HILL IS ALL RIGHT.

He Has Decided to Support the Chicago Nominees.

HE PROMISES SENATOR JONES

To Stand by the Action of His Own New Convention and Work for Its Nominees.

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—Tomorrow morning the World will say:

Senator David B. Hill will support the candidates of the Chicago convention. A formal announcement of his position, it is said, will be made public within a very few days.

The facts, the World will say, were learned by Senator James K. Jones, chairman of the Democratic National committee, on a visit to Senator Hill at Normandie-by-the-Sea, Wednesday night. Senator Jones returned to the city this morning, accompanied by Lawrence Gardner, secretary of the Democratic Congressional campaign committee, who went down to Normandie Wednesday night.

To a personal friend Senator Jones expressed significantly, "Hill is all right."

The chairman, according to the World, had serious misgivings and also the profits and losses of the Senator from New York upon the political situation. He decided to see Hill early with the senator about and how long he was going to stand there. Mr. Gardner, it is said, made the arrangements for Wednesday night's visit at the request of Senator Gorman.

Mr. Jones stood with Mr. Hill at Normandie and met State Chairman Hinkley and John R. Sheffelin. Four senior Hill leaders were present. The conference was extremely frank, since they were friends. It is said, Mr. Hill told Senator Jones the New York convention would in all probability indorse the ticket named at Chicago and reaffirm the core platform adopted at the last state convention. Mr. Hill told Senator Jones that he would stand by the action of his own state convention and work loyally for its nominees. That, he thought, is all he could be asked of him.

The World's official opinion is not that Senator Jones received the information that Senator Hanna was thoroughly in favor of bolting the whole ticket.
