Last Night's Dispatches.

[illegible]

In Receiver's Hands.

[illegible] 23.—The Fort [illegible], to-day, was placed in the hands of a receiver, pending a dispute of the board of directors.

Will not Withdraw the Nomination—Interviewed—Holidays.

WASHINGTON, D. C., 23.—The President stated emphatically, today, that the nomination of Attorney General Williams for Chief Justice, would not be withdrawn, and that he had never contemplated such a thing.

A colored delegation, composed of Geo. F. Downing, Fred. Douglas, and others, have had an interview with representative A. H. Stephens, of Georgia. Stephens freely admitted that the colored men, as citizens, were entitled to full privileges in their civil rights, without invidious proscription, but he said that it was the duty of the respective States, and not of the federal government, to act in order to secure them.

All the departments will be closed at noon during the holiday week.

Will Investigate.

Representatives Wilson and Eldridge, of the judiciary committee, will leave here on Saturday for New Orleans. It is their intention, while avoiding State politics and complications, to investigate all the acts of the federal court, which it is charged taint Judge Durrell's official conduct.

"A Mob of Brutes and Cowards."

NEW YORK, 23.—The Tribune, tomorrow, will publish a second letter from Randolph A. Witthaus, who was a passenger on the ill-fated Ville de Havre, to his father in this city. He writes as follows: "In my last I gave you a sketch of my experience in connection with the sinking of the Ville de Havre. I will now give you my opinions concerning the cause of the accident, &c. From all that I can gather from the officers and men I conclude that the blame lies entirely with the officers on watch on the steamer, whose duty it was to get out of the Loch Earn's way; and it appears that instead of doing this they did the very opposite, altering the course of the steamer so as to run right across the bows of the Loch Earn, at least so says the officer who was on watch on the latter boat at the time of the collision. In any case, it is an acknowledged rule of the sea that a steamer is bound to get out of the way of a sailing craft, and as the night was magnificently clear and calm the accident could only have occurred through some inexcusable blunder of those in charge of the steamer. After the accident, if it can be called such, had occurred, and while the ship was sinking, the officers and crew behaved in the most cowardly manner. The latter I know, and therefore I believe that they looked out for themselves, and left the women and children to look out for themselves, the only exception I saw being Doctor Audmont, whom I saw, three or four minutes before the ship went down, going below. I told him he would not have time to get up again, to which he answered that he must look after those who were crushed in their state rooms. He never came up again. A significant fact, and one needing no comment, is that not a single passenger was taken from the sinking ship by the boats, all being picked up in the water, while at least twenty of the officers and crew reached the Loch Earn without wetting as much as the soles of their shoes. Of Capt. Surmont's conduct I know nothing. Those who saw him spoke well of him, and I don't think he is directly to blame for the collision, although he is to blame for not having his crew under better discipline, and for not having his boats in a condition to be promptly lowered. In great contrast with the demoralized condition of the crew was the coolness of the passengers, even the women and children. There was no screaming or running about without an object. The women were in knots praying quietly, while the men were looking around for pieces of wood, or were making efforts to get one of the boats, which the crew had abandoned, clear of the ship, so that it might float before the vessel sank. Language fails in expressing my admiration of and gratitude to the gallantry and generosity of the officers and crew of the Loch Earn and of the Trimountain. The former saved the greater part of us from the water and both gave us clothing, and did all in their power to make us as comfortable as possible under the circumstances. The French crew, on the contrary, were a mob of brutes and cowards."

Another Lie by Telegraph.

The Herald's London special says an official denial is given to the story of the New York Times, that the English government had demanded the punishment of General Burriel.

$80,000 Fire.

ST. LOUIS, 23.—The Collier White Lead and Oil Co's works were partially burned to-night; loss $80,000, insurance $50,000.

WESTERN.

Four Men Killed—Elected.

SAN FRANCISCO, 23.—Advices from Tucson, Arizona, state that a terrible tragedy occurred December 10th, in Lincoln, New Mexico, in which David Warner, Mr. Herrold, J. L. Glynn, and Juan Martin were killed. Martin was a constable, and, with a posse, he tried to arrest the others; Warner killed him, the sheriff's posse killed Warner, and the other two named were also found dead, riddled with bullets.

Judge Hager, of this city, an anti-railroad candidate for the United States Senate for the short term, was elected to-day, at Sacramento at the second ballot.

ITALY.

Another Allocution.

ROME, 23.—The Pope will deliver another allocution in the Consistory on the 29th.

FRANCE.

Interview with McMahon—Opposition.

PARIS, 23.—The Chevalier Nigra, Italian Minister, has had an interview with President McMahon, and proposed a resumption of the cordial relations between France and Italy.

There is strong opposition to the proposed grant of money to the ex-Empress Eugenie.

Going to St. Marguerite.

The report of Bazaine's flight was unfounded. [illegible] have learned night, for Saint Marguerite, his place of imprisonment.

GREAT BRITAIN.

Jesuitical Priests.

LONDON, 23.—The Daily News reports that the hostile tone of the recent pastorals issued by the French bishops, has caused the German government to renew its complaints to France.

SPAIN.

Re-entered Biscay.

MADRID, 23.—Generals Morionez and Loma have re-entered the province of Biscay, with 1,500 men.

MONTANA NOTES.

Neilse Holden, of Missouri Valley, was kicked in the head by a horse, Dec. 11, producing a depressed fracture over the right ear, and insensibility. He can hardly recover.

The Montanians are signing a petition to the Secretary of the Interior to appoint a salaried commissioner and assistants, for the National Yellowstone Park, and requesting an appropriation by Congress to make roads through said park, and for protecting it from vandalism, as parties are carrying away curiosities and game; also for the immediate appointment of a congressional commission to visit the park early next summer and inquire and report upon the subject.

ARIZONA NOTES.

From the Prescott Miner, December 12—

Those who profess to be learned in trecology aver that Arizona has, in the past, been subject to dry periods, lasting seven years, and, of course, to similar wet periods, but this reading of wood we take merely for what it is worth, and with some grains of allowance, and for the following reasons. The Territory was really settled by Americans in 1863, a dry year, 1864-5-6-7 and 8—five pretty wet years—followed. Then came 1869-70-71-72 and 73—dry years, which period, judging from present indications, will be followed by another wet period. Should this forecast prove correct, we may look forward to stirring times, when miners and people who own "dry" ranches will be as flush of money as they were in "early days." At the end of this period, people will be able to bore for artesian water, and it may be that railroads, telegraph lines and a denser population will, at the end of the next five years, make such a change—for the better—in our climate, as is already noticeable in Utah, Wyoming and other places. We hope so, as all that is wanted in Arizona is more rainfall. God has provided the Territory with everything else.

"Apples from San Bernardino, California," are among the "luxuries" imported by Arizonians, who, to their shame, are, at this late day, dependent upon California for fruit of almost every description. Now, this reliance upon California, for fruit, ought not to be as general, when Arizona can raise almost everything in the fruit line. Let us, as soon as possible, strike for independence; not that we grudge Californians our patronage, but because we need the money.

Snow descended nearly all day long, Dec. 10, at times in big flakes, but oftener in multitudinous tiny ones, all of which melted almost as fast as they struck the ground. It was cheering to see the "beautiful snow" descend, as it used to in years past, when Arizona was almost as soft as Oregon.

WESTERN NOTES.

Clipped trade dollars are complained of at Virginia, Nevada.

Clark's Station, twenty miles east of Reno, Nev., is in an almost "snowless and rainless" region. An inch of snow has fallen so far the present season, and rain has hardly ever been known here. Good locality for stock though.

At Santa Cruz, Cal., December 18th, a Frenchman named Gracia was accidentally killed while assisting to roll a cask of liquor into a cellar. The cask slipped and struck him with great force in the face and breast as he stood beneath it, killing him instantly.

The deepest place yet found in Lake Tahoe measures but 1,645 feet. In quite a number of places its depth is from 1,000 to 1,500 feet. The lake has been supposed to occupy the site of the crater of an extinct volcano, and the deepest soundings obtained are at a point where there are still several hot springs.

The first prize in the Havana lottery, $500,000, has been won by parties in San Francisco, who hold coupons of the lucky ticket, No. 8,640. An attache of the Chronicle gets $25,000, and a Clay Street market poulterer a like amount. One coupon of No. 8,640 was sold in Virginia Nev., also ticket No. 1,083, which drew a prize of $10,000.

Mr. Thorne was terribly frozen, Dec. 8, between Monitor and Silver Hill, Nevada. He had lost his way and when discovered had lain down in the snow and was almost lifeless. He had been out in the snow storm nearly thirty hours. His hands and feet were frozen till they were as hard as lumps of ice. Care had to be used in order not to break his hands off while packing him in. It was found necessary to amputate both feet, but the physician intended to do his best to save his hands.

A Lady's Opinion of a Sleeping Car.

And here, while the dusky hand of ourever-attentive "amendsest" prepared our couch for the night, [illegible] not say one word about sleeping cars. I know they are elegant in every detail—that everything is done to insure the comfort of travellers, so that they may sleep as comfortably and rest as securely as e'er they might in "home, sweet home;" but how about the dressing conveniences? A woman's toilet, to be satisfactorily performed, demands some other position than prone upon the face. Likewise, it is somewhat more agreeable to perform portions of the toilet unobserved by the multitude. Men either are not burdened with modesty, or they have minds that soar so far above the feminine that they give no thought to the embarrassment attendant upon the method and manner of disposing one's self in those close quarters. A woman carefully arranges herself behind the curtain, slyly unloosens a lace, envelops herself decorously in a large waterproof, not daring to lay aside her chignon for fear of a surprise, and to stow herself away uncomfortably and depressed. The stranger in the berth above leisurely divests himself of his outer garments, pulls off his boots, loosens his suspenders and bounds into bed with graceful ease, rather enjoying the embarrassment. I think if there could be a lady's car for sleeping and toilet, exclusive of gentlemen, it would be a great advancement in wayfaring civilization. I thought so when [illegible] while I awoke from uneasy slumbers to find the foot-board taken, and a group of serene-browed men gazing smilingly upon my sleeping beauty. Let us have separate cars, good people, and we can add another item of grace to the way of luxury and useful ease.—Ex.
