DESERET EVENING NEWS.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 10, 1895.

ONE OF DAVE DAY'S WARDS.

He is a "Full Blooded Ute and Acknowledges Chief Ignacio as His Commander."

There is one of Dave Day's Colorado Ute wards who he did not get to leave in Utah. The fact is he couldn't have gone at last he found it easy to touch, as he is needed as a witness by the federal grand jury of the Centennial state.

A Denver paper says that on Tuesday of this week he was the subject of much scanning and comment. His name is Jack Chaney. Chaney is a full blooded Ute who acknowledges Chief Ignacio as his commander. He was dressed in a nearly citizens of the current pattern and wore a sombrero which that evening seen varied to the recent excursion of Ignacio's trip to Utah. Two large gold rings were suspended from his ears and over from the razor and was nearly bracelet. He appeared to wear considerable interest in the people who had business in the federal building and watched their movements closely. Chaney was accompanied by John Taylor, who has for years been the interpreter, and the man to whom he is indebted for that of a Mexican named Sandoval Cagan, who is charged with selling whisky to the Indians on the reservation. Chaney is about 35 years of age.

DEATH OF HER BABE.

Trouble of Ellen Brown, a Salt Lake Woman, Now in Denver.

Miss Ellen Brown, a Salt Lake girl, is in trouble in Denver. The Republican of that city, which came to hand in today's mail, says under date of yesterday:

Coroner Martin is investigating the mysterious death of a child which took place some time yesterday morning at No. 28 Marshall street, Elyria. He was notified of the death by Dr. Parsons who was asked to issue a certificate of death for a twelve-months-old baby boy belonging to Ellen Brown, which by that at the address given. The child was carefully dressed for burial and looked as though it had died of asphyxiation. Dr. Parsons telephoned the news of what he had found to Coroner Martin, who went to Elyria and learned the following facts about the dead child:

The mother is unmarried and came here a few days ago from Salt Lake City. She says that the child was well on Monday night. When she awoke about 5 o'clock yesterday morning it lay cold by her side. She has no idea, so she claims, what killed it.

The coroner has not yet decided whether to hold an inquest.

PROMOTED RAILWAY MEN.

Santa Fe's New Passenger and Freight Agents in Colorado and Utah.

A. P. Turner, the successor of H. Collyer in the freight department of the Santa Fe in Colorado, arrived in Denver on Tuesday, says the News of that city, and is a guest of the Windsor hotel. Mr. Turner will be followed in a short time by his wife and family and will make Denver his permanent abode.

The newcomer is one of the best known railway men of the West and is a gentleman who will make friends wherever he goes. The appointment of such a man to look after Santa Fe business in the mountain region is evidence that the company will receive that attention it demands. Mr. Turner is a young man of less than 40 years and began his experience with the Santa Fe as private secretary to General Manager E. O. Wheeler. From this position he became general agent of the company at Leavenworth, and was transferred to St. Louis in a similar capacity. As chief clerk to Traffic Manager White he gained the experience for a promotion to the responsible position of general superintendent of the Chicago, Santa Fe and Colorado line, with headquarters in Chicago. He served for a short time as assistant general freight agent at Kansas City and was transferred to Topeka with the same title three years ago. His present title is that of assistant general freight agent for Colorado and Utah.

At the same time that Mr. Turner arrives in Denver, a promotion from the city from Topeka, announcing that J. F. Hall is promoted to the position of general agent of the Santa Fe passenger department for Colorado and Utah. Mr. Hall became Colorado passenger agent of the Santa Fe lines and held also the office of the northern territory, embracing Nevada, Wyoming and Montana.

Nobody will be more greatly pleased at the advancement of Mr. Hall than the newspaper men of this city. Mr. Hall has for years personal of the best friends the newspaper interests can claim in Colorado, and his good fortune will be greeted with pleasure by a wide circle of personal acquaintances in Colorado and adjoining states. Mr. Hall is peculiarly fitted by nature and experience to meet the public, and in the passenger department of a great railroad he finds a most agreeable field. At the age of 17 years he became a telegraph operator on the Burlington road in Iowa, and for five years he was associated with the operators in western territory. He came to Denver in 1881 as chief clerk to General Ticket Agent W. H. Bennett, of the Santa Fe, and has been connected with the company ever since, serving with great credit in both the positions he has held in the passenger department. The new appointment dates from January 1.

Colonel Dodge in the City.

Colonel D. C. Dodge, general manager of the Rio Grande Western, arrived in the city last evening on one of his periodical trips of inspection over the line. The colonel says the passenger and freight traffic are showing a steady and healthy increase, and that while things general looks a little better for railroads, there will not be much building done this year. But very few lines will venture on extension. The colonel stated that Mr. Wesby was to resign was again emphatically denied.

HEARTLESS PARENTS.

HARRISVILLE, Weber Co.,
Utah, Jan. 9, 1895.

Editor Deseret News:

Shortly before 9 p. m. this evening, while a number of brethren with two members of the Seventh Day Adventists were conversing on theology, at the residence of Brother Charles Newcomb, a sharp rapping was heard on the panels. Upon opening the door, to the great surprise of all, a fine, healthy, well dressed baby was found. With the opening of the door a carriage was heard driving off, and at once Brother Hayes, who had a team with him, started out, accompanied by Brother Leonard Harris, to overtake the assailants. Brother Harris drove west towards Wilson's Station, but Brother Hayes took the road east, and after driving about 3 miles, overtook the parties, and in the moonlight discovered that a young man and woman were in the carriage. The woman was seen to have a covered buggy robe in her lap, and it was found that it was this robe in which the baby was wrapped. The buggy was then turned and driven back to Harrisville, where the parents of the child were found to be Mr. Lister and his wife, who had driven from Ogden. The baby was taken to the home of Brother Newcomb, where it was cared for and fed, to have a baby. Being unable to care for their child, they left it with you. Please come to us at once." About 10 p. m. Mr. Hayes and Harris returned, after driving to Ogden, a distance of five miles, in twenty minutes, but could get no trace of the perpetrators of this heartless act.

Your correspondent immediately returned home, where he met the child, twenty days old, and recognized Mrs. Lister, who said she was just arriving off the train when she saw a covered buggy standing by the car, so home. Both said early. If Mr. Hayes had had the clue he claims he would have found the guilty party, as after traveling five miles they saw a buggy with jaded horse, evidently three men who acted rather strangely. Mrs. Lister offered to take the child, but Mrs. Newcomb was so pleased to be a mother again she thought she was in the highest sign. The foundling has got a splendid home and guardians.

Yours, P. L.

Microscopical Meeting.

A meeting to complete the organization of a microscopical society will be held in the reading room of the University of Utah on Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock. As it is probable that a constitution will be adopted, and as officers may be elected at this meeting, all who are interested in microscopy are earnestly invited to attend.

Scofield and Winter Quarters.

A sad accident happened at the U. P. mine at Scofield on Wednesday, January 2nd, to D. D. Owen, a miner.

He was working at a piece of coal standing on a timber, when the coal broke away, knocking him down and totally injuring him. He died on Monday at 11 o'clock. He was about 35 years of age and leaves several children, some of whom are quite small, with no mother, she having died some time ago.

Three men by the name of Lloyd and one by the name of Smith killed a steer at Scofield belonging to a Mr. Whitesides, of Price, for which they were bound over to await the action of the grand jury in bonds of $500 each.

We are having winter in earnest now, both snow and frost.

The dance last Saturday between Scofield and Winter Quarters pretty often to clear the track.

The Lotto-day people in this part hold their last meetings on the first Sunday in each month. Last Sunday being the first in the new year, many new resolutions were made. We had a very interesting meeting at Winter Quarters, several young men and young women bearing faithful testimonies.

In yesterday's NEWS under the head of "The Uintah Country," the following appears in speaking of the Indian children attending school at Ouray: "The children are not interested in the branches ordinarily taught in either schools," etc. This should read: "The children are not only instructed," etc.

The funeral of Elder William Harrison, held in the Provo ward yesterday afternoon, was well attended. The following speakers made appropriate and feeling remarks, and paid high tribute to the life and character of the departed: Bishop W. Grant, Patriarch Solomon, B. C. Rockwood and Edward Peay.

Ida May Ainsworth, the P. V. penmen, convicted of embezzling money and other stolen valuables from the penitentiary, was found guilty of the charge of the grand jury in the district court. She is only fifteen years of age, and previously had borne a good character. There is said to be no question of her guilt, however, and that it is a case of temptation being too strong for the child to resist. Her parents are well and favorably known in Provo and at P. V. Junction, and are heartbroken over the affair.

The retiring board of education met last evening with the incoming board. The retiring board submitted a financial report showing that $9,000 had been paid in debts contracted by the board which has outgoing board was owing, and that there still remained $3,500 and interest due the bank. The present board elected as president and director of school buildings, Professor Lewis; secretary, E. A. Wilson, treasurer, C. D. Goddard, vice-president, J. [illegible] secretary, J. E. AN OPINION GIVES.

Recently Mr. J. D. Tucker, of North Dakota, visited the Shenandoah Valley, Virginia, and after carefully examining the country located in Winchester, he wrote to Mr. V. Hickey, Land and Immigration Agent, Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, Baltimore, Maryland, as follows: "I have been in nearly every state and territory of the United States, and am frank in my opinion that this valley surpasses all other sections in the Union. The lands are low in price, and produce profitable crops. I thank you for directing me here, and submit those seeking pleasant and profitable homes to locate in this country."
