number of pocket knives and a quantity of small change, which fact convinced the officers that the two prisoners are either street car members of the gang that robbed the Grimwald inn.

While the shooting was going on, McKenna Jenkins met with a possible accident. His train was in the vicinity of the battle, and just as he was about to look the switch open of the tracks at the Rio Grande, the train rushing now by and shooting, flew bars and stones into between the eyes, coming into the train to the house.

At the jail the men who are under arrest do not be left on the subject of the robbery. They say that they are farm hands. In regard to the shooting, they state that they were scared and did not know that the men with whom they were fighting were officers and that they took, as they supposed, to defend their lives.

Hibernians' Effort for Mass.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Feb. 25.—This afternoon a committee of twelve leading members of the American Order of Hibernians waited on Mayor Myers and presented a petition signed by about 500 members of that order and other Catholics. The petition states that it has been learned that ex-Priest Slattery and his wife, who is an ex-nun, would return here tomorrow night on Columbian, and that the aspect were satisfied that if they were allowed to speak, trouble, disorder, and riot would prevail. In the interest of peace and order, they appealed to him not to allow them to lecture.

Mayor Myers, in reply, presented the committee from the Hibernians with a written opinion from City Attorney Adams, who said that there was no state statute or city ordinance which would authorize the action by the mayor preventing the lecture. No breach of the peace has occurred, said the mayor, if they who will be offended by the lecture's delivery stay away.

BEAU AND FORGOTTEN.

Col. Richard Realf's Poet and Union Soldier.

OAKLAND, Cal., Feb. 28.—During the past two weeks some Eastern tourists visiting California have been making inquiries concerning the fate of Col. Richard Realf, of whom they had heard in war days 1861.

Realf's memory is cherished in literary circles in the East and England, but in California his name is known to but a few and in Oakland, where he died, he has been utterly forgotten. Even the late report of his suicide is not to be found in the usual documents. His grave is unmarked and unknown and his disappointed friends returned to San Francisco last night.

Richard Realf was born in Uckfield, near Lewes, Sussex, England, in 1834, and came to America in 1854. He made his home in Western Pennsylvania and a quarter of a century before his poems found favor in the East, keeping the printing duty of 20 per cent when sweet wine and liquor are imported, passed and return as well as to make, to which the provisions of the act are limited.

Paragraph 230 is amended so as to read: Provided, for the collection of the duty of 10 per cent ad valorem when the sum of other goods are included only for making over goods for flavoring the wine duty not appearing in the present act.
