AMERICA'S CUP RACE.

Conflicting Statements as to the Loading of the Defender.

A LEADER ALONGSIDE THE YACHT

Some Suspicious Circumstances—Too Late Now to Investigate, Says Mr. Gilmore.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—A special to the World from London says a World representative interviewed Mr. Arthur Gilmore on the subject of the American race and the present controversy over the subject of the loading of the Defender.

"Well, to tell the truth, the statement that Lord Dunraven was going to America surprised me greatly. I had not a word notice that there is to be any race of any kind at this time of the year. The proper time for the challenge to have taken action was when Lord Dunraven represented to the Club that the Defender was not finished but proved incorrect. Lord Dunraven then made the small request that a special representative of the cup committee should be placed on board each boat until the measurement was made. That was done and thus the only opportunity of making or settling all doubts at rest was lost by the other side.

"I noticed for the newspapers here in New York to talk about Lord Dunraven's pamphlet formulating new charges. The pamphlet only recapitulates what Lord Dunraven stated to Colonel Fish after the first race. It is a little misstatement of facts to make a new charge."

Did Lord Dunraven state to Mr. Fish that Defender's leader was alongside alleged suspicious circumstances?

"Build all the circumstances before Colonel Fish. I do not allege of my own knowledge that the leader was doing anything wrong, but does it not look queer to you that when a racing boat has some fresh oil of the dock, ready for a contest with everything equal, it should be necessary to put a leader in that way until 1 o'clock in the morning on the night before the race when her crew had to be up as early to get her in trim?

"Lord Dunraven's pamphlet was sent across to enlisted his many friends in England who had authentic statements of the incidents. His first idea was to publish in the yacht clubs and possibly a sailing paper or two, but it was intended to be given communication.

"How did it come to Lord Dunraven's knowledge that Defender's leader was alongside in this alleged suspicious manner?"

"I am sure in our tender, lying beside Valkyrie, and defender was lying not fifty yards ahead of Valkyrie, we could see quite plainly, indeed we could, when we went on board hours very early next morning, it was made told me that he had seen the leader alongside Defender. I know, as I have said, the tender may have been quite properly engaged, but the circumstance was close enough to attract our attention. The trial I wish now to say no more."

Did Lord Dunraven care you to be suspected there was foul play?

"I did so, I should say, out of a sense of duty to carry out all the conditions of the race, as he crossed the line the third race."

D. Sangster a Candidate.

OTTAWA, Nov. 21.—A letter has been received in this city from a prominent man in Montreal to the effect that Mr. D. Sangster, Q.C., intends to have taken action as a candidate against the Conservatives, Mr. Sangster is president of the Canadian Federation of Labor and it is said that the representation of the Canadian Federation of Labor party will be a candidate against Hon. John McIntyre for the leadership of the organization. Mr. Gompers was invited by President McNeill of the Denver convention a year or so ago at the Chicago convention two years ago, when Mr. McIntyre was a candidate for the first time, and was in his present, notwithstanding the fact that there were numerous labor men present who were in the opposition, it appears was elected by a safe margin.

Rula, on claim that they were illegally held under a British warrant. They succeeded in planning a military expedition to Cuba. They protest their innocence.

The letter was written by Ruiz, to a friend in Brooklyn.

Ruiz, with his three friends, he stated at Inagua, the commander of the British war ship Pelorus, ordered him and a boat to take them on board and carried them to Nassau. At the time of writing they had been in Nassau more than two weeks, but had not been and seen up for trial.

Ruiz is a member of the Cibian Club of Brooklyn and was active in the interests of John T. McKane. He came to this country he was a refugee of the Cuban army, which he says his friends to suspect that he was a spy from New York was recruited by Spanish spies. They claim that they were simply visiting the city, that they had rented a house with island of Inagua, and that they intended to spend some time there fishing and hunting.

GUNS FOR THE GOLDEN GATE.

Destruction Awaiting Any Hostile Fleet That May Appear.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 21.—The battery of dynamite guns which stretches along the bluffs south of Fort Point for nearly a mile, is now ready to deal out destruction to any invading navy that may appear within three miles of the Golden Gate. The great guns stare up at the heavens from behind steep bulwarks. They look not unlike great frogs ready to spring into the ocean.

Lieutenant Miley who has charge of the battery, says that this battery which defends the chief harbor of the Pacific coast, is the largest battery in the world. There is another located at Sandy Hook, near the entrance of New York harbor, but it contains only one eight inch and two fifteen inch guns.

During the past two days experiments have been made with the guns. No shells have been fired, only a limited amount of powder in order to test the air compressing plant by which the projectiles are hurled from the guns.

During the first week in December an official test will be made of the guns before General Graham and all the officers stationed at the Presidio and the neighboring military posts. Shells will be used and the guns will be tested as if in actual warfare.

FATAL BICYCLE TROUSERS.

A Rag Caught by a Fall Leads to Divorce Proceedings.

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—A rent in the bicycle trousers of William Wallace was the indirect means of bringing out a scandal of divorce today. Last summer Wallace and his friend Benjamin Fisher were scorching along the street when Wallace fell off and wrecked his trousers so badly that he stopped hotter than ever to get out of the way of the police. He went to the Fisher residence and applied for the loan of a pair of bicycle trousers. Hall accommodated him and soon Wallace and Fisher were scorching once more. Wallace fell something noisy in the pocket of the Hall trousers and on investigation found it to be a letter addressed to his wife at the owner of the trousers. Then more scorching was in order, while the husband sought Hall and satisfaction. He failed to find the man and went to his wife. She is a truthful woman and Fisher began proceedings for a divorce, which was granted him today. Mrs. Fisher is at Atlanta, Ga., and her husband still has possession of the fatal trousers.

SPANISH ATROCITIES.

Cuban Women and Children Butchered by Soldiers.

TAMPA, Fla., Nov. 21.—Col. Fernando Figueredo, the Cuban leader of this city, is in receipt of a letter from Havana, giving details of atrocities committed by Spanish soldiers in the Matanzas province.

Colonel Mallou, who commands a Spanish regiment, recently encountered the advance guard of Gomez's army in Matanzas and was defeated. While the soldiers under Mellou were in retreat they met a group of women and children near a little town called Cayeguas. As the soldiers passed, one of the women made a sneering remark about the Spaniards. The remark was overheard by the soldiers and so enraged them that they fell upon the women and children and butchered every one of them. There were ten women and about a dozen children in the group.

The letter says that the Spaniards, after shooting down their victims, stabbed them with bayonets, inflicting the most horrible wounds. One lady was killed at its mother's breast, and the bullet that passed through the infant also killed the mother.

Colonel Mellou made no report of the butchery, but it happened that two of the women murdered were wives of Spaniards engaged in the sawmill business in Matanzas. When the husbands learned how their loved ones had been butchered they wrote to Martinez Campos, informing him of the horrible affair and demanding that Colonel Mellou be punished. It is said that Campos has ordered that Mellou be court martialed and it is thought the butcher will be sentenced to death as the massacre is considered as bitterly by Spaniards as by Cubans.

BARBAROUS JAPAN.

Chinese Papers Accuse Japs of the Massacre of Corea's Queen.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Nov. 21.—Chinese papers by the Empress of China are bitter in their attacks on Japanese authorities in Corea who they blame for the murder of the queen. They assert that Japan is a nation pretending to be civilized but it is most barbarous on earth. The queen was hung up by the hair, fled head and foot, soaked in oil and burned in the rear of the palace, her remains being reduced to ashes, that all traces should be lost.

Thirty attendants of the queen, it is alleged, were butchered, their corpses being left about the palace. When the palace was attacked, of some 1,500 guards on duty, only six remained at their posts and they were quickly dispatched. According to Chinese reports there were fifteen women of title in the court. The queen, her mother and thirteen ladies in waiting. CLOUDING UP AGAIN.

The Political Outlook in Turkey Less Bright than Yesterday.

BAHRI PASHA CAUSING TROUBLE.

Another Joint Note to the Sultan—Alarm at Aleppo—Abdul Hamid and His Cabinet.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 21.—[Copyrighted 1895 by Associated Press.]—Matters political do not look as bright today as yesterday. Once more Bahri Pasha is the disturbing element. This notorious official has made himself so conspicuous by his cruelty to the Armenians and the maladministration of his district when governor of Van, that the British ambassador insisted upon his removal. After considerable correspondence the plain evidence of the pasha's unfitness for his position having been furnished the sultan, the latter removed the pasha. Bahri, however, brought the strongest influence to bear upon Abdul Hamid, and protested his innocence. He claimed the removal was brought about by the intrigues of the Armenians and eventually was not only forgiven but decorated with the order of Osmanli and complimented upon his efforts to suppress the disorder.

Soon afterward it was rumored that Bahri Pasha was to be appointed to command a large force of Turkish troops being concentrated at Marsh for movement upon Zeitoun, which is held by the Armenians who captured the Turkish garrison consisting of about 400 men. This report raised such a storm of indignation in diplomatic and other circles here that the plan was abandoned. Now, however, Bahri Pasha has been appointed military commander of the Aleppo district. The bad impression this has produced can hardly be exaggerated, for the diplomates feel it will be almost impossible to prevent him pursuing the same tactics at Aleppo he did at Van. The representatives of the powers have held a meeting and discussed the matter from all standpoints, and joined in a note to the Turkish government saying they cannot answer for the consequences which might ensue, should the Armenians at Zeitoun be massacred after their surrender, which the Armenian patriarch, at the instance of representatives of the powers, is endeavoring to bring about in order to prevent further bloodshed.

A dispatch from Aleppo says greatest alarm prevails there. Hurried and and frequent council of ministers are being held at the palace and some plain language is said to have been used by the sultan.

That the sweeping out of the present cabinet is contemplated nobody doubts.

The British fleet is still at Salonica, and the French and Italian fleets at Smyrna, about 200 miles from Salonica.

Baronghbady concluded: "We have the reasonable hope that Turkey will succeed in restoring order, in which task her efforts will certainly be supported by all the powers, which, without exception, attach great importance to the maintenance of a peaceful state of things."

The loss probably will not exceed $5.

At 12:05 this afternoon the one-story frame residence of Jacob Chatterton, corner Second south and T streets, was found on fire. The boys from station No. 1 responded to the call but held back, but the neighbors had done such effective work that when they got there their services were unnecessary.

The loss is estimated at less than $50, with $300 insurance on the building.

DEATH OF A UTAH PIONEER

Patriarch Lorenzo D. Young Passes From Mortality.

After a Well Spent Life of Eighty-Eight Years—One of the Original Pioneers.

Today, Nov. 21, Patriarch Lorenzo Dow Young, brother of the late President Brigham Young, breathed his last at his home in this city. He has been quite feeble since the 1st of September last, and several times his death has been anticipated. When at last it came it was peaceful. The deceased was born Oct. 19, 1807, in Smyrna, Chenango county, New York, and was the son of John and Nabbie Howe Young. He was one of the original Utah Pioneers.

In his infancy, Lorenzo Dow Young was a feeble child, and as a boy he was far from being physically strong. His mother died when he was between seven and eight years old. At ten he became apprentice to a gardener and cursery-man, who required him to work beyond his strength. At seventeen he went to learn the blacksmith's trade where he met with an accident that almost rendered him a cripple for life; from this, however, he recovered. It was in 1832 that he read the Book of Mormon, and on investigation was convinced of the truth of the Gospel revealed through the Prophet Joseph Smith, being baptized in September of that year. He gathered with the Church, and in 1833 went on a mission to the state of New York. In 1836 he filled a mission in western Ohio, followed by another in New York. From Kirtland he moved to Missouri, from where he was driven with the Saints in 1839, going to Scott county, he remained there till 1841. He was at the battle of Crooked River, where Elder David W. Patten was killed.

In 1841 he filled another mission to Ohio; and in 1843 was one of those in the Mormon exodus from Nauvoo. With his family he passed through the severe privations of that period, and on April 7, 1847, left Winter Quarters with the Utah Pioneers under President Brigham Young. Lorenzo brought with him one cow—the only cow in the company, and the first ever known to come into the Great Salt Lake Valley.

Lorenzo's first labor in the valley was taking out a little water in an irrigation ditch and planting a bushel of potatoes he had brought from Winter Quarters; they were badly dried up and only fourteen bills grew. The frost coming on, he cut up a wagon box, made some boxes, and took up his potatoes, bills and all and took them into the house, where he left them growing till colder weather came, and they had grown to the size of hickory nuts. He then dug them, and next spring had one quart left for seed, one-half of which he gave away, and raising ever two bushels from the remainder.

Brother Lorenzo assisted to build the Old Fort, on the site of the Pioneer Square, and erected a house thereon. He next built a house—the first erected in the valley outside of the Old Fort—on the site of the present Deer Hive Theatre, near the corner of South Temple and State streets. Very many interesting incidents of his experience could be related if space therefor were available. He has been an active worker, holding various positions of importance. He was of a hospitable, generous nature, and delighted in aiding those who were in need. During his long life he was highly esteemed by the people, and now passes to an honored grave.

Lorenzo D. Young was the youngest member of a most remarkable family in the Church in one particular. The family consisted of the father and mother, the late John Young and his wife Nabbie Howe Young, five sons and five daughters, all of whom were married when the Gospel reached them, and they and their wives and husbands—twenty-one in the family, all joined the Church. There was one son by another wife, the late Edward Young, who also joined the Church.

The date of the funeral has not been fixed, but will be announced later.

THE CITY CANVASS.

Completed by the Municipal Board This Morning.

WRIT OF MANDATE SERVED.

Returnable Tomorrow Morning—Vote for Superintendent of Schools.

The work of the Utah Commission in canvassing the ballots cast at the last election was checked somewhat today by the receipt of a writ of mandate which was served on them this morning. The cause for this is as follows:

At a meeting of the Utah Commission held yesterday Mr. A. N. McKay, a Tribune reporter, made an application to be allowed to witness the count of the returns as a representative of C. S. Zane and Glen Miller, and presented written authority from those gentlemen to that effect. Chairman Norrell informed him that the board would take action upon the matter during the day and just before its adjournment in the afternoon the matter was called up, and the chairman was instructed to notify Messrs. Zane and Miller that the board having decided not to admit any representatives of the press during the count, would not admit Mr. McKay to witness the count but that any other agent whom they might designate would be granted every privilege given under the statutes.

This morning the board was served with an alternative writ of mandate returnable on Friday morning wherein they were required to show cause why such demand should not be granted. A canvass of Weber county is now being made by the commission.
