[PERSONAL.]
BEAUTY: OR, THE
Secret of a Fair Face
An Item of Interest to Every Lady who Desires to be More Beautiful than she now is.
Unfortunately not one woman in a hundred, subjected to the whims of an American climate possesses that basis and starting point of real beauty—a pure and clear complexion.
What nature has thus denied, art must be called upon to furnish.
It can be done; it is done daily. Prof. W. R. Hagan placed beauty within the reach of every unblessed daughter of Eve when he discovered that surprising article known in fashionable circles as the true secret of beauty, and called
MAGNOLIA BALM
The MAGNOLIA BALM is a sure device for creating a pure and blooming complexion.
It conceals all natural blemishes in the most surprising and effective manner.
It removes all roughness, eruptions, redness, blotches, freckles, and tan with magical power.
It drives away all evidences of fatigue and excitement.
It makes the plainest face beautiful.
It gives the complexion a dazzling purity and makes the neck, face, and arms appear graceful, rotund, and plump.
It makes a matron of 35 or 40 look not more than 20 years old, and changes the rustic maiden into a cultivated city belle.
The Magnolia Balm removes all blemishes and ensures every drawback to beauty; and, while it is as harmless as water, it is so life-like in its effects that the closest observer cannot detect its use.
Ladies who want to make themselves attractive can make an absolute certainty of it by using HAGAN'S MAGNOLIA BALM, and we know of no other way. It is the cheapest preparation in the world, all things considered, and may be had at any drug store.

The Walking Match.

NEW YORK, 1.—O'Leary completed his 170th mile at 10 o'clock, one minute and three seconds, and Hughes his 150th at 10.37, at which time he was 22 miles behind. O'Leary is in fine health; Hughes fagged.

The Cricket Match.

In the game of cricket at Hoboken, Moore and Vance, of the New York-American teams, were retired with 44 runs. The Australians went to the bat soon after one o'clock.

The Vanderbilt Will Case.

In the Vanderbilt will case, to-day, the so-called Mrs. Stoddard, who gave sensational testimony on Friday last, was cross-examined. She refused to answer a number of questions touching her character or relationship to the men for whom she had kept house.

A woman stood up in the court, and witness admitted that the woman was Mrs. Stoddard, the wife of Dr. Stoddard.

Before recess, counsel for Wm. H. Vanderbilt asked the surrogate to place witness in custody of an officer during recess, to secure her presence.

After all the explanations she could give were in, counsel said he would ask the court to commit witness to await the action of the grand jury on a charge of perjury.

Mr. Lord said it was the most monstrous attempt to intimidate a witness that he ever heard of.

Judge Black dared the other side, if they believed her perjured, to swear to an affidavit and take out their warrant. This would place her in a position to strike back and make them as responsible as they say she is.

Mr. Lord then said he would be responsible for her appearance after recess, which was satisfactory.

Witness, in course of her examination, testified that she was married to Dr. Stoddard by a magistrate at Kingston. At this time she was not aware that the Doctor had a wife living. The papers that would prove her marriage were burned 15 years ago. She went to the Doctor's house, at his request, and told Mrs. Stoddard that she was a widow. This was three years after the marriage ceremony. The Doctor gave her a wedding ring.

A Terrible Page in the Annals of Crime.

NEW LONDON, Conn., 1.—It has transpired that Wesley W. Bishop, of Norwich, charged with poisoning his wife, Harriet Bishop and Charles M. Cobb, Jr., has made a confession implicating Kate M. Cobb, his paramour, in the guilt. Bishop confesses to criminal intimacy with Mrs. Cobb, the procuring of poison for Mrs. Cobb with which to destroy the life of her husband, and his knowledge that she administered it. He denies that he poisoned Mrs. Bishop, and imputes the murder to the woman. The whole makes one of the most terrible pages in the annals of crime.

Yellow Fever Reports.

BATON ROUGE, La., 1.—New cases, 88; deaths, 22.

Port Gibson, Miss., 1.—The epidemic in this place has greatly subsided.

Washington, 1.—At a meeting of the yellow fever relief committee, held to-day, telegrams were read from Brooklyn, New York and Baltimore, announcing that the relief associations in those cities doubled their contributions for the boat load of provisions to be sent down the Mississippi River.

Prof. E. L. Howard, of Baltimore, has accepted the position of third member and secretary of the commission to investigate the yellow fever epidemic.

Memphis, 1.—Fifty deaths from yellow fever were reported to the board of health by the undertakers for the past 24 hours, ending at 6 o'clock to-night.

New Orleans, 1.—Gov. Nicholls issues a proclamation recommending that Wednesday, Oct. 9, be set apart as a day of fasting, humiliation and prayer for deliverance from the scourge. From noon to 6 p. m., 17 deaths and 136 new cases are reported, of which 85 were since Sept. 23.

Brown, the Stage Robber.

CHEYENNE, 1.—John H. Brown, one of the parties engaged in the late stage robberies and captured a few days ago near Stockade, arrived here yesterday and is now in jail. Another named Burris, is now in the hands of the pursuing party.

Mexican Items.

CITY OF MEXICO, Sept. 24.—During the celebration of independence day, Sept. 15, in the Teatro Nacional, at which Minister Foster was present, an orator made discourteous remarks about the United States, which were applauded by part of the audience. In consequence of this incident a sensational report was circulated that Foster would demand his passports. The report is preposterous. No importance can be given to the occurrence. The leading organs of the public opinion condemn the speech as foolish.

Señor Mata, secretary of foreign affairs, has resigned on account of ill health. It is believed Señor Zamacona will be his successor. The reception of Señor Zamacona in the western cities of the United States has made a most favorable impression. The Mexican merchants are enthusiastically in favor of entering into close commercial relations with the United States.

The American residents of Mexico have contributed upwards of $2,000 through their legation for the yellow fever sufferers in the south.

A Murderer Sentenced.

CHICAGO, 1.—Simoni, the Italian, who shot and killed McHugh, in this city, some months ago, pleaded guilty, and was, this morning, sentenced by Judge Rogers to 14 years in the penitentiary.

Disputed Title.

WASHINGTON, 1.—The land officers of the government have taken steps to eject parties from the possession of about 1,000 acres of land in the Pennsylvania oil regions. This land was taken in part payment of a debt due the United States by the Vinango County Bank, of about $60,000.

Senator Blaine's Speech, on the Financial Issue of the Day.

BURLINGTON, Iowa, 1.—One of the largest political gatherings ever held in this section of the State, assembled here, to-day, to hear a speech by Senator Blaine. He spoke for two hours, devoting himself exclusively to the financial issues of the day. The following is a synopsis of his speech: He reviewed at some length the origin and history of legal tender notes, showing that they were resorted to by the government, not as a necessity for creating money, but as the most expeditious and certain mode of securing a credit in the absence of money. In other words, the government did not issue the notes for money, but because it did not have the money. As a paper currency they had proved of inestimable service, and even when far below par in coin, and they would prove of immeasurably greater service when they were made absolutely equal to coin and exchangeable for it at the will of the holder. The honor of originating the greenback, for its great and patriotic service, belonged to the republican party, and to that party will belong the still greater honor of making every note as good as the coin itself. That equality with coin and exchangability with it can be easily maintained by the government of the United States simply keeping its pledges and plighted faith. The people of this country are a truth-observing, honor-abiding, promise-keeping people, and when they pledged to the whole world that they would not issue more than four hundred million dollars of legal tender notes, they meant what they said. They maintained this pledge when, in the opinion of many, there was a temptation to disregard it, and they will surely not violate it now, when there is both honor and benefit in standing by it.

Mr. Blaine then discussed the national banks at some length, declaring that the republican party had never made the bank system a part of its political creed, and yet declaring that, in this country we had never before enjoyed a system of banking that absolutely protected the billholder as the present national banks. Banks of some kind are a necessity, where the borrower of money can meet the lender in a common exchange. Let those, therefore, who cry out for the destruction of the national banks, suggest a better system to take their place. If a better could be found he would cheerfully support it. But he certainly did not wish a revival of the old state banks, which had, for so many years, cursed this country with an always unreliable and oftentimes worthless paper currency. Bills are now pending in Congress to permit State banks to be organized with the power to circulate bills, and he assured his hearers that the democratic cry for the destruction of the national banks had the ghost of the old State banks rising behind it.

Mr. Blaine devoted considerable time to the taxation of the United States bonds and all the questions connected therewith. He reviewed the state of our foreign and domestic trade, and demonstrated how the country was slowly yet surely coming into an era of solid prosperity, based on the best of foundations and promising the most enduring existence.

"We have," said Mr. Blaine, in conclusion, "nearly seven hundred millions of paper money in circulation, and the entire volume has already reached a practical equality with coin, the difference being only the minor fraction of a cent on the dollar. No man in this vast audience, and there are many here who were the pioneers of your great State, no man among you all ever saw paper money in Iowa, since it was first organized as a territory, float as near to the standard of gold coin as this whole mass of seven hundred million floats to-day. And if this is not enough to do the business of the country, you have only to wait and see silver by tens of millions, and gold by hundreds of millions added to the daily circulating medium of the people. And under these circumstances, with a paper currency capable of enlargement through the system of free banking, as far and as fast as the demands of the most expensive trade may require, we meet a proposition f o n a new political party to debase our paper currency and drive gold and silver first out of circulation and then out of the country, leaving us to use only an irredeemable paper currency, whose value would depreciate on a ratio threefold as rapid as its volume increased. Measures to debase the coin have been carried on in other countries but never without dishonor and disaster, and it is reserved for this country in a time of profound peace, to discuss measures looking to the permanent expulsion of coin from the country, and thence to the lasting and hopeless debasement of our paper currency and the consequent destruction of all stability in our business. The question is one which reaches the door-sill and the hearthstone of every house and home in the land, and the discussion must go on until a safe conclusion is reached, remembering that nothing is ever settled until it is settled right.

The Election in Colorado.

DENVER, Col., 1.—Returns thus far received indicate the election of the entire republican State ticket by a majority over the combined democrats and greenback vote. The Third and Fourth Wards of this city, by a count of the heads of tickets, gives Pitkin, republican, a majority of 468 over Loveland, democrat. Second Ward, Pitkin's majority, 150. It will be impossible to give the exact tally before midnight as the tickets are very long.

WESTERN.

Treasure Shipment.

SAN FRANCISCO, 1.—The treasure shipment by the City of Peking, today, was only $157,227, mostly in Mexican and trade dollars.

A Murderer Executed.

Butts, who murdered Wm. Roberts, at Forest Springs, about a year ago, was hanged at Nevada City, to-day.

Smuggled Opium.

The customs officers, yesterday, captured 187 pounds of opium which had been smuggled ashore from a Chinese steamer.

Chastised.

Harry Widmer, husband of the actress, Katy Mayhew, to-day, chastised Frank M. Pixley, proprietor, and A. G. Berge, editor of the Argonaut, in their office, for publishing, with uncomplimentary comments, a letter written by Mrs. Widmer to Clay Greene.

Constitutional Convention.

In the constitutional convention, to-day, James A. Johnson, of Alameda was elected secretary, beating M. D. Boruk by six votes. The workingmen pursued the same tactics as in the contest for President, and finding it impossible to elect their own man, went for the candidate least objectionable to them.

FOREIGN.

FRANCE.

The Cabinet.

PARIS, 1.—La Telegraphe says: A rumor is current in political circles that the French cabinet, on the reassembling of the chambers, will bring in a bill proposing a plebiscite for the purpose of formally affirming the legality of the republic.

Opportunity for Amends.

A dispatch from Bombay says: The latest news from Simla is that an opportunity has been afforded the Ameer to make amends for the affront offered to the British envoy.

GERMANY.

The Anti-Socialist Bill.

BERLIN, 1.—The committee on the socialist bill have commenced the second reading of that measure. Count Von Eulenburg, minister of the interior, said the amendments made on the first reading appeared on the whole acceptable, but government wished that some minor alterations should be made. The members of the court of appeal must be selected from the highest courts of justice, and the Emperor must have unrestricted right to appoint its president and vice-president. The limitation of the operation of the law to a period expiring on March 31st, 1881, was inadmissable. The term was too short. The government preferred that no definite limit should be imposed. In consequence of the minister's speech, the committee deferred discussion in order to arrive at an understanding among themselves.

TURKEY.

Greece and the Porte.

CONSTANTINOPLE, 1.—Safvet Pasha, grand vizier and minister of foreign affairs, has sent a circular to the powers, calling attention to the fact that the Greek government, on the authority of reports from its consuls in Thessaly and Epirus, charges the Porte with stirring up the fanaticism of the Albanians against Greece, and providing them with arms. Safvet Pasha declares these assertions calumnies, communicated to the cabinets by Greece for the purpose of justifying her military preparations, which are really a direct threat of aggression against the Ottoman empire. He proceeds to make counter charges, and says the Porte is daily apprised of the machinations of Greece against Thessaly and Epirus to arouse the peaceable population. Moreover, he states that Greece is preparing to place in the field, within a month, an army of 40,000 men, with a reserve of 35,000. This fact, conjointly with the large orders for supplies and a loan of ten millions, leave no doubt of the aggressive intentions of Greece.
