Beaver Court .- We have received he following as a special per Deseret Telegraph line:

BEAVER, Utah, Sept. 22, 1885. Editor Deseret News:

The grand jury was dismissed on aturday afternoon. No indictments were found under the Edmunds law. The panel to try the case of Twitchell was filled on Saturday afternoon and he case given to the jury yesterday afernoon. The Court gave a very fair tharge to the jury jn the case. The ary has been out nearly twenty-four lours and is still "holding out." Runor says the jury stands, eight for acwittal and four for conviction.

At the last May term of the court the amily of John Lang were subpænaed before the grand jury and he accompanied them and stated his case, upon which an indictment was found. When irraigned he pleaded "not guilty. His case was called this morning and there was some talk of withdrawing in the case on Friday.

Emery County .- We had a call vesterday from Brother O. J. Anderson, of Castle Dale, Emery County, and learned from him some particulars concerning the interesting region from which he hails. Castle Dale is the capital of Emery County, which extends over a wide area of country and embraces eight flourishing settlements - namely, Moab, Price, Huntington, Castle Dale, Orangeviile, Ferron, Molen and Muddy. It is located in what used to be known as Castle Valley, one of the most barren and forbidding regions imaginable, un-Horses Missing .- Quite 'a number | til the blessing of the Almighty and the magic touch of "Mormon" industry usly from their owners' premises in converted it into one of the most fruitarious parts of this city lately, the tul districts in the Territory. During the past seven years, however, the climate has seemed read rapidly, causing considerable the wind storms have gradually diminished and the rainfall increased, until now it is as mild there as here, and with luxuriant grass. This is not due to irrigation, for but a very small proportion of the valley has yet been irrigated. Better facilities for irrigation are seldom to be found than that valley affords. It listraversed by five large streams-Price, Huntington, Cottonwood, Ferron and Muddy, none of which are yet fully utilized; in fact, there are facilities in that valley in the shape of land, water, etc., for the support of thousands of inhabitants more than it yet contains. On drew a dagger from his breast pocket | the whole, the public were well satisand sprang upon Murray, inflicting two fled, though after the second heat of the tratting race little enthusiasm was manifested. It proved, as feared, a red-letter day for Colorado flyers, Mr, B. C. Holly's entries getting away with two out of the three purses offered.

The first race, five-eighths of a mile, running, for two year olds, was started, run and finished almost before the spectators were aware that the "Go" had been given. It was nothing very wonderful any way, the time of the winner, Irish Mollie, being 1.14%.

The second race, trotting and pacing, for a purse of $300, was more interesting. After an infinite amount of scoring, caused by bad acting on the part of Tommy Dodd, ewner, J. K. Gillespie, of this city, a start was finally secured with "Happy," a beautiful white mare, at the pole. Harry Velox, driven by his owner, Mr. Holly, of Colorado. soon took the lead and maintained it. though hotly crowded down the last quarter by Happy and Dodd. Dedd took second place amid immense enthusiasm. Time 2.35%. The second heat was started at the third attempt, but was a poor send off. The horses went under the wire almost at a walk, but were told by the judges to "Go," which the two victors did in good style.
