SUNDAY SCHOOL UNION.

Progress and Importance of the Work Under This Organization as Set Forth at the Annual Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Deseret Sunday School Union convened in the Tabernacle April 3rd, at 2:30 p. m. There were present on the stand all the general superintendency, the officers and members of the Union board, a number of the Apostles and Presidents of Stakes.

The meeting was called to order by First Assistant General Superintendent George Goddard, and the Tabernacle choir sang: "Redeemer of Israel."

Elder Lars E. Eggertsen, superintendent of Sunday schools of Utah Stake, offered prayer.

The choir sang: "Do what is right."

The general secretary called the roll of Stakes, which showed a representation from nearly every Stake; also read the annual statistical and financial report for the year 1895, and presented the general Sunday school authorities, who were unanimously sustained.

SUNDAY SCHOOL GROWTH.

[illegible]

Elder Goddard closed by calling attention to the [illegible]

...of the present new S. S. music book—of the "New Sunday School Music book," of about 200 pages, and also containing a few choice songs and hymns not contained in the new Sunday School music book. It is desired that each Stake superintendent notify the general secretary by letter how many his respective Stake will guarantee to buy, at 10 cents per copy, and if 10,000 are ordered, the work can be published and sold to the Sunday schools for the small figure of 10 cents each.

Second Assistant General Superintendent Karl G. Maeser, in his remarks upon the Latter-day Saints Sunday School Treatise, stated that this useful little work brought the Sunday school cause forward one step in the cause of true religious training. It is the product of several committees who worked faithfully to bring forth something that was felt to be necessary in the great Sunday school cause.

It cannot, of course, be deemed perfect, but it is the result of long, faithful and energetic study, preparation and arrangement. It embraces the work from the first department of infant class, to the higher department, in which special instructions are given. [illegible] suggestions and remarks are made; a great many historical and other events—[illegible] subjects are all named; plans and diagrams are laid out and a sample (only a sample) of a model lesson is given in each grade. It is only placed there as a sample, a guide to those not so well acquainted with the art of teaching. It ought to find its way into the hands of every officer and teacher; should be carefully read and used as a means to an end—that of training the youth of Zion.

But the knowledge of this little work is but the smaller part of the great work of a Sunday school teacher; the most important part is the spiritual preparation; the love of God, the light of heaven, the Holy Ghost. No matter how well the lesson may be prepared, the spirit of God must accompany its rendition to make our Sunday school teaching effective. [illegible]

The conference was then brought to a close by the choir and congregation singing: "Our God, We Raise to Thee." Benediction was pronounced by General Superintendent George Q. Cannon.

JOHN M. WHITAKER, Gen'l Secretary.
