Charge of Misconduct Against a Doctor at Fairview, Sanpete Co.

IMPORTANT MINING NOTES.

Carriage Accident at Park City.—Supposed Brutal Murder in Mahona.—A Box Factory for Brigham City, etc., etc.

County Collector Malmlee of Brigham City says only about $3,000 of the $40,000 of taxes due has been paid in.

It is stated that another strike of gravity ore running well in silver and lead, has been made in the Monterey mine, silver City.

Bingham Bulletin—The Brooklyn continues to send in the usual amount, 200 tons per week—regardless of the low price of silver.

The Gray Rock, Tintic, sent in a four ton shipment of ore Wednesday, which goes from 150 to 200 ounces silver, on the same day the Bluck shipped 40 tons.

The Vernal Express says this to its delinquent subscribers: "Remember that it takes a good hard lotta to get paper, ink and other material to run a paper besides the labor attached to the business.

Brigham City is to have a box factory for the manufacturing of fruit boxes, egg cases, etc. As that town uses up about $10,000 worth of that kind of material every year, it will no doubt be a paying enterprise.

It is reported that 600 sheep out of a flock of 6000 belonging to western parties and temporarily in charge of J. N. Mertz, at Rock Creek, Wyoming, have been poisoned by eating sainfoine. They were valued at $4 per head.

Last week seven coyotes went to the house of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Burkhart, in Laramie and stood within twenty-five yards of Mrs. Burkhart while she was feeding the chickens. They remained about the house half an hour.

Laramie, Wyoming, is to be honored this week by the meeting of the Rocky Mountain Synod of the Evangelical Lutheran church. It will be the second annual convention of that body, they having held their first meeting last year in Denver.

Another shipment of high grade silver ore from the Dragon mine, at Silver City was made last week. The ore is found in pockets on the side of the iron and lime. Considerable prospecting is being done to discover the main body.

The Wasatch Force says coal hauling is the leading business of Heber these days. A long string of teams leave bright and early every morning for Coalville and every evening as many return heavily laden with the black comfort. Over thirty loads of coal were counted, one day last week, entering Heber and this was only an average turnout.

Last night Jim Wall, one of our leading business men, received a lot of ore from the new strike in the Pennsylvania mine, Alta. It is a silver-lead ore and runs from 40 to 80 ounces, of which there is an 18 inch body or stringer, which is believed will lead to a big deposit further on. The ore is being sacked and a shipment will soon be made.—Park City Record.

A man named Larsen, who kept a section house near the Painted Rock, a place in Montana, went to Tooele one day last week, got checks for himself and can cashed and started home. A train that night passed over him, mashing his head and feet into a jelly. No money was found on his person and it is suspected he was murdered for his money and placed on the track to prevent suspicion.

C. D. Rockfridge and wife have had a narrow escape from serious injury at Park City. They were out for a ride in their carriage when the horses took fright and ran away. The buggy collided with the fence surrounding the Park City Refining Works building and was smashed to pieces, throwing the occupants to the ground. Mr. and Mrs. Rockfridge escaped with a few slight injuries and the only damage done was the destruction of the buggy.

Jim Rice, a washer man, and Tom Parker, an Ethiopian blacksmith, got into a fight in the bitters shop on Larimer street, Denver, over a bag. The colored man, a giant in strength, threw a few artistic like swirls and sledge hammers at Jim Rice with disastrous effect, breaking two of the ribs and making a number of scalp wounds. Parker was arrested by Detectives Allen and Hulbert, and Jim Rice was taken to the county hospital for treatment.

Plymouth is pushing forward this season as a beet seed producing locality. Responsible people claim a total of 150,000 pounds of beets seed threshed this fall. As a wheat and fruit producer, Plymouth ties fair to outstrip the remainder of the county. When the first settlers landed there a few years ago they were laughed at and discouraged with this seedself. "If you go there you and your family will starve to death." Mark the change.—Bingham City Bugler.

Officials of the Cheyenne land office have been furnished with copies of a new law important to Wyoming. Timber and stone lands may be purchased at $2.50 an acre on application and advertisement. This does not affect claimants who have started to prove up under the former regulations. No person or corporation may buy more than 320 acres. It must be shown that the land is wholly valuable for its stone or timber and is not under cultivation. The law heretofore applied to but few of the western states and has now been extended in scope.

The Centennial-Eureka mining company have placed an order with H. M. Jones—the designer and inventor—for a special apparatus which will indicate to the engineer handling the hoist the exact condition of all the traps which close the shaft at each station, and which will make collisions impossible. This is an ingenious contrivance, and the engineer can see at a glance if all or any of the twenty traps are open or shut. The indicators or needles are operated by compressed air, caused by the lifting or closing of the traps. It is the intention to have the indicator ready to put in by the time the work on the hoist is completed.—Park City Record.

G. D. Smith and Chas. Gee were here again last week, says the Mount Pleasant Pyramid, in the interest of the government in timber land matters. The subject which claims the greater part of the gentlemen's attention is that of the fires which have destroyed so much timber during the past season in the eastern counties. As was to be expected they have not succeeded in ascertaining the names of the parties who are responsible for such devastation. They say, however, that hereafter there will be no more such liberal permits granted as have been heretofore, and the authorities are going to keep a close watch that no more than the amount of timber which the law allows shall be cut which is about fifty per cent.

One of the greatest mining companies ever contemplated in this territory was inaugurated in this city last night, says the Lucania Announcing of October 28. As formed up last night it is hoped to incorporate a company with a capital of $100,000 in shares of $5 each issued but assessable to the extent of 10 per cent per month, which is the limit fixed by statute. Twenty-five thousand dollars of this amount is to be issued to the owners of the Hastings lead. Should it be decided to work this lead, which is the property of J. Byron, Geo. Kirst, Geo. Harmon and H. P. Dahl, the amount of stock issued in payment of the property will be made assessable in the articles of incorporation until such time as the mine becomes a producer, when it will be assessable the same as the other $75,000. A committee, consisting of C. W. Bennet, Geo. W. Fox and G. A. Kriel, was appointed to draw up articles of incorporation in accordance with the above ideas. A committee was also selected, consisting of Jay Byron, H. P. Dahl and C. W. Bennet, to circulate the articles of incorporation and subscriptions for stock, it being understood that nothing would be done until the $25,000 shares were subscribed. A dozen miners at the La Plata camp will take a large block of 25,000 and pay their monthly assessment with labor according to their original proposition.

Metal from the ore can be extracted by the deiwyn process, it is said, for less than two dollars a ton, which, if true, will prove of inestimable benefit to the owners of mines producing low grade ores. The process, to simplify it down so that unscientific minds can comprehend it, is as follows: The ore is put into a large tank and heated by the exhaust steam from crushing machinery and constructed on the principle of a weaning machine. The solvent is a strong solution of salt water, to which decikorite of sulphur is added. This mixture produces sulphuric acid, sulphurous acid gas and free chlorine, and it is claimed thereby gets all metals and metalloids into solution. The liquids holding the metals in solution is drawn off into another tank, where the gold is precipitated by injecting into it by the sulphurous acid gas collected by the bell-shaped top of the first tank and conducted to the second tank by tubes. The liquid is then drawn off into a lower tank, where the silver is precipitated; then drawn into a third tank where the copper is precipitated upon iron covered with coarse cotton cloth. The copper precipitates as pure metallic copper on the outside of the cloth. The solution is then drawn into a fourth tank where it is allowed to cool and the lead precipitates on cooling as chloride of lead. From the gold tank and the tank where the silver is precipitated are tubes leading to the assayer's room underneath, so that the pure gold and silver can be drawn out of the tanks by the assayer and melted into bars without being handled by unskilled workmen.—Salina News.

The usual quiet and tenor of Fairview was very much disturbed this week, remote the Mount Pleasant Pyramid, when Constable Lawhorn swore out a complaint against Dr. Elliott, in which attempted seduction was charged. As near as can be ascertained, it appears that on the night of October 19th Dr. Elliott was called to attend Mrs. Nancy Palmer, a niece of Mr. Lawhorn. Mrs. Palmer, being a widow, was stopping at her brother's house. The doctor after administering to the lady told Mr. Lawhorn and his wife they might retire and he would watch the patient. The husband and wife thinking the invalid in better hands than theirs, went to bed, which was in the same room. They had fallen asleep, when Mr. Lawhorn was awakened by a peculiar noise, and looking around saw the doctor pouring water on the fire to quench the light. The physician then turned the lamp light down and got into the patient's bed. Mr. Lawhorn had watched all these proceedings, and then he called out, "Say, isn't it about time you were going home to your wife?" the doctor as hurriedly as possible went away. On going to his sister's bedside Mr. Lawhorn found her in a stupor, and became alarmed at her condition. Another physician was sent for, and on his arrival, found the woman under the influence of a heavy dose of morphine, from the effects of which it took many hours of work to place her in safe condition. The next morning, Mr. Lawhorn had a warrant sworn out for Elliott's arrest, but as the latter had taken a short trip somewhere, the constable could not find him. Elliott thinking the matter had quieted over, returned a few days later and was immediately arrested, when he was taken before Justice Nielsen Monday and held in $1000 bail to await examination. Mrs. Palmer is a lady who has always borne a good reputation. She has lost her husband about a year and a half ago, and has two small children.—Mount Pleasant Pyramid.
