GEO. W. CHILDS DEAD.

The Celebrated Journalist Passes Away in Peace.

A GREAT PHILANTHROPIST GONE.

Overwork and Anxiety Said to be the Immediate Causes of the Fatal Illness.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 2.—The death of George W. Childs occurred at 8:15 this morning.

Childs's last illness began with a chilling shock, which seized him while in his office in the Ledger building, January 19. He became unconscious and Dr. De Costa was hastily summoned. Restoratives were applied, with the result that in an hour the patient was able to walk with assistance to his home, and Mrs. Childs, who was at the country place at Woodbury, was telegraphed. Dr. De Costa called in Dr. Leidy and Morris on the following Friday night. The physicians reluctantly admitted that paralysis of the heart had accompanied the attack. There is but little reason to doubt that the immediate cause of the attack was overwork and anxiety attendant upon efforts to see that the memory of his departed friend, the late A. J. Drexel, was properly honored. The day upon which came the attack was spent by Childs in preparing for the Drexel memorial services held in the Drexel Institute Saturday, January 20th, two days after the final Thursday. His relatives assume from the extremity stirred now profoundly, and to this cause was largely due the relapse which occurred on the night of January 23rd.

About midnight the patient sank rapidly and it soon became certain that he was very near. At the bedside were the talented journalist and philanthropist passed away were George U. Harvey and James W. Paul of the firm of Drexel & Co., Mr. and Mrs. John Drexel, Miss Pulsifer, niece of Mr. Childs, Miss Stanley, companion of Mrs. Childs, and Colonel Edward J. Morrell.

Mr. Childs was probably as widely known as any man in the United States, and there can be no doubt that he was far the best known resident of Philadelphia.

Dead appearances, Childs was a robust man, yet his constitution was very delicate. He was of a highly nervous temperament and with the work which proved the beginning of his end there came almost complete nervous prostration.

Those who knew him best believed he was never a thoroughly happy or contented man since the death of his best companion and business partner, Anthony J. Drexel. They were almost inseparable in companionship, and it was a hard blow to have so near a friend carried off so suddenly.

George W. Childs Drexel, the young son of the deceased banker, was several years ago determined upon as the one who should succeed his father in his interest in the Ledger. The senior Drexel owned a half interest in the paper, and his interest became the property of the son upon his father's decease. Young Drexel has been carefully educated and trained with this end in view, shortly after his father's death his name was placed at the head of the editorial columns of the Ledger as president, along with Mr. Childs as editor and proprietor.

Childs had three homes, which he and his family occupied at different seasons of the year. His town house, on Walnut street is a white marble structure and is one of the most imposing edifices on that street of aristocratic homes. His country home at Wootton is surrounded by sixty acres of beautiful grounds. The town is said to be the most beautiful in this country. Here the hospitality which Childs ever delighted in has one of its principal centers. The roll of visitors included many distinguished strangers. In addition to his town and country houses, Childs has a handsome cottage at Long Branch, adjoining that of A. J. Drexel.

Wants to See Us.

BERLIN, Feb. 2.—The morning papers state that at the last court ball the emperor conversed unreservedly with a high official upon the subject of England and the United States. He said he was extremely anxious to become better acquainted with the United States and very desirous to make a visit to America and get impressions of personal observation.

Williams Will Visit Bismarck.

BERLIN, Feb. 2.—The Hamburgische Correspondent says it is considered certain at Friedrichsruhe that Emperor William will take advantage of his journey to Kiel the middle of February to visit Prince Bismarck. The congregation hastily interfered, when Pettibone was led out of town by a wiser and better man.

IN CONGRESS.

The Debate on the Hawaiian Question in the Senate.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 2.—McCreary began the opening speech of the Hawaiian debate. He resisted in detail some of the charges made by Senator Frye last and referred Secretary Gresham's letter of March 9, 1893, plainly showed that he was pledging to overthrow the government.

At the conclusion of McCreary's speech Hale offered an amendment to the McCreary resolution, as follows:

Resolved, That the House of Representatives approves the recognition of the existing provisional government of the Hawaiian Islands by the last and present administrations, and will view with satisfaction the near approach of a policy which shall lead to annexation in the near future, with the consent of the people, the annexation of the islands to this country, or some political arrangement which will fully preserve and promote the political interests of the Pacific and the United States.

Hitt, leader of the Republican minority of the foreign affairs committee, replied to McCreary. He made the point that the majority resolution was a discussion of dead issues, while the proposition of the minority considered live, vital questions, which every one recognized in connection with recent events in Hawaii. The attitude of the administration on the great question at issue was not known.

An Alleged Diamond Thief Captured.

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—A telegram was received at the office of the Pinkerton detective agency from Hot Springs, Ark., containing information that Frank Dennis, the notorious diamond thief, has just been captured. He had borrowed heavily of money lenders and had been notified by the colonel of dragoons he must arrange for the payment of his debts within a specified time. It is believed that he was unable to comply with the requirements and that his flight is generally with an actress, on which he had squandered much money.

The Rate War.

CHICAGO, Feb. 2.—The Union Pacific today refused to join a party to the raising of the $44.50 binding rate now in effect between the Missouri river and the Pacific coast, on the ground that it would have a disastrous effect on its local business. The interested lines were in session today to endeavor to prevent other denominations of transcontinental traffic, but nothing was accomplished. The search for a remedy will continue tomorrow.

Riots in India.

CALCUTTA, Feb. 2.—Serious riots, resulting from an attempt of the authorities to collect revenue, occurred at Gulistal and Mangoldai, on the Assam frontier. At Mangoldai the police fired on a mob resulting the death of one and killed fifteen. Reinforcements have been sent to both places for the purpose of preserving order.

THE SMOKE CONSUMER.

Z. C. M. I. Equipped With the Device Today.—How It is Operated by Other Companies.

The vast volumes of dark, heavy and sooty smoke which have so long hovered over the city and which have been the cause of so much anxiety and worry on the part of municipal legislators it is now expected will not disappear from the otherwise clear and beautiful atmosphere of this region.

This desirable change it is hoped will be wrought by the introduction and use of the Hutchison Water Gas Furnace by the companies operating the largest furnaces, boilers and engines, and from whose premises huge smokes arise.

The work of equipping the Z. C. M. I. plant was finished today and the result promises to be gratifying in the extreme. The consumer has already been applied with beneficial results by the Electric Light company at its big works here, while but little smoke is seen arising from the Templeton hotel furnace where the device is in use. The News furnace, too, has been fitted up with the anti-smoke agent and the indications are that it will do the work it is designed to do. The Salt Lake City Railway company has contracted to make a test and if the result is as satisfactory as anticipated a great public will thank the praises. The method of operation or consumption is the introduction of oxygen and hydrogen into the furnace which unites with the carbon of the coal smoke making a complete combination forming a water gas which is passed directly over the flames. A series of injectors are placed in the furnace, each having a capacity of 9000 cubic feet of air an hour.

Passed to Rest.

Yesterday afternoon Thomas Cornell died at his home in this city, of paralysis and pneumonia. Brother Cornell had been a patient sufferer for the past three years from one of the ailments which contributed to his death, and about three weeks ago his sufferings became very acute. The deceased was in years of age, and a native of London, England.

Elder Cornell came to Utah in 1857. For eight years prior to that date he was president of the North London branch of the Church, and in that capacity was well remembered by the missionaries who labored in that part of the country. He was faithful and energetic in all his duties, his is a being that of a consistent Latter-day Saint. He was a good man, possessing much, in his religious convictions and possessed of the faculty of making friends of those with whom he became associated. In this regard he did a good work in spreading the Gospel. A host of friends will sympathize with the family in their bereavement. The funeral services will take place at the Juvenile ward meeting house tomorrow, Sunday, at 12 o'clock noon.

Found Dead in Bed.

Coroner Taylor was notified at 5 o'clock last evening of the sudden and unexpected death of Ellen Miller, a gentleman whose place of residence was between and Eleventh East on Fifth South street. It appears that the family had been in apparent circumstances for some time past and Mrs. Miller, wife of the deceased, has been compelled to go out washing, a service that she did yesterday, leaving her husband, who has been slightly unwell, at home in bed upstairs. On her return in the afternoon she went to his room and much to her astonishment and sorrow he was dead.

The body was removed to Shewen's undertaking parlors, where an inquest was being held this afternoon. The deceased was only just past middle life and had a family of several children. He was at one time a carpenter, and is reported to have had considerable property, which he lost in unfortunate speculations.

First and Tenth Wards.

The district quorum of Elders, comprising those residing in the First and Tenth wards, will hold their regular monthly meeting in the Tenth ward meeting house, Monday evening, February 5th, at 7:30 o'clock.

A Valuable Pocket-Piece.

An esteemed Ogden friend forwards the following admirable collection of moral gems, and suggests its reproduction in the News. We gladly comply. The clipping is evidently from the Patrons American Youth:

Among the passengers drowned from the Henry Clay, which was burned on the Hudson a number of years ago, was the Hon. Stephen Allen, who had been mayor of New York. In his possession was found on the following printed slip, so worn as to show that it either frequently read it, or we hope every member of Patrons American Youth will act

"Always good company or none. Never be idle. If your hands can't be usefully employed attend to the cultivation of your mind. Always tell the truth. Make few promises. Live up to your engagements. Keep your own secrets if you have any. When you speak to a person look him in the face. Good company and good conversation are the very sinews of virtue. Good character is above all things else. Your character cannot be successfully injured except by your own acts. If any one speaks evil of you let your life be so that none will believe him. Drink no intoxicating liquors. Ever live (administer excepted) within your income. When you retire to bed, think over what you have been doing during the day. Make no haste to get rich if you would prosper. Small and steady gains give competency with a tranquil mind. Never play at any game of chance. Avoid temptation, through fear you may not withstand it. Earn money before you spend it. Never borrow if you can possibly avoid it. Do not marry until you are able to support a wife. Never speak evil of any one. Be just before you are generous. Keep yourself innocent if you would be happy. Make when you are young to expend when you are old. Read over the above maxims at least once a week."

Near West Cliff, in the Wet Mountain valley, Colorado, last week a 12-year-old boy named Wesley Schofield was attacked and badly injured by a tame bear, which had so nearly become crazy. The boy fought for his life. The bear was converted into venison.

Near Little Crow creek, about forty miles from Greeley, Colo., M. A. Barker and A. B. Hinman while hunting stock last week discovered a large quantity of bones partly petrified. They are the remains of prehistoric monsters of enormous size. Some of the mammoth bones have become petrified.

CATARRH POSITIVELY CURED

At the Zion Medical & Surgical Institute.

MISS MARTHA HUNT WAS AFFLICTED FOR 18 YEARS.

Her Suffering Better Described in Her Own Words.

COME NOW, AFTER WHILE WILL BE TOO LATE

Can Catarrh be cured?

This question is asked by thousands. Do you believe it can? Listen:

Dr. Carl Stolze, of the Baltimore Medical College Hospital of New York city, and the author of the greatest work known to diseases of the nose and throat says:

"One of the sixty millions of people of the United States who suffer from catarrh, it is so often neglected and soon becomes so serious that it is thought to be incurable, but in the case that it gives the proper treatment it can positively be cured."

Dr. Shores & Shores use Dr. Carl Stolze's treatment for all nasal troubles, and their success is well known to our readers of this paper.

MISS MARTHA HUNT, 248 N. 6th West St.

The above portrait is that of Miss Martha Hunt. Miss Hunt is eighteen years of age and has suffered from catarrh since she was 6 months old. Her condition before treatment is better given in her own words, as follows:

"As early as I can remember I have had catarrh. My nose would sore up first one side then the other, sometimes one side would be so swollen that it would be almost closed. I would have a continual hawking and spitting, caused by the mucus dropping from the head into the throat. She kept my throat dry and sore.

"Hoarse and ringing noises in the ears, in fact my head seemed always full, as though it were going to burst.

"My sleep was disturbed to horrible dreams, and it was impossible for me to get more than four hours sleep. Then in the morning, upon arising, I seemed tired and worn out.

"I had no appetite, and what I did eat seemed to distress me, lying heavily on my stomach.

"This was my condition when beginning treatment with Drs. Shores & Shores, and even since the first treatment I began to improve.

"Let me now state that after a thorough scientific and systematic course of treatment, such as is only given by Drs. Shores & Shores, I am almost entirely cured.

"I have no more headaches, no roaring noises in the ears, no more hawking and spitting. I have well, and my appetite is perfect, in fact I can say I am well, and I heartily recommend the treatment given by Drs. Shores & Shores."
